PRESIDENT WOODS AND MALE QUARTET VISIT CAMP MEETINGS

The Seventh-day Adventist camp meetings of the Northern and Central Unions are being visited this summer in the interest of Christian education. Dr. Robert W. Woods and a male quartet composed of Harold Lickey, first tenor; Gilbert Jorgensen, baritone; Herbert Hohensee, second tenor; and Lyle Jewell, bass—last week were on the campgrounds at Huron, South Dakota, camp meeting site. From there they journey to Jamestown where they will meet with North Dakota believers this week, where Jay Lantry, religion major of the class of '48, is the chairman of the music committee. June 22-26 the quartet will assist with the music at the Minnesota camp meeting.

Next on their itinerary will be a trip to the campus of Campion Academy where the Colorado camp convenes June 24-July 3.

Before they return home, thousands of Adventists will have enjoyed the singing of the quartet, and the speaking of Dr. Woods.

Last week the quartet, Wayne Hooper substituting for Gilbert Jorgensen, were guests at the Wyoming camp meeting at Casper. They attended the full time of the meet, from Wednesday until Saturday night, and were very well received. Union College students of '48 seen at Casper were Duane Longfellow, Mr. and Mrs. Waverly LeBard, Joyce Warner-Hadel, whose husband is a departmental secretary in the Wyoming Conference, Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Mays, Ivan Groulik, Laura Jensen, Connie Hopfe, Don West, Bill West, Barbara Yates, Shirley McLaughlin, Joan MacGlashan, and Barbara Coddington.

Dr. Woods and other members of the staff will attend the following additional meetings: Missouri, August 10-15; College View, August 12-22; Oklahoma, August 12-22; Central States Mission, August 19-29; Texico, August 20-28.

ELDER C. G. CROSS, FAMILY HONORED AT FAREWELL

Elder C. G. Cross, for six years publishing department secretary of the Central Union, has recently accepted a call to the Southern European Division. Friends from the union office, the college, the Nebraska Conference, and the college church honored Elder and Mrs. Cross and their two sons, Bruce and Steven, at a tea in the college library May 30.

While the Crosses' new home will be in Berne, Switzerland, their field of labor will include Switzerland, France, Hungary, Austria, Czechoslovakia, Spain, and other countries of Europe.

Elder Cross will be remembered for having instituted and promoted one of the campus clubs, Alpha Tau Sigma, an exclusive colporteur club. Both Elder and Mrs. Cross are former students of Union College.

Student friends of Union College wish for the Crosses a bon voyage.

LOMA LINDA ACCEPTS 13

The group of premedical students from Union College accepted by the College of Medical Evangelists at Loma Linda, California, for entrance in the September class is the largest in the history of this college. Of the thirteen who were accepted eight received the Bachelor of Arts degree from Union College this spring. They are as follows: Kenneth Burden, Eldon Buzbee, Janet Campbell, Charles DeHaan, Stanley Kirk, Frank Shaffer, Robert Taylor, and Chester Wahlen. The other five who received acceptance are Robert McEachren, Francis Miles, Bernard Owen, Glenn Rice, and Wendell Wall. Of this second group only two have completed less than four years of college work.

These thirteen Union College premeds were selected from a group of 257 applicants from all our colleges. Because of the large number of students desiring to train at Loma Linda, the Admissions Committee at the medical college increased the size of the freshman class from the usual number of about 75 to 96. This unusually large class will increase the burden on the faculty of the medical college considerably and is an indication of the sympathetic attitude of the college toward the large number of premeds who wish to train at Loma Linda.

Of the 96 members of the new freshman class at Loma Linda, 64 have received their Bachelor's degree, 15 have completed four years of college work without a degree, and but 17 have less than four years of college work. This indicates that few to none will be accepted in the freshman class of 1949 who have not received their Bachelor's degree or who have not completed at least four years of college work.

HUB OF HARMONY HAVE NEW SUCCESS

All who enjoyed the music of the Hub of Harmony Chorus through the past two years will be glad to learn of their newest success.

On June 3 they presented a formal concert in the Municipal Auditorium of Topeka, Kansas, before an estimated crowd of 2000, each of whom had purchased tickets. The concert was arranged for by Mr. Frank Hale, business man of Topeka, and father of Frank Hale, Jr., who has been director and arranger for the choral group since its organization.

Traditional spirituals were sung by the rich colorful voices of the eleven singers. The proceeds went to defray expenses and to the Hub of Harmony.

Two hundred seventy-one students from thirty states, seven foreign countries, and two islands have enrolled for the Union College summer session. Of the states represented, next to Nebraska's sixty-eight representatives, come Minnesota, Colorado, and Texas with twenty, twenty-one, and twenty-three respectively.

The largest single group of students is composed of church school teachers who are advancing their education during the summer months. There are seventy-one in this classification, coming from sixteen conferences.

In addition to this special group, there are twelve students working toward summer school graduation.

Parents of President and Dean Celebrate 50th Anniversaries

June 14 marked the golden wedding anniversary of the parents of two Union College administrators. Mr. and Mrs. Robert Belville Woods, parents of Dr. Robert W. Woods, and Mr. and Mrs. John E. Ogden, parents of Dr. E. B. Ogden, academic dean of the college, celebrated their fiftieth wedding anniversaries on the same day, June 14.

A native of Covington, Kentucky, Robert B. Woods met his wife, Etha Lena Mendenhall at a church supper. As the result of an effort held by Elder C. B. Haynes in 1916, Mr. Woods, his wife, and two sons were baptized. For three years Mr. Woods was a colporteur, and then he returned to his old interest in artistic iron work. At present he operates a shop in College View. Mr. and Mrs. Woods have two sons, both of whom are educators—President Robert W. Woods of Union College, and Dr. Cecil Woods, academic dean of Pacific Union College.

An alumnus of Union College and member of the class of 1898, John E. Ogden was married immediately following his graduation to Rose May Burman, a native of South Dakota. At Wichita, Kansas, his home town, Mr. Ogden established himself as a steam and plumbing contractor. Their son, Dr. E. B. Ogden, a member of the Union College graduating class of 1922, is academic dean of Union College. Two other sons, Walter and Wilford, joined their father as plumbing contractors in Walla Walla, Washington, where the family moved twenty-seven years ago. A daughter, Ethel, lives at Mountain View, California.

STUDENTS WIN CONTEST

Three Union College students received awards in the Signs talent search for 1948. The first award of $25 was divided between Hugh Meadows of Union College and Clarence Orcutt of Pacific Union College. Two awards of $5 each were received by Nathan W. Winters and Chester Winters. There were forty-nine entries in all, contributed by students in five Seventh-day Adventist colleges. 1948

BIOLOGY CAMP ARRANGEMENTS COMPLETED

There is good news for those who plan to attend Union College's Field Nature School in the Rockies this summer. Dr. Marsh reports that he and Walter Page have now completed an arrangement with the supervisor of Roosevelt National Forest to hold this camp in a three-cabin unit located two miles south of Chamber's Lake in the Medicine Bow Range on the Continental Divide. The location is on the Poudre Valley Road (Colorado Route 14), about eight miles north of Cameron Pass, and seventy miles west of Fort Collins.

This camp stands beside the beautiful Poudre River. The full name of this stream is Cache a la Poudre River, a French name which means "Hidden beside the Powder River." This name exactly describes the campsite because it is sequestered at the foot of a mountain in a spruce-fir-lodgepole pine forest on the banks of this river. The elevation is 9,500 feet. Several of the larger mammals are native in the area, including the black-tailed deer, black bear, mountain lion, wildcat, and bighorn sheep.

Dr. Marsh reports that the Chamber's Lake area meets the five conditions which he considers necessary for a mountain biological station. Two easily accessible mountain peaks are near by which extend considerably above timberline. Clark's Peak, three miles away, has an altitude of 13,000 feet and provides the beautiful flower picture of alpine meadows. This variation in altitude furnishes a large variety of plant and animal forms. The fact of being in a national forest makes the collection of specimen materials possible and the ideal isolation of the area removes it from the multitude of tourists which invades the Rockies in August. The housing is adequate, and through a remarkable circumstance the cost of the housing is almost negligible.

The expense of attending the Nature School will be low. Tuition and lab fee will be the same as on the main campus. Three hours of either lower or upper division college credit can be obtained for the usual $33.75 plus $5 for lab fee. The housing will be but $5 for dormitory students for the entire three weeks. This is less than on the main campus. Students furnish their own bedding. Those who bring their own tents or hammocks will not pay the $5 housing fee. Tents or hammocks can be placed on the campsite in front of the cottages. A common open campfire is situated in the center of the site. Dormitory students and any others who arrange for it right away will eat in the camp kitchen. Food will be purchased wholesale, and by a rotation in kitchen duties the labor cost in connection with meals will be eliminated. This should make the cost of board no more than in the College dining room, very possibly less. Thus the only expense item above the cost of three hours on the main campus will be the transportation to and from the camp. A number of cars are going and contact with these drivers can be made, through Dr. Marsh. The round trip from Lincoln is about 1240 miles.

The content of the courses will be a study of the names and biology of the trees, flowers, birds, insects, and other animals of the northern Colorado Rockies. This school offers a rare opportunity for three pleasant weeks close to nature in a cool, invigorating climate during the hottest month of the year, August 8-26. The temperature falls to 50 degrees at night. The mountains, lakes, rivers, and forests of the area are among the most beautiful and inspiring in America. Enrollment in the school is still open, but will close just as soon as the quota is reached. A course in college biology or its equivalent is a prerequisite. It is important that those who wish to attend register for either course in the Registrar's office very soon. Additional information can be obtained from Dr. Marsh.

BETTER NEVER LATE

Tardiness is a bad habit! We fail to look ahead to our appointments and when the time comes something is occupying the attention. What if all of the trains, ships, and airlines were required to delay departure until all the scheduled passengers were safely on board? The time tables would get farther and farther behind and soon there would be no semblance of order, or "on time" arrivals.

Adult college students should be on time! Just penalties are levied against tardiness to classes. But the burden of these lines is to encourage promptness at other meetings, both sacred and secular. If Sabbath School begins at 9:30, be there at 9:25. Club meetings, choir and other music rehearsals merit prompt, efficient members. An appointment with a teacher, friend, or committee is just as sacred as a class obligation if you have given your word that you will be there.

Let us regard being on time as a form of honesty with self, with friends and with God.

FLOWERS

Hats off to Mr. Turner, who is responsible for the beauty of our campus. The new flower beds, new grass coming up in former barren areas, and the well kept expanses of green are evidence of hard work and planning. Ours is a campus that covers many square blocks. It can be kept beautiful only if every member of the school family takes personal pride in staying on the sidewalks and disposing of refuse in the places provided.

SCHOLARSHIP TOUR BY CHORDSMEN

Enthusiastic reports come from the four members of the Chordsmen Quartet after their try at "one night stands on the road." Beginning June 1, they toured North Dakota and gave concerts in Ashley, Oakes, Kulm, Wishek, Ellendale and Cleveland. Friendly crowds of from 200 to 400 persons at each place accepted their program as among the best of the year.

The tour was planned by the quartet and advance publicity was sent to each locality. In one place their master of ceremonies was the local attorney. In another the dentist of the town did the honors. S.D.A. Elder Hockstetter assisted in the presentations.

The boys sang sacred, secular, patriotic, and folk songs. One song especially well received among the German speaking people was "What Did He Do?" which was sung in German by the quartet. An offering was taken at each concert to cover expenses.

Members of the quartet are Herbert Knopp, first tenor; Lyle Anderson, second tenor; Bob Wiedemann, baritone; and Lester Hillmon, bass.

FUTURE UNIONITES

On May 26, Walter Berthelson, a graduate of '47, and Esther Minner Berthelson, of '45, became the proud parents of a baby girl, Minnie Vernelle. Both parents are teaching at Platte Valley Academy, Shelton, Nebraska.

To Dr. Donald J. Buck and Virginia Westermeyer Buck a little son, Thomas Donald, arrived on June 2. The Bucks are living at

YORK INTEREST CONTINUES

York, Nebraska, sixty miles west of Lincoln, has been hearing the "loud cry" of the third angel's message since February 1. In the beautiful city auditorium of York, Elder Hardinge, instructor in the evangelism department, assisted by students from his various classes, has been conducting a series of evangelistic meetings. Under the leadership of Bill Lehman hundreds of students from the college have been distributing meeting advertisements and literature of the advent message. Singing evangelists Wayne Hooper and Herbert Hohensee with other members of the music department of Union College gave strong support to this campaign.

God's blessings on these efforts were evidenced when thirteen souls were buried with their Lord in baptism on May 22 in the College View church. A great interest continues, and during the summer months the work is being carried on by Tate Zytkoskee and Bill Lehman. Special programs for the children are under the leadership of Mary Zytkoskee and Rose Lehman.

407 Ouachita Avenue, Hot Springs, National Park, Arkansas.

On May 10 Marita Jane came to stay with Mr. and Mrs. Lowell Barger.

Dr. and Mrs. J. E. Nordstrom, of Minneapolis, Minnesota, welcomed a little daughter, Susan Elizabeth, into their home on April 1.

A son, William George, Jr., was born to Mr. and Mrs. Bill Nelson on May 28. Mrs. Nelson is the former Maryon Jung.

Center Aisle

The marriage of Miss Adeline Heglund to Eugene Taylor was solemnized on May 30, at 1:30 o'clock in the recital hall of the music building, before a background of tapers and white colonial bouquets. Helen Conover was maid of honor and Floyd Vipond, best man. Appropriate music was provided by Joyce Heldorn and Willard Beaman, with Virginia Moony at the organ.

At 4:30 o'clock on Sunday afternoon, May 30, Agnes Marks was given in marriage to Herman Lambertson in the Lincoln church. Mr. and Mrs. Howard Marks served as their attendants. Herbert Hohensee sang and Mrs. Rockwell played the organ. They spent their honeymoon in Michigan and will make their home in Albuquerque, New Mexico.

Alberta Crawford and Arthur Chaffe also chose the evening of May 30 for their wedding date. The ceremony took place in the College View church at 8:00 o'clock. Their attendants included Lola Chaffe and Flora Mae Bietz, bridesmaids, Marjorie Wearner, maid of honor, Merlin Dealy and Junior Crawford, ushers, and Joe Chaffe, best man. The wedding music was played by Mrs. James Thompson, and Wayne Hooper, Alice Tyler, and Herbert Hohensee were the soloists. They went to Minnesota for their honeymoon and will make their home in Lincoln.

The wedding ceremony of Judy Thomson and Andrew Snyder took place on May 30 at Beatrice, Nebraska. Their attendants were Lienda Thomson and James Snyder. Elder D. E. Venden performed the ceremony and Miss Mabel Wood played the wedding music.

Elder and Mrs. Lindquist announce the marriage of their daughter Bonnie to Clifton Cowles, on June 1, at Pierre, South Dakota. Helen Marie Cowles was maid of honor and James Nick, best man. Mr. and Mrs. Norman Krogstad provided the wedding music, and the ceremony was performed by the bride's father, Elder Lindquist. They chose the Black Hills for their honeymoon and are now making their home in Lincoln.

At eight o'clock in the evening on June 1, Ruth Pitsch and Paul Joice were married in the College View Church. The attendants were Dorothy Pitsch, maid of honor; Mrs. Don Woolery, bridesmatron, Audra Ching, bridesmaid, Richard Pitsch, best man, and James Davis and Ray Pelton, ushers. The wedding music was provided by Rosella Reiner and Frances Chamberlain. After a honeymoon spent in Colorado they are at home in Lincoln.

Sue Jones and John Parabek were married in Little Rock, Arkansas, on June 1. Their attendants were Mrs. H. B. Wilson, and David Parabek. Elder Isaac Baker performed the ceremony. Cleveland, Ohio, was the destination of their wedding trip.

The marriage of Janet Campbell and Stanley Kirk was solemnized June 6, in Scottsbluff, Nebraska. The attendants included Laura Glantz, matron of honor; June Gable and Ivy Jo Larsen, bridesmaids; Dr. Norman Campbell, best man; Malcolm Campbell and Bud Sorenson, ushers. They spent their honeymoon in Colorado and will make their home in Loma Linda this fall.

Class of '98 Holds Dedication

Three representatives of the class of 1898 held a rededication service at the rock pile at 9:00 Sunday morning, May 30. M. E. Ellis, president of the class; Dean Pearl L. Rees, assistant secretary; and Prof. M. E. Kern, valedictorian, took part in the ceremony. Miss Rees read a letter written by M. E. Ellis which explained the meaning of this monument and told of the work involved in gathering the stones together.

The rock pile is probably one of the most unique gifts ever presented to a school by its graduating class. These rocks were placed on our campus at a time when rocks were not found everywhere in this section of the country. The largest rock was found half buried in a pasture near Tuttle's Grove. Several nights were spent in digging it from the ground before a team was able to drag it to a level place by means of heavy chains. Moving the rock to the campus presented a real problem to the boys of '98. They hired a man from Lincoln to move it, but he failed to come. Finally, a heavy sledge was made and used to drag the rock halfway to the college. This operation took nearly all night. The stone remained there until the last days of school, when it was hauled to the campus and rolled to the top of the pile in much the same manner in which it was dragged from the ground. This capstone was later found to weight 3,670 pounds.

In recent years the rocks have been rearranged and a cement walk has been placed around the base of the pile.

The rock pile stands as a symbol of the spirit of service and loyalty of the class of '98. It is a monument to the work they did while here in school and of the faithful work they are still doing.

ANNUAL MEET OF ALUMNI ASSOCIATION

The annual meeting of the Union College Alumni Association was held in the college chapel the evening of May 29.

Elder M. V. Campbell, president of the Central Union Conference, was the speaker at the sundown vesper service which was followed by a business meeting under the direction of Elder Lowell Welch, association president.

At the close of the business meeting refreshments were served and the rest of the time was turned over to a social program. The three members of the class of 1898 who were present—M. E. Ellis, Dean Pearl L. Rees, and Prof. M. E. Kern—spoke of the early days of Union College. It is of interest to note that eleven of the original twenty members of the class are living and carrying on their chosen work. Wayne Hooper sang the song, "College Days," which was written by the president of the class, M. E. Ellis.

A skit, "Do You Remember?" written and produced by Mrs. Everett Dick, was dedicated to the class of twenty-five years ago.

Results of the election held at this meeting are as follows: President, Calvin Gordon; first vice-president, Carl Sundin; second vice-president, Mrs. M. V. Campbell; treasurer, H. L. Keene; executive board member, Dr. E. B. Ogden.

ONE DAY LATE

Here's one for Ripley—The band uniforms have arrived! After waiting approximately six months for them they finally came the day after school closed—seventy-five uniforms that are the pride and joy of director Raymond K. Casey.

They are double-breasted, semi-fitted, gray-tan in color, and trimmed in the school colors, red and black, plus gold buttons. The school seal in red and black is on the left sleeve, circled by citation braid, also in red and black. The skirts and trousers have a red stripe down the sides, and the air corps caps, topping the outfits, repeat the stripe. The director's uniform is white with a distinctive trimming in red and black.

Moth-proof glass closets are being constructed in room 112 in the music hall for housing the new uniforms.

GRADUATES RECEIVE DIPLOMAS

Seventy-eight Union College seniors, the largest graduating class in the history of the institution, received their bachelor degrees at the commencement exercises held in the Seventh-day Adventist Church on Sunday, May 30. This record number of graduates was nineteen more than the last previous high in the spring of 1947. Numbered among the graduates were four married couples—Mr. and Mrs. Eldon Buzbee, Mr. and Mrs. Lester Calkins, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Haas, and Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Jorgensen.

At the Friday evening consecration service, marking the beginning of three days of commencement activities, three members of the senior class spoke. Winston Dennis, class pastor, directed the class to find courage, strength, and wisdom in the name of Christ. The class president, Byron Blecha, declared that only by following Christ can one experience the fullest meaning of Christianity. The response on behalf of the class was given by Herbert Hill.

At the baccalaureate service on Sabbath morning, Elder N. R. Dower, president of the Texico Conference, challenged, "Opportunities are unlimited and needs are staggering; the youth of today should dedicate himself to service."

Elder Homer W. Teesdale, president of the Home Study Institute in Washington, D.C., told the graduates in the commencement address, "What the world needs today is men with strong and untroubled conviction, who will go out to move the world because the world cannot move them." An alumnus of Union College and president of the class of 1913, Elder Teesdale advised the students to combat the forces of evil and show that God's principles triumph over them.

Fifty bachelor of arts degrees and twenty-eight bachelor of science degrees were conferred by Dr. Robert W. Woods, president of the college.

Those graduating with honors were Olive Jorgensen, with highest distinction and Kenneth Hudson Burden, with distinction.

I owe all my success in life to always being a quarter of an hour beforehand.—Lord Nelson.

CLASS OF '48

KAMPUS KLIPPINGS

Pauline Klady and Frances Mettler are on a trip through the Northwest and Canada.

Carol Magnuson is leaving for Baltimore, Md., where she will work in the conference office.

Assisting in the evangelistic crusade conducted by Elder Roger Holly in Burlington, Iowa, are Mr. and Mrs. Paul Penno of the Bancroft Courts.

Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Price are visiting Mrs. Price's parents in Maine.

Mrs. Clyde Davis with her son Phillip is visiting her daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Curtis.

Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Jorgensen spent the first week of June in Michigan.

Mrs. Earl Vikingson, better known as Peggy, spent a few days at her home in Minneapolis.

Jean Venden with her parents is on a trip to California and the Northwest. Retha Venden Ekvall, a former student of Union, graduated from the school of nursing at the White Memorial Hospital, while her husband graduated from the medical school June 13. Mr. Ekvall will intern at the Porter Sanitarium.

Dr. E. N. Dick is teaching and doing some research work at the University of Missouri this summer.

Miss Frances Stoddard is in Washington, D.C., helping in the revision of the elementary Bible textbooks.

Miss Myrtle Maxwell is in Michigan working with a committee in revising the True Education Reader.

Elder L. W. Welch will be working on a Ph.D. in counseling and guidance at University of Minnesota.

Visiting her three daughters for the summer is Mrs. R. J. Roy from Havana, Cuba. The three fortunate girls are Dorothy Roy-Morgan, Iona, and Marjorie Roy. "Marge" is in Lincoln for a month's vacation from Union's Colorado campus.

It is rumored that Doreen Cadwallader and Lois Bingamon hope to be "twin" receptionists in a clinic at Turlock, California.

Miss J. Mabel Wood is taking work at the University of Nebraska.

Mr. L. L. Nelson is working on his Ph.D. in English at the University of Minnesota.

Lorraine Waller and her father, who is a concert violinist, gave a concert in Minneapolis, Minnesota, June 5.

Joe Espinosa, Harold Kurtz, Wallace Fuller, and Paul DeBooy will be the Friday evening speakers during the months of June and July.

Here and There

Audra Ching accepted a position as secretary to Elder J. A. Buckwalter, editor of the new temperance publication. Audra will leave for Washington, D.C., July 1.

Eugene Taylor is publishing assistant in the Iowa Conference.

Bernard Furst has assumed responsibilities of a district in Wyoming. He is located at Rawlins.

Del Parkins is spending the summer in Denver where she is working at the Porter Sanitarium. Del is living with Lenna Lee Chase, a graduate of last year.

Olive Jergensen looks very official in her office in the English department.

Erma Nelson has accepted a position at Sheyenne River Academy where she will teach English.

Alden Chase is spending the summer in Tulsa, Oklahoma, home of those "famous Chase's potato chips." Smoky Thomson has taken over Alden's duties in the Veterans' Commissary.

ident, received his Ph.D. in the graduation exercises held June 7.

Union College is lending substantial sums of money to teachers who wish to purchase their own homes. Six teachers have already taken advantage of this item.

Mr. and Mrs. Keith Bartling are spending the summer in Washington, D.C., visiting Mrs. Bartling's parents.

Ruth Benton is spending the summer with her parents in Portland, Oregon. She writes that we need not worry about her drowning as their house is on a hill.
