Week of Prayer Readings Will Be Available on Tape

Again this year the Week of Prayer readings scheduled for October 29 to November 4 are being made available on tape.

You will hear the actual voices of those who have prepared the material. The tapes may be used in churches or in homes where our members will gather for this special week of devotion.

It is suggested that the presentations be followed by meaningful discussion and application. The tapes will also enable shut-ins and others who may not be able to attend the group gatherings to listen at their own convenience.

Every effort should be made to make these timely readings as helpful as possible. Subjects for the week center on the great subject of the Advent of our Lord. They will include "The Person of the Advent," "The Certainty of the Advent," "The Nearness of the Advent," "The Purposes of the Advent," "Preparation for the Advent," "Proclaiming the Advent," "Prepared for the Advent," and "Beyond the Advent."

As these themes are studied and discussed around the world, what an impact can be made. Hearing our world leaders as they make their earnest appeals can add much to their availability in the pages of the Review and Herald.

The eight messages are available on two C-90 cassettes for $4.50, or on one five-inch reel (1½ IPS) for $3. Send orders with check (or if through conference, by purchase order) to: Tape Service, Ministerial Association, General Conference of Seventh-day Adventists, 6840 Eastern Ave., N.W., Washington, DC 20012.

Misleading Liquor Advertising Is a Danger for Young Adults

A retired businessman is doing something about current liquor advertising. William Plymat, retired chairman of the board of Preferred Risk Mutual Insurance Company, is continuing his long fight against alcoholism by asking Congress to reconsider liquor advertising and its effect upon the youth.

Today's liquor advertising links liquor with joy, sex and exciting social relationships—increasingly focusing on the youth. Plymat cites a study that concludes: "The younger the age at which an individual starts to ingest alcohol, the greater the chances that he will develop into a chronic alcoholic."

Concerning advertising which relates liquor with pleasurable experiences, Plymat reasons that "if alcoholism is, for many, a drug addiction and advertising induces initial use, then its inducement, for those, leads to addiction."

Plymat has expressed his conviction to the liquor industry with few results. He is now asking for government action in two directions.

First, he asks Congress to make alcoholic beverage advertising a non-deductible expense for liquor companies. Seventy members of the House of Representatives have signed up for such legislation.

Second, he wants the Federal Trade Commission to establish tougher standards for liquor advertising that require affirmative hazards and delete deceptive claims or impressions.

Readers supporting restriction of liquor advertising can write William Plymat for more information at 8527 University Ave., Des Moines, IA 50311.

Amended Bill Creates Threat

California Senate Bill 839 by Ralph Dills is a collective bargaining bill which has suddenly been amended to create a serious threat for state employees with religious convictions against supporting unions.

Amendments adopted by the Assembly Ways and Means Committee would allow unions to negotiate "fair share fee" contracts which are equivalent to agency shop and would require state employees to pay union fees to keep their jobs.

Final legislative passage could come in just a few days. As you read this report, we expect SB 839 will be in the Senate for final approval of the amendment.

Contact your senator today! Urge him to oppose SB 839 by Dills unless a conscience amendment is added.

INSPIRATION SAYS

"I will sing of the mercies of the Lord for ever: with my mouth will I make known thy faithfulness to all generations. For I have said, Mercy shall be built up for ever: thy faithfulness shalt thou establish in the very heavens. . . . And the heavens shall praise thy wonders, O Lord: thy faithfulness also in the congregation of the saints. For who in the heaven can be compared unto the Lord? who among the sons of the mighty can be likened unto the Lord?"

Review and Herald Publishes Song by Hospital Employee

Tracy Shantz, physical therapist at St. Helena Hospital and Health Center, discovered through the Recorder that he is a published song writer.

"Christ, the Joy of Loving Hearts," a song written and composed by Tracy Shantz Shantz 10 years ago, is song No. 13 in the Review and Herald Publishing Association's new youth songbook, Advent Youth Sing.

The Recorder's May 30 issue contained a review of the new songbook.

Shantz, who holds a BA in music and a BS in physical therapy from Loma Linda University, originally wrote the song for the Stockton Central Church's kindergarten class directed by his wife, Betty. The published song was sent along with several others to the Review publishers in 1967.

"I was shocked when I received a letter from the publishers in 1975 asking permission to use one of my songs for a forthcoming songbook," says Shantz.

Milton Peverini (center), director of La Voz de la Esperanza, discusses plans for the broadcast with Pedro Arano (left) and Armando Collins. Pastor Arano was recently named field service director and evangelist for La Voz de la Esperanza. Besides holding crusades, he will work directly with pastors and laymen to help them achieve the best results with La Voz materials. Collins was appointed associate director of production and will assist with research for the broadcast and with editing new Spanish Bible correspondence courses.

Faith for Today appreciates the letters of concern from viewers who have missed the Faith for Today programs Sundays at noon over KCOP—Channel 13. Due to increased airtime costs, however, the telecast has been dropped from the station. Faith for Today is currently searching for free public-service time in the LA area.

The program may still be seen over KHOF—Channel 30, Sabbaths at 5 p.m. and Sundays at 5 a.m. and 6 p.m.

"La Voz" Adds Two to Its Staff

La Voz de la Esperanza (the Spanish Voice of Prophecy) recently added a field service director-evangelist and an associate director of production to its growing staff.

Broadcast Director Milton Peverini says "There is no better way to celebrate the 35th anniversary of La Voz de la Esperanza than by welcoming two new men to the team, who are dedicated to the task of preparing souls for Christ's second coming."

Pedro Arano, field service director and evangelist, comes to La Voz from the North Mexican Mission where he served as president.

Following graduation from the University of Montemorelos with a degree in theology, Pastor Arano spent 15 years in Mexico as a pastor, evangelist, departmental secretary, and president.

As field service director he will work directly with literature evangelists, ministers, and laymen to guide them in getting maximum benefit from

Association Renews Prior Appointments From Camp Meeting

Were you disappointed because you did not get to see an Association representative at the recent Redwood Area Camp Meeting? One was there for the first part of the camp, but the person scheduled to be there during the last part was unable to meet the appointment because of serious illness in his family.

Appointments were made for the Association representative to meet with certain persons during the last few days of the camp meeting, but he was unable to meet these appointments. For this we are truly sorry and we apologize to those who were disappointed.

Please contact the Association office. We will have a representative visit you at your home as soon as possible. We want to serve you well concerning Trust Agreements, Annuities, or other estate-planning tools.

Health Education Scholarship Is Created by Hospital Auxiliary

A health education scholarship has been created by the Feather River Hospital Auxiliary. Funds of this community relations program will be available to students studying in the health fields who have a financial need and academic potential.

To apply for the scholarships, eligible persons must be majors in the health fields, have completed their first year of college, or have had practical experience which would qualify them to continue in the chosen field, maintain a 2.5 grade point average, be a full-time student with a financial need, and live in the greater Paradise area.

Money for this scholarship will accrue from memorial donations, life memberships in the auxiliary, and from interest earned on auxiliary funds.

"We believe this will be a demonstration of how Feather River Hospital wishes to provide another form of assistance to the communities it serves," says Auxiliary President Betty Glass.

Series Results in 90 Baptisms

A baptism of over 90 persons has resulted from the Big Tent Crusade that has been held in Riverside by Evangelist T. A. McNealy. In a city which has been plagued with evangelistic difficulties, a spirit-filled impact has been made on the city.

Over 60 were in attendance when the seventh-day Sabbath was discussed. The customary decrease in attendance did not take place.

A week later the invitation was given to observe the Sabbath. The crowd was too large for all to be seated under the Big Tent. Chairs were placed outside the tent, under nearby shade trees, as many persons kept God's true Sabbath for the first time in their lives.

Early in the crusade, Elder McNealy's associate James Warren, Bible Instructor Helen Horton, Elder McNealy's wife Barbara, and two other team members, Anette O'Bannon and G. Orr, faithfully predicted a great harvest of souls as a result of the seed that was planted.

Riverside Employs Television in Its Visitations

Television, used by the world to reach millions with a message, has been put to work by the Riverside Adventist Church to reach individuals with God's Message. Conceived by Riverside Pastor Robert Tomlin nearly a year ago, the church's Audio-visual Ministry was inaugurated Sabbath, May 28, 1977.

Directed by Russ Hoffman, a 29-year veteran of Christian and educational radio and TV, the word is literally being carried into the homes of believers and non-believers alike. Each week the video crew films an adult Sabbath school class, morning worship service and special programs such as Mike and Tamara Conlan's recent Sabbath Vesper concert.

Each Sabbath and as many week-day occasions as possible, a team from the Visitation Ministry can be found somewhere in the greater Riverside area visiting a member of the church who is ill, an elderly shut-in, a former member, or a non-Adventist who is interested in the Church.

Each visitation team is equipped with a portable video tape player, portable TV, a film of a Sabbath service and features, Sabbath school lesson quarterlies, study Bibles and various other literature. Each person or family to be visited is called before-hand to allow time to prepare and to invite friends and neighbors to join them if they wish.

Russ Hoffman, director of the Riverside Church Audio-Visual Ministry, demonstrates the TV camera equipment used to videotape services of the Riverside Church.

One Sabbath afternoon, a visitation team made call after call, getting no answers until only one name remained on the list. He was a lonely man, recuperating from recent surgery.

A former Baptist with no church ties to provide Christian fellowship, he was hungry for company and the Word of God and welcomed the visitation team. Others have returned and will continue to visit.

More recently, a city school teacher was visited by a team from the Riverside Church Audio-visual Ministry. A bone condition has confined the lady to bed for two years and kept her from sitting or standing. Only in recent months, two steel rods implanted in her back for support have enabled her to walk or sit for any length of time. Now she is able to sit in a chair, viewing a film of the services and enjoying Christian fellowship during the visitation.

These are just two examples among many of the sick and lonely who had little or no contact with any church until the visitation teams reached out to them in love and Christian fellowship.

All information compiled during visitation is recorded in a book so that all needs can be met for prayer, Bibles studies, pastoral counsel and repeat visitation. This rapidly expanding Audio-visual Ministry is building a library of special feature films for local use and eventually for lending to other churches, providing sermon sound tracks from the films for rural churches that have no regular pastor.

Bible studies and commentaries on church doctrines will soon be available.

The immediate goal is to have a visitation team from the Riverside Church Audio-visual Ministry carry the Word and the Love of God into the community 365 days of the year, and they are looking ahead to see such a ministry duplicated nation-wide and eventually world-wide.

Disaster Relief Demonstrated

Thirteen Santa Ana Spanish Pathfinders served 98 people in a mass-feeding demonstration for the National Red Cross Convention held at Claremont College on August 1.

Red Cross leaders sampled a small, but well-balanced meal such as would be provided to hundreds or thousands of people during a major disaster.

The Pathfinders have completed a course in disaster preparedness in mass-feeding, along with their club leaders, Ernesto Rodriguez, Carlos Leon and Pastor E. Silva.

Because of their training in both preparing and distributing food, now they will be able to assist the Red Cross at a disaster scene.

Their next area of emphasis will be a course in survival.

Local Red Cross Director Dave Thorne arranged for the club to give the demonstration in Claremont, making available supplies and mass-feeding equipment. The Conference Inner City van was used.

Cameron Is Spanish Evangelist

Elder Donald A. Cameron is our new Spanish evangelist. He has been very active since he joined our staff and just recently closed an effort in Santa Ana; 43 were baptized.

He received his BA from Chile College and his MA from Andrews University in 1974. In 1975 he received his master's degree in public health from Loma Linda University and his PhD from the California Graduate School of Theology in 1977.

Before coming to the United States, he served as a pastor and evangelist in both Chile and Argentina.

Since joining us, he has held an effort at Perris in which 12 were baptized and one in Indio at which 14 were baptized. He has also been conducting Five-

Donald Cameron

Day Plans in areas where he will be holding meetings.

At present Elder Cameron is engaged in an evangelistic campaign in connection with the Colton-San Bernardino Spanish Church.

Committee Actions

ALYCE PUDEWELL, a teacher at the Orangewood Elementary School, has been elected to the position of Conference elementary education supervisor.

DISCUSSIONS are taking place about the conducting of live-in Five-Day Plans at Pine Springs Ranch.

ELDER OLAF LOCKE will be assisting Elder John DuNesme as an associate pastor in the LaMesa-Dulzura district.

ISABEL LEON will be serving as secretary to Pastor Maurice Woods in the youth department.

OUR ANNUAL MEETING at Anaheim on October 7 and 8 will be called Southeastern's Festival of Praise this year. A Friday meeting will be held on Church Growth and Worship. Famous choral leader Roger Wagner and others will present a workshop on choral and worship music. Choir members should make a note of the date of this workshop, October 7.

Screening Program Continues

Sunland-Tujunga members are half way through their second 3 Cs Risk Screening program.

Each program starts with a health-testing packaged offered to the public for $15 per person or $25 per couple. Testing determines an individual's susceptibility to the "3-Cs"—cancer, cardiovascular disease, and c.v.a. (stroke)—and includes taking a medical history, blood tests, blood pressure, height, weight, posture, and a fitness test comprised of a measured 15-minute walk.

Participants return the next week for their test results and to learn what their risk factors are. A series of classes follows, covering each of the risk factors and explaining how one can reduce those factors.

Because of this program, the church is making many friends in the community, some of whom are seen in the early morning hours taking their prescribed walks!

At both clinics, persons have been found with serious problems, who have been directed to their personal physicians and encouraged to take the series of risk factor-reducing classes.

This lady attended the first risk evaluation series, then returned to check her progress in lowering cholesterol levels.

THE HOLLYWOOD ADVENTIST CHURCH will present Jim McClintock in concert at 6 p.m., Sabbath, Sept. 10. McClintock sang bass with the King's Heralds quartet for many years, and is now associate director of International Audio-Visual Service at the Adventist Media Center in Newbury Park.

The church is located at 1711 North Van Ness Avenue.

Hoffman To Tell of Hunza Land

Hunza Land, Shangri-la of the Himalayas where people live for over 100 years and die of old age instead of disease, is the topic of Dr. J. M. Hoffman's five-day nutrition seminar. The seminar will be conducted in the Indonesian-Dutch church, 536 N. Poplar Avenue, Montebello, Saturday through Wednesday, September 10-14 at 7:30 p.m.

Dr. Hoffman will show pictures of Hunza Land and its people. A detailed explanation will be given as to why these people live without disease for over a century, and how it is possible for Americans to live a healthy life.

Dr. Hoffman and his wife, Trudie, were guests of the king and queen of Hunza, where he did research work for the National Geriatrics Society.

Southern's Filipino LEs Help Their Own People

Southern's eight Filipino literature evangelists are responding to the spiritual needs of their people.

Literature evangelist Ben Pangan is leading out in helping his people. Ben has a long background of publishing history, with over 20 years in the work. His mother was a literature evangelist and while carrying him, was spreading God's word through the printed page.

We appreciate the growth of the department by these brothers and sisters.

Update . . . from the president

AT THE CONFERENCE COMMITTEE meeting on August 24, several pastoral changes were voted as follows: Elder Ed Harms will be the new pastor of the Hacienda Heights Church beginning Sabbath, September 10. Elder Tom Stafford will begin his leadership of the Pasadena congregation on Sabbath, September 17. Steve Schwarz, returning from Andrews University, will begin as associate pastor of Alhambra this month. Elder Leland Hesseltine is transferring to Santa Monica as associate pastor. Elder Jack Doggette will serve as the new pastor of the Normandie Avenue Church, replacing Elder William DeShay, who is Southern's new coordinator of regional affairs. Elder David Hughes will replace Elder Joseph Powell as pastor of the Miramonte Church. Elder Robert Whitaker has been invited to serve as pastor of the Fifty-Fourth Street Church. Elder William Alleyne will assume the responsibilities of leading the Ivy Avenue Church in Monrovia. Elder R. W. Nelson will serve as the new pastor of the Altadena Church.

Please pray for these pastors as they assume the important responsibilities of these new assignments. The Conference Committee is confident that these new leadership positions will strengthen the work in each area and under the blessing of God, both members and interested people will be drawn closer to Christ within the Adventist family.

ARE ALL THE CHILDREN IN?—In the Seventh-day Adventist school, that is. School is open now. There is still time, however, to take your child to the nearest Adventist school and enroll him where Christian teachers can help mold his character for eternity. At the recent teachers' meeting at Glendale Academy, the spirit of dedication to Christ and to the molding of Christian characters in these young people was evident on the part of our large staff of dedicated teachers. Please pray for these teachers. But more than that, make sure your children are in church school and help those within the church family who need encouragement or prayer in getting their students into an Adventist school this fall.

Santa Paula Crusade Scheduled

The Santa Paula church, 316 Ventura Street, will open its doors to an evangelistic crusade beginning Saturday evening, September 10, at 7:15.

A. M. Matar will relate personal experiences and tell how the people of Palestine live and dress. He and his wife, Dorothy, will appear dressed in full Arabian costume. Pictures of the Holy Land will be shown.

Slides will illustrate the nightly discussions, and a film series on the life of Paul will be shown. A special musical feature will be given by Dorothy Matar on the Swiss bells and the vibraharp.

Meetings will be held each Saturday, Tuesday and Thursday night at 7:15. Send names of possible interests to: Pastor A. M. Matar, 632 Fernglen Circle, Fillmore, CA 93015.

Edward Heppenstall To Speak

Theologian, world traveler, educator and author Edward Heppenstall will be guest speaker at the White Memorial church on Sabbath, September 10.

The Seminar at 4 p.m. will give church members throughout Southern an opportunity to hear this noted Biblical scholar.

The Seminar will be on the Nature of Christ—with ample time for discussion and questions.

Now retired, Elder Heppenstall has been chairman of the department of systematic theology and Christian philosophy at Andrews University and professor of Christian philosophy and chairman of the department of religion, Loma Linda University, La Sierra Campus.

Elder Heppenstall is the author of numerous articles and seven books including the soon-to-be-released "The Man Who Was God."

A. M. Matar Assumes Pastorate

Elder A. M. Matar has recently taken over the pastorate of the Santa Paula and Fillmore churches. He comes to Southern from the Nevada-Utah Conference where he served as conference evangelist.

A. M. Matar graduated from Walla Walla College in 1947 with a bachelor of theology degree. He has served as pastor-evangelist in the Texas, North Dakota, Montana, Nevada-Utah and Central California conferences. He has been associated in crusades with evangelists Fordyce Detamore, Stanley Harris and Robert Whitsett.

His wife, Dorothy, is also a graduate of Walla Walla College with a degree in elementary education.

We are happy to welcome this couple to our Conference.

Study of Christian Life Scheduled for Alhambra

September 10-17 has been set aside by the Alhambra Church as a time for studying the basics of the Christian life.

Titled "Everything You've Wanted To Know about Living the Christian Life," the messages will come from the first few chapters of Romans.

Speaker for the week will be Marvin Ponder, associate pastor of the Loma Linda University Church. "It's my philosophy that if you can't get it together as a Christian, knowing what beast represents which country is meaningless. In this series we are looking at the practical, day-by-day guidelines for living," he says.

States Pastor Gayland Richardson, "There are too many church members who know the Seventh-day Adventist doctrines by rote, but are discouraged because they can't make Christianity work in their personal lives."

Special feature for the week will be the music of Herman and Mary Harp and Gene and Marie Jennings. To some who have heard them perform, their music is reminiscent of Sabbath bath afternoons spent around the piano with Christ in Song.

The hour-long program will begin each evening at 7:30. There will be no prizes, gimmicks, announcements, or offering appeals. A nursery will be provided.

Herman Harp, Marvin Ponder, and Gene and Marie Jennings will provide music for the Alhambra fall revival.

The Pulse of Central

- GERALD DUNN moves to Bakersfield Central September 15, where he will serve as associate pastor. Elder Dunn is currently pastor in Oakdale.
- HERBERT J. ESLINGER has been asked to serve as construction supervisor for the new Morro Bay Church.
- ROBERT HALLOCK, an assistant manager in the Adventist Book Center, has taken a medical leave of absence from his duties.
- DOUGLAS MARCHUS will move to San Jose to pastor the Central Church. He will leave his post as Soquel pastor late this month.
- VICKIE McCOY terminated her work as education office secretary last month. Congratulations to the McCoys—proud parents of a new baby girl!
- D. KENNETH SMITH, presently pastor of the Santa Maria English Church, has accepted a call to the St. Helena Church in Northern California Conference, where he will begin his ministry October 1.
- H. W. SPIVA has moved to the Texas Conference where he will pastor a church in the Dallas area. He served here as pastor of the San Jose Central Church.
- JANE TOWNSEND began in July as assistant in the Conference graphic arts department. She is the wife of Publishing Director Larry Townsend.
- RUTHE WILES, office secretary in the ASI and stewardship departments until mid-August, has moved to another area.

San Francisco Filipino Church

Filipinos Slate Tenth Anniversary Celebration

On September 17 the San Francisco Filipino Church will celebrate its tenth anniversary of organization.

The celebration will begin with Sabbath school and last throughout the day.

Clarence Ekvall, MD, has been invited to speak for the day's services. A former medical director in the Far East, Dr. Ekvall is currently with St. Helena Hospital and Health Center. E. J. Royer, secretary-treasurer of the Conference Association, will conduct the Sabbath school lesson.

Providing the music for the morning and afternoon programs will be the Leo Aloha Hawaiian Orchestra of Angwin, the San Francisco Junior Academy band under the direction of Nadine Sample, and other musicians from the Bay Area.

Invited guests include officials from the cities of San Francisco, Daly City, and Pacifica; the staff of the Philippine Consulate of San Francisco; officers of the Central California Conference; former missionaries to the Far East; and pastors of San Francisco congregations.

A reception where native Filipino delicacies will be served will follow afternoon activities. The celebration will end with a film and social games in the evening.

Former Conference President Elmer Walde officiated when the Filipino Church was organized on September 19, 1967. The 47 charter members had been part of a Branch Sabbath School operated by the Tabernacle Church. Pastor R. R. Liwag led the group.

During the years since organization, the group rented meeting facilities in several locations, never losing sight of their goal—to own their own church. Plans were made for gathering the necessary funds, benefits helped raise money, and members pledged and gave financial support. Later, the building fund was the recipient of the first Conference-wide ethnic minority church offering.

In March of 1974 a beautiful church building on a 1.5-acre lot overlooking the Pacific Ocean was purchased. With grateful hearts the Filipino Church family moved into their own home and present facility at 533 Hickey Boulevard in the Fairmont District of Pacifica.

All former members and friends are cordially invited to join the September 17 festivities as the San Francisco Filipino Church celebrates its tenth anniversary.

ABC Recommends "Final Events"

Central's Adventist Book Center now has a supply of the 128-page paperback Final Events on Planet Earth.

This book, written by Elder Norman Gulley, is designed to be used with the fourth-quarter Sabbath school lessons for adults and youth. A chapter has been written for each week's lesson during the quarter.

Will Armageddon be a literal battle or a spiritual one? What is the sign of the end? Why do God's people have to pass through a time of trouble? How do we obtain strength to cope with last-day events?

Seventh-day Adventists have a great interest in events on earth before Christ's return.

Dinuba Crusade To Open

An evangelistic crusade will open Saturday night at 7:15, September 10, in the Dinuba Adventist church, 325 Eaton Avenue. Evangelist Stanley Harris will conduct the three-week series with meetings every night except Monday and Tuesday.

Prophecies of Revelation will be featured, and the opening address for September 10 is entitled "Signals from Outer Space." Nightly religious films and musical features also will be featured.

All area members are invited to attend this crusade and to bring their friends.

Escapee from Communist China Is Baptized in U. S.

Six summers ago, Jeffrey Leong's home was in Canton, China. Young Jeffrey was restless, thinking about his future as a soldier or a farmer. He made plans to do the impossible—escape from Communist China.

A couple of his friends decided to accompany him. Their route of escape ran through areas filled with wild animals, snakes, quicksand—and Communist soldiers.

After bidding their families and friends farewell, the three young men embarked on the 300-mile venture. Among them they carried only 20 pounds of food, consisting of dry noodles, canned milk, and cookies.

Drinking water was no problem, since it was the rainy season. But inclement weather made sleeping difficult. During daylight, they were able to travel concealed in long grass.

Then some soldiers saw them. His two companions were captured, but Jeffrey eluded the soldiers.

After 20 days of hardship, Jeffrey neared the coast. His food supply was depleted, and his clothing was torn to shreds.

The San Francisco Filipino congregation has more than doubled in membership since its organization 10 years ago.

Diving into the ocean, he swam toward Hong Kong. A welcome sight five hours later were the Hong Kong policemen who took him into custody. He remained in prison four days, until relatives from the Sam Yuk Adventist School bailed him out.

Jeffrey resided in Hong Kong until this year when he came to the Bay Area. Soon he requested Bible studies from Pastor Jerry Chang of the San Francisco Chinese Adventist Church.

On July 16 Jeffrey Leong was baptized. He is now attending a local college, preparing for a profession which will be a challenge to him and an asset to his newly-adopted country.

Regional Congress

Spanish Youth Meet in Fresno

The Second Regional Congress for Central's Spanish-speaking youth was held in the Fresno Spanish church on July 22-24.

Conference Spanish Evangelism Coordinator Elías A. Gómez was the guest speaker.

The church, seating approximately 450, was nearly filled with representatives of youth from almost every church in the Conference.

Elder Gómez emphasized that we must accept the Bible as our guide in preparation for the hard days to come before the Lord's soon return. He also mentioned the need for bilingual youth in Adventist churches for more effective witnessing.

Weekend activities also included a Sabbath potluck, a hayride and games after Vespers in Lemoore, and a Sunday-morning breakfast at Fresno Adventist Academy.

In attendance were MBA Teacher Josué Rosado, and Pastors Leslie Aragon, Cutler-Exeter; H. G. Vences, Santa Maria; José Díaz, Hanford; and Daniel Robles and Art Baca, Bakersfield, Lamont, Delano.

Conference Announces Its Pastoral Changes

Several changes have been made recently in district pastoral responsibilities in Arizona.

Elder and Mrs. Dan Snider have accepted a call to the Hawaiian Mission. To fill the vacancy in the East Mesa-Apache Junction district, the Conference Executive Committee has invited Elder and Mrs. Morris Rossier to assume the responsibility.

The Rossiers served the Nogales-Patagonia district more than two years, where the Lord blessed their work. We believe that they also will be blessed in their new assignment.

The vacancy in Nogales-Patagonia has been filled by Pastor and Mrs. Ron Canaday who had served for two years in the Globe-Superior district. Pastor Canaday has assumed leadership of these two fine churches in the southern portion of our Conference.

Elder and Mrs. Clarence A. Renschler recently retired and moved to Cornville. They had served as district pastor in the Kingman-Mohave Valley district, and for several years on the staff of Thunderbird Adventist Academy. Though they have retired, Elder Renschler will be assisting the pastor, Elder J. S. Henderson, in the Cottonwood-Sedona-Camp Verde district.

Pastor and Mrs. Milton Odom, formerly assistant pastor in the Glendale-Maryvale district, are now serving in the Kingman-Mohave Valley district.

Leaving our Conference to retire in northern California, Elder and Mrs. Melvin L. Lukens have given more than three years of dedicated leadership to one of our largest districts, Tucson Desert Valley, Santa Rita and San Manuel. We will miss the Lukenses and have appreciated their dedication to the Lord's work in Arizona. We wish for them the Lord's blessings in their retirement years.

Elder and Mrs. Paul Gibson, recently of the Yuma Church, take up pastoral leadership of the Tucson Desert Valley district. The Gibsons served in Yuma for 2½ years, where the Lord blessed them with a rich ministry. We are confident that they will be blessed in this new responsibility.

Elder and Mrs. Norman Wagness have requested a leave of absence so he could study for an advanced degree at the School of Health, Loma Linda University. We appreciated the good work of the Wagnesses during their 7½ years of service in the Arizona Conference.

To fill the vacancy in the Show Low-Springerville-Payson district we placed a call for Pastor and Mrs. Tom Norris of the Arkansas-Louisiana Conference. The Norrises are now in the district and are leading out in Church work there.

Elder and Mrs. Gordon Paxton left Tempe to accept a call to Southern California. Elder Paxton will serve as associate pastor in the Vallejo Drive Church, Glendale. Louise Paxton was office secretary in the youth activities and communications departments during the more than 2½ years they were in the Conference. We thank the Paxtons for their dedicated leadership and efficient service. Our loss is Southern California's gain.

Elder and Mrs. Ervin K. Thomsen of the Michigan Conference have accepted our invitation to pastor the Tempe district.

Two young families joined the pastoral staff in the early summer: Pastor and Mrs. Joe Carlson, to work in the Desert Valley district of Tucson; and Pastor and Mrs. Terry Clem, assigned to the Glendale-Maryvale district.

We bid a fond farewell to those leaving our field, and extend a most cordial welcome to the newcomers! Let us pray for each individual as he assumes his new responsibilities.

E. Frank Sherrill, President
Arizona Conference

Elko Evangelistic Series Completed

Conference evangelist Taylor Morris, with his wife and Elder and Mrs. A. D. Chilson, recently completed a series of evangelistic meetings in Elko, Nevada.

Many years had gone by since public evangelistic meetings had been held in that community. Elko is a ranching area, plus a large share of its income coming from tourism.

Attendance was gratifying, and at the conclusion of the meetings six persons were baptized and added to the church membership.

In addition to the local musical talent, the Heaven Bound Singers of Reno performed.

Special Homecoming Scheduled for South Lake Tahoe

Sabbath, September 17, has been set as the date for the special homecoming for all former members of the South Lake Tahoe Church.

The church is located on Vanda Lee Drive, just off Herbert Street. All past members and pastors and all friends are especially invited.

Conference President A. G. Streifling will speak at 11 a.m. on Sabbath.

There will be a meeting Friday night at 7:30, and Sabbath school hour and worship hour. Also scheduled are a noon potluck, and a singspiration and testimony meeting at 2 p.m. Special activities are planned for Saturday night.

We are confident that the former members will appreciate the many improvements that have been made in the church and on the grounds at South Lake Tahoe.

ABC Open House Slated

September 11 has been chosen by all the Adventist Book Centers around the world for a big, special Open House celebration, and the Arizona Adventist Book Center is planning to make this event well worth attending.

In addition to food demonstrations taking place, we also will be offering a 10 per cent discount on everything in the store, with the exception of case-lot foods which will be at a special price, also.

We have received word that Worthington Foods' prices increased September 1, but we will allow purchases at the old price through September 11. That will be the last day to save on those items.

Make your plans now to attend this Open House on September 11. Hours will be 10 a.m.-4 p.m. The address is 320 N. 44th Street, Phoenix.

Remember when there was no greater glee than when school was out—until about two weeks into vacation?

Preschool Is a Soul-winning Agency

Na Keiki O Ka Aina (the children of the land) Preschool was founded about a year ago as a soul-winning agency of the Honolulu Central Church.

In November 1976, Raymond Lau visited the nearby homes to enroll neighborhood children in the preschool. He met the George Arlantino family.

Their daughter, Jane Yara, inquired about the Seventh-day Adventist beliefs. She and her husband had relatives who were members of the Adventist Church. Their family physician, Dr. Hajime Akita, is a member of the Manoa Japanese Church.

In January, Bible studies were begun with the Yaras by Raymond Lau and Elder Lawrence Davidson. They became the first fruits of the preschool culminating in baptism by Elder Davidson on July 30.

Jane has done preschool work for the past 20 years, 13 of which were spent as director of another preschool. She is presently the acting director of Central's Na Keiki O Ka Aina Preschool.

Marriage Enrichment Leadership Training Is Given at Andrews

Marriage enrichment is just one of the programs in which the Home and Family Service is involved. Another, the Family Life Workshop, will be held at Andrews University, September 12-22.

The first Marriage Enrichment Leadership Training Seminar was held at Andrews University recently. Twelve couples, including seminary and graduate students, ministers, and laymen, participated.

Each of the couples had attended at least two previous marriage enrichment seminars. After completing the training seminar, they became eligible for provisional certification from the General Conference to conduct marriage enrichment seminars.

Coordinated by Elder and Mrs. E. C. Banks, the instructors were Elder and Mrs. D. W. Holbrook of the General Conference Home and Family Service and John and Millie Youngberg of the Andrews education department. The week-end seminar was sponsored by the General Conference.

Special Internships Allow Students to Witness

After waterskiing, Robert and Jay sat on the beach and just talked for a couple of hours. They talked about Jesus. Robert V. Saunders, a senior theology student at La Sierra, describes the conversation as one of the more memorable occasions during his summer internship in the Glendale City Church.

Each year more and more La Sierra students are taking advantage of summer internships with the Southern and Southeastern California conferences, which place them in jobs at churches, day camps, tutoring programs, evangelistic crusades, or hospital chaplaincy offices. While earning money for their Christian education, they are given the opportunity to witness for their Lord.

selves and instilling in them a sense of self-worth. "We're different from government social service agencies, which are designed to give temporary aid for emergency situations," he explains.

To help meet the needs of children in Banning, two three-week tutoring sessions were held this past summer. Senior theology major James P. Rapp began working on the program plans last school year during his externship with the Banning Church under Pastor Gary L. Case.

Rapp outlined a 10-week program consisting of three integrated operations: tutoring, outreach, and follow-up. This summer he has implemented the plans with the assistance of two academy students, two college students and five volunteers.

Rapp has learned the value of Barker's practical aim to strike at people's needs.

"At first I didn't want to do day camps," he says. "I thought they were too secular. I wanted to do evangelism. But this is so rewarding. When one of the little kids told me he loved me, it took me back to second grade. And the children have given us an opening to the homes."

Each family has been visited, and several parents have asked about sending their children to Adventist schools.

Theology majors are not the only students working in the summer programs. Brenda LeNoir, who just received her masters in education, coordinated the summer day camp at the La Sierra Church. She was assisted by Patrice Arriaga, a business major.

Schultz says the pastors have been very happy with the young people who worked with them, and the students have gained personal blessings.

"It is very rewarding to be out in the home with the people," Reuben Savantes says. "I wish I could do it all year around."

Counselors in Union Meet for a Workshop

Secondary school counselors from the Pacific Union gathered at La Sierra in August for a special workshop.

During the three-day session, participants heard 20 different speakers discuss counseling activities from as many different points of view. They looked at testing, career planning, work experience programs, academic advisement, financial resources, and their own changing role, among other things.

Counselors received one hour of credit for the workshop, which was sponsored by the School of Education's department of counselor education.

George T. Simpson, Rick Williams, and Floyd Wood were the program directors.

La Sierra religion majors Marvin Santos and Nancy Horko compare counseling methods in their office at the White Memorial Medical Center. The two students spent the summer working in the chaplain's office.

College of Arts and Sciences

Fagal Is Named Associate Dean

Harold E. Fagal has been named associate dean of the College of Arts and Sciences.

The professor of Biblical studies will continue to teach part-time in the Division of Religion in addition to his new duties of handling student academic affairs.

"Harold is very knowledgeable about the development of our curriculum," says Dean Ivan G. Holmes. "Since he recently completed his doctorate, he knows what it is like to be a student, too, and is very effective as an advisor."

Fagal has taught at La Sierra since 1965. He received his PhD from Fuller Theological Seminary in 1975.

Two coordinators have also been chosen from among the department chairmen to assist Holmes on a part-time basis. William Allen, chemistry department, and Frederick Hoyt, history department, were named to work with the areas of natural sciences and the humanities, respectively.

They will examine course offerings in their area, look for overlaps, and suggest ways in which the curriculum can operate more efficiently.

In addition, they will be given special assignments with the computer system, summer sessions, and in-service training sessions for teachers, Holmes says.

Health Study Guide Is Prepared by GC

Have you read and studied Counsels on Diet and Foods? Does your own personal library contain Counsels on Diet and Foods?

As you know, 1977 has been set aside in the North American Division as Nutrition Year, so the White Estate office has prepared a revised 12-Outline Study Guide on Counsels on Diet and Foods.

Nowhere will you find the relationship between Adventist food habits and religious experience so well set forth as in the first few chapters of this book. In addition, there are certain foods which the Lord has said are of special benefit to certain diseases.

Because Counsels on Diet and Foods has been compiled topically, you can readily have specific information about protein, fat, carbohydrates, beverages, children's diets, for example.

You will want to read and study this book, especially now that the world is becoming more and more interested in vegetarianism and Seventh-day Adventist lifestyle.

New "La Voz" Staffers

materials available from La Voz.

"As evangelist," Elder Peve-rini says, "Pastor Arano will go into areas where La Voz de la Esperanza is broadcast and hold evangelistic campaigns."

His wife, Josefina, attended the University of Mexico and graduated from Manuel Acosta Teachers' College where she received certification as a kindergarten teacher. The Aranos have three children: Haroldo, 13; Lorraine, 12; and Esther, nine.

Armando James Collins will assist as a researcher in the programming and production departments. His responsibilities will include preparation of materials for the radio broadcasts and editing new Spanish Bible correspondence courses.

Pastor Collins was born in Chile, completed high school there, and moved to the United States in 1963.

In 1969 he began work at Pacific Press Publishing Association where he translated and edited copy in the Spanish department for eight years. While employed at Pacific Press he completed a double major in psychology and sociology at San Jose State College.

His wife, Ruth, was born in Guatemala. She attended college in Guatemala where she took classwork in secretarial science.

The Collinses have three children: Walter, five; Wendy, three; and Allan, two.

Looking at the pieces of a jigsaw puzzle without a picture to go by can be a bit bewildering.

You can try picking out all the pieces that form the border, but then what do you do?

Working the whole puzzle without the picture will take a long time, perhaps more time than you have to spare.

Trying to keep abreast of everything that's happening in the Seventh-day Adventist Church isn't easy.

You can gather the news in your own church and union paper, but what about the rest of the world?

Reading all there is to read in Adventist literature can take an enormous amount of time, which you may not have.
