Cleveland to Close Prayer Week

It is the hope of the leaders of the Spring Week of Prayer that a "Fire" will indeed permeate the students of Union College as student and guest speakers present their topics for thought Mar. 8-16.

The theme of "Fire" will be used throughout the meetings for the week and all activities will center around this idea, according to Vickie Danielsen, student coordinator of the Week of Prayer.

The kick-off for the week will begin tonight when Larry Hallock, MV leader, will speak, explaining and launching the motto for the week.

Sunday evening Elder James Harris, Central Union MV Secretary, will present a "Twentieth Century Challenge."

Morning chapels will be held on Monday, Wednesday and Friday mornings at 7:20.

Musical coordination for the week has been conducted by Dan Goddard and will also revolve around the week's theme and topics for each meeting.

On Friday evening, Mar. 15, and the following Sabbath, Elder E. E. Cleveland of the General Conference will be the speaker.

The Sabbath School program for Mar. 16 has been specially written for the week of spiritual emphasis. It will be a narrative program, including meditative poetry of the 17th century, interspersed with special musical numbers.

The week will be closed with three discussion group periods on the last Sabbath which will be conducted by guest ministers. These groups will be held at 9:45-11:00 a.m., 1:45-3:15 p.m. and 3:30-5:00 p.m.

Below is a schedule for the coming week:

Friday p.m.—Larry Hallock

Sun. p.m.—Elder James Harris

Mon. a.m.—Stan Hardt—"A Better Idea"

Mon. p.m.—John Gates—"For Sinners Only"

Tues. p.m.—Helmer Heghesan—"The Fire of Love"

Wed. a.m.—Don Bush—"Mission Impossible"

Wed. p.m.—John Felkel—"What Christ Is Doing for Me"

Thurs. p.m.—Lavern Lee—"Quick, the Fire-Fighters"

Fri. a.m.—Doug Moline—"Internal Combustion"

Fri. p.m.—Elder E. E. Cleveland Sabbath a.m.—Elder E. E. Cleveland

Literary Deadline Nears

Only one more week remains in which to submit entries for the literary publication. All entries must be in by Friday, Mar. 15. Entries may be in the form of art work, poetry, or prose, and may cover any subject which the individual chooses. The emphasis is on creativity and uncovering hidden talent on the Union College campus which others may also enjoy.

A review board will examine all of the entries and choose the one which is to receive the $20 grand prize, as well as other winners in the separate divisions.

According to Gisela Behrendt, publication editor, all work which is accepted for publication will appear in the Library of Congress, as the magazine will be copyrighted. Students who are interested in submitting works should do so as soon as possible.

The publication, which will be available the first of May, will contain a specific theme and some variation in print.

Faculty members are urged to submit entries as there will be a special section for their works. The publication staff members hope that no talent, even that of the faculty, will remain hidden after the magazine has been published.

All art and literary works should be placed in the slot in the door of Room 303-F in the Administration Building by next Friday, Mar. 15.

Psychology Courses Added

A change in the department of education curriculum has been approved for next year, according to Dr. George Stone, chairman of the department of education.

The present 2-hour course in Mental Hygiene will be changed to Abnormal Psychology with 3 hours of credit and a prerequisite of Education 71 or 97.

Two new courses, Psychology of Personality for 3 hours credit and Psychology of Exceptional Children for 3 hours credit with Education 97 prerequisite, will also be offered.

Psychology of Personality will delve into such topics as personality measurement and organic factors in personality such as the endocrine system.

Psychology of Exceptional Children will consider psychological problems of children with mental, sense or physical disabilities, or advantages, and the psychotherapy and techniques suggested in coping with such children.

Dr. George Stone, education and psychology chairman, recently presented several changes and additions in the field of psychology to the Curriculum Committee.

27 Board Members Appointed

During the recent Board and Constituency meetings, several important decisions were made concerning future faculty appointments, according to President R. W. Fowler.

At the Constituency meeting of Feb. 28, twenty-seven of a maximum of thirty members were appointed to serve on the 1968 Union College Board, which began its official operation the following day, Feb. 29.

Although six members were elected to the Board who were not on the campus the day of the Constituency meeting, four of them managed to arrive at Union

Mr. Lanny Collins, organ instructor, tries out the new Hubbard harpsichord which will be used by piano and organ majors in the music department.

UC Obtains Harpsichord

During a recent interview, Mr. Robert Murray of the music department commented on the department's recent acquisition of a harpsichord.

The harpsichord was designed by Frank Hubbard, who is recognized as the world's leading authority on the construction of harpsichords, according to Murray. The harpsichord is a replica in every way except in the details of the case of the harpsichords built 300 years ago by the Ruckers of Antwerp. The Herbert Burton harpsichord factory of Lincoln manufactured the harpsichord.

The music department plans to use the instrument with the string ensemble. Piano and organ majors will be introduced to it with pieces originally composed for it.

CUC Modernizes Attendance Policy

Seniors in good standing, and upper classmen on the upper division honor roll or dean's list will be excused from required class attendance beginning next year under a new ruling voted by the faculty at Columbia Union College in Takoma Park, Maryland.

All students in the excused category will still be responsible for any announcements made in a skipped class period. Laboratory periods or unannounced tests are not excused under the new provision. If one should skip class the day an unannounced quiz is given, he would not be able to make it up.

Students who have a valid excuse for missing class will still be able to make up all class assignments, quizzes and tests missed. Although the ruling is not official in effect until next year, some teachers have indicated they will tacitly recognize the ruling immediately.

in time for the Board meeting the next day.

The decisions made at the Board meeting include the granting of three faculty leaves-of-absence next year, and one leave for second semester only, in order for graduate work to be taken.

Eighteen of the faculty will also be taking graduate work this summer.

The Board voted to add to the staff a music department instructor, an additional librarian and a modern language instructor.

Fourteen faculty members were also given promotions in departmental rank.

The 1968 Board was the first in the history of Union College to include two female members.

SIK Plans Active Semester

The officers of Sigma Iota Kappa have scheduled several events for the coming weeks.

Scheduled for Mar. 6 is a rifle and pistol demonstration, which is being sponsored by the Rifle and Pistol Club here in Lincoln. The speaker will be Mr. Al Mart, president of the club. He plans to lecture about the club itself and the history of firearms, and will have rifles on exhibition.

A Barber Shop Quartet is to be the principle attraction on Mar. 20. The Quartet is from Lincoln, and will sing a number of songs for entertainment.

Sigma Iota Kappa is also publishing the "Sigma Iota Kappa Sheet" each Sunday which began Mar. 3. This publication will contain such articles as "Man of the Week," a look at the man on campus who has participated in the most recent and funniest activity, announcements of week-end sports events here on campus and current events about sports events in Omaha, such as ice hockey.

Sigma Iota Kappa proposes to begin a weight lifting club, according to Dave Bowers, S.I.K. president. The success of this club depends on the number of interested persons.

If anyone has any suggestions for interesting activities that he would like to have, he should contact one of the S.I.K. officers.

Orchestra to Play Saturday Evening

The Union College Concert Orchestra, under the direction of Mr. Robert Walters of the music department, will present a concert, including such composers as Beethoven, Haydn, Gluck and Sibelius, on Mar. 9, at 8:00 p.m. in the college auditorium.

The program to be presented by the fifty-two member orchestra will feature Beethoven's "Egmont Overture" and also his "Concerto No. 1 for Piano and Orchestra." Mr. Robert Murray, assistant professor of music, will be the featured piano soloist for the concerto.

Gluck's "Overture Iphigenie en Aulide," Sibelius' "Finlandia" and "March from 'The Love of Three Oranges'" by Prokofieff will also be presented during the evening.

editorials

... the firing line

news depends on events

The editors would like to apologize for the sad lack of news material appearing in recent issues of the Clock Tower.

On the Clock Tower staff we have two news editors whose duties consist of finding in advance every event happening on this campus which could be reported in the Clock Tower. They then assign these news articles or features to our staff writers (numbering about eighteen to date).

Provision has been made and if the "action" is there the Clock Tower almost invariably reports it. In fact the Clock Tower is so eager to keep its readers abreast of the news that the members of the editorial staff literally "rack" their brains in order to uncover some new "happening" worth reporting.

At this stage any comment on the lack of activities on this campus would be futile. But we would like to point out that on a campus with an enrollment slightly exceeding a thousand, there is a definite problem in finding sufficient material to fill four pages per week.

From this point of view we do not feel that we are "blowing our own trumpets" when we say that our news editors are doing a fine job. Furthermore, those who give their time and talents as staff writers are equally meritors of commendation.

The Clock Tower has strived and will continue to strive to bring its readers all the available and applicable information.

We feel, therefore, that the deficiency of campus news does not reflect on the Clock Tower staff, and trust that our readers will bear with us until events suitable for reporting become more prolific.

problems trouble students

ACP—The "student in trouble"—a rare phenomenon 10 or 15 years ago—is now common on the college campus, the Valparaiso (Ind.) University Torch commented in an editorial.

The increase in academic pressure in the community (from the prevalent attitude, "you must succeed in college to be happy and productive"), together with the growing impersonality of large-scale education, has caused a corresponding increase in the psychological problems of the student.

Almost every student quickly discovers how many people are deeply unhappy about their lives, and the number of such people increases fantastically in four years of college. We hazard the guess that 25 percent of college students have psychological difficulties severe enough to impair their academic performance and make them fundamentally unhappy.

For every person who reveals his personal problems there are probably three or four who worry about them in privacy, prevented by fear of social stigma from disclosing them. Many students know someone who has either attempted suicide or seriously contemplated doing so. If so many students have reached this point of despair, we may readily conclude that great numbers of others are in less desperate, but nevertheless serious situations.

Factors contributing to psychological problems are complex, and no superficial discussion could possibly confront them. We would, however, suggest several areas of possible inquiry: poor living environment, parental expectations, inadequate outlets for relaxation, crises in ethical values, sexual problems, collapse of religious beliefs and an inability to find relevance and meaning in human life in general and in the academic life in particular.

Many of the problems stem from pressures exerted by society at large and as such are not remediable by any particular university. But there are things which can and should be done to ameliorate the resulting difficulties. Certainly the present psychological counseling facilities are totally inadequate.

There needs to be, too, some comprehensive self-examination by the entire community of this problem and an end to Pollyannaistic claims that the typical student is a happy, well-adjusted securely religious individual.

We need a hard realistic look at ourselves, followed by fresh ideas and expanded counseling facilities, if we are to prevent an impending psychological crisis in the student community which might, finally, shake us out of our complacency.

... you said it

What is your opinion of the weekend "lights-off" policy in Rees Hall, which includes shutting off of electricity at 11:00 p.m. on Friday and 12:00 p.m. on Saturday nights?

Ed Harlan: I can't see any reason for it, although there could be one.

Linda Sterling: Being as there are no studies or late leaves on Friday evening, I do not think it unreasonable to turn off the lights. However, on Saturday night it does seem unreasonable to those girls with late leaves who may be forced to set their hair, etc., "academy style" in the dark.

Kip Kipping: What does it accomplish?

Bob Holbrook: I think it's ridiculous. Electric blankets and clocks can't be used or any other electrical equipment for that matter. Kids can get away with more in the dark than in light because they can't be identified.

Nebraskans Urge Voting at 19 Years

A group of Nebraskans both above and below the age of 21 Friday, Mar. 1, announced the formation of a nonpartisan organization to work for the ratification of a voting age of 19 in Nebraska.

Constitutional Amendment No. 1 which proposes that the Nebraska voting age be lowered to 19 will be voted on in the November, 1968 election. The Nebraska Legislature passed it for placement on the ballot in February, 1967.

At a press conference in the Governor's Hearing Room in the State Capital, the group called Nebraskans For Young Adult Suffrage (NFYAS) listed ten state dignitaries who are honorary members of the organization, in which are included Gov. Norbert Tiemann and former Govs. Frank Morrison and Val Peterson.

Dave Piester, 20, a University of Nebraska junior from Minden and a member of the NFYAS Coordinating Council, spoke for the group. He said NFYAS has three main principles. They are:

—Nebraskans 19 and 20 years of age will be capable voters.

—Active participation in government by its citizens is an essential cornerstone in the preservation of a democratic heritage.

—Young adults, one of Nebraska's most valuable resources, will make significant contributions to the continuing development of the state.

"At 19 and 20, Nebraskans are meeting and fulfilling important responsibilities to themselves and their government," stated Piester. "Many are attending institutions of higher learning for their first or second years. Many are found in Nebraska's labor force occupying positions of leadership and initiative, and many are married and heads of families."

He said young adults comprise "a significant segment of our society" and should be included in the political process.

Piester said nearly 100 other Nebraskans from all over the state are working on the organization's research, public relations, finance, local coordinating and speaker committees.

Carolyn Erwin: (School Nurse) Every Sunday and Monday more than a usual amount of girls come flocking in, claiming they couldn't use electric blankets and got colds over the weekend. It seems like the girls are mature enough to go to bed when they should. Besides, the fact that it is the weekend is more of a reason to have lights on because studying doesn't have to be done.

Karla Krampert: I definitely think that college women have the mature self-control it takes to sensibly and quietly retire at a reasonable hour on Friday and Saturday nights without being coerced by regulation of lights.

Irv Hamilton: I can't understand that, because the girls can't use electric blankets or other electrical equipment. What is the difference between Saturday night and any other night of the week?

Ken Walters: (Business Department) I think it's unfortunate that Rees Hall residents must study their Sabbath School lessons by flashlight.

Sandy Holmes: I think we are mature enough to have twenty-four hour electricity and use it wisely.

Virgil Poleschook: The girls pay the same amount of money for electricity as do the guys; therefore, why can't they use it? After all this is civilized America!

Dr. Stone: (Education Department) I think if students are mature enough to go to bed five nights a week, they surely would go to bed on Friday and Saturday nights, and if not, we should teach them how to be mature rather than turn the lights out on them. They are paying for the electricity and they should be able to use it.

Carolyn Reyes: On Friday nights it's not too bad, but on Saturday nights, I think they should leave them on because some kids do stay up and study.

Bud Gooch: As much photographic work as I do on the weekend, Rees Hall would seem a natural location for the school darkroom.

March 16-23: A Million Prayers a Day

By Joe Engelkemier

A recent issue of Newsweek revealed that the Middle East war of last June involved a confrontation with Russia "every bit as grim" as the Cuban missile crisis.

"When the Israelis started rolling into Egypt's Sinai Peninsula," the magazine reported, "Moscow told Washington to tell Israel to withdraw within a specified time or the Soviets would come into the fight with everything they had." The White House ordered the nuclear-armed Sixth Fleet close in on the war zone, meanwhile keeping the hot line busy, and once again a nuclear showdown was averted.—Newsweek, Feb. 12, 1968, p. 17.

The causes of tension are still there, however, and during recent weeks the signs of the coming "time of trouble such as never was" have multiplied at an accelerated rate. The Pueblo affair, the Viet Cong offensive, pictures from Vietnam showing dead bodies stacked like cordwood, new clashes in the Middle East, the threat of a world-wide financial crisis, warnings that the summer of 1968 will see the bloodiest race riots in history—these are just a few of the things which emphasize our need to seek the Lord.

The week of March 16-23 has been set aside by the General Conference Missionary Volunteer Department as a week of special intercession for an outpouring of the Holy Spirit upon the youth of the church. The General Conference, and every division, union, local conference and mission of the entire world will be uniting in prayer during this week.

Jesus has promised, in Luke 11:9-13, that our Heavenly Father is more ready to give us the Holy Spirit than earthly parents are to give good gifts to their children. If we will but fulfill the conditions, the outpouring of the Holy Spirit will come.

"The descent of the Holy Spirit upon the church is looked forward to as in the future," wrote the servant of God decades ago, "but it is the privilege of the church to have it now. Seek for it, pray for it, believe for it. We must have it, and Heaven is waiting to bestow it."—Evangelism, p. 701.

Heaven is still waiting—waiting for us to fulfill the conditions. How appropriate for such an hour as this is 2 Chronicles 15:12, where we read: "And they entered into a covenant to seek the Lord God of their fathers with all their heart and with all their soul."

Would you be willing to enter into such a covenant? Would you include in your covenant a determination to spend a specified time—say ten minutes a day—claiming specific promises for the outpouring of the Holy Spirit?

Time alone, of course, is no assurance of special victories. Strength in prayer is better than length in prayer. But unless we do make specific commitments, intercessory prayer is so often crowded out.

Illustrating the power of intercessory prayer, the servant of God says: "From the secret place of prayer came the power that shook the world in the Great Reformation."—The Great Controversy, p. 210. Mrs. White relates how "with holy calmness" the servants of God set their feet upon the rock of His promises. There were times when Martin Luther spent three hours a day in earnest prayer.

The intercession of these men changed the course of history. And so it can be again. "It is a part of God's plan to grant us, in answer to the prayer of faith, that which He would not bestow did we not thus ask."—Ibid., p. 525.

Effective prayer is not a mere repetition of words. It involves claiming Scriptural promises—promises which become "mighty arguments" of faith. Why not meet together in small groups upon your campus to claim promises such as Luke 11:9-13, Ephesians 3:20, and Joel 2:28? Why not enter into a covenant to seek the Lord for the fulfillment of His promises concerning the outpouring of the Holy Spirit? Let it be not merely for a week, but until the Lord comes.

As you do, your influence will spread. Consecrated youth "sway a mighty influence." "There is no other class that can do as much good as young men and young women who are consecrated to God."—Messages to Young People, p. 204. May God bless you in hastening your Saviour's return!

Ras Outscores Taylor 75-61

Wednesday night, Feb. 28, the basketball fans saw Dennis Ras defeat Lary Taylor in a game that looked as though it was Taylor's at the end of the first half, when he led by a fair margin of 5 points, 38-33. Taylor lost by a big margin of 14 points, 75-61, however.

Ras was helped tremendously by George Ras, whose 6'7" stature aided in the rebounding department as he pulled down 16 points. Ras was also doing a good job offensively as the second highest in the scoring department for his team.

In the first half the game was controlled mostly by Taylor with the height of his team matched pretty evenly against that of Ras'.

The second half proved to be a different story, however, as the constancy of Ras' rebounding and shooting became more and more evident. Ras seemed to have the second half well under control as he went on to win by the big margin.

The high point man for Ras was Grosboll with 19 points, 9 of which were free throws. He was followed by George Ras with 17 points.

The high point man for Taylor was Blehm with 22, followed by Sterling and Siebenlist each with 17 points.

The high point man for Poleschook was Dan Poleschook himself with 21, followed by Bischoff with 17 points.

The top 15 players as far as total points and averages for the season so far are as follows:

Name	Avg.	Tl. Pts.
1. Ed Grosboll	20.1	161
2. Wayne Widicker	20.1	177
3. Henry Sterling	20.0	120

4. Bob Bischoff	18.9	151
5. Dan Poleschook	18.6	149
6. Spike Lewis	18.3	146
7. Larry Unruh	17.0	102
8. Ralph Kerr	14.8	118
9. Lary Taylor	14.7	103
10. Dick Siebenlist	14.7	103
11. Bob Blehm	14.1	99
12. Jim Anderson	12.0	96
13. Stan Hardt	11.8	94
14. Emmanuel Hixson	11.3	88
15. Jim Brown	11.0	77

The team standings for the season so far are as follows:

Team	Wins	Losses
Logan	6	2
Taylor	5	2
Ras	5	3
Gryte	3	5
Skinner	2	6
Poleschook	2	6

Watchman Assists Police

By Lowell Rideout

The campus police are generally laughed at and mocked, and yet many students have no idea what the campus police really do besides lock and unlock buildings. The following three paragraphs reveal an actual event in routine of one of Union College's policemen as stated by him:

"About 2:00 a.m. Sunday morning, Feb. 25, Miss Dorothy Woods heard shuffling outside her window at Bancroft Courts. Not caring to peer out, she went to another room and looked out. There he was, a man with brown hair, no cap nor glasses, wearing a dark jacket, trousers and leather boots.

"As soon as she contacted me, I followed his tracks in the freshly fallen snow. He had come from the west, crossing 48th St. at Bancroft St. He had peered into some windows at the stone apartments on 48th and his tracks went into a house at So. 53rd St.

"I called the police, and a squad car was here in ten minutes. They said they thought they knew the man. He was in jail several months ago and is known to have molested children. The police went to the address, but the man would not let them in. They said they would get a search warrant and have Miss Woods identify the man."

Lest some of the readers get the idea that the campus police do this type of thing every night, it should be added that most work is routine. Every night-watchman checks between twenty and thirty buildings on his three-hour round. Windows must be closed, lights turned off and all the outside doors locked before the nightwatchman may leave a building. Although the UC campus police have no jurisdiction off campus, they note speeding cars and other signs of trouble in order to be of help to the Lincoln police, and they try to make UC a safer locale for students and faculty.

AU Feature Films Raise Questions

Andrews University has initiated a Film Series on their campus. This film series, by the S.A. Educational Standards Committee, is being conducted to arouse dormant questions and ideas into vibrant thinking and meaningful discussion that will result in progressive action in areas of concern.

The four films shown last fall were: "The Angry Silence," "A Patch of Blue," "The Gospel According to Saint Matthew," and "To Die in Madrid." Each film was followed by a short discussion to further develop thoughts initiated by the movie. Address any questions you may have concerning this plan to David Taylor, Chairman of A.U.'s Educational Standards Committee.
