LOCAL TALENT GIVE PROGRAM

Union College Quartet Sings Two Groups, Accompanied by Stanley Ledington

ENGEL PLAYS VIOLIN

Norma Hilde, Speech Instructor, Reads "Neighbor Rosicky," by Willa Cather

Music, furnished by Professor Carl Engel, his violin, the Union college male quartet, and a reading by Miss Norma Hilde, instructor in speech, made up the program given in the college chapel Saturday night.

The quartet, accompanied by Mr. Stanley Ledington, first sang "Invictus," by Bruno Huhn; "Two Grenadiers," by Schumann; and "The Bells of Shandon," by Nevin.

Professor Engel's first group were all request numbers: "Mazurka," by Wieniawski; "Serenade," by Schubert; and "Indian Snake Dance," by Burleigh. Helen Foreman accompanied him at the piano. As an encore he played "By the Waters of Minnetonka," by Lieurance.

The quartet's next group included "Border Ballad," by Cowen; "The Little Red Drum," by Gibson; "The Miller and the Maid," by Jacob; and "When Song is Sweet," by Sans-Souci. "Johnny, Come Down to Hilo," an American sea shanty, was sung as encore number.

Miss Hilde, making her first appearance this year, read Willa Cather's "Neighbor Rosicky," a story of an old man whose philosophy gave him a more complete and worthwhile life than some gave him credit for.

The second group of violin pieces played by Professor Engel were "Liebestraum" and "Viennese Popular Song," by Kreisler; and "Mazurka de Concert," by Musin.

The quartet followed with "Can't you Heah me Moanin', Lord," by James; "Jolly Roger," by Candish; and "Goin' Home," by Dvorak.

Music Comprises Club Program at North Hall

Music and song comprised the program of the North hall club held Wednesday evening at the regular meeting time in the worship room of the girls' dormitory.

Rosetta Anderson played a piano solo. Mae Sorensen sang "My Task," accompanied by Helen Foreman.

Three southern girls, Vesta Fillman, Evelyn and Anita King, harmonized without accompaniment a song entitled, "The Pickaninny's Lullaby." Felicia Wright, in a series of piano solos from Schumann's "Scenes from Childhood," led the imagination to fancy a child skipping rope, frightened in a dark room, being put to bed after a hard day, and riding a hobby horse.

At the close of the program, Joseph Apigian, president of the South hall club, announced plans on the part of the men to sponsor a banquet in the college dining room December 15.

Be not simply good; be good for something.

EXPERIENCES IN TRINIDAD RELATED IN TALK

Merrill Smith, class of '30, who was visiting friends in College View last week while in the United States on furlough from Trinidad, related some of his experiences as a missionary in that country to the students in joint worship Sunday evening.

"To be successful as a missionary in Trinidad," the speaker said, "it is necessary to be able to love black skinned people. They are pleasant to work with, and they respect authority of the white people, but race prejudice is a draw back."

Mr. Smith displayed some of the things he brought with him from Trinidad. Among these were a mounted spider, a scorpion, a centipede, a very poisonous snake, dishes, shoes, and some bamboo wood.

Mr. Smith was president of his class, which was the first to graduate in the chapel as it now is.

MASTER SINGERS ENTERTAIN HERE

Male Octet Directed by Homier Presents Concert As Third Lyceum Number

"The Master Singers," of Chicago, the featured male ensemble of the radio program called the "House by the Side of the Road," appeared in concert as the third lyceum number in the Union college chapel Saturday night under the direction of Jacques Homier and accompanied at the piano by Bert Carman. The program was composed of both classical and secular music.

A few outstanding selections were given as solos. "Ave Maria" was presented as a tenor solo. The baritone soloist sang "Story of an Afghan Exile" and "Great Day."

A vocal concert is never complete without a negro spiritual. The chorus sang "Who Built de Ark," a spiritual written by Huntley.

Bert Carman, pianist, played two solos.

Many scenes were vividly portrayed in the songs presented by the ensemble—the sad fisherman as he bids farewell to the home folk and goes out

STUDENTS DISCUSS RELIGION IN FRENCH CLASS

Class recitation gave way to a serious discussion of Christianity and daily living as French students together with the instructor became involved in a dissertation upon the present denominational crises at the 8:40 class period Thursday.

"It seems to me that Seventh-day Adventists are not careful enough in their observance of the Sabbath. I believe that we should get back to the old standards set by those who began this movement," said one student.

"It seems that young people are thinking more seriously of late as to world conditions and the problem of being instruments in gospel work," continued one student. "I am more and more impressed with the belief that the young people will rise up and do the finishing work."

Trapper Teel Goes Hunting

Jim Coon, Jr., left his home in North-east hall recently only to get into a predicament that sent him to the happy hunting ground, where he will doubtless be content among the Indians and fellow coons.

Poor Jim, who had reached (just before he died) the ripe old age of three months, came to Union college from far off Oklahoma a few weeks ago with Trapper Teel. Jim immediately took up his duties as mascot of the junior class. He lived at South hall for a few days, but he found a room more to his liking outside the dormitory. It is rumored around the campus that Jim's younger brother may be called to take up the late Jim's duties.

Now it so happens that Junior held to the old coon custom of taking Sun-

CALENDAR REFORM REACHES VATICAN

Adventists Are Now Included In Official Archives of Catholic Church

Mention of the work of the Seventh-day Adventists in the matter of Calendar reform was made to the Pope at the Vatican in June as reported in the October number of the Journal of Calendar Reform.

As communicated by the Rational Calendar Association, London, the report states, "In order to explore in the most thorough manner possible the attitude of the Vatican and the central authorities of the Roman Catholic church to proposals for a fixed Easter date and Calendar Reform, a Mission of Inquiry, organized by the Rational Calendar Association of London, visited Rome during the month of June, 1935."

A memorial in Latin expressing the desire of civil communities for calendar reform and containing the proposals of the association was presented at the Vatican, and was placed on record in the official archives of the Church.

The following statement as translated from Latin appeared in the memorial: "The proposal to set aside one day out of the days of the week is similarly intended for the benefit of mankind and the promotion of Christian unity. Its purpose is to enable the remaining 364 days of the year to be divided into 52 whole weeks, so that every year should begin on a Sunday and all dates of the months always fall on the same days of the

BESS GEARHART MORRISON WILL READ

Bess Gearhart Morrison, who is well known both at home and abroad for her readings, will appear on a program in the college chapel November 30.

Mrs. Morrison's home is in Lincoln, Nebraska, and she has been giving a program at the college annually for several years. This year she will repeat "Cynthia," which she gave two years ago. Those who remember hearing that reading will be only too happy to hear it again, according to reports given to Dean Pearl Rees.

Admission will be two tickets for twenty-five cents for students and fifteen cents for those in the village who wish to attend. Proceeds will be divided between the men and the women for the purchase of needed dormitory furniture.

STUDENTS OBSERVE WEEK OF PRAYER

R. J. Christian Conducts the Services Morning and Evening in Chapel

Mr. R. J. Christian, Missionary Volunteer secretary of the Central union, conducted the services for the annual week of prayer observed last week at the college.

Classes were cut as usual to thirty minutes. Assignments were likewise cut to allow more time for prayer, meditation, and personal work. Chapel services were given each day at 9:35. During the twenty minutes preceding chapel, prayer bands met for inspirational talks and prayer. Students were given the privilege of choosing their band leader.

The leaders were as follows: Adele Wood, Jessie VanDiver, Della Reising, Helen Foreman, Alice La Bonte, Charles Teel, Theodore Torkelson, Chester Cross, Peter James, Hans Kuehne for the college and Evelyn McWilliams, Marjorie Keene, and Russell Hanson for the academy students.

Meetings were held each evening at 6:45 in the chapel.

STAFF MEMBER INTERVIEWS WALTER WIESE

One of Union's unusual characters is Walter Wiese, of Germany, who is the college baker.

"I feel very much at home at Union college," Walter said, when he was asked how he felt in the presence of Union college students. "I've noticed," he further stated, "that the students here do not consider a person an out-cast and 'back number' in social life just because he is from a foreign country and can't speak English very well. We are here—Germans, Armenians, Spanish—but we are made to feel at home."

Walter related that he left Posen, Germany, six years ago on an English ship without knowing one word of the English language and that he was in an uncertain frame of mind as to what he would meet in America.

"I had a comparatively easy time when I got to New York, because I had a lot of helpers whose job it was

CENTRAL UNION INSTITUTE HERE

Church School Teachers from Nine States Assemble Here for Convention

TEESDALE SPEAKS

Instructors Are Advised to Develop Character and Professional Growth in Child

One hundred twenty-five teachers and superintendents from nine states assembled at Union college to attend the Central Union Teachers' convention held November 13-16. Every state was well represented, some teachers having come over 1,000 miles to be present at the meeting.

"Consider Him" was the keynote of the convention. The three essential qualifications of a successful teacher as emphasized throughout the meetings were: teachers should possess the love of Jesus Christ; they should strive to develop in the child a character which will produce moral stamina to stand the test of life; they should strive constantly for professional growth.

The principal speakers were: Mr. H. E. Teesdale, associate educational secretary of the general conference; Mr. G. R. Fattic, superintendent of the Southwestern union; and Miss Cathrine Shepard, head of the education department at the college.

Mr. T. B. Westbrook, president of the Nebraska conference; Pastor E. L. Cardey; President M. L. Andreasen, of Union college; and Mr. Frank Yost, assistant professor of Bible at Union college led out in giving the message of devotion and call to consecration.

Several local teachers assisted in the general instruction of the meetings. They were: Mrs. T. R. Larimore, Miss Lennie Keith, Mrs. Charles Marsh, and Mrs. Fred Sofsky.

The superintendents who were present to assist in the meetings were: Mr. R. R. Bietz of Colorado, Mr. K. L. Gant of Iowa, Mr. R. Chester Barger of Nebraska, Mr. J. C. Nixon of Minnesota, Mr. A. M. Ragsdale of Kansas, and Mr. James Gaitens of Missouri.

Mr. A. H. Rulkoetter, educational secretary of the Central Union conference, was chairman of the convention.

AROUND DECK

THERE is a need for time economy in the deck lines at the cafeteria. Here is a solution. The minute you enter the dining room, center your thoughts on the soups, vegetables, and desserts that you see on tables and trays. If you could shut your eyes, it would be easier, but just try imagining from the things you have seen what you would like to have before you when you have sat down at the table and unfolded your napkin.

There is usually a line of students waiting to go around deck, so you will have plenty of time to decide just what your appetite requires. This is a good chance for you to view the menu which is placed on deck; thus you are not deceived by fancy names on printed placards. Of course, if the line has followed the above suggestions, this step will be somewhat shortened.

There are logical reasons for delays, such as shortage of silverware or trays, but see that you do not hold up the procession.

Why shouldn't you have the best serving of salad on deck? It is all right, if you can select that one without hesitation. However, it is a recognized fact that people in general eat too much, so do not feel disappointed if the serving girl places a larger salad where yours once was.

Now comes the bread question. You either do or do not care for it. If yours is an affirmative decision, do take an empty plate before reaching the milk and butter deck.

Does it sound difficult? Give this routine a trial and form a habit, if possible. You will be both pleased and surprised at the speedy record you can set in selecting your daily meals.

CATFISH

WHEN shipping a tank of fish from New England, the fishermen always put in a catfish. There is a reason for this. The catfish hates inaction and is an opponent of peace. Never will he be found "fins in nockets" lounging around pools in idleness. He stirs up things with a vim.

Thus the rest of the fish in the tank have to move about to keep out of the way of the alert catfish. In doing this, they are kept from becoming flabby and are good for sale when they arrive at the city market.

Human catfish aren't always so pleasant to have around, but they are absolutely necessary to our everyday life.

The catfish probably never had a fin in "Let George do it," but it's quite likely that he did in "Let's do it now."

The parish priest of austerity Climbed up in a high church steeple,

To be nearer God so that he might

Hand down his word to his people.

And in sermon script he daily wrote

What he thought was sent from heaven,

And he dropped it down on the people's heads

Two times one day in seven.

In his age God said, "Come down and die."

And he cried out from the steeple, "Where art thou, Lord?"

And the Lord replied, "Down here among my people."

Veal On Trees

In the modernizing of the dairy, power-plant, mill, press, and other industries by the installation of modern machinery and the application of scientific principles, the campus itself seems to have been forgotten. However, the progressive spirit of Union has prevailed, and this year the trees are enjoying the benefits of a new deal.

Under the direction of Mr. C. R. Millar, an experienced tree surgeon, a number of the young men have learned by the apprentice method some of the fundamental principles of tree surgery. After several weeks of instructing and working with the men, Mr. Millar found it necessary to leave. Since then the work has been directed and carried on largely by students.

The extent of the work is very evident to anyone on or passing by the campus. Nearly thirty trenches about two feet wide and two and a half feet deep, and with a radius of approximately fifteen feet were dug around those trees that have suffered most from the drought. A half million gallons of water were put into these trenches—water enough to supply the average person with drinking water for more than 3,000 years.

Extensive surgical work is being done on the trees themselves. They Yvonne Olsen says her home is east of the "Application" mountains.

One of our freshman students wished to know how much the test would count on the mid-semester grade. The answer was that the paper would count one-third. The frosh sighed with relief and then said, "Fine, but how much would that which was on the paper count?" We wonder too!

Found: Some of that Rhetoric knowledge we lost last week. In case you want it returned report to Eleanor Kirkpatrick in Room 214.

Some students discussing plans for a Saturday night mentioned that the program was to be miscellaneous. A senior engrossed in perplexing thoughts of Systematic Theology or just plain space gazing, came back to the present long enough to ask, "Miss who?"

Until early in the nineteenth century it was a very ancient custom practiced at Inverness, Scotland, for the spinsters to meet the matrons in an annual game of football. All the available women took part, and the men surrounded the players and urged their sisters, wives, and sweethearts in their struggle, directing their efforts by word of mouth, and encouraging the exhausted to struggle on and secure the much-coveted prize. The honors of these unusual combats, strange to say, rested more often with the married than the single, for the men selected their wives from those who showed most prowess and endurance on the field.

We saw Chester Wickwire playing basketball last week. We hope he hasn't lost his little red hanky, for we haven't see it lately.

Question: What was made the second day of creation?
Answer: Fermentation.

have been thoroughly pruned; the superfluous bark has been removed; diseased trees have been opened and decay taken out which, in some cases, left a hollow tree.

Some of the superconservatives have been shocked and dismayed at the general appearance of the trees after they have been treated. Some have accused the workmen of hollowing out and burning down the trees. (Some of the workmen have even been accused of first degree tree slaughter!)

Twenty-seven trees were beyond chance of recovery and hence were "grubbed out."

ALUMNI

By Elsa Emery-Lonergan, secretary of the Southern California chapter of the Union College Alumni association.

Why can't we have a Union Reunion? This question was heard frequently wherever two or more Unionites happened to meet in Sunny Southern California.

And so we did.

It turned out to be a real success. The Spirit of Union attended this informal banquet at Alhambra, California, April 21, in the persons of 230 loyal Unionites.

With eagerness and anticipation we met in the lobby room of the Elks Club. There were so many old friends to meet and much to say.

Harry Evans, Master of Ceremonies, introduced our program. He asked that every one stand, introduce himself, and tell his present occupation. By the time dinner was over we were all acquainted. There were doctors, missionaries, ministers, teachers, nurses, homemakers—and Bob Hiene said he is running a chicken ranch.

A short business meeting followed the dinner. Harry Evans appointed a committee (Dr. William Worster, Mrs. Ruby Damsgard, and Ethel Dearborn Stewart) to bring in recommendations for a future organization. He then introduced Professor Lee Marsh, the Toastmaster of the evening.

The program was as follows: "Tillie and the Twins," a reading, by Marie Olson Miracle; "The Song of the Golden Cords," a reading, given by Emma Lou Vogel and written by Helen Gardner Davidson; toast to Union, by Donald Hartwell; college song, written by Lee Marsh, led by Paul Bringle, and accompanied by Miss Estelle Kiehnhoff; "Union famous," a talk by Dr. William Worth; hanging of Golden Cords, by Harry Evans, for Dr. and Mrs. C. P. Bringle and Dr. and Mrs. Everett Miracle; vocal solos, by Miss Estelle Kiehnhoff, accompanied by Mrs. Lee Marsh; appreciation of Christian education, talk by Dr. Newton Evans; mixer game, conducted by Mrs. Wm. Worster; college pep song, led by Paul Bringle; and moving pictures of South America, taken and presented by Elder Charles Baker, on furlough from Peru.

Officers elected for the coming year were: Professor Lee Marsh, President; Dr. E. C. Kellogg, Vice-President; Elsa Emery Lonergan, Secretary-treasurer.

There were three present who were at Union for its opening: Dr. Ben Nicola, Dr. Newton Evans, and Elder E. G. Hayes.

Opportunity was given during the program for any one to tell incidents of college life which might interest those present. The reporter noticed that the decade of 1910-1920 seemed to have brought the most lively group to Union. Or perhaps they were better represented at this gathering.

Everyone's heart sang for Old Union!

ACADEMY

Elnora Turner, a senior in the Union College academy, has moved into North hall.

Only two of last year's seniors from the Academy are not enrolled in Union college this year. They are Carl Holland of Tulsa, Oklahoma, and Dorothy Thrall of Rogersville, Missouri.

Beulah Cotte from Blair, Nebraska, an eleventh grade student, is the latest one to register in the Academy.

To repeat by memory the twenty-third Psalm "en francais" is the goal of academy students who are studying French this year.

Marjorie Keene, Evelyn McWilliams, and Russell Hanson were the leaders for the three academy prayer bands which met each morning just before chapel during the week of prayer.

Having turned in the most "subs" for the CLOCK TOWER since Wednesday, Union College academy students were proud to see their red and silver banner raised in chapel Friday. Bill Pruitt, their leader, declared, "That's just the way we planned it, so it would be up over the week-end when everyone could see it."

Dorothy Thrall, who was graduated from the academy last year, attended the teachers' institute held in College View, November 13-16. She is teaching grades two to five at the Oak Grove school at Rogersville, Missouri.

-:- Suggestions -:-

The editor received some helpful hints by asking for public opinion in chapel Wednesday. Some of the best replies were unsigned, so all names are omitted. Those printed below are exactly as they were submitted.

Why couldn't this CLOCK TOWER be written in the Swedish language, so that those of us from Minnesota could read it too? Severely, Gut Knute P. S. The print is of a good size.

I believe the CLOCK TOWER is doing fairly well.

Something besides editorials by the editor! Some spice of life. News. Not all "polletics."

I wish names were more fully identified with articles written. Initials do not always suffice.

I believe there should be far more news notes. The students' paper should be about the students.

The journalism is quite good, although description is quite extensive.

Satisfied at present.

I suggest that names be spelled correctly.

Contain personalities outside of the "big shots." Everyone already knows about them. Avoid repetition of same name in paper. Monotony!

I have no suggestions now. Will let you know when I do have.

I liked the Campus Close-ups last year. Why not continue them?

Personally I enjoy good editorials, and wish the staff could get ahold of good editorials.

I have heard several say that they thought it would be nice if the CLOCK TOWER would look up the birthdays of the students and put them in according to months.

CLOCK TOWER is O. K. Please don't put in a silly joke column.

I think the CLOCK TOWER is excellent. I'm proud of it.

Campus Close-ups was an interesting feature last year. I think we should have it again.

The CLOCK TOWER is satisfactory to me. I like it. May it long live and prosper!

I would like to see a sport column with the standings each week of the basketball team and a brief summary of the game.

I would like to see some of the exceptionally good Sabbath school secretary reports given which will give those out in the field some new ideas. Our pep song might be published sometime.

Master Singers . . .

Other selections were Logan's "Lift Thine Eyes," Liszt's "Liebestraum," and a "Celtic Hymn" by Robertson. For a bit of amusement the ensemble sang "Italian Salad," a musical jest by Genee. The singers' own arrangement of "Trees" received special applause.

"This is the most attentive audience we have ever sung for," declared the director at the conclusion of the program. "And I mean that," he added.

Winter Sports of Minnesota

By EINAR HAUGEN

The chief winter sports are skating, hockey, tobogganing, and skiing. Many of the high-speed skating meets are held in Minnesota. Both state and national meets are held there. Last year the Olympic try-outs took place in Minnesota. There are several famous speed skaters whose home towns are Minneapolis or St. Paul. One of the world's most famous boy fancy skaters comes from Minneapolis. He now holds the world's championship for boys in fancy skating.

Then there is the game of hockey, which is played on ice with skates. Both Minneapolis and St. Paul have produced very fine teams. However, good teams have come from other parts of Minnesota. This game is very rough but very exciting, for it is a very fast game. The players travel at a high rate of speed on the hockey rink.

A sport which is not a competitive sport but one that is a lot of fun is tobogganing. It is very thrilling and sometimes dangerous because of the rate of speed gathered while traveling down the hill. A chute-like slide is made on the hill to keep the toboggan on a straight path. This chute is iced so as to make traveling much faster.

The most thrilling sport to most people of the snow covered regions is skiing, both for fun and competition. In Minnesota there are several ski slides. On these slides men and sometimes women speed down the incline and then sail out into the air for long distances. This sport is called ski-jumping. Minnesota skiers have the record of making jumps of more than two hundred feet through the air. (The world's longest jump was somewhat over three hundred feet and it occurred in Czechoslovakia.) The skier comes down a slide and then jumps out into space. A beautiful skier looks like a bird in the air. He then lands on a very steep hill. After landing he slides until he comes quite a distance out on flat ground. At the time two brothers who are world famous skiers live in Minneapolis. These brothers have made many records; both have been national champions several times and one has been world's champion. He has been in the Olympic races twice. Anyone who wants a thrill should watch a ski-jumping tournament, or better still try a pair of skis and see how much snow he can get into his ears. Anyone wanting a real scare should climb a ski slide and try coming down as fast as he can, and if he doesn't hang to the railing he is braver than most people.

Calendar Reform . . .

(Continued from page 1) week. By this means a perpetual calendar would be established for all time. "This proposal is not necessarily of prime concern to the Church; it need only affect lay interests. But it would obviously be more acceptable to public opinion if it were accorded the sanction of the Church's authority. No Christian community that has studied the question has found any objection to the proposal (with the exception of the Seventh-day Adventists), and the Episcopal church of America has expressed its official approval of it in the strongest terms." Seventh-day Adventists are now on permanent record at the Vatican.

Walter Wiese . . .

(Continued from page 1) to assist foreigners—but on the boat! No one spoke my language nor paid the slightest attention to me; everyone did things that were new to me. I was lonesome and miserable, and when the skyscrapers of New York came into view I was glad," were Walter's comments on his trip across the waters. Walter learned the baking trade in Germany, and he has proved his worth at Union as a baker. He bakes six hundred loaves of bread a week to feed the hungry Unionites. He even finds it necessary to spend a long Saturday evening baking bread once in a while.

When asked why he didn't try to mix with the rest of the school family at Saturday night entertainments, he said, "I'm not inclined that way very much. I like to be with people, but ever since I was a youngster I've had to look at the serious side of life and I just haven't learned how to play. I think Saturday night programs and entertainments are essential to college life even though I seldom attend." "What do you think of American public life as you find it in general?" was a question put to Walter.

"It's too complex. Hurry and scurry—everything is activity and bustle. I believe in thrift, and the Germans are thrifty, but Americans seem to scamper here and there, seemingly making many unnecessary motions! Women as well as men lead a strenuous public life. In Germany the woman stays in the home."

It's rather pleasant to be down and out when something goes wrong with the airplane.

Personal mention of Marshall Rockwell and his picture appeared in the article in the Campus Chronicle that reviewed the activities of the Associated students of Pacific Union college since its organization last year. Marshall was its first president and graduated from P. U. C. last spring. At Union he was a pre-medical graduate of '33, junior class president in '34, and a chemistry laboratory assistant. He is now studying medicine at Loma Linda.

Margaret Rogers, a senior, was forced to discontinue her school work because of her health. She is at her home in Colorado but plans to spend the winter in California.

Paul L. Wilson from Campion academy, Loveland, Colorado, visited his son, Gordon, and daughter, Wylma, during the teachers' institute.

Was it the weather, the program, the "exams," the thoughts of leaving the soft hospital bed, or the smiling nurse with her attentions that made Thurston Waterhouse and Dan Cornforth return to the hospital Sunday morning after having been released Friday evening?

Eldarita Leslie has moved to Gustine, Texas, where she has accepted a position in the dramatic department of the high school there.

Julian Ball visited his brother, James, November 9.

Jerrylyne Sullivan is now able to be about after having spent several days in the Lincoln General hospital and her room in North hall because of a minor operation on her foot.

Ruth Magdanz and Adelyne Anderson wrote for fourteen and a half hours on their accounting test. They would do it again for a box of candy or an "A," they said.

Dean Hickcock, former Unionite, is doing printing work in Princeton, Kentucky. He writes that he is doing well.

Mrs. Fred Norman from Lake Villa, Iowa, visited her niece, Luella Walker, November 13-17.

Twenty-six volumes of the New York Times have been added recently to the already overflowing library. Each volume is 3 1/2 by 18 by 24 inches and contains only one month.

Small hail stones the size of pin heads caused many a fall Sunday.

Mrs. J. R. Cross visited her daughter, Gladys, and son, Chester, at the college recently.

Mrs. E. A. Warner and daughter, Ruth, visited Bernice Warner, Sabbath.

Florence Lucille Terry-Brown, class of '35, has become skillful at the art of baking pies, especially chocolate pies.

Miss Ethel Swayze was hostess at a six o'clock supper in the spread room Saturday evening in honor of her sister, Ellen Swayze. Other guests were: Thelma Tiede, Dan Cornforth, Warren Swayze, and James Ward.

Mrs. A. R. Brenton visited her daughter, Corinne, last week-end.

Many of the college students attended the dedication of the new Seventh-day Adventist church in Lincoln November 16.

Anders Haugen and son, Lars, visited Einar Haugen last week.

Duane Mock is wearing glasses now.

Kathryn Mills is teaching school near her home at Casper, Wyoming.

The Lincoln Broom works, an industry at Union college, produced forty dozens of brooms Sunday.

Henry Meissner, from New York, arrived this week. He plans to attend college the second semester. Henry will go with Professor Engel on his concert tour.

In honor of the teachers, conference workers, and parents here from Minnesota during the teachers' institute, the Minnesota students held a party in the men's worship room preceding the program Saturday night.

Philip Jones, a former Unionite, is in Lincoln selling pecans for an Oklahoma firm.

The Knights of 72 were seen to have a special luncheon in the dining room Sunday.

Helen Helm, Evelyn Hankins, Jesse Dittberner, Harvey Zeelau, Hans Kuehne, and Gunther Paulein gave a program for the children at the state orphanage Sabbath.

Freeman Gilbert, Kenneth Laws, Hubert Ary, and Dan Greene are learning to cook. Friday they prepared a meal of buns, tomato juice, and protein.

Kenneth Laws and Dan Greene are in the infirmary at South hall.

Leonard Martinson has been elected captain of the "North" basketball squad. Martin Lushbaugh and Kenneth Laws are captains of the "Village" and "South" squads.

Merton Searle is in the Bryan Memorial hospital having been rushed there to have an emergency appendicitis operation. His sister, Bernice, visited him during the teachers' institute.

Warren and Ethel Swayze enjoyed a visit with their sister, Ellen, of St. Paul, during the teachers' institute.

At the basketball game November 9, the North was defeated by the outside team 17 to 13.

During the teachers' institute Cecil Barr from Kansas visited his sister, Beulah.

Mrs. Frank Marsh moved to College View recently to join her husband, who is an assistant professor in the science department.

Carl Manthey, who spent several weeks in the Lincoln General hospital, has gone to his home in Fairbury, Nebraska. He plans to return second semester. In his absence John Zollbrecht is official steam checker. Mildred Walinder had as her guest during the teachers' institute her cousin, Arthana Peterson, from Missouri.

Would someone please explain the meaning of the three X's that appeared after the word "Sophomores" on the bulletin board November 8?

Mrs. E. L. Johnson visited her daughter, Irene Schmidt, during the teachers' institute. She is teaching in Greeley, Colorado.

At least one of the Harvest Ingathering kittens has found a permanent home. Torpedo is now at least three times its size when purchased and meaner than ever. Mary Little is the proud owner.

Arthur and Elmer Martinson enjoyed a visit from their mother, Mrs. C. J. Martinson from Wayzata, Minnesota, during the teachers' institute.

Have you noticed the new newspapers in the library? They are the papers of the different schools with which we exchange.

Mr. and Mrs. Varner J. Johns and son, Warren Le Roy, visited Alger Johns during the teachers' institute.

Believe it or not, but North hall was serenaded at 3 a. m., November 8. "The night watchman certainly can whistle," remarked the person who heard him.

Mrs. R. A. Gibbons visited her daughter, Arlene, November 14 to 16. Mrs. Gibbons was on her way to her home in Gary, Indiana, from San Diego, California. At San Diego Mrs. Gibbons was a demonstrator in the Christian Record booth. She told the girls of her trip in a talk at worship, November 14. Mrs. Gibbons sang and played also.

Mr. and Mrs. D. J. Marquardt and son, Frank, visited their son, Robert, and daughter, Evadna, over the weekend of November 16 and 17.

The Outside team is still undefeated. At the basketball game November 16 they defeated the South 13 to 11.

Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Babcock and two sons of St. Joseph, Mo., recently visited their son, Burton, and daughter, Claribel.

The Jayhawks proved to be early birds when they met Sunday morning at 5:30 in the gymnasium. They skated, marched, and played volleyball.

Rachel Wendt recently enjoyed a visit from her mother.

Concerning the Scribes

Anna May Pearce, a history major from Casper, Wyoming, is responsible for many of the news notes this week. Anna May is friendly, a librarian, and has a weakness for anything in, from, or near Wyoming.

Roger Baker also gathered news notes. Roger is a Bible major, a successful colporteur, and a native of Oklahoma. Roger is one who in the request in chapel for suggestions for ways to improve the CLOCK TOWER asked for more news notes. The staff proceeded to grant him the privilege. The beauty of it is that he cheerfully cooperates.

Another of the CLOCK TOWER's news reporters is Isaac Berry, better known as "Zeke." Zeke is a laboratory assistant, and his major is chemistry. He intimates that when he has obtained the cultural and aesthetic advantages that are involved in the B. A. degree, he plans to go to Loma Linda to study medicine.

Einar Haugen comes from Minnesota, and he has written a feature article describing winter sports of the North. The two brothers to whom he refers in the article as being champions are his own father and uncle. Einar himself is very much interested in skiing and can talk at length on the subject.

Irene Johnson is a brave little girl who has the courage to major in mathematics. She gathered news notes also. Irene is not from Minnesota as her name might suggest. Her home is in Nebraska and she graduated from Shelton academy. Irene is secretary of the junior class, and anyone desiring to meet her needs only to ring the doorbell at North hall (at the proper time, of course).

Though his home is in Tennessee, Clarence Dye, business manager of the CLOCK TOWER, insists that he is a native of Colorado. Clarence wrote the account in the last issue of the new work program. He is a linotype operator at the college press. Clarence needs no introduction to those who attend chapel regularly.

Vesta Fillman, a freshman from Oklahoma, has broken any ice that may have been in the student body. Vesta is secretary of Kappa Theta and wrote the account of the last meeting thereof. Vesta has capabilities along musical lines and is friendly to all.

Frederick Harder is an authority on the tree doctoring that has been going on on the campus. Frederick wrote about the process for this issue. He is majoring in Bible and history, and he came here as a graduate of Enterprise academy two years ago.

Trapper Teel . . .

day afternoon strolls. However, he stayed so long last Sunday that Master Teel became fidgety. So it happened that he (Teel) decided to take a look down the sidewalk for a chance sight of Jim whom he hoped might only be having a political discussion with one of the demagogues of the squirrel family. But Jim was nowhere to be seen. By the time another hour was gone the trapper's fidgets had turned to nervous agitation, so he called out the coon hounds to aid him in his search for Jim. Now the hounds were exceptionally good trailers, being junior guards, so they soon sniffed onto Jim's trail. Jim was up a tree, but he was filled with such sheer delight at the sight of the hounds that he came down immediately. Woe was he! The hounds were so happy to find him that they pounced upon him with the greatest of glee. 'Twas only a love bite, but Jim gave up the ghost.
