Three Classes Elect Officers

Norman James, Greg Wahlen and Marvin Van Horn were chosen as senior, sophomore and freshman class presidents, respectively, last week.

The junior class elections were postponed because only 35 were present at the 7:20 a.m. organizing hour.

Norman James is a theology major from Lincoln. Senior class vice-president is Sharon Franklin, also from Lincoln, a secretarial science major. Jan Ruths, a chemistry major from Minneapolis, Minn., is class secretary, and Tom Cash, an accounting major from Oswego, Kan., is treasurer. Pastor is David James, a theology major from Long Lake, Minn. Robin Simmons, an English major from Richardson, Tex., is parliamentarian. Mel Bargas, sergeant-at-arms, is a sociology major from Denver, Colo.

A second class meeting affirmed the election results after they were challenged because only 59 seniors attended the Tuesday evening organizational meeting.

Students on the Denver campus had previously elected JoAnn Grosboll senior class president and Judy Nelson secretary-treasurer.

Class sponsors are Robert Brittain, dean of men, and Gene Johnson, instructor in biology. Dr. Raymond Vercio, lecturer in psychiatry, is Denver campus sponsor.

Sophomores and freshmen elected their officers Wednesday morning, Nov. 9, at 7:20 a.m. Sophomore class president, Greg Wahlen, is a sociology major from Minneapolis, Minn. Also from Minneapolis are Kathy Nielsen, vice-president, an elementary education major, and Don Soderstrom, sergeant-at-arms, a physical education major. Class pastor, theology major Rolf James, also hails from Minnesota, coming from Long Lake. Llayce Mayer, an elementary education major from Milford, Utah, is secretary. Treasurer is Lynette Avey, a nursing student from Albert, Kan.

'Who's Who' Honors Nineteen UC Seniors

By TWYLA SCHLOTTHAUER

Nineteen seniors will represent Union College in the 1967 edition of Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities.

The nineteen seniors, a record number, are as follows: Judy Alstadt, Eunice Christensen, Garland Dulan, Bob Haddock, Gloria Herring, Dave James, Norman James, Jack Krogstad, Sherry Liggett, Angie Nielsen, Dan Paulien, Karen Paulik, Mack Randolph, Kathy Regester, Jan Ruths, Don Sauser, Jere Webb, Tom Werner and Henry Zollbrecht.

Judy Alstadt, a nursing student on the Denver campus, is from Cheyenne, Wyo. She was Denver campus president of her junior class.

Mrs. Eunice Christensen, Lincoln, is a home economics major. She was vice-president of her freshman class and president of the Home Ec. Club.

Garland Dulan, from Oakland, Calif., plans to teach classes in his major field—sociology. He has been the president of the Religious Liberty Club.

Golden Cords editor, Bob Haddock, is a religion major from Keene, Tex. Last year he was the CLOCK TOWER news editor. At Southwestern Union College he edited both the annual and the newspaper.

Gloria Herring, from Baton Rouge, La., is an elementary education major who plans to teach or be a girls' dean. Her college activities include being vice-president of Kappa Theta, president of the band, secretary of the Sabbath school and the MV.

Senior class president, Norman James, is from Lincoln. He has been on the Nominations and Elections Committee and is a religion major.

David James, also a religion major, is from Long Lake, Minn. The seniors elected him as their class pastor. He has been a Sabbath school superintendent.

ASB president, Jack Krogstad, is an accounting major and would like to be a college teacher. Previously he has been the treasurer for the ASB and CLOCK TOWER business manager. He is from Elk Horn, Ia.

From New Windsor, Ill. is Sherry Liggett, an English major. Sherry's college activities include the positions of copy editor for the CLOCK TOWER, assistant editor of the Golden Cords, president of Kappa Theta and secretary of her sophomore class.

Angela Nielsen, a math major, plans to teach mathematics. She has been vice-president of her freshman and junior classes and an assistant MV leader. She is from St. Paul, Minn.

CLOCK TOWER editor, Dan Paulien, is a speech and German major from Little Ferry, N.J. He has served as program manager for station KVUC, been a member of the Nominations and Elections Committee and has served as a Student Council member-at-large.

Elementary education major Karen Paulik has been the president of Kappa Theta, president of Teachers of Tomorrow (TOT), and has served on the Student-Staff Council. She is from St. Louis, Mo.

Mack Randolph is a chemistry major planning on medical school. He is from Shreveport, La.

Kathy Regester, a nursing student on the Denver campus, is from Baroda, Mich. Kathy is at present president of the Denver campus ASB. She was also Denver campus secretary-treasurer of her junior class.

Jan Ruths, chemistry major, was recently elected senior class secretary. She is from Minneapolis, Minn. and plans on a career in the medical technology field. She has also served on the Peanut Hill staff and is currently Sabbath school superintendent.

Biology major, Don Sauser, also plans on medical school. Sauser was president of his junior class, a member of the Nominations & Elections Committee, Peanut Hill staff and Golden Cords staff. He is from Laurel, Nebr.

MV Leader Jere Webb will graduate with a business and religion major. He has been a Sabbath school superintendent and is from Lincoln.

Tom Werner, Driscoll, N.D., is a business administration major and plans to be an administrator. He was sergeant-at-arms for his junior class.

Henry Zollbrecht is a religion major and plans to be a missionary. He has been the secretary of the ministerial club. He is from Hastings, Nebr.

INSIDE STORY

Open Meeting Today Reviews Social Rules

This afternoon's meeting of the Inside Story revision committee is open to any interested students, according to L. E. McClain, dean of student affairs and chairman of the committee.

The group will be discussing social regulations. The meeting will be held from 3:30 till 5:00 in the ASB committee room, room 209 of the administration building.

Last Thursday, the revision committee accepted the proposed outline for the religious life section of the book.

The Inside Story, Union College's student handbook, has not been revised for more than a decade.

Classes Need Working Policies

During each of the last two years there has been some dispute surrounding the election of class officers for the class of '67.

This year the class of '68 had to postpone its election of officers because only about 35 persons appeared at the time and place designated for class organization.

This year the classes have been organized almost a month later than usual giving the officers little time to plan the first class parties.

These events lead us to believe that the classes need a written working policy describing how and under what circumstances they should be organized.

None of the classes had a majority of their members present when they organized. If it is desirable for a majority of class members to be present then it should be so stated in a general working policy for organizing classes. (The exact count of the number enrolled as sophomores, juniors, etc., is available by the time for organization because of the electronic data processing system now used by the registrar's office.)

If it is desirable to have the classes organized by say the end of October, this could also be stated in the working policy.

We do feel that the procedures of electing officers (secret ballot, show of hands, etc.) should be left up to the class members.

A general working policy, which perhaps could be incorporated into the revised Inside Story when it appears, can only help the classes to operate more smoothly.

Since the validity of their election was challenged by a vocal minority of their class and because of their leadership position as seniors, we suggest that the newly elected officers of the class of '67 lead out in this project.

Editor's Notebook

★ Because of the Thanksgiving break, the next CLOCK TOWER will not be printed until Thursday, Dec. 8. We will feature a review of Martin Duberman's history of the Negro In White America by D. J. Fike, instructor in English.

★ Candidates who visited Union College did not fare very well in the general election held Nov. 8. The only exception was Republican Congressional candidate Robert Denney who upset Congressman Clair Callan by less than 4,000 votes out of 170,000 cast. Both Governor Frank B. Morrison, Democratic candidate for the U. S. Senate seat held by Carl Curtis, and Lt. Governor Phil Sorensen, who opposed Norbert Tiemann for the governorship, were swamped by the Republican tide. Morrison and Sorensen, both proven Democratic vote getters, each received only about 40% of the total vote.

★ Liquor by the drink which was opposed by the temperance committee of the MV society was nevertheless approved by Lincoln's voters.

Judging the Judges

Today I received two recent issues of the CLOCK TOWER from a friend who attends school at Union College. I, myself, am a former student of Union College and, of course, am interested in the activities of the students, and also their attitudes toward school life.

As I was reading the editorial in the Oct. 27 issue, I was somewhat taken back by a statement that the editorial contained. Although I'm sure the writer didn't mean to be judging anyone when he wrote it, that is exactly what he did. He wrote his judgment on any student who might fit his description in the article.

The editorial was speaking of attitudes some students have. They seem uninvolved in all the activities and etc. This I don't agree with. But I do disagree with what was said about this same student's attitude toward Christianity. Let me quote:

"This attitude is also seen in their religious life. They may attend meetings; they may even go on 'My Bible Says' campaign and sunshine bands, but by the blank looks on their faces you can tell that Christianity has not become a way of life with them."

What a student says may reveal his attitudes, but who can tell just exactly what is meant by a "blank look?" What look of deep thought, looking past other things around. Maybe this "uninvolved" student is deep in thought about God. My Bible says "For the Lord seeth not as man seeth; for man looketh on the outward appearance, but the Lord looketh on the heart." I Sam. 16:7.

I suppose the reason I was so taken back is because not judging others is something which is stressed so often in Bible classes and in religious talks.

I'm not knocking the editorial, only the judging of people's attitude toward God. Who but God can judge our uninvolvedness with Him?

Religion vs. Communism

America is in Viet Nam to fight Communism. Other objectives may be vague (see your editorial, Nov. 3), but this one is clear (cf. Time, Nov. 1, p. 31).

America fought Communism in Korea fifteen years ago. Today Seventh-day Adventists, along with other Christians, have a flourishing mission work in South Korea, but have nothing of the sort in Communist North Korea. . . . You have perhaps read how Protestantism has fared in Communist Latvia, Estonia, China and Russia.

Have you considered what a Communist victory would mean for Adventist missions in South Viet Nam?

This "religious dimension" of the current war evidently did not occur to you, or you would surely not have written as you did.

And while I am writing—congratulations for the increased attention you have shown in recent issues to the spiritual activities which play such a large role on our campus.

No Thanksgiving in England

BY VIRLYS NELSON

'The fifth of November' is a magic phrase to fall on any English ears, especially those of little boys and college students. This is the night when rockets zoom, bon fires crackle and fireworks bang—all to commemorate that notorious figure in history, Guy Fawkes. Little did Fawkes suspect that because of the part he played in the plot to blow up Parliament in 1605, he would be burned in effigy every November fifth to come.

Marian Robbins

Girls' Club Presents Marian Robbins' Life

Kappa Theta club night, Nov. 10, was full of surprises for Marian Robbins, freshman student from Pakistan. Marian had no idea that the evening's club was to be a "This Is Your Life" program especially about her. In fact, she had planned on skipping club in order to attend the evangelistic meeting.

Elsie Flemmer, vice president of Kappa Theta, read Marian's life story which had been obtained from Marian's mother who is a missionary doctor in Pakistan. Slides were also shown of Marian, ranging from her childhood to her graduation from academy. Marian was presented with a corsage and a book titled Driftwood. Some Rain Must Fall, a book about Marian's mother, who is a missionary doctor in India and Pakistan, was given as a door prize.

Newbold was not to be left out of the festivities. As a bass drum was sonorously beating out the death march for Guy Fawkes the Unionites of Newbold were getting their first taste of the gaiety of Nov. 5. Guy was carried to his execution on a chair from which he was transferred, with the aid of a ladder, to the top of an enormous pile of wood. When the fire was nearly to his head, Guy toppled over with a grotesque lurch to be consumed by the hungry flames.

Interspersed between a modernized version of the Guy Fawkes plot and Danish folk dancing were bursts of green, red and silver Roman candles and shrieks of unwary victims as firecrackers discharged at close range.

The rain which had been drizzling down all evening finally halted those who were dancing to 'Lassa gaar ei ringen,' and the party retreated into Salisbury Hall. Once inside, Gary Affolter and Doug Moline, playing the guitar and double bass respectively, joined two of their fellow countrymen in singing "Charlie and the MTA." More music, costume contests and food ended an evening that resembled Fourth of July, Halloween and Christmas all rolled into one.

The next big event was excursion day. Twice each year Newbold goes sight seeing "en masse." Oxford, Winchester Cathedral, Hampton Court Palace, Southampton and the Royal Courts of Justice were a few of the places visited during this first excursion day of the year.

I chose to visit Hampton Court Palace and the Royal Courts of Justice in London. Built during the reign of Henry VIII, Hampton Court Palace served as a residence for the ruling monarchs of England until 1760. Lavish furnishings, formal portraits, rich tapestries, moats and the famous maze made this stop almost like a trip into another century.

At the Royal Courts of Justice we spent two hours listening to various trials being held throughout the building. The barristers wearing their long black robes and curly white wigs added to the ostentatious atmosphere of the silent shelf-lined courtrooms.

Since Thanksgiving is an American celebration, Thanksgiving vacations are not included in the schedule at Newbold. To compensate for this, the Americans prepare a true American Thanksgiving feast complete with pumpkin pie, cranberries and familiar holiday dishes. In true "Yankee" fashion time is set aside to be thankful for our American heritage.

NEWS NOTES

The College

• The elementary teachers from SDA schools in Iowa attended a state teachers' convention at Union College, Nov. 6-8. The program was directed by Harry Reile, instructor in education.

• Dr. C. Mervyn Maxwell, professor of religion and G. Glenn Davenport, director of college relations, were the featured speakers at the Northern Union Secondary Teachers' Convention held Oct. 12-15, in the Black Hills of South Dakota. Teachers from Sheyenne River Academy, Oak Park Academy and Maplewood Academy attended.

• Dr. Maxwell was the featured speaker at the Minneapolis MV Rally, Oct. 28-29. The theme was "Festival of the Blessed Hope."

• The student affairs office is currently working on the Senior Placement Bureau (SPB), a book containing the seniors' pictures, their majors, minors, marital status, age and sex. About 400 copies of SPB are sent out each year to conference offices and schools.

• V. F. Mayer and Roy Crawford, Union College assistant business managers, attended a convention of the Association of Student Financial Aid Administrators Oct. 30-Nov. 1 at Marquette University in Milwaukee, Wis. The aim of the convention was to help the officers better advise and fit financial aid programs to the needs of students.

• Harry M. Tippet, associate book editor of the Review and Herald Pub. Assn. of Washington, D. C. will be the featured speaker at the senior recognition convocation, Dec. 2.

• Dr. Laurence Downing, guidance counselor, told the Union College student body that "if children honor their parents, and give them respect and reverence all through life, then the children will have a long life ahead of them." Dr. Downing's Nov. 14 chapel talk topic was the Fifth Commandment.

• "Tulsa" and "Suite of Old American Dances" will be featured at the Dec. 3 concert of the Concert Winds under the direction of Dr. Melvin Hill, chairman of the music department. This year's student director will be Barbara Favorito, who will conduct the Concert Winds in a number entitled "Crown Imperial March."

Suzy Moline uses the new A-T biology lab.

Biology Dep't Adds A-T Lab

By EVELYN RUTAN

The Audio-Tutorial lab which tutors the student through a tape recorder has been added in the new wing of Jorgensen Hall for use by the principles of biology class.

Each of the eleven booths in the lab are equipped with a tape recorder, microscope and any other material necessary. As the student listens to the lecture he may be told to look at a diagram, answer questions or view a film. The single topic continuous loop film viewer is in an adjoining room and is easily operated by the student. Each color movie is approximately five minutes long.

The biology department is making its own tapes. However, the scripts for the present section of study on the cell, microscope and reproduction were adapted from scripts published by the Burgess Publishing Company. The scripts for the section on zoology will also be received from there. At present, Dr. Neil W. Rowland, professor of biology, is writing the scripts for the next section on plants. The student is also quizzed over the material presented on the tape.

No set time has been designated for the lab since there are 170 students and only eleven booths. This has made it necessary for the lab to be open from 7:30 a.m. until 10:30 p.m. The student is required to keep a record of his time in the lab. Henry Lund, a 1966 graduate of Union College, is the lab instructor.

Purdue University pioneered the way for the A-T lab in the field of botany. They found a definite correlation between the amount of time spent in the A-T lab and the grade earned in the course. The average use of the A-T lab by A students was 3.5 hours per week and by F students 1.5 hours per week. The overall average use was 2.8 hours per week.

The A-T lab originally began in the field of secretarial sciences and then spread to the language departments. But this lab is comparatively new in the area of natural sciences.

Associated with the physics department is a lab of much the same nature for the principles of physical science class.

Students Prepare Thanksgiving Food Baskets

Fifty large baskets of food will be assembled and delivered to needy families again this Thanksgiving, as the MV sponsors one of its most widely supported annual projects. All Union College students will have an opportunity to take part in the filling of the food baskets.

Mike Burton, head of the MV Community Service, comments that the outstanding feature of this year's food basket program is the high degree of organization. Each

Ski Film To Be Featured At Sadie Hawkins Social

Rick Glockner, veteran cinematographer, presents "Transatlantic Ski Time" for Sadie Hawkins night this Saturday.

Glockner has been active in many competitive sports, as well as skiing. Now he is a skiing instructor at one of Colorado's leading ski areas when he is not filming and showing ski movies.

In "Transatlantic Ski Time" Glockner visits places such as Tod Mountain, site of the Canadian National Alpine Championships and home of the "Brave Skiers"; Alta, site of the National Falling Contest; Sun Valley, where he filmed the American International Races; Oberstdorf in Germany; Klosters in Switzerland; and Obergrugl in the Austrian Tyrol.

Don Moon, instructor in physical education, says that although Glockner is not rated as highly as John Jay, who was here last year, he should be. As a special surprise Glockner writes that he plans to bring some prizes for the audience.

The ski film is scheduled to start at 9:00. Students need only their ID cards although there will be an admission charge for non-students.

Two other activities are planned besides the ski film Saturday night. There will be a barbershop quarter program in the Student Center and a dorm vs. village flagball game. Both programs will begin at 6:30.

Players for the village will be Junior Lewis and Win Scott, co-captains, H. P. Sterling, George Mayberry, Jim Anderson, Gary Hannah, Sam Briscoe, Fordyce Koenke, Jamie Pogue and Jerry Pogue.

Playing for the dorm will be Buell Fogg and Don Soderstrom, co-captains, Wally Fox, Lary Taylor, Bob Reynolds, John Seltman, Jim Wentworth, Don Oxley, Marv Smith, Phil Williams, Larry Hopkins and Don Sauser.

Following the game and just preceding the film, the all-star football team for the year will be announced. Two trophies will also be given out—one for the outstanding player in the all-star game, and one for the outstanding player of the year.

The "FarminAires" a barbershop quartet from Walton, Nebr. will present the student center program. According to Al Francke, one of the "FarminAires," the program will be an hour of singing and short humorous skits. The Student Center Committee is producing the program in order to give the students variety in their selection of entertainment.

Tomorrow at both the 6 o'clock and the 8 o'clock evangelistic meetings, the MV will sponsor a cornucopia in the church. Food may still be purchased at the Harvestore today.

Soprano Will Sing At ASB Banquet

Mrs. Virginia Duxbury, soprano singing artist, will be featured at the ASB banquet Sunday, Dec. 4. Mrs. Duxbury has performed on television on the KOLN-KGIN "Morning Show" and her own show, "The Music Room." She is presently serving as president of the Lincoln Symphony Guild, is active in her music sorority and various other activities. She sings weekly in a solo quartet at St. Paul's Methodist Church.

Mrs. Duxbury is the mother of two children. She was born in Lincoln, attended Stevens College in Missouri and graduated from the University of Nebraska with a degree in music.

A former Unionite, Mrs. Jane Thayer, the wife of Jerry Thayer, will be mistress of ceremonies. While at Union College Mrs. Thayer won recognition for her orations in the annual temperance oratorical contest. She is presently teaching English at College View Academy.

Maxwell Holds Denver Prayer Week

Week of Prayer services were conducted by Dr. C. M. Maxwell, professor of religion, for the students on the Denver campus Oct. 31-Nov. 5. The theme of the week was "Happiness in Knowing God Is With Us."

"The 'Rest' of Your Life" was the opening topic. Dr. Maxwell told the students how they may "rest" upon God's promises if they would just take the time to read them and to "rest."

He compared Peter's experience to what anyone's might be if he would surrender his will to God. He illustrated his point by the "flat" cake—which results when the people fail to follow God's recipe and the "well-made" cake which results when people follow the Holy Spirit's guidance. The climax of the series was the torchlight ceremony on the frosted lawn.

Dr. Maxwell joined some nurses in an invigorating snowball fight which began a "good health program" similar to the one initiated on the Lincoln campus last year with jump ropes.

FLAGBALL

Wahlen Edges 'B' All-Stars

By BOB BLEHM

Wahlen defeated the 'B' league All-Stars behind the superb quarterbacking of Don Soderstrom last Saturday night.

The two teams battled to a scoreless first quarter, but Wahlen struck early in the second period on a pass from Don Soderstrom to Bob Reynolds that went for 35 yds. and a touchdown. The All-Stars got right back into the game on a 60 yd. touchdown pass from Ed Rotan to Bob Blehm. The first half ended in a 6-6 deadlock.

Wahlen once again took the lead when Soderstrom hit Larry Skinner in the end zone with his second TD pass. Soderstrom kicked the extra point and Wahlen led 13-6. Four plays later the All-Stars pushed across their second touchdown on a pass from Rotan to Dave Bowers. Terry Verlo's conversion was wide and Wahlen led 13-12.

A pass from Soderstrom to Reynolds and a short run by Reynolds set the stage for another Soderstrom to Skinner touchdown pass. The conversion failed. The score stood 19-12. Five plays later the "never say die" All-Stars scored again on a 25 yd. run by Blehm. The conversion attempt failed.

Bob Reynolds scored the last TD of the night for Wahlen on a 50 yd. run. The conversion by Soderstrom was good. The game ended Wahlen 26, All-Stars 18.

Twelve Education Students Teach In Six States

Twelve student teachers are teaching in nine different schools this semester. Several of the students have finished all of their regular school work and have only this semester of student teaching to finish, while those who are teaching in the Lincoln schools are taking regular class work.

Those teaching in Lincoln include Georgetta Moles, Sherry Trammell and Barbara Favorito at College View Academy; Jerry Patton and Marcel Grondahl at Lefler Jr. High; Mary Ellen March at Irving Jr. High and Don Duncan at Southeast High.

All the others are teaching out of state. They include Angie Beck at Campion Academy, Loveland, Colo.; Cloice Lemon at Sandia View Academy, Sandoval, N. M.; Paul Essig at Oak Park Academy, Nevada, Ia.; Curtis Rossow at Gem State, Caldwell, Ida.; and Dorothy Woods at Southwestern Union College Academy, Keene, Tex.
