Union's Enrollment Tops 755

Latest statistics from the registrar's office place the college enrollment at 757 as of October 2. This figure includes ninety nursing students on the Colorado campus who were not included on the roster in the last issue of this publication. Included also in this figure are new students registered since September 17. The added roster appears on page 3.

An increase in the number of foreign students over last year helps to account for the larger enrollment. Sixty-five students representing twenty-four foreign countries make up the foreign population on the Union College campus this year.

Academy Enrollment

Reports from Mr. I. V. Stonebrook, UC Academy principal, indicate that enrollment in the academy surpasses that of last year as well. One hundred one students have enrolled in the academy to date.

Elem. School Enrollment

The enrollment of the Helen Hyatt elementary school is 182 this year, according to Mr. Gerry Thompson, principal. Mrs. Marie Rowland has been added to the staff this year, making a total of seven teachers working with Mr. Thompson.

The nearly 300 elementary and secondary students are not included in the college enrollment figure.

Elementary Teachers Receive MA Degrees

Two teachers in the Helen Hyatt Elementary School received their master's degrees this summer. They are Mrs. Lottie Mae Warren and Miss Iris Donaly.

Mrs. Warren received her master's degree from Texas Christian University where she received her B.S. in 1952. She taught in the Texas Conference several years before coming to Union College in 1956 as an instructor in the third grade of the elementary school.

Iris Donaly Lottie Warren

Miss Donaly received her master's degree from the University of Nebraska. She finished her B.A. degree at Walla Walla College in 1953 and was employed in the elementary school there before coming to Lincoln in 1953 as the first grade teacher. She is currently in charge of the fifth grade here.

Two Additions to UC Staff in Accounting and Physics

We welcome Mr. Roy G. Hunt, who has accepted the position of assistant accountant, to our college family.

Mr. Hunt is originally from Buffalo, New York, and comes to us as a graduate of Atlantic Union College. Upon completion of his college work, he was engaged as accountant at Union Springs Academy. Army life claimed the next few years, after which he returned to A.U.C. to be employed in the business office.

Mr. Hunt has recently been serving as treasurer at Auburn Academy. Previous to the years spent as treasurer, he was the office manager of Academy Wood Products at Auburn.

Don't Miss It!

Out of the heart of Africa comes Nature's greatest drama! Walt Disney's most exciting True-Life Adventure feature will be shown in the college auditorium tomorrow evening, October 11, at 8:15, as the annual CLOCK TOWER benefit film.

It took three years of daring and infinite patience, and hundreds of thousands of feet of film to record this story of the King of Beasts and the animals of his realm in the shadow of Kilimanjaro on the Serengeti Plains of Africa.

Every foot of THE AFRICAN LION is authentic, unstaged and unrehearsed. The story is Nature's own... the actions of her creatures, entirely spontaneous.

Board of Trustees Plan Academy Building Project

Plans for a new academy building were discussed by the Union College board which met Oct. 7 in Rees Hall recreation room. A committee was set up to lay definite plans for this new building project that will be sponsored jointly by Union College and the College View church.

Other actions taken by the board include the naming of Dr. C. L. Norman and Dr. R. N. Ochs as school physicians. They fill the position left vacant by Dr. R. T. Smith, who moved recently to the West Coast.

The date for the annual board meeting was set for Feb. 9 and 10 on the Union College campus.

ASB Sponsors Annual Campus Clean-Up Day

Thirty minutes of work and two hours of play was the program last Wednesday morning for UC students. The program was directed by the ASB president, Ted Wick, and his associates.

After thirty minutes of clean-up, the dorm fellows trounced the village men in a football game to the score of 7-6.

program, Union College has added another staff member in the Physics Department. Mr. James Spaulding is teaching the classes in Radio Physics and General Physics, as well as supervising laboratories in Electricity and Magnetism. In addition, he is in charge of all electronic repair and public address operation on the campus.

Mr. Spaulding comes from Fort Collins, Colo. After attending Campion Academy, he came to Union College, graduating in the class of 1956 with majors in physics and mathematics.

After graduation he entered government service, working most recently in research and development for the ordinance department of the Army at Picatinny Arsenal in New Jersey.

Semi-finals in the forthcoming ATS oratory contest have been scheduled for January 11, 1959. Finals will be February 1.

Edwards will speak at the regular convocation and chapel hours Oct. 10 and 13. He will also hold an instruction period for all solicitors at evening worship Oct. 13 in the college chapel.

Allen Heads Committee

Plans for the field day are under the general direction of Elder Sydney Allen of the Religion Department who is chairman of the Ingathering Field Day committee. The area around Lincoln has been divided into seven territories each of which contains three or four counties.

Students Head Teams

The solicitation in each territory is being directed by students. The students and the counties over which they serve as chairmen are: Marvin Moore, Dodge, Colfax and Platte counties; Robert Hyde, Merrick, Polk and Butler counties; Lewis Anderson, Saunders, Douglas, and Sarpy counties; Norman Wagness, Cass, Lancaster, and Seward counties; Gordon Kainer, York, Hamilton, Clay, and Nuckolls counties; David Sharp, Fillmore, Saline, and Otoe counties; and Robert Potter, Johnson, Gage, Jefferson, and Thayer counties.

No Mix-ups

"Students are serving under these men as chairmen for their respective counties. A detailed territorial division is being made so that no one will get his territory mixed up," Allen said.

Good Prospects

The Ingathering program will endeavor to reach all the farmsteads in each county allotted to the College.

"We believe this will be a good year due to the marvelous prosperity of the farms of Nebraska," Allen stated.

"We look forward to a bright day, many contacts for Christ, and a large fund to swell the support for our missionaries in the field," he concluded.

Work on Campus

Students not participating in the solicitation program will be expected to turn their time for field day to the dormitory deans to apply toward the Ingathering goal.

The rally Tuesday evening will include the traditional auction of produce and canned goods collected during the day.

It's this way Price of a Minute . . .

Minutes. What are they? Drops of eternity. What will you do with those delicate, priceless drops? Don't waste them. You can't afford to do that, for they are precious. Use each one carefully, for if you do not, it will vanish like a molecule of fragrant perfume. You cannot retract it. You cannot replace it. Once it is gone, it is lost forever.

One minute lost here; another lost there . . . They don't amount to much, you say? But if you could count and put together all the minutes lost in one lifetime, what would you have? Remorse, I think, because those beautiful drops of eternity can never be used nor reclaimed. So plan ahead. Those tiny drops are still being distilled from heaven and falling on you in gentle showers. Do not disdain them. They form the bridge on which you must walk to heaven. If you waste too many, will the bridge be long enough to span the chasm? M. A.

Too Much for Your Whistle?

Benjamin Franklin told of the time when, as a child, he was given some money as a gift. On his way to the store to spend the coins, he met a friend who was playing with a whistle. Young Franklin was immediately impressed with his friend's toy and offered to give him all his money in exchange for the whistle. The friend agreed to the sale, and Franklin returned home where he proudly displayed his purchase to his brothers. They spoiled his joy by telling him that he could have gotten the whistle cheaper in a store—that he had paid too much for his whistle. . . .

. . . In our busy school life, we sometimes pay too much for our educational whistle. We seem to overlook many of the opportunities that a Christian college has to offer outside the classroom. If, during our college years, we have had no time for personal devotions or for forming friendships, have we truly received a real education? If we have failed to learn to appreciate good music and literature, will we be able to say we have had a well-rounded college life? If we have refused all offers to take part in extra-curricular activities, won't we have turned down an excellent opportunity to learn to get along with other people? "Book knowledge" has an important place in our college curricula, but don't we often pass by other phases of our education that not only would make us happier, but would be beneficial in our after-school life? When you spend all your time with your books, completely ignoring other activities, haven't you paid too much for your whistle? A. T.

Arise, Youth, to the Leader's Call . . .

High above the realms of human imagination the plans of our omnipotent Benefactor are working to promote His grace to all people. His blessings are to be made manifest to the world in the lives and examples of His children.

This coming Tuesday is our annual Missions Promotion Day, a day in which each of us can do a small part in contacting people for the benefit of the world. It is not only a day in which a plan to obtain means for the support of Christianity and good works is effected, but also a time for the turning of hearts to the Master. Perhaps each of us may not be chosen to stand in a pulpit and sway large congregations but by God's grace each of the students of Union College may make spiritual contacts with people for God.

A great responsibility is resting on our shoulders for the souls of our closest neighbors. This may be the means of reaching them in a spiritual sense. And the blessings secured will be not only to those contacted but to us as solicitors. Back in the days when our friend Newton was experimenting with his apples, he postulated that for every action there is an equal and opposite reaction. This is one of the concrete laws of physics and is highly applicable to the existing situation as to the experimentation of the ancient physicist.

Therefore, since Ingathering has been a policy of our own Union College for many years, since we are a group of students bearing Christ's own name, and since it is God's will that we work for and with our fellow men to bring righteousness to His chosen—I propose 100% participation by Union's students for bringing the unveiling of Christ to the world on Tuesday. Arise, O youth, to the Leader's call. B. W.

Leditor

Dear Editor:

It sometimes seems far easier to criticize in a negative manner than in a positive one. In former years the CLOCK TOWER had a feature called "Bouquets to . . ."; I would like to revive that briefly with an expression of thanks.

I'm sure that many others were pleased as I was with the thirteenth Sabbath program presented in the College Sabbath school. Planning as far in advance as was necessary with that program is deeply appreciated. Thanks to the officers and sponsor of the Sabbath school for a fine program.

Sincerely,
J. J. Wiley

Danforth Foundation Invites Applications

The Danforth Foundation, an educational foundation located in St. Louis, Missouri, invites applications for the eighth class (1959) of Danforth Graduate Fellows from college senior men and recent graduates who are preparing themselves for a career of college teaching, and are planning to enter graduate school in September, 1959, for their first year of graduate study. The Foundation welcomes applicants from the areas of Natural and Biological Sciences, Social Sciences, Humanities and all fields of specialization to be found in the undergraduate college.

President David J. Bieber has named Dr. George L. Caviness as the Liaison Officer to nominate to the Danforth Foundation two or not to exceed three candidates for these 1959 fellowships. These appointments are fundamentally "a relationship of encouragement" throughout the years of graduate study, carrying a promise of financial aid within prescribed conditions as there may be need. The maximum annual grant for single Fellows is $1400 plus tuition and fees charged to all graduate students; for married Fellows, $1900 plus tuition and fees charged to all graduate students with an additional stipend of $350 for each child. Students with or without financial need are invited to apply. A Danforth Fellow is allowed to carry other scholarship appointments, such as Rhodes, Fulbright, Woodrow Wilson, Marshal, etc., concurrently with his Danforth Fellowship, and applicants for these appointments are cordially invited to apply at the same time for Danforth Fellowship. If a man received the Danforth Appointment, together with a Rhodes Scholarship, Fulbright Scholarship, or Woodrow Wilson Fellowship, he becomes a Danforth Fellow without stipend, until these other relationships are completed.

All Danforth Fellows will participate in the annual Danforth Foundation Conference on Teaching, to be held at Camp Miniwanca in Michigan next September, 1959.

The qualifications of the candidates as listed in the announcement from the foundation are: men of outstanding academic ability, personality congenial to the classroom, and integrity and character, including serious inquiry within the Christian tradition.

All applications, including the recommendations, must be completed by January 31, 1959. Any student wishing further information should get in touch with our Liaison Officer.

His Servant Speaks

(Editor's note: This is the second in a series of articles written by leaders in the Seventh-day Adventist faith.)

by Murray W. Deming
Pastor of the College View Seventh-day Adventist church

No man is an island; no man walks alone. Most people seek the fellowship of friends. Few of earth's millions find satisfaction in isolated asceticism.

Life's greatest moments are those happy occasions shared with others. Christian living is primarily a fellowship with God; fellowship with man. When fellowship with God is as it ought to be, fellowship with man is a constant pleasure.

M. W. Deming

Paul suggests this happy arrangement when he says, "God is faithful, by whom ye were called unto the fellowship of His son, Jesus Christ." Fellowship admits more than a passing acquaintance. It is inseparable companionship. Real friends eagerly look forward to the reestablishment of fellowship when circumstances have separated them for a period of time. They dread the moment when work and duty impose upon them days and even weeks of disunion.

Enoch's biography, told with startling brevity, is quite complete. It reads, "And Enoch walked with God, and he was not, for God took him." A little girl telling this story in her own way said, "One day God and Enoch went for a walk. They were so interested in their conversation that they walked farther than they had planned. When they realized where they were, God said, 'Enoch, we are closer to my home than to yours. You had better come home with me!'"

Volumes could well be written of Enoch's struggle to maintain his Christian experience in the midst of a people where every imagination of the thoughts of their hearts was only evil continually but inspiration chose to say simply, "Enoch walked with God." This is Christian fellowship; taking God along every step of the way.

Walking with God is an experience the world does not understand. This bond of union between a Christian and his Lord brings ever-increasing amazement to the worldling or half-Christian.

Paul declared our business to be the unfolding to the world of this marvelous mystery when he wrote to the Ephesians, "That I should preach among the Gentiles the unsearchable riches of Christ, and to make all men see what is the fellowship of the (this) mystery."

O let me walk with Thee, my God,
As Enoch walked in days of old;
Place Thou my trembling hand in Thine,
And sweet communion with me hold;
E'en though the path I may not see,

Yet, Jesus, let me walk with Thee.

Freshman Nurses Preview Professional Practices

by Shari Anderson

It was 4:30 p.m. and we freshmen nursing students had arrived at the Union College School of Nursing in Denver, Colorado. As we unloaded, we were warmly welcomed and given identification pins. Our luggage was taken to our places of abode and soon the activity started.

It was funny to notice how the mountain air and our 10½ hours of traveling had affected us. We were more than hungry, and so it was that supper was eaten with the heartiest of appetites.

After supper we gathered on the lawn, under the stars, and enjoyed a welcome party. The program was entertaining and the cookies and punch seemed to taste their best in the open air.

Bedtime came, but voices could be heard rising in excitement, and in early morning hours laughter still peeped out.

Friday, a busy day indeed! With breakfast and worship over, we took part in a class on fire precautions in a hospital. A tour through the hospital came next on the list, followed by dinner. A tour through Denver was planned for the afternoon. Many bought post cards at the Museum of Natural History, and the airport was a wonderful place to mail them.

As chimes rang over the hospital, another Sabbath began, and as we sat in worship, our thoughts were carried to the God who guides the lives of those who are devoted to the responsibilities of wearing a white cap.

With delight our hearts rang out, as we sang to those in the hospital wards. How wonderful to see the ill enjoy praises to God. Missionary Volunteer meeting was the last meeting and brought us to the close of another day.

Again the chimes rang out as we walked to Sabbath school and took part in the lesson study and gained spiritual guidance. After dinner the bus took us into the beautiful mountains. Later, we walked for nearly three miles, observing some of the most majestic beauties of this earth. It was a breathtaking picture to see the trees and rocks in wonderful colors on the side of a canyon.

In the evening hours we became aware that soon we were to leave the many new friends we had made. The party Saturday evening consisted of games, hot chocolate, and donuts.

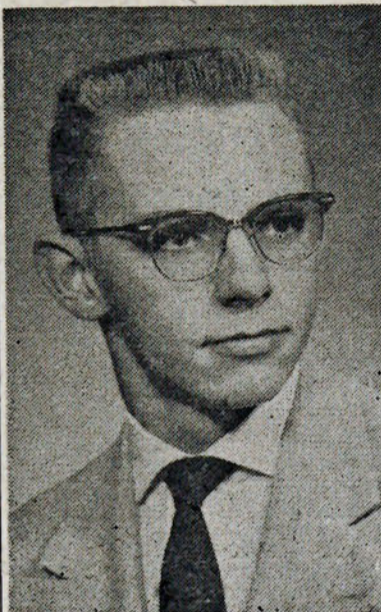

Morning came all too soon, and with our eyes not quite open, we future nurses left for the Lincoln campus.

Feature Focus

Thanks, Lowell

by Marvel Jensen

Our campus at Union College has perhaps some of the most talented students in college today, but how many of these students really know and appreciate the natural talents God has so graciously given. Yes, I mean walking, seeing, but most of all hearing.

Lowell Wagness, a freshman from Minn. lost all hearing as a result of an accident which occurred at the early age of four. But although tragedy struck, Lowell progressed through the aid of his understanding parents and brothers. After many hopeful trips to the Mayo Clinic, it was diagnosed as a case for which they had no cure. Immediately Lowell was enrolled in a special school for the deaf. There he studied until 5th grade. Being of a devote Adventist home his parents, after much deliberation, placed him in one of our own church schools. There Lowell developed and progressed rapidly. By his associations with the students he learned more and more. Being unable to hear was definitely a handicap, but by all means it did not discourage Lowell, for each day he learned by seeing.

On to Oak Park Academy. Ah! Those were the days. Being vice-president of boys club kept him more than busy, but never too busy to keep up on the latest sports, especially baseball and basketball. Oak Park will long remember his days in the school band where he played the snare drum. Then came graduation—1957. Was this the end of formal education for Lowell? Absolutely not. We see his smiling face amongst us in our classes as he goes toward a college degree. His high ambition is to work with people of like handicap, and we know how very needed he is in this field. Although he hears not a word we say, if we reflect the smile he so generously extends, there is much understood.

Let us stop now and again count our blessings. Thanks Lowell, for showing us how great and wonderful is our God.

North Campus Landscape Improved

Inter-America Featured In SS Mission Pageant

Union College students from the Inter-American division participated in a mission pageant in the college Sabbath school on September 27.

The students, representing Sabbath schools from the 18 countries of Inter-American, marched to the platform bearing their respective flags. The flags had been sent to Union College for this special program by Elder L. L. Relle, radio and Sabbath school secretary of Inter-American division.

An interesting feature of the program was the congregational singing of the traditional Spanish Adventist hymn, "Mas Alla Del Sol" (Beyond the Sun). The singing was led by Norman Wagness, and the program was narrated by La Vona Gordon.

The Union College campus is undergoing another change—this time in the landscaping. A new service road has been graded to the College Press on the south side, complete with retaining wall and shrubbery.

An extension has been built on the loading platform of the Press across the new drive, and deliveries will be made via the present road through the campus.

More sidewalks, too, are being made. The sidewalk running along the north side of Rees Hall is to be extended to the rear of the dormitory, with a branch to the service entrance of the Press.

The area north of Rees Hall will be lawn, with shrubbery along Bancroft Street, and the former service drive to the Press will also be seeded into lawn. Personnel parking will be on the south side of the Press.

This is just another step forward in the modernization of Union College. Only simple changes, but the end result is something worthwhile. Knowing and recognizing Mr. Turner's past work, we realize that our campus is in good hands, and we can easily visualize these changes.

New Addition to be Added to Bindery

A new addition is being planned for the Capitol City Bookbindery, one of Union College's several industries. This will be a 40' by 30' extension adjoining the south side of the present bindery. Construction will begin following the razing of North Hall.

Sales have doubled during the past year, and crowded working conditions necessitate building the additional wing, which will house the machinery more adequately. "This will expedite production with less expense," said Mr. J. A. Mayer, bindery superintendent.

A recent project at the bindery was redecorating the office. New drapes, fresh paint, and a modern fluorescent lighting system have been added.

Future plans include the purchase of new machinery. This will make it possible for more students to work there.

SPORTS

October 10, 1958

On the sports front, football is just getting into high gear, but it has not quite taken over the sport headlines this fall yet. The World Series is still captivating the supreme interest of many sports lovers all over the country. The Yankees and the Braves are battling it out again with Warren Spahn and Bob Turley turning in some magnificent pitching performances.

Here at Union College, the inter-mural football league has taken off to a fast start with two hard-fought games. The first battle of the season was waged between the Forty-niners and the Raiders with the Forty-niners soundly trouncing the Raiders 26-6.

The next game pitted the Bulldogs against the Big Red in a "nip and tuck" hard-fought contest, with the Bulldogs emerging with a scant 4-0 victory on a field goal by Dick Pollard. A beautifully executed pass play good for 65 yards set up the field goal attempt.

The first round of the tennis singles tournament is scheduled to be completed by Thursday with 16 players on record to compete. Sports director Robert Reynolds stated that the strongest contenders for the championship were Len Colson, Van Knauss, and Carroll Knauss.
