Business Conducted as Constituency Meets

Cree Sandefur was reelected president of the Pacific Union Conference last month at the 22nd business session of the Church in the five-state West. All departmental leaders were also renamed.

Cree Sandefur

The 500 delegates asked South-eastern President Max C. Torkelsen to be the new secretary, replacing retiring Secretary W. D. Walton, but he chose to accept the invitation of the North Pacific Union to become their president. A new secretary will be named by the Union Committee on March 4.

Associate Secretary Earl Canson of the Southern California Conference was asked to head the Regional Department, replacing retiring G. N. Banks.

In other business, Union Committee membership was increased to 50, adding more laypersons and pastors. Study is to be given to a stronger Black public evangelistic endeavor, and the constitution was updated according to current membership and responsibilities. Evaluation of the current Union-centered Religious Liberty Department is also to be made within a year.

Every-member Priesthood

An every-member evangelistic thrust was introduced by the departments through Ministerial Director John Osborne. Sharing what has happened in his Portland, Oregon, church where such a witness is being made, Elder Don Gray suggested that public evangelism is more effective for reaping and follow-up. "The first duty of individual members and pastors is to share what Christ has done for them." The Oregon congregation last year added 80 persons by baptism, since the enthusiasm of the every-member concept was expanded.

"Colaborers"

Recapping the way the Lord has led His Church in the Pacific Union during the past five years was a multimedia presentation, "Colaborers with the Angels." The 47-minute program in picture, interview, music and recorded narrative is being made available for church groups and will be shown at some camp meetings.

Devotionals were led by Vice President Neal C. Wilson of the General Conference for North America, and General Conference President Robert H. Pierson. Other world headquarters leaders in attendance were J. W. Bothe, secretary assigned to North America and Associate Leader W. S. Banfield of the Regional Department. Charles Brooks, speaker for the Breath of Life telecast, also gave suggestions for witnessing.

Statistics

Membership of the Pacific Union now totals 123,363 in 512 churches and companies, though those figures change almost

INSPIRATION SAYS

"As His representatives among men, Christ does not choose angels who have never fallen, but human beings, men of like passions with those they seek to save. . . . There are souls perplexed with doubt, burdened with infirmities, weak in faith, and unable to grasp the Unseen; but a friend whom they can see, coming to them in Christ's stead, can be a connecting link to fasten their trembling faith upon Christ.

"We are to be laborers together with the heavenly angels in presenting Jesus to the world. With almost impatient eagerness the angels wait for our co-operation; for man must be the channel to communicate with man. And when we give ourselves to Christ in wholehearted devotion, angels rejoice that they may speak through our voices to reveal God's love."

Care Center Educates Youth

Four academy-level students, a retired minister-educator, a jam-packed care center. How do these add up to a unique feature at Hilo Care Center?

The four teenagers, sons and daughters of staff members, could not go to a Christian school. The retired educator set up a tutoring program approved by the state and the union conference.

But now, the Care Center enters the picture. Six department supervisors agreed to help teach the students a Vocational Education Survey course.

IIV Concludes Seminar Tour

It Is Written completes its highly successful spring Revelation Seminar tour with two Pacific Union seminars, March 7 at the Hilton in Palm Springs and March 11 at the Eureka Inn Motor Lodge in Eureka.

These two Seminars cap a tour of the Seminars, with George Vandeman and George Knowles, through central and northern California, Washington, British Columbia and Colorado. The Palm Springs Seminar is the only Revelation Seminar to be held in southern California this year.

Seventh-day Adventist attendance at the Seminars is limited to those church members who bring non-church member interests. A $12.50 per person fee is charged to cover costs of materials and the noon vegetarian meal.

More than 270 non-Seventh-day Adventists are currently attending follow-up Seminars held by pastors of the Central California Conference as a result of two Seminars held there.

Follow-up Seminars in every conference are equally well attended.

For registration at these Seminars call: Palm Springs: (714) 328-5233; Eureka: (707) 442-6050

This Sacramento couple attended the Revelation Seminar just six days after their wedding. The Seminar fee was paid by a relative as a wedding gift.

Each student will be involved in each of the six departments on a rotational basis two weeks at a time.

The five academic units earned by the students in this survey course are the least of the benefits they derive. By work and study the students will become acquainted with the opportunities and demands of each vocational area.

And the Care Center has lent its facilities and supervising personnel to augment and enrich a Christian education program.

Final Ingathering Report Given

We, like the Psalmist, are led to declare, "I will praise thee, O Lord, with my whole heart; I will shew forth all thy marvelous works." Psalm 9:1.

God once again has blessed the service of His people. The final figure of $1,384,591.01 for our 1975 Ingathering is the highest total ever reached in the Pacific Union. The per capita of $11.41, however, is the second highest in recent years. The report gives place for rejoicing and place for challenge.

I trust that our prayers will continue to bring before the throne of God the interested persons contacted.

A big "Thank you" to every one who took part.

Clinton Shankel, Director, Lay Activities.

"The humblest and poorest of the disciples of Jesus can be a blessing to others. They may not realize that they are doing any special good, but by their unconscious influence they may start waves of blessing that will widen and deepen, and the blessed results they may never know until the day of final reward. They do not feel or know they are doing anything great. They are not required to weary themselves with anxiety about success. They have only to go forward quietly, doing faithfully the work that God's providence assigns, and their life will not be in vain. Their own souls will be growing more and more into the likeness of Christ; they are workers together with God in this life, and are thus fitting for the higher work and the unshadowed joy of the life to come."

Community Services Aids Guatemala Victims

A number of community service centers have asked the conference office what we are doing to help the victims of the Guatemala earthquake.

We are happy to report that within recent weeks 268 boxes weighing 7,476 pounds have been shipped to the Seventh-day Adventist World Service depot in Watsonville, California. These boxes contained a wide variety of items, including children's and adults' clothing, blankets and many other items that can be used to good advantage in this disaster.

Our Dorcas leaders and workers have worked faithfully in preparing these thousands of garments that we know will be a blessing.

The Seventh-day Adventist World Service shipped a plane-load of 25 tons of supplies of $80,000 value from Kennedy Airport to Guatemala City to aid in relief work. A shipment contained blankets, tents, bandages, wire splints, large kettles to prepare food, and gasoline lanterns, and many more items.

We are pleased our Community Service Centers have been preparing many needed items essential when a disaster strikes. In today's uncertain world no one knows which area may be affected next. Certainly this affords us an opportunity to show that we are prepared to do the work that needs to be done to be of service to mankind in these disasters.

Conference To Review Finances

The Annual Audit for the Nevada-Utah Conference and the Nevada-Utah Association will be held in Reno on Monday, March 8. At that time Union President Cree Sandefur and Union Treasurer R. L. Cone will be with us, together with others who will carefully review the financial activities of 1975.

A budget will also be voted for 1976 at this time.

Each year as the Audit Committee meets, in addition to the conference committee and union conference personnel, two additional laypersons are invited to meet with the committee. The two laymen selected to meet with the audit committee this year are Dr. Fred Hufnagel from the Heavenly Valley congregation, and Robert Rupracht from the Hawthorne Church.

Union conference auditors have spent several weeks in Reno carefully auditing all the business details of the conference for last year.

A full report of the entire financial picture of the conference and association will be presented at the constituency meeting to be held in Las Vegas March 21-22.

Nursing Home Cheered by Youth

Desert Terrace Nursing Home is being cheered each Sabbath afternoon by youth from Phoenix Central Church who come and sing with guests at the home. Walter McLennan leads the congregation-type singing.

Bob Squire and the junior division also help. The difference in age groups adds variety. As many as 20 residents come to the music room and half that many congregate in the hallway. Eight to 20 from the church share in what the attendants describe as "beautiful." Books are passed out to those who desire them.

One of the guests visited by Phoenix Central youth is Olga Oss, heroine of the book, Behind Barbed Wire, an account of World War II experiences in a Japanese internment camp. Triumphs of Faith tells of Mrs. Oss' earlier experiences when she solicited Ingathering funds in Chaing Kai-shek's pre-war China. Both books are out of print; Central's Sunshine group is searching for old copies.

Meeting persons with exciting lives like Olga Oss is an added thrill to the joy of sharing Christ with others through music.

Thunderbird Students Hold Week of Prayer

Decisions for baptism and rededication to Christ were made during the Student Week of Prayer held recently at Thunderbird Adventist Academy.

Using the theme "Happiness Is . . ." 11 students developed the truth that making Christ alone the Lord of the life brings true happiness.

Speakers were David Cossentine, Sue Barrera, Almira Kriner, Jim Williams, David Burns, Van Bledsoe, Jodi Davies, Rick Rasco, Don Keele, Jr., Becky Dowell and Keith Nelson.

As Keith summed up the week on Sabbath morning, "Happiness is Jesus as our Friend."

Newsnotes of Nevada-Utah

✓ Pastor Gerald Schulze of the Reno Church recently held a very successful Five-Day Plan to Stop Smoking at the CAMLU Retirement Center in Reno. He was assisted by Dr. Roland Postlewaite and Dr. Harvey Lashier.

Fifty-seven people registered and over 40 completed the program. A follow-up program is being held each week and the people are faithfully attending.

✓ The January church remittance revealed an offering of $2,840.46 for Religious Liberty as compared to the January offering of $1,920.05 last year. We are pleased with this strong support by our members. Since offerings for Religious Liberty will be received through March and April, we will be able to again do extensive work in religious liberty. Liberty magazine needs to go into the hands of influential people across the country now more than ever. This certainly holds true in our conference.

✓ Recently Arrah Curry, M.D., Kent Phillips, D.D.S., and Roland Postlewaite, D.D.S., joined President A. G. Streifling in a day at Loma Linda University recruiting medical and para-medical personnel for the Nevada-Utah Conference.

The response of many students who inquired about the work in Nevada-Utah shows a keen interest in setting up practices in areas where there are genuine needs.

This is the fourth year a recruitment team has gone to Loma Linda from our conference. We are beginning to benefit from the many contacts made.

'Mochi Pounding' Raises Money

Some 60 Pathfinders, youths, and adults of the Los Angeles Central Japanese Church responded to a call for a venture into mochi pounding on Sunday, December 28. Mochi pounding is a Japanese tradition done each new year by the family. They get together, make rice cake and eat it, symbolizing long life.

The Pathfinders decided to renew this old tradition to raise some money for new supplies needed for the coming summer activities.

Vallejo Drive Welcomes Elder Roland Shorter

Elder Roland Louis Shorter has come to the Glendale Vallejo Drive Church as associate pastor with special emphasis on the youth.

Having received his B.A. at La Sierra in 1968, he's like one who's come home. His ordination in 1974 was a complement to five years of service in Texas, first at Fort Worth, then Wichita Falls and Houston become coming to our conference.

Born in India of missionary parents, he met his wife at Newbold College in 1969. They are parents of two children, Nicole, age five, and Jonathan, age three.

His father, Elder Roland W. Shorter, was formerly on the staff of the White Memorial Church.

Scenes from the Communications Workshop

Press Secretaries Congregate

Southern's 1976 press secretaries and several church pastors met February 8 to get a better line on their duties as news reporters for their congregations.

Some 40 women and men sat through the five-hour instructional session which included professional guests as well as conference communication personnel.

Devotional thoughts were given by Elder Wyman and Union Conference Communications Director Shirley Burton directed their thoughts to statements that Mrs. White made concerning writers and their work.

Bob Godwin, teacher of photography in the adult education classes at Burbank, discussed the art of taking pictures and Clarence Brown, assistant publisher with Wave Publications, explained a newspaper's structure and what makes good news.

During a buffet luncheon at Glendale Adventist Medical Center, rosebuds were given to Janice Blair, Pat Geren, Martha Mason, Janet Matsuda, Chuck Mitchell, LaVerne Neighbors, Evelynna Harvey, Manilla Pierce, Robert Reese, Mary Lou Sigmon and Eilene Staires for their outstanding work last year.

Three were recipients of annual awards: Press Secretary of the Year went to Rosemary Walton (Culver City); "First Runner-up" to Marie Toenniesen (Covina), and "Second Runner-up" to Hazel Anderson (White Memorial).

BIBLE PALACE CONVERTS ORGANIZE—Those who won to Adventism during Elder Rainey's tent preaching in last summer's Bible Palace Crusade have organized into a new church of 176 members known as the Maranatha congregation. The installation service took place at 4 p.m. January 24 in the Imperial Heights Church of the Brethren, 1909 West Imperial Highway. Supported by the other Black pastors in Los Angeles, new Church Pastor J. E. Merideth, Jr., presented his members for acceptance into the sisterhood of churches and President Harold Calkins spoke. New Conference Treasurer R. L. Walden expressed warm, encouraging words for the new congregation. Pastor N. F. Porter of the church in which they meet gave a warm welcome and Elder W. W. Fordham from the General Conference also took part.

April 3 with meetings nightly except Sunday and Monday.

This seminar will begin a new plan in the Sacramento area to evangelize the city through a continuing program held in six areas of the city.

Meeting locations with pastors and dates are as follows:

Southgate church, Pastor Ralph McGann, March 6-April 3; Linda Heights church, Pastor Paul Emerson, April 24-May 22; Sacramento Central church, Pastor Gery Friesen, June 12-July 10; Orangevale church, Pastor L. W. Taylor, September 18-October 16; Rancho Cordova church, Pastor Jack Fridley, November 6-December 4; Carmichael church, Pastor R. K. Tilstra, January 15-February 12, 1977.

The new advertising format now being used has brought a good group of visitors to the Prophecy Seminars, many of whom have not had Seventh-day Adventist contact before.

Highlighting the meetings each evening will be a photographic trip with Elder Walter showing slides of his recent round-the-world travels. He and his wife spent two months last year in Malaysia holding evangelistic meetings in Kuching and Sibiu, Sarawak.

The team desires to lead men and women to Jesus. If you have friends in the area please pray for them and invite them to attend these meetings. Better yet, bring them with you.

Elder Walter urges the members in these Sacramento-area churches to plan their programs, personal schedules, vacations, etc., in order to be home and able to aggressively support the evangelistic meetings in their church area.

Yuba City Community Services Center Opens

The long-awaited opening of the Community Services Center was a 1975 highlight for the Yuba City Church.

Features of the new 3,400-square-foot building are: an office room, a kitchen area, bathroom facilities, large work areas and many cupboards for storage. The Center is centrally heated and air-conditioned and, if built today, the cost would be triple the $23,000 purchase price.

The Center replaces a small, overcrowded building where Dorcas ladies worked for many years. When purchased from the local Moose Lodge, it was in need of thorough cleaning inside and out.

After many weeks of hard work, the walls inside were transformed from grease-stain brown to clean, fresh white. The interior odor gradually changed from stale tobacco to oven-cooked vegetarian foods. Outside, the building became clean and inviting, with newly landscaped entrance.

On Dedication Day, more than 50 local church members and dignitaries from throughout Northern California came to witness the ribbon-cutting and enjoy a potluck meal together. Former Yuba City Pastor William Ludwig compared the transformation of the building to the change in the human heart and life when Christ takes over.

Center Director Pansy Snavely related the history of the Dorcas work in Yuba City, beginning in 1930.

Low Cholesterol Cooking Taught

The Cloverdale Church began the new year with classes in low cholesterol cooking. The three-evening "Fun with Natural Foods" course was taught in January by Lois Marchus of Soquel. Assisting her were her daughter, Shirley Hufnagel, and Lavon Ramsey. Many church members helped to prepare and serve food samples each evening.

The three classes covered the problem of how to get adequate protein from natural foods and meat analogs in order to lower cholesterol intake, the basic principles of good nutrition and how to get the most for the food dollar, and the making of nutritious desserts and bread. Recipes were available each night.

Attendance averaged 50 persons nightly. Many local professional persons attended, 35 of whom were friends from the community. One woman completely changed her family's dietary habits as a result of the series.

Conference Lay Activities Director J. B. Church compared the building to an army recruitment center where persons are inducted, outfitted, trained and sent out into the field. "This building alone will do little for the community," he said. "The people who work in it or out of it will make the difference."

I very much enjoyed the talk on Vegetarianism and would appreciate very much your sending me your book about it, as I am on my way to becoming a vegetarian.

Has Vegetarianism always been a precept of the Seventh-day Adventist Church? Do certain members ever backslide or suggest a desire to taste meat, and if so, does the Church do anything about it?

Whatever you would like to tell me in this regard, I should be very grateful. Thank you.

THREE RECENT TRACY CAMPAIGNS. Ingathering—Six persons earned Jasper Wayne awards, five of whom have been church members only about three years.

Evangelism—Twelve baptisms resulted when Elders Duane Corwin and Jerry Dill were loaned to Northern by the Central California Conference for a series in Tracy.

Smoking Clinic—Nearly 100 persons attended the recent Five-Day Plan; most of them achieved success. Leroy Reed, Dr. Ralph Allen (at the pulpit) and Elder Charles Edwards conducted this community-service program.

IN KEEPING WITH THE THEME of making someone happy, the children of the Readiness Room at La Sierra Elementary School chose to remember the patients of a local convalescent hospital by making them small Valentine gifts and cards. The concept of happiness coming to those who serve was applied to the students' lives as they carefully made the gifts and then saw the results when the patients gratefully accepted the remembrances. Above, Anna Puder, patient at a convalescent hospital, is shown receiving her remembrance gifts from (left to right) James Mallery, Tricia Walters and Lisa Shearer.

'Nursing Update' Aids in Recall

In recent years nursing has expanded the programs it offers and has increased the responsibilities of the nurse within the various programs.

Nursing Update is an attempt to bring the nurse current information affecting the nurse either directly or indirectly in nursing practice as well as individual responsibility for maintaining professional standards.

Completion of basic and advanced programs in nursing do not prepare one for a lifetime of nursing practice. Consequently, the Office of Continuing Education in the School of Nursing at Loma Linda University is committed to providing opportunities to review, renew, augment and modify previously acquired knowledge and skills.

A workshop for Registered Nurses, planned to coincide with the Alumni Post-graduate Convention, will be offered Wednesday, March 10 8:30-4:30. Topics covered in the afternoon session will be repeated in the evening 6:15-9:30.

Topics to be presented include: Trends in Pharmacology, Nursing Audit, Expanded Role of the Nurse, Continuing Education Requirements, Current Legislation, and Legal Implications.

100 Years Old, Auntie Blanche Is Still Active

"Auntie" Blanche Spriggs was 100 years old Friday, January 16. She celebrated the event by attending Sabbath school and church the next day, as is her custom. Presently a member of the Cambrian Park Church in San Jose, she has attended the Adventist Church regularly since her mother first took her 100 years ago when she was two or three weeks old.

Born in 1876 in State Center, Kansas, Blanche Rhoades married a 29-year-old minister named John Spriggs when she was 27. During 40 years of marriage the Pastor and Mrs. Spriggs, childless themselves, boarded and cared for many children, sending some through school. Auntie Blanche still sees a few of them and recently had a visit from one of her "children" all the way from a mission post in the Philippines.

A widow for 42 years, Auntie Blanche has lived with a niece, Norma Youngberg, for the past 35 years. Her brother (Norma's father) was prominent Adventist Educator Bert Rhoades.

Auntie spends a good part of her time reading, collecting and mailing back issues of church publications to overseas mission stations, and sending Bible studies through the mail. She not only keeps her own room neat and clean, but helps Norma do light household chores and care for two Thai children Norma and her son have adopted.

Auntie Blanche taught public school in Iowa. She was a Bible teacher and church organist during her husband's ministry. She has read the Bible through 84-85 times. She's been a vegetarian since she was 60.

Auntie had to celebrate her birthday without Norma because her niece was in Bangkok making arrangements for the adoption and transportation of more Thai orphans.

Schools Work Together for Week of Prayer

A total of 45 students of Mountain View Union Academy participated in a Week of Prayer for West Valley Elementary School in Campbell early last month.

"Like Jesus" was the week's theme. Each day two groups from the academy were responsible for presenting the services. Two programs were held simultaneously. Grades 1-4 met in a large room of the Campbell church and Grades 5-8 met in the church chapel.

Teams of two would visit the classrooms for devotion and prayer each morning, giving an opportunity for more personal contact among students.

Songs, stories, special features, and the "sermons" were all prepared and presented by the academy students. Each class—freshman, sophomore, junior and senior—was represented daily, making this truly a united effort.

Principal John Shafer and his staff at West Valley School were very supportive and ex-

"The fact that we are called upon to endure trial shows that the Lord Jesus sees in us something precious, which He desires to develop. If He saw in us nothing whereby He might glorify His name, He would not spend time in refining us. He does not cast worthless stones into His furnace. It is valuable ore that He refines. The blacksmith puts the iron and steel into the fire that he may know what manner of metal they are. The Lord allows His chosen ones to be placed in the furnace of affliction, to prove what temper they are of, and whether they can be fashioned for His work."

Pre-School Officially Opens

Na Keiki O Ka Aina (Children of the Land) Pre-School was officially opened Sunday, February 8. Honolulu Central Seventh-day Adventist Church, though still in the process of building, felt that an Adventist pre-school would be an asset in the community.

Spearheaded by Raymond Lau, Pat Rutherford, Sr., and

Gladys Mamo Dutro, it became a reality as Mayor Frank Fasi cut the maile lei.

"It is important we know God to make our country strong. A Christian pre-school is a good way to start the young children in the right direction to know God," said Mayor Fasi, guest speaker of the occasion.

Hawaiian Mission President Lawrence Davidson and Pastor George Coffen of the Central Church, explained the purpose of the pre-school as a service to those in the community who find it necessary for both parents to be employed outside the home. In time this pre-school will hopefully provide employment for several academy students.

Gladys Dutro serves as director, and Saralyn Tollefson-Chow and Judy Brown are the teachers. Esther Lau will prepare the daily hot meals.

Elder Gordon Dalrymple Dies

February 13 Gordon Franklin Dalrymple laid down the only weapon he knew — the sword of the Spirit. At 44 he closed a 24-year ministry to rest until the Lifegiver calls him.

He was born in Mountain View where his father, Elder Gwynne Dalrymple, was associate editor of the Signs of the Times. Graduated from Walla Walla College, he was ordained in the Oregon Conference where he served as pastor-evangelist.

Associate editor of These Times for four years, Elder Dalrymple won the American Freedom Foundation Award for an article on religious liberty. He was then called to be associate editor of the Signs—his father's old job!

For 10 years Elder Dalrymple was director of the Bible school and public relations for Faith for Today, until he moved to The Voice of Prophecy as director of public relations two years ago.

Thousands found Christ during the crusades which he always conducted in addition to his other work.

Elder Dalrymple is survived by his wife Lois; children Gordie, Laurie, Jolee and Jeanne; his mother and two sisters.

The draft as of now is totally deactivated, as are Draft Boards and the Lottery System. No one can enter the military service except through enlistment.

During this time of turning swords into plowshares, we counsel all of our young men and women not to enlist unless they have all information available, information which can be obtained from their local or union conference National Service Organization.

Actually there are no guaranteed provisions made for Seventh-day Adventist personnel to obtain noncombatant status or Sabbath privileges when enlisting. The only exception is in

Industrial Education Stresses Practicality

Practical service to students and a Christian philosophy highlight the La Sierra Industrial Education Department. Department Chairman Don-fore they graduate."

Although the department does not have many majors, Bower feels quantity does not measure quality.

"We have doubled enrollment in some areas, with an especially large enrollment in our automotive area," says Bower.

Car repair is just one of many programs the department offers. A well-rounded photography program attracts a large number of students each year. The department also has a complete aviation program.

"Four of our majors are now flying in the mission field," says Bower. We are now acquiring a flight simulator, so more students in our ground school can obtain certificates."

The education a student receives in the department includes not only classroom theory, but practical applications in on-the-job situations. "Not only know-how but do-how as well," is the way Bower describes it. A building and construction class is now finishing a house. An architecture class is drawing plans for another building to be soon started.

Trade training is the number one service to students the department offers. Many students from other majors come in and learn a practical skill.

"We had a pre-med student come in and take our courses in brake work. Now he has worked for two summers in a garage making very good money to pay for his education."

Department programs are very flexible. If a student wants to learn a trade, a program can usually be arranged to suit his needs.

Bower feels his department also serves the church in a very special way. "You don't always have to preach to people. Sometimes the best witness is the way we live our lives. Many times our graduates get jobs where they are the only Adventists," he says. "We try and train Christian workers."

The industrial education department offers programs for students who want to enter careers in mechanics, metal and wood construction, drafting, welding, photography and maintenance. Teaching credentials are also available in conjunction with the School of Education.

Sophomore Industrial Studies Major David Pimentel of Lancaster is spending a lot of time this quarter in auto mechanics, one of the most popular areas in the department.

ald Bower says, "When a student takes a class from us he learns to earn. Everything we teach here has wide-open employment opportunities. Many of our students have jobs be-

Secretarial Seminar Scheduled

Secretaries and executives throughout the Union are invited to a seminar on "Communications and Effective Human Relationships" to be held on the La Sierra campus March 23.

The seminar, sponsored by the LLU Secretarial and Business Education Department lasts 9 a.m.-4 p.m. The cost of $20 per person includes lunch.

Guest conductor of the workshop is Dr. John Van de Water, who, as president of Van de Water Associates, Inc., lectures and directs seminars in management development and supervisory training.

A seminar on Time Management was conducted at La Sierra by Dr. Van de Water in September 1973. Many of the 200 who attended have often asked that Dr. Van de Water give another. Participants also felt there was an advantage that, if possible, both the secretary and boss attend the workshop.

Application for the seminar must be made by March 15. For further information including application, contact Dr. Lois McKee, Secretarial and Business Education Department, LLU, Riverside, CA 92505; or (714) 785-2039.

Of the 4,754 individuals on sustentation from denominational employment, 1,910 reside in this Union.

Treasurer Robert L. Cone's report shows that tithe for 1975 alone reached $40,568,888.55, and Pacific Union constituents gave nearly a half million dollars in the mid-summer Adventures in Faith offering. Net worth of the Union is fixed at $5,223,721.29.

Tithe in the five-year period totaled under the blessing of God $170.9 million at a per capita of $341.30 (1975 only).

Mission offerings during the five years surpassed $19 million, and all contributions to local church work exceeded $83 million.

Special guest was W. B. Ochs, a former Vice President for North America.

Referring to the first business session of the former Pacific Union held in Portland, Oregon in 1902, retiring Secretary Walton revealed that 50 delegates represented the 9,492 members in 190 churches. Tithe for 1900 was $76,985.

Challenge

Thankful for the growth and God's singular blessings in the Union, Elder Sandefur challenged constituent delegates to a "consecrated commitment to the completion of the task assigned as we consider the eternal calling to be collaborators with the angels.

"For the work will not be finished around the world until it is also completed in the Pacific Union Conference."

And the huge, resonant choir of predominantly male voices sang together a hymn from the early church, "He's coming, coming, coming soon I know; coming back to this earth again. And the weary pilgrims will to glory go when the Saviour comes to reign."

"Only through a living faith in Christ as a personal Saviour is it possible to make our influence felt in a skeptical world. If we would draw sinners out of the swift running current, our own feet must be firmly set upon the Rock, Christ Jesus."
