Missions Promotions

Full Participation Predicted In All-college Field Day

The students and staff of Union College will conduct their annual Missions Promotion Field Day in the Lincoln area and adjoining communities on Wednesday, October 16. Approximately 70 cars will leave for a full day of solicitation in the southeastern Nebraska area early Wednesday morning.

The program is under the direction of Dr. R. E. Cleveland, chairman, President D. J. Bieber, Dr. J. W. Rhodes, Dr. D. K. Brown, and Elders M. W. Deming, C. R. French, S. F. Pederson, Sydney Allen, and Arthur Hauck.

There will be three divisions in the solicitation program: industrial superintendents will go to business friends in the community, students and staff members will cover surrounding towns within an 80-mile radius, and those who do not get to go during the day will go Wednesday evening to Omaha.

Dr. Cleveland states that 100% student and staff participation is expected. This will include those who actually take part in the solicitations, those who donate their work, and those who make contributions.

To highlight the program, Elder W. R. Beach, General Conference secretary, will be here.

USSR DEPICTED IN 1ST LYCEUM ON OCTOBER 19

Mr. Charles Sharp

Charles Sharp of CBS Network News will narrate the film, "Is this the U. S. S. R.?" in the first lyceum number of the year on Saturday evening, October 19, in the college gym.

Mr. Sharp has been associated with Columbia Broadcasting System in America for the past four years. He has also made documentary films for the United States Army and the Department of Public Welfare.

The informative all-color film is the first real film to come out of Russia in many years. It is based on Sharp's experiences in Russia, Poland, Czechoslovakia, East Germany, and the Southwest Soviet Union in Asia. Scenes of Krushchev, Mikoyan, Zhukov, Bulganin, slums, close-ups of people, schools, factories, Catholic, Jewish, and Baptist church scenes will hold your attention.

Elder W. R. Beach To Launch Activities

Elder W. R. Beach, secretary of the General Conference, will be at Union College October 11-17 to promote the annual Missions field day October 16.

When Elder Beach left college, he went to France where he was engaged in the Missionary Volunteer work for several years. Later he served in the Southern European Division in the same capacity. Then he was called to the French Union with headquarters in Paris. While there, he studied at Sorbonne University, the largest in western Europe.

During World War II Elder Beach with his family lived in Switzerland, and after the war, he became president of the Southern European Division. While in this office, he traveled in many of the countries behind the "Iron Curtain."

In 1954 he took up his present position. "Elder Beach is in touch with our global work more than any other worker in the denomination," said Elder Lief Kr. Tobiassen, head of Union's Religion department.

Elder Beach will speak to the Ministerial Association tonight in the church annex, and at the Sabbath services tomorrow. He will address the students in chapel on Monday, October 14.

Saulsbury, Simmons Awarded Ak-Sar-Ben Scholarships

Scholarships amounting to $150.00 each were awarded to seniors Evelyn Saulsbury, of Hemingford, and Jean Simmons, of Lincoln in convocation Friday, October 4. The recipients, uninformed of the awards prior to their presentation, were chosen by the Administrative council.

Given by the Scholarship Committee of the Knights of Ak-Sar-Ben, the awards go to senior students from Nebraska.

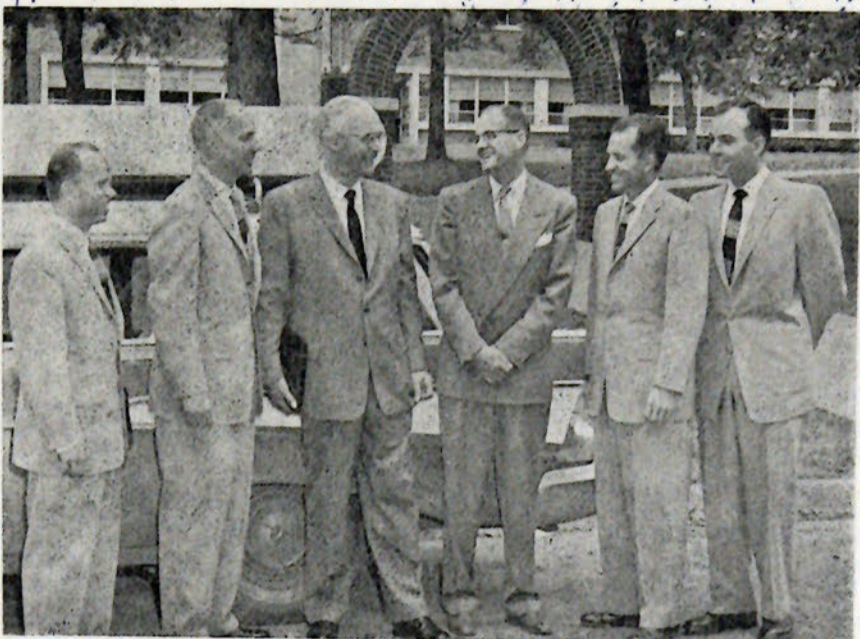

Nursing Students Given Stripes In Ceremony

The annual Recognition Day program was held on the Colorado campus on Tuesday evening, September 3. Miss Pauline Neal spoke of the Seventh-day Adventist Mission and clinic for the Navajos of Monument Valley. These Indians are in need of medical missionary work, and Miss Neal challenged the student nurses to participate in this branch of Christian service.

The seniors, wearing their white graduate nurse uniforms, sang the hymn they had selected for their capping service three years ago. Then the lower classmen were promoted. They removed their unadorned sophomore caps and marched to the platform to receive from Mrs. Evelyn Bergman, Associate chairman of the department of nursing, a cap with a single black velvet stripe to indicate the junior status. The juniors received their caps with two bands to indicate their senior standing.

As a benediction Joyce Huisman, senior nursing student, read the "Prayer of Maimonides."

Voice of Prophecy Appears 4 Times

The Voice of Prophecy group, under the auspices of the Ministerial Association, were featured in the chapel hour on Monday, October 7.

The King's Heralds quartet sang four selections with Elder H.M.S. Richards, leader of the group, setting the mood for each song. The songs included spirituals and favorite hymns. The quartet concluded with "Jesus, Rose of Sharon".

Elder Richards cited the Biblical incident of the rich young ruler as an example for the students to lay aside their material "idols" and make heaven their goal.

On Wednesday, October 9, Elder Richards spoke to the Ministerial Association. He also attended the class in fundamentals of broadcasting and answered questions that the students directed to him about the technical and operational aspects of a radio broadcast.

The Voice of Prophecy group will present a program in the college gymnasium at 3:00 p.m. tomorrow.

STUDENT-STAFF DISCUSSIONS COVER VARIOUS AGENDA

The Student-Staff Council was called to order by Chairman Harold Reeder on Sunday, October 6. The agenda consisted of a proposal of getting more refuse containers to put around the campus to help keep our campus looking better. The plan was approved by the Council.

The second item of business was a proposal to study the constitution of the Associated Student Body and to bring it up-to-date by making any changes which might be deemed necessary. A sub-committee was nominated by the Council to study the Constitution, and recommend to the Council anything that they think needs changing. It was suggested that the sub-committee consist of two faculty members and three students. Members of the committee selected by the Council are Dr. L. W. Welch, who is sponsor of the Association, and very familiar with the working policy and the constitution as it now stands; Dr. R. E. Cleveland of the History department; and Pat Peterson, Art Dick and Jim Dieringer who are members of the committee. Bud Siebenlist, president.

Trustees Approve Pavement Project

Friday, September 27, President D. J. Bieber announced tentative plans for paving the road which runs through the Union College campus. Dust and mud from the road have long been a problem to college residents.

"Success of the plan depends, in part, upon the cooperation of the students in raising a portion of the needed funds," stated President Bieber.

Approximately $12,000 will be needed to improve the roadway from the south entrance of the campus to the parking area at North Hall. Of this amount, the school is able to supply $5,000. The Central Union Conference has been requested to contribute $1,000 and the Nebraska Conference has been asked to give $1,000. The remaining $5,000 is to be raised by the students.

"We are trying to look ahead in our planning of the campus," college business manager, Vernon Dunn said later, "and now that the position of the road is permanently established, we think it would be wise to make these much-needed improvements."

New CWC Members To Be Honored

Sixteen new members of the Campus Women's Club will be special guests at the first meeting of the organization on Sunday evening, October 13, in the recital room of Engel Hall. The 1957-58 officers of the club will conduct the program, consisting of a welcome for the new members, plans for the new year, and a social hour. The officers are Winnie Turner, president; Victoria Larsen, vice president; Gertrude Huygens, treasurer; June Engel, secretary; and executive members Floda Smith, Marguerite Widener, and Opal Dick.

Week of Prayer Plans Finalized

Pastor Robert Whitsett, Northern Union evangelist of Minneapolis, Minnesota, will be the speaker for the fall week of spiritual emphasis at Union College, October 18-26. The arrangements for the week are under the direction of President David J. Bieber assisted by the joint student-faculty Religious Life Committee of which Professor Leif Kr. Tobiassen is the chairman.

Pastor Whitsett is a well known minister in the Adventist denomination. For several years he was a member of the General Conference ministerial department, and most recently he has conducted evangelistic efforts in Iowa, the Dakotas, and Minnesota.

Vacancies Filled In Special Election

Union College personnel cast their ballots in a special election Monday, October 7, to fill vacancies in student organizations.

Elected to serve as Sabbath School chorister for the first semester was Jerry Patton, a sophomore ministerial student from Wyoming. Assistant chorister is Don Duncan, freshman music major from Texas. Iris Ghaly, also a music major who comes from Cairo, Egypt, was named as pianist.

Top posts in the college chapter of the American Temperance Society were also filled. Art Dick, senior pre-med, was elected president and Jim Maxwell, another senior pre-med from Colorado, was named publicity secretary.

The Senior, Junior, and Freshman classes met Wednesday, October 9, to select thirteen members to fill vacancies on the Nominations and Elections committee.

Divers Data

North Hall

by Sally Saturley

"Vote for the Road" was written in dust on the backs of several cars parked along our now dusty campus road. These words were discovered by the advisory committee which is studying the project. In discussing the project with several girls, I have discovered that most of North Hall will probably be doing as the dust-covered cars bid us to do—"vote for the road."

The first major function of the Kappa Theta Club was held Thursday evening, September 28—a picnic in College View Park. Club president Betty Meier and her efficient staff of officers had a fine meal planned which we all enjoyed. The meal was followed by group singing. The other officers are: Gail Emde, vice-president; Jeanie Rogers, secretary; Anne Whitsett, treasurer; Jackie Schimke, chorister; Charlene Specht, pianist, and Jonnie Lee Bailey, cultural secretary.

It was our privilege here in North Hall to have Dean Clark from the College of Medical Evangelists as guest speaker for our worship. He stressed the importance of first things first and having a proper sense of values.

Another thought along the spiritual side of things is the fact that prayer bands were organized to further the spiritual companionship of the North Hall young women. The leaders of the bands are: George Ann Adcock, Marjorie Britt, Betty Chase, Esther Curtis, Candy Dailey, Kay Dart, Betty Engelkemier, Lou Ann Fick, Iris Ghaly, Hilda Graybill, Bernice Kerkhoff, Marilyn Krein, Thorey Melsted, Joyce Miller, Evelyn Moore, Polly Munson, Eleanor Olson, Julie Phillips, Maxine Reed, Millie Reiter, LaVerna Riffel, Evelyn Saulsbury, Roxy Schlatter, Marlene Seltman, Janette Seyle, Carolyn Smith, Juanita Smith, Charlene Specht, Janet Tucker, Connie Wells, Donna Wolfe, Lora Wood, Wanda Skinner, Ramona Chamberlin, Ruth Chesnut and Sharon Chatfield.

Student-Staff Council

dent of the Associated Student Body, was also asked to serve as a member of the committee.

Jim Dieringer was asked by the Council to serve as chairman.

The committee is to meet and report to the Student-Staff Council at the next meeting, Sunday, October 19. The third and last item on the agenda was a proposal brought into discussion by Melvin Schultz. His proposal was that a change in the social policy of Union College be studied by the group. The main idea of his proposal was that there be some distinction between upper division and older students, and lower division students as far as their social privileges are concerned.

Schultz in presenting his plan offered counsel from Mrs. E. G. White on the subject.

"In dealing with students, age and character must be taken into account. We cannot treat the young and old just alike. There are circumstances under which men and women of sound experience and good standing may be granted some privileges not given to the younger students."

Counsels To Teachers, page 101.

The discussion of the proposal was left unfinished, because of lack of time. The discussion will be first on the agenda at the next meeting.

Dean Clark Interviews Future CME Students

Walter B. Clark, Dean of Students at the College of Medical Evangelists, made his annual visit to the Union College campus October 2 to 4. This visit is the only one Dean Clark will make to our campus this year.

The purpose of Dean Clark's stay was to interview students interested in enrollment in the schools of medicine, dentistry, laboratory technique, X-ray, and physical therapy at CME. Dean Clark makes these visits annually to our denominational colleges.

During his stay here, he interviewed all prospective students who made appointments to talk with him. The dean talked with each student for twenty to thirty minutes.

Due to the fact that Dean Clark's chief interest lies in young people, and his twenty years of experience as dormitory administrator, he has an unusual insight into the ambitions and problems of young people. Working with young people during their period of character development and preparation for their life work is the work Dean Clark enjoys most. His claim that these contacts with young people are a continual source of inspiration to him may be true, but evidence proves that those who have become acquainted with him have been inspired to a successful and better way of life.

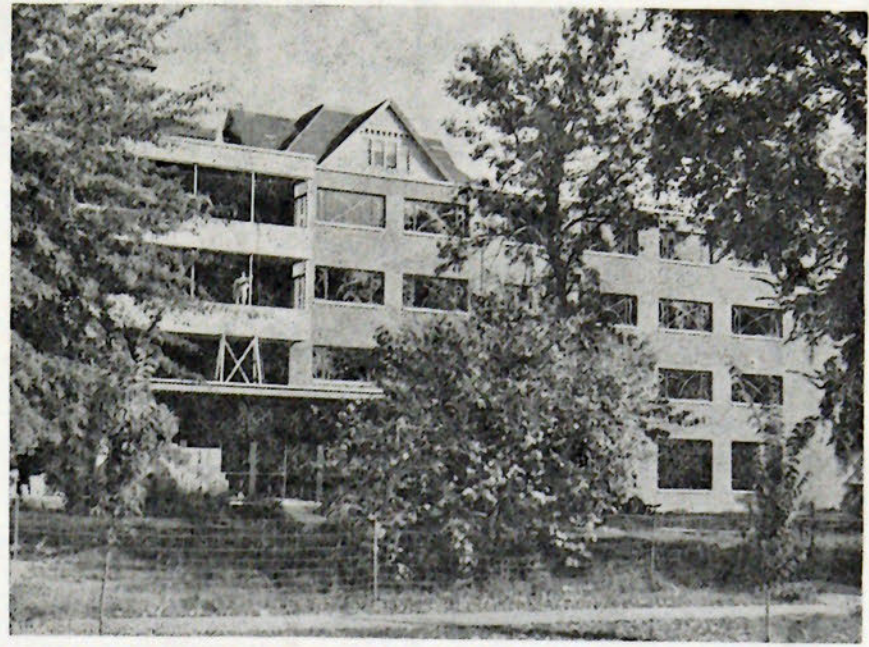

FACULTY ENTERTAIN STUDENTS OCTOBER 5

Last Saturday evening, October 5, group parties of students were entertained at faculty homes. In place of a general entertainment for the evening, all the students who wished to participate, were invited to the homes of various staff members for group parties.

Activities ranged from table games and home-made ice cream to chop suey and chop sticks for Chinese students at the home of Mr. Neil Rowland, associate professor of biology, who was born in Singapore. A total of 23 homes entertained groups of from 8 to 18 students. The committee reports plans for more entertainments of this type in the future.

Next Saturday night, October 12, is an open night in which students may plan their own activities by making arrangements with the dormitory deans. The open evenings are a result of a student poll taken toward the close of last school year which indicated that the students desired more evenings of this type.

Rees Hall Construction Moves Ahead of Schedule

Old North Hall peeks over the completed brickwork of new dorm.

by Lennart Colson

An old campaigner will soon retire.

North Hall, veteran of some 80 years service, stands solemnly in the background these days as construction on the new women's dormitory, Pearl Rees Hall, moves rapidly ahead of schedule.

The new dorm, originally expected to be finished at the beginning of the 1958-59 school year, now is expected to be completed by July 1, 1958, according to Mr. Ned Saunders, general superintendent of construction. He also expects the Home Economics department, which will be located on the first floor, to be ready for use by the start of second semester.

Mr. Saunders, with Mr. Chris Christensen, masonry foreman, consider the high caliber of work performed by the 24 student laborers partly responsible for the work moving along at such a rapid pace. Mr. Christensen, whose crew of nine student bricklayers, laid 170,000 bricks in a three-month period, pointed out, "We're using student labor and getting professional results."

Outside construction on the four and a half story, completely fireproof building is expected to be completed within three weeks. Most of the work thereafter will consist of lathing the inside. An indoor heating system will allow work to continue throughout the winter months.

When completed, the new dormitory will have cost an estimated $600,000, and will have a housing capacity of approximately 250 students.

Many of the prospective occupants of the new dorm are eying the progress with keen interest. La Donna Milholm, freshman, is happy because the new dorm "... won't squeak and creak like our old one," while Betty Meier, senior, sadly adds, "I envy the girls who will get to live in it."

There's a sad ending to this story, however. Upon completion of the new dorm, North Hall will be torn down. Thus it will become a part of Union's history—a fate we all must face someday.

Academy 'SYF' Active

The youth of the Union College Academy are on the march. On Friday, October 4, the young people from the academy went out and distributed handbills announcing the opening of the meetings which they are conducting in Wahoo. In something less than half an hour, they had distributed handbills to every home in Wahoo. On Friday evening, Mr. Neville George, the Bible instructor, opened the meetings.

Association Officers Introduced

In a novel chapel program presented Thursday, October 3, the Academy student association officers for 1957-58 were introduced to the student body. In a short film which was taken under the direction of Mr. Hartley Berlin, the science professor, each of the officers was shown in an activity which interested him. The officers are as follows: president, Richard Griffiths; vice president, Joanne Allen; treasurer, Lassie Bringle; secretary, Ann Hilde; parliamentarian, Roger Simpson; and pianist, Jo Ann Carcich; pastor, Vernon Usher; Sgt.-at-arms, Dick Reed.

UCSA Sponsors Box Social

Saturday night, October 5, was a night of entertainment for the UCA students who took part in the box social held in the annex. Kenneth Head from the college acted as auctioneer, and evidently did a fine job because the Student Association realized a profit of $34.05. One of the cheaper boxes went for the nominal fee of twenty-five cents in spite of the fact that it was filled with a real delicacy—snake, not rattle-snake steak, however.

After they had eaten, the students had a good time marching and playing other group games.

The first Youth's Instructor Photo Mart, a program aimed at enlisting the talents of Adventist camera fans and providing quality cover pictures for the Instructor, is open to photographers on the campus of Union College.

Extending from September 17, 1957, to January 21, 1958, the Photo Mart offers two awards in each of four classes. In addition, the Instructor may buy other pictures submitted for consideration. Members of the panel of judges will be drawn from the Instructor staff, the Review and Herald Art Department, and Washington Missionary College. First award in each class will be $25; second award, $10.

Although Instructor cover pictures are frequently bought from commercial dealers, a few are supplied by authors who have pictures to illustrate their manuscripts. The Photo Mart, however, provides opportunity for all Adventist young people to share in the production of their own youth magazine and offers a satisfying and profitable hobby outlet.

Black and white glossy pictures may be submitted in one of four classes: Student Life, Out-of-school Life, Scenics, Animal Life. Although color transparencies are not eligible, it is permissible to convert a color shot and submit the black and white print.

Requests for entry blanks, model releases, and complete rules and instruction sheets should be addressed to The Youth's Instructor Photo Mart, Review and Herald Publishing Association, Takoma Park, Washington 12, D. C.

Graham, Conway Named to Head Colporteur Club

New officers were elected and a revision of the constitution voted in the second meeting of the Colporteur Club Tuesday, October 8.

Norman Graham, Colorado sophomore, was named president as Jim Maxwell, chairman of the nominations committee, presided. Vice-president of this year's organization is Bob Conway and the secretary-treasurer is Janet Carlson.

Also elected were committee heads Nathan Sims, educational; Bob Whitsett, program; and Jackie Schimke, social. Mem-

Divers Data South Hall

by Bob Kelley

An era is drawing to a close. The era of open-view tennis courts. Maybe you haven't noticed yet, but a clinging, vegetable growth is slowly lowering itself to the ground from its beginnings high in the tennis court fencing.

Out on the lawn recently, along with the buzzing of flies and mosquitoes, you may have heard that lethal-sounding whine of a boomerang. Alan Seltman claims that he started it all last year when he brought the first boomerang onto the campus and promptly broke it. This year, however, Melvin Schultz started things by making one out of plywood at the maintenance shop.

The fun began. Everyone wanted to get into the act. Jerry Greenhaw and Ed Storey were the first to get the boomerang to return which is the avowed purpose of every self-respecting boomerang. Greenhaw hit a few trees on his throws and even managed to get it stuck high above him in a tree a couple of times. So far no moving targets (like students and faculty members) have been hit by this ever-increasing group of boomerang "aficionados."

No girls have volunteered to try their hands at it yet, but the fellows are still willing to hold a clinic to teach them.

Lorenzo Greenidge tried to throw it left-handed but wasn't successful because it is made for right-handed throwing. Even Dean Culver good-naturedly gave it a try with a sweeping sidarm motion which sent it 600 feet; you know, 300 feet straight up, and 300 feet straight down. (P. S.: He learned better later.)

The original boomerang got broken by Messrs. Seltman and Greenhaw, but they are working on two new ones with which to terrorize the countryside. Good hunting!

By now, most of the early annual History department map tests are finished and history readers, like George Fischer, can breathe a sigh of relief and uncross their eyes. Crossed eyes is a common ailment of map test graders caused by squinting at small, smudged dots located at random on small, smudged maps.

Fellows: All vestiges of last year's refuse rectangle behind old South Hall will soon be gone as Mr. J. C. Turner's crew of gardeners are turning it into a veritable "sunken garden." Many thanks for this beautification of the campus!

Prayer band leaders for the first semester have been in operation for some time now. They are: Lewis Anderson, Grover Barker, Bob Bockman, Don Bunch, Don Duncan, George Fischer, Helton Fisher, Kenneth Franz, Jerry Gilbert, Lorenzo Greenidge, Harry Hartgrove, Kent Hodson, Robert Hyde, Dick Jewett, Don Johnson, Jake Knight, Arnt Krogstad, Herman Leiske, Dick Milholm, Marvin Moore, Kenneth Morford, Jerry Nelson, Caesar Nowalkowski, Bill Philpott, Leo Rein, George Sharpe, Jere Stearman, Gabe Taylor, Bob Teel, and John Zollbrecht.

Club officers for Sigma Iota Kappa are: Jim Maxwell, president; Dick Milholm, vice president; Bob Whitsett, secretary-treasurer; Floyd Harberts and Leroy Schultz, assistant treasurers; Dave Priest, sergeant-at-arms; and Jake Knight, pastor.

UC Nursing Majors Conduct Sabbath Services

REGIONAL MEETING

On September 7, Phyllis Evens, Sherri Saturley, Erma Crofoot, Patricia Dunn, and Joan Frederickson, juniors at the Clinical Division of Union College, with Mrs. Evelyn Bergman, Associate Chairman of the Department of Nursing, conducted the regional Sabbath services at Craig, Colorado. In the service the group developed the theme, "Ye Are My Witnesses." Each student also participated in the Sabbath School program. Some told stories and gave finger plays for the children; some took part in the adult Sabbath School activities.

The students took charge of the morning church service and told of the soul-winning experiences they had enjoyed while having their clinical practice in nursing. They also conducted an afternoon meeting to continue the theme of the day.

The end of the Sabbath was marked by a vesper program which was presented by the Union College students.

bers of these committees, which will figure in the weekly meetings, are to be elected next week.

Revisions in the constitution concerned the offices to be filled and name of the club, which dropped the title, Alpha Tau Sigma, in preference to Union College Colporteur Club.

Arthur Hauck, sponsor, emphasized that the club is open to all students—both college and academy-and staff members.

It's this way

On Responsibility

Much is expected of college students. We are aware of it whenever we go home for a vacation. The home folks look to us for leadership. And they have every right to. Upon us will be devolving soon the responsibilities which they now carry.

How, then, is this responsibility acquired? Is it only for those who hold offices or key positions? No; that is only a matter of degree of responsibility. EVERYONE is responsible for his time, talents, influence, and opportunities. Where more than one person is involved each is responsible for his part in the overall plan. The extent to which we carry out these lesser responsibilities determines our ability to shoulder larger ones.

In the next few days and weeks there will be many opportunities for us to shoulder a bit of responsibility—in missions promotion, a road-paving project, and an inevitable subscription campaign. These projects can be successful only by a concerted fulfillment of individual responsibility.

Let's all do our part!

—B.C.

On Witnessing

The Adventist student is a carrier of light from God to man. Witnessing to others about the Adventist way of life is a part of Adventist education. Once each academic year Union College gives its students and professors and other workers a day's experience in talking to people about the gospel work and the gospel message. Missions Promotion Day, this year on October 16, is a day of student activity of the highest type: making the people of Nebraska acquainted with the accomplishments and needs of the Advent movement.

Last year 500 students and teachers took an active part in the work of soliciting funds for missions; this was an increase of more than 200 over 1955 and 1954. This year all students and faculty members will be invited to take their parts; one hundred percent participation in the gospel witnessing effort on October 16 is the goal. Should Adventist students be content with less?—L.Kr.T.

On Integrity

"Our grand business is not to see what lies dimly in the distance, but to do what lies clearly at hand." This choice bit of wisdom by Carlyle came upon me quite suddenly the other day as I was mentally reviewing the daily cycle which embodies our average school day.

Indirectly, this citation could very well be applied to the scholastic inclinations which many of us have. We sometimes have a tendency to look into the future in anticipation of a good record upon which to lay claim to our potential success and partially disregard the material on which it is based.

Quite often we find ourselves cramming on an exceptionally heavy assignment from the viewpoint of gaining a good grade. In a sense it is natural to try to earn an average mark, but unfortunately that is as far as some of us go. We seldom consider the facts in the light of their enduring values. It is merely a means to an end; and we ultimately lose out. It is ourselves we're cheating.

One writer sums up the situation quite aptly: "Folks who never do any more than they get paid for, never get paid for any more than they do." —F.C.H.

Philler ...By Freitas

Hello there, kiddies. This is your Uncle Philler with another oversimplified commentary on the world situation. So sit back and prepare to have the uncolored facts fed to you.

By the time you get here to the back page the 1957 world series will be history. Nonetheless, I hope that everyone interested had a good time watching and listening to the series. (In the predictions field, I will take the liberty to say that the Yankees won.) No offense to all my readers who may be Milwaukee fans.

On the Asian flu vaccine: just how good is it? Reports by certain West Coast doctors say that it is only 50% effective. Add to that the reaction that is often caused by the vaccine and what do you have? Could this just be a sugar-pill campaign to calm the frightened public?

Don't let me lull you into inactive lethargy, however. In Mississippi, over 100,000 cases have been reported; in neighboring Colorado, health officers expect 10% of the total population to be hit before the epidemic has been checked. (I got my vaccination last week.)

How is school coming, my fine little contemporaries? You've had time for those first quizzes, possibly that first test, and a quick evaluation of all of your teachers. Now let's not be too rough on them right at first. Reliable reports have it that 99 and 44/100 per cent of them are actually human.

For those of you who may be referred to as "old" students, do you remember the phrase, "1957, a year of changes at Union College?" Following a change there must always be an adjustment, a period of getting used to something new. That's what 1958 must necessarily be, a year of adjustments. From my own little corner these adjustments seem to be coming along very nicely. How does it look from your point of view?

This week notice "These Faces in the Crowd." Cleo Johnson, a senior Business Administration major from Kansas, could very well be named "most likely to succeed." As a special nomination this week, I would like to present President David Bieber. You can't miss seeing him around campus. He can be seen at virtually every important student function of committee meeting. Here is a man, kiddies, who really has us in mind.

Be seeing you again next issue in our "back page rendezvous."

Student Staff Council Approves Road Project

Plans for a project to pave the road behind the college was approved by the Student-Staff council in a special meeting Sunday, September 29. Presented by Student Association President Bud Siebenlist, the plan calls for an advisory committee composed of officers of the Student Association, dormitory club presidents, and a village representative to work out the details of a campaign.

The Student-Staff council is an active working organization on the campus which makes recommendations and suggestions to the Administrative council and Student Association. Officers of the council are Harold Reeder, chairman; Billie Deming, secretary; and Melvin Shultz, publicity secretary.

THE UNDIAGNOSED

by Joan Frederickson

Summer has not been exactly quiet or restful for us here on the Colorado Campus; every day has been packed with new experiences, new adventures, and new faces.

Five of the senior girls are in Boulder, Colorado, at the City and County Health Department for their eight-week block of public health nursing. LaVonne Finnell, Phyllis Larsen, Verna Rae Johnson, and Gweneth Anderson are the first students to have their field practice in public health nursing under the guidance of Mrs. Elnora Scott.

Twelve of us are having our practice teaching experience by conducting courses in Care of the Sick and Injured for the Denver Chapter of the American Red Cross. There is a tremendous demand for these courses here because of the threat of Asian influenza. Union College is helping to prepare to meet the epidemic if it should strike this area. Six students are teaching downtown in the Red Cross chapter house, and six teach in the Porter nursing laboratory.

We juniors are beginning our away-from-Porter Hospital clinical services. Barbara Meyer, Geraldine Kavanaugh, Marlene Brewer, Audrey Fordham, and Martha Zimmerman are at the Children's Hospital in Denver; Joan Frederickson and Sherri Saturley are at the National Jewish Sanatorium.

Mr. Cupid has been working overtime. Our dean, Mrs. Esther Cornell, went away for six weeks on a vacation. When she returned, she found that six girls had announced their engagements and two had been married.

Our brides are Mrs. Gene Gascay, formerly Ruth Kainer, and Mrs. James Shears, formerly Miriam Binder. The Gascays will be living at Campion Academy where Gene is assistant dean of men; the Shears are living in Denver.

Feature Focus

'Deep in the Heart of' . . . Duncan

Don Duncan

Living in a small tent, singing in the evenings and serving as a night watchman after canvassing all day may not be everyone's idea of an easy schedule, but it added up to an interesting summer for Union's Don Duncan, a sophomore from Texas.

Adventist churches in Texas and Oklahoma remember this sandy-haired singer from hearing him as he traveled throughout the territory singing with a quartet for Southwestern Junior College.

Last summer he had the opportunity to work with Dick and Henry Barron who were holding an evangelistic effort in Wichita Falls, Texas. He lived in a small tent beside the larger evangelistic tent and together with a friend, helped guard the large tent at night. He sang in a quartet with the Barron brothers and canvassed during the day to help defray part of his college expenses.

His busy schedule at Union includes teaching clarinet, saxophone, and trumpet to elementary school children, conducting academy band and taking 15 hours of college work. He also finds time to be a prayer band leader, a Sunshine band leader and a Sabbath School chorister.

We look forward to hearing from Don many times in the future as he makes his contribution to our college life.
