40 House Members Elected; Represent 3 Student Groups

Forty members were placed in the House of Representatives on Thursday, September 28.

There were 14 members chosen from South Hall. Seventy-five percent of the men voted in the election. Campaigning in South Hall produced 23 candidates.

There was no election in either Rees Hall or the village. The village had 13 candidates for the house, just enough to fill their requirement.

Rees Hall was allowed 14 seats in the House, but had only 13 candidates.

Open Election

Buddy Borris, speaker of the House, reported earlier that it would be an open election. Anyone who had a petition signed by 12 students could run.

Don Tan, president of the Associated Student Body, says, "The representatives should be wide awake to the problems of the campus and use their power in solving these problems." He hopes the House will use its power so the Student-Staff Council can be eliminated. He believes that the House should have a permanent place to meet.

Members Speak

Duane Smith, a sophomore premed, believes that there ought to be an inter-mingling of the House and the Senate for a more Democratic campus. "Revision of the class system should be done," he says, "because it isn't fulfilling its purpose."

Sophomore Bobbie Brown believes that the House and the Senate should work together more and the House shouldn't be a "puppet" of the Senate.

Lonnie Leui, a sophomore ministerial student, believes a penalty should be brought against the representative who fails to attend the meetings, thus failing to fulfill his responsibility. This penalty could be the replacement of that person in the House.

Marlene Ellstrom, a junior, along with the other candidates, believes that the students need to know more about the House and should support their candidates.

Most members believe that they can't have much strength in the House unless they have student support.

Your Representatives

Skindiver Presents Film Saturday Night

Skindiver Owen Lee will present his film "Exploring Inner Space" at 8:15 Saturday night in the Union College Auditorium.

Lee, a diver with the Cousteau under sea expeditions will show scenes from beneath the 7 seas and 3 oceans. In his film American audiences will see captain Cousteau's jet-propelled diving saucer that is capable of taking 2 men to a depth of 1,000 feet to observe, make movies and take specimens of the deep.

Dean Clark Interviews Loma Linda Applicants

W. B. Clark, dean of students at Loma Linda University, will visit Union's campus during the week end of October 13-15.

The main purpose of Clark's visit is to interview the pre-medical and pre-dental students who are planning to enter the university for the school term 1962-1963.

The interviews will be held all day Friday and Sunday, October 13 and 15. Thirty minutes will be allowed for seniors and juniors, 20 minutes for sophomores. The freshmen will meet as a group.

There are 8 pre-medical students and a few pre-dental students. The number is less than last year.

Loma Linda University has 12 divisions of higher learning. Some of the latest of these divisions are: dental hygiene, physical therapy and occupational therapy, where more emphasis is now being placed.

The other divisions are dietetics, medical technology, nursing, medicine, dentistry, public health and tropical medicines, religion, and x-ray technology.

Student Center Discussion Scheduled For Saturday AM

The student center discussion groups for the present school term will begin Saturday morning, October 15, at 11.

Topics of discussion are the events of the last days and other topics of general interest. Elder C. M. Maxwell, assistant professor of religion, will lead out in the discussion of Sunday laws at this week's session.

The discussion groups are sponsored by the student religious life committee under the chairmanship of Milton Erhart.

Week of Prayer Starts Sunday; MV Leader Cummings Speaks

Prayer Bands Requested For Success of Meetings

Elder Desmond Cummings, the Missionary Volunteer Secretary of the Southern Union, will be the speaker of the fall week of prayer, October 15 to 21.

"Pray for the coming meetings," urges Elder Cummings. "Have prayer bands organized early so that the greatest blessing will be received."

Schedule

The meetings will begin at 6:40 p.m. Sunday, October 15, in the church and will be held each weekday morning at 9 and each evening at 6:40.

The Friday night meeting will be at 8 during the vesper hour. A communion service Sabbath morning, October 21, will conclude the week of prayer. A complete class schedule will be found on page 4 of the CLOCK TOWER.

"I am looking forward to my visit to Union College and the privilege of personally becoming acquainted" with the students, writes Elder Cummings.

Classroom prayer bands will be organized. Each teacher is urged to select someone to lead out in the prayer circle held each morning at 8:45 in each classroom. All students are encouraged to attend.

From West Coast

Elder Cummings has been associated with youth work for about 9 years. He has served first as the MV Secretary for the Washington Conference. Later he moved to the same position in the Southern California Conference. From there he became the MV Secretary of the Southern Union.

Students And Faculty Vote For '62 Who's Who Nominees

Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities nominees from Union College were voted on by the student and faculty.

Student voting took place in the October 9 chapel, and the faculty received ballots shortly thereafter.

A faculty committee of 12 will consider the ballots and send the names of the candidates selected to the Who's Who committee.

All seniors with a grade point average of 2.00 or better were eligible for consideration.

Criteria for judgment by the students and faculty were these points: excellence and sincerity in scholarship; leadership in academic and extra-curricular activities; citizenship and service to Union College; promise of usefulness to the church, society, and to the business world; and spiritual life.

$4319.94 Raised For Missions On Annual Ingathering Day

Wahoo Center Of Attack For MV Target Teams; "Students Like Evangelism," Tyner Reports

Target teams leave the gym every Sabbath afternoon for Wahoo, Nebraska on an evangelistic project, because "students like to do evangelistic work," said Mitchell Tyner, associate leader of special projects.

One hundred twenty-six people are doing this for five weeks. They hope to raise the Adventist population (presently one) to a higher number.

The target teams are going from house to house with a religious interest survey, a Twentieth Century Bible course, and Signs of the Times.

Wahoo is about 30 miles north of Lincoln and has a population of 3,600. Mitchell Tyner has chosen this town as "target A" for his evangelistic teams. He has two more targets in mind for possible future work.

Tyner backed the program with a quotation from the writings of Mrs. E. G. White.

Students should, during the school year, engage in city mission work. They should do missionary work in the surrounding towns. . . . They should . . . study how, during their student life, to yoke up with Christ in unselfish service for others." CT p. 547.

Student Body Expects Stimulating Meetings

Both students and faculty anticipate a stimulating week of prayer to be conducted by Elder Desmond Cummings, MV Secretary of the Southern Union.

"I think that Elder Cummings is a very sincere, energetic young Missionary Volunteer," commented Dr. Everett Dick, research professor of American history. "I thought a lot of him when I worked with him in the Medical Cadet Corps in the Washington Conference."

"Elder Cummings is a dynamic, down-to-earth speaker," recalled freshman Tom Arany, as he thought of the Colorado youth camp that he spent with Elder Cummings.

"He'll give you something to think about," assured Mr. Leonard Ponder, instructor in chemistry, "I always enjoyed his speeches at Southern Missionary College."

"I think he is great," added Buddy Borris, a Union College senior.

"I like him," said sophomore Dave Young.

"I don't quite remember what he talked about," reflected Vernon Barton, freshman, "but I sure remember him."

"Attributes like these along with the recommendation of the Central Union and the General Conference made us choose him for our speaker this year," said President Bieber.

Physical Excellence Theme of Health Week

The week of October 23-27 has been designated as Health Week.

The theme of the week will be "physical excellence," as ascribed by A.S.B. health committee chairman Jerry Krueger. He stated that, "Emphasis will be placed on frequently overlooked aspects of physical fitness."

This is in agreement with a recent statement by President Kennedy in which he emphasized the importance of physical excellence for young Americans.

Special speakers will be heard in the regular Monday chapel, individual dormitory worship and the Friday Convocation services.

Posters made by Sylvia Border and Virginia Eichenberger will remind students of the special events.

VOP Group Presents Program Here Tonight

H. M. S. Richards

Elder H. M. S. Richards of the Voice of Prophecy will speak in the college auditorium at 8 tonight. With him will be Del Delker, The King's Herald, Brad Braley, and H. M. S. Richards, Jr.

Each year about this time, Elder Richards and his group tour the country making personal contact with the people through the churches in various areas. His appearance here tonight is for the College View Church and the Lincoln area.

The church office reported that these public appearances and personal contacts are made with the hopes of enlarging the offering which is taken up at this time each year for the Voice of Prophecy radio program.

CLUBLICITY

Campus Clubs Name Officers; First Events Being Planned

Twelve campus clubs have completed basic organization for this semester with more than 60 students elected to office.

Business Club

Officers elected at the first meeting include Ben Bandy, president; Dave Huso, vice president; Joanne Eskildson, secretary-treasurer; Myrna Kelley, publicity secretary; and Bernelda Johnson, Janet Wasmiller and Don Barksdale, social committee.

Special plans and activities include dinner clubs, guest speakers, educational programs, a banquet, a field trip to Omaha, and social and recreational activities.

All interested in business administration, economics, accounting or secretarial science are invited to join the club.

Fine Arts Guild

Chosen as officers are Joyce Anderson, president; Ruth Ann Hagen, vice president; Linda Lair, secretary; Roger Anderson, treasurer; and Jerry Lang, publicity manager.

Tentative plans were made at the first meeting for a variety of educational and entertaining programs.

President Joyce Anderson emphasizes that "this club is not only for music lovers but for all those interested in any phase of the fine arts."

Home Economics Club

Lassie Bringle is president; Virginia Eichenberger, vice president; Pat Monzingo, secretary; Cindy Hoffman, assistant secretary; and Judy Bohannon, treasurer.

Ministerial Conference

The Ministerial Conference elected John Sharp, president; Richard Stephens, secretary; Dick Dale, assistant secretary; Roy Warren, seminar leader; Jim Hoehn, treasurer; Ernest Kohler, assistant treasurer; Ted Valenti, press relations secretary; Mary Zezas, assistant press relations secretary; Wayne Judd, chorister; and Elaine Wentland, assistant chorister. Committee members are Dick Dale, Richard Stephens, and Gloria Armstrong.

According to President John Sharp, the association will "study events that are to transpire just prior to the second coming of Christ, evangelistic methods, and topics of practical godliness. The Friday evening seminars will stress sobriety and honest living among our students as characteristics demanded by the solemnity of the times."

Nursing Club

Officers are Kathleen Lund, president; Betty Downey, vice president; Joanne Dennis, secretary; Joyce Jaisingh, treasurer; and Dot Swanson, publicity secretary.

Teachers of Tomorrow

The Teachers of Tomorrow Club chose Warren Thomas, president; Cleo Bloom, secondary education vice president; Ruth Elaine Atkinson, elementary education vice president; Mary Harlan, secretary-treasurer; Jan Page, publicity secretary; Joe Stock, parliamentarian; and Barbara Runnels, historian.

A banquet December 10 and club field trips are planned, according to President Thomas.

American Temperance Society
Officers for the year are Ben Bandy, president; Pat Gustin, vice president; Dian Brendel, secretary; Sylvia Border, assistant secretary; Marvin Anderson, treasurer; and Dee Githens, assistant treasurer.

President Ben Bandy said that the society plans to sponsor a Temperance Education week and to inaugurate an active community program.

Kappa Theta

Officers include Darlene Zempel, president; Yvonne Scott, vice president; Judy Wolfe, secretary treasurer; Hedvig Rosenberg, cultural secretary; Lois Resler, organist; and Marlene Ellstrom, chorister.

Religious Liberty Club

Dan Fausset is president; Edwina Jay, vice president; Mary Nell Roper, treasurer; Howard Cash, treasurer; and Marlene Ellstrom, publicity secretary.

An oratorical contest, a lecture by Bishop Leiske, various films and student panel discussions are among current plans.

Sigma Iota Kappa

Elected to office were Wayne Judd, president; Ed Starkey, vice president; Ben Bandy, secretary-treasurer; Everett Schlisner, sergeant-at-arms; and Milton Erhart, pastor.

Open House or a banquet, joint club functions, and club blazers are among present plans, according to President Judd.

Alpha Mu Gamma

A bake sale in place of dues to raise money for the club treasury and a Halloween party for the next meeting are coming activities planned by the student wives' club.

Mrs. Jim (Judy) Kramer presided at the first meeting, held Tuesday evening, October 3. Mrs. Lee Allen, publicity secretary, says later announcements will specify details of the sale and the Halloween party.

Social Welfare Club

Elections held at the first meeting, October 4, designated Tom Stutchman, president; Calvin Foster, vice president; Hattie Jackson, secretary-treasurer; and Robert Bergh, publicity secretary.

Choral Group Claims Record Membership

GOLDEN CHORDS

Over 90 voices make this year's Golden Chords Chorale the largest ever, according to the choir director, William Haynes. Future events of the chorale include singing on KOLN TV, and the presentation of the Christmas cantata, "This Day," on December 17.

Scholarship, Class Load Determine Army Deferment

"Student deferments are available to most young men attending college," said Dr. L. W. Welch, dean of student affairs.

The military build-up called for by President Kennedy has resulted in a stepped-up activity of classifying registrants, processing deferments, calling for physical examinations, and inductions. Consequently, the age of the men being called by the Selective Service is lowering. "Men who wish to complete their education must be in school, stay in school, carry a full class load and keep their grades in good order," continued Dr. Welch.

Those who wish to have an educational deferment should contact Dr. Welch at the student affairs office. He will then report to the local board the student's past records and verify his present enrollment.

"It should also be understood that a local board does not reclassify an individual just because his college reports his scholastic standing on the appropriate form," Dr. Welch added. "Such classifications come properly only as a result of a direct request on the part of the registrant himself. The college report then stands as a support to the registrant's personal request."

New Officers Named to Join Annual Staff

Four new Golden Cords staff appointments have been announced by Ann Silverstein, editor-in-chief.

Linda Peyer has been selected as an assistant editor. This office was formerly that of photo editor, but has been changed this year to give the staff two assistant editors. Miss Peyer is a sophomore home economics major from Minnesota.

This year's editorial secretary is Lois Resler, a junior secretarial science major from Colorado.

The new circulation manager is Bob Grosball, a pre-med chemistry major from Colorado.

Editor Silverstein and associate editor Gary Bogle would appreciate hearing ideas which students have concerning the Golden Cords. "The Golden Cords belongs to the student body," says Miss Silverstein, "and we would like to know what is wanted and what is not wanted in this year's annual."

New Students Provide ASB Talent Program

"From Somewhere To Here," the new student program, was brought to the Union College campus September 30, by way of a talent spaceship.

Vocal solos were sung by Beverly Keith, Sharon Rogers, Doug Anderson, Huey Anderson, and Henry Delgado.

Two trios participated in the program, one composed of Jacquelyn Pierce, Kristine Swanson, and Judith Thayer, and one of Dianne Glovatsky, Cheryl Gottfried, and Sharon Renk.

The only quartette was composed of Sherril Procter, Janet Wasmiller, Ronald Jensen, and Gaylord Klein.

Readings were given by Dianne Glovatsky, Danie Bakker, and Melvyn Raybalid.

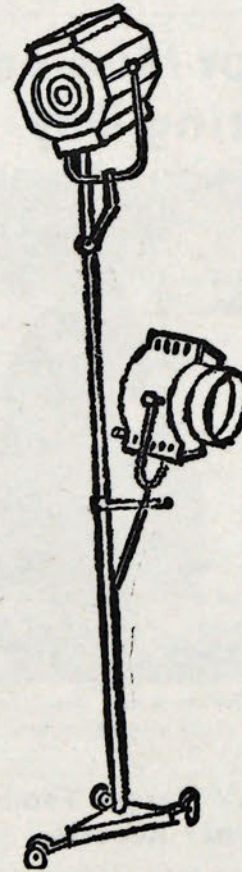

Instrumental solos were played by Harry Bennett, Bill Patton, and Richard Stimpson.

A clarinet duet was played by Harry Bennett and Don Paden. Jim Gardner played a trumpet-piano duet.

IT PAYS TO ESTABLISH YOURSELF WITH A BANK

Here's Why:

- A bank is the center of financial information, yours for the asking.
- A bank is a safe place. It's easy to make a deposit or a withdrawal.
- Paying by check gives you prestige and enables you to handle your finances in an orderly manner.
- And a bank is a good place to borrow, always at reasonable rates.

Construction Starts On $450,000 Academy

The $450,000 academy building will be partly finished by next fall for the student body and enlarged staff to occupy.

The modern "section A" will be ready for use by the time school starts its 1962-1963 term. "A" will include new classrooms, labs, offices, a library, and an egg-shaped chapel.

Ground was broken early this year. President David J. Bieber said that "sections B and C" are scheduled for completion within 3 years. The ultra-light gray walls of "section A" are now going up. The foundations were poured last week.

Dalbert Snow Directs 60-Voice MV Choir

The 60-member M.V. choir, under the direction of sophomore music major Dalbert Snow, sang for the first time Friday evening, October 6.

Snow expressed surprise at the large number of students who joined the organization. He feels the reason for such a large number is that "the choir practices at a time on Friday evening when there are no other obligatory appointments. This gives students an opportunity to participate in group singing without charge."

The plan is for the choir to sing at every M. V. meeting.

Pictures of South America Featured in Convocation

Miss Pearl L. Hall, associate professor of romance languages, spoke in chapel October 6, of her trip to South America last summer.

For 3½ months Miss Hall and Miss Ruth Whitfield, food service director, traveled through most of the Caribbean Islands and all of the countries of South America except Chile.

"Some of the most enjoyable parts of the trip were our visits to the mission stations," Miss Hall told the student body.

Visiting 15 missions, 15 schools, 13 hospitals and clinics, they traveled over 20,000 miles. They visited with 30 former Union College students who are now in the mission field.

Miss Hall showed slides of cities, mission stations, and many other places of interest during the chapel program.

SPORTS

3 Teams Vie for Top Place in Flagball Contest

by Paul H. Gnadt

The 1961-62 Union College intramural athletic program began September 26, as the Colts, captained by Roger Davis, kicked off the first round of the flagball campaign with a 20-6 victory over Kent Seltman's Indians.

Other opening game victories in the eight-team league's variation of football, which is the closest to tackle without tackling, saw Don Nicolay's Cougars beat Wayne Judd's Bears 20-0; Jac Colon's Rebels squeaked by the Lions of Bob Camp, 6-0, and the Panthers headed by Tad Achord completed first round play with a 18-6 win over the Outcasts of Dennis Olson.

Repeat Performance

In the second round, 3 teams that captured first game wins came back to put a second notch in the victory column. Roger Davis's passing and John Koobs catching gave the Colts a 14-8 triumph over the Outcasts.

Kiff Achord snagged a touchdown pass and Russ Wineland's catch of the extra point pass made the difference as the Panthers edged the Rebels 8-6.

Don Nicolay intercepted a pass for a TD and was on the throwing end of two more tallies as he led his Cougars to a 20-16 win over the Indians. Kent Seltman kept the game close with fine runs and catches for the losers.

First Win

The Lions captured their first victory of the season as Ed Story quarterbacked the winners to a 28-16 decision over the Bears.

Bauer, '57 Graduate, Seen On TV Program

Dr. Carl Bauer, class of 1957 and 1961 graduate of the College of Medicine, Loma Linda University, was interviewed on Art Linkletter's House Party on September 7.

Dr. Bauer, a chemistry major and biology minor while at Union, recently spent several months in Thailand at the Bangkok Sanitarium and Hospital.

Shown on the screen were scenes of Dr. Bauer taking part with a colleague in activities at the hospital and with a mobile unit which visited jungle villages. Dr. Bauer is a graduate of Campion Academy.

With Ed Storey blocking for him, Bob Camp carries the ball downfield for the Lions as opposing player Gaylord Klein tries to stop the progress.

The Bears then opened round 3 by coming out on top for the first time this season as John Ridpath threw Buddy Borris scoring passes of 40 and 60 yards in a 16-0 win over the Indians.

Don Nicolay's TD pass to Dave Job and Whitey Yterdal's run for the extra point gave the Cougars a hard-fought 8-6 margin over the Outcasts, with all the scoring coming in the second half.

Kiff Achord latched onto his fifth touchdown pass of the season and his second six-pointer of the game. His brother Tad made a great catch of the extra-point that provided the margin of victory as the Panthers remained tied for first place by beating the clock and the Lions 20-18.

The Lions failed three times to convert the extra point after Ed Story flipped scoring passes to Larry Misenko, Ed Connell, and Junior Lewis.

Crowded at the Top

Tied with Panthers (3-0) for top spot are the Cougars (3-0) and the Colts (2-0).

The Colts finish the third round play Friday, October 13, when they meet the Rebels. Following this game the Panthers open the fourth round as they tangle with the Bears.

The rest of round 4 will be completed Sunday, October 15. The first game will see the Indians play the Outcasts. This game will be followed by the Lions and Colts. Finally, the Cougars meet the Rebels.

Student - Staff Council Holds First Meeting

The members of the student staff council met for their first meeting Sunday, October 8.

The staff members are Dr. L. W. Welch, dean of student affairs; Dr. Paul Joice, associate professor of business administration; Miss Sharon Chatfield, instructor in social science; and Dan Olderbak, superintendent of the broomshop.

Village members are Mrs. Connie Stutchman, senior; Mrs. Sharon Colson, sophomore; Guenter Holzer, junior; and Bill Baker, senior.

Dr. Welch, sponsor, said that the council is to promote better understanding between students and staff, and acts "as a sounding board of student opinion" for President Bieber.

Second Tenor Thurber Fills Seamount's Place

Bob Seamount, second tenor of the King's Heralds quartet, has recently been replaced by J. W. Thurber of Glendale Union Academy.

Although not a member of the quartet, Seamount is still working with the Voice of Prophecy group taking care of records and recordings, reported Mrs. James Anderson, secretary of the "Reaper," Central Union Conference paper.

Two Periods Dismissed For Campus Day Participation

Union College held its annual campus day on October 9. The agenda consisted of campus clean-up and recreation under the direction of Everett Schlisner.

Activities began after second period class. The gym, swimming pool and outdoor activities gave opportunity for all-student participation.

The committee for the activities consisted of Bill Miller, Dennis Olson, and Jo Eskildson. The last feature of the day was a carry out lunch.

Take Time For Solitude

College is said to be one of the "most fun" times of life, but most of us are so caught up in the whirl of events that we don't have time to stop to think until it is over.

Young people today seem to be afraid to be alone, to take a walk around the campus by themselves, or even to sit and meditate by themselves. What are they afraid of? The questions they might ask themselves? Or the answers?

Perhaps it would be a good policy to stop once in awhile to take stock, to see if we really are enjoying ourselves, to enjoy life in a minute of quiet.

Stop tomorrow to read the newspaper, then find a quiet place to think about it. What does it mean to you? How are current events related to you personally?

Or go to the church early some Friday night and just sit there and think about your spiritual life. Do you take time to think what your Savior really means, or have you ever stopped to decide whether you really love Him?

Saturday night when you come in from a date with that special one, instead of meeting the crowd and comparing notes, take time to stand by an open window. Dream or think, but enjoy it.

Of course too much time can be used in useless dreaming and fruitless thinking, but take a few minutes once in awhile to be by yourself alone. Know yourself alone. Enjoy yourself in solitude.

More Than Ingathering

"Ready, steady, pass the word along." These words of Elder V. G. Anderson in his sermon Sabbath boosted the courage of many Unionites as they canvassed throughout the state on Ingathering day.

We worked long, talked hard, and prayed constantly. What an experience it was to meet people and tell them of the great need and see them ready to help. It wasn't all smooth sailing, however, and some were discouraged with the small amount of money they had received. But those who remained "steady" received a blessing themselves in their effort to contact others and "pass the word along."

Every Ingathering day brings a host of memories to each person who participates. Some are good: like the little old lady who couldn't give anything, but wanted to take the Bible studies. And some are bad: like the proverbial crank who rudely slammed the door, just barely giving you time to get your big toe out!

At the end of the day, all these experiences added up to a good, warm feeling inside from a job well done as the final total of more than $4,000 was reached.

If you stayed at school and worked and donated your part to the campaign, you were "steady," but if you didn't wear your legs out from walking, make your voice hoarse from talking, or your knuckles sore from knocking, you missed the real blessing of "passing the word along."

Stark Reality

Difficulties in U. N.

By Ed Starkey

This Fall as the United Nations General Assembly meets there are many crises ahead for the U.S. Numerous new nations, which many Americans have never heard of, are among the 99 countries of the Assembly.

In the General Assembly, each of these small nations has one vote. America and the other world powers also have only one vote. This leads to inequality. The 1.5 billion people in the 18 major countries of the world have 18 votes, while the 500 million people of 81 smaller countries have 81 votes.

Obviously the world power that can woo the most small "neutral" nations to its side will have the advantage in the General Assembly. The United Nations has changed from the battleground of the world powers to "the voice of the victim," as Adlai Stevenson says.

The addition of these new nations has changed the U.N. irrevocably. We no longer can control the world or the U.N. as we did when it was established during World War II. At that time there were 51 members; of these America and her allies controlled 34.

In the coming months America will be increasingly unhappy with the U.N. as we see decisions made and action taken contrary to our desire. We will probably see Red China admitted to the U.N., possibly a "troika" or three man system of leadership in the place of one secretary general, and only time will tell what else we may be unhappy about in the U.N.

Although we are going to be faced with a new U.N., one that is much more independant than we would like, it is essential for us to remain a member. There is no other way to avert war and combat the poverty, ignorance and disease of the world. The U.N. has medical teams, teachers and agriculturists all over the globe. This good work alone is worth our membership.

We as Americans are going to have to learn to live in a world that we don't dominate. This is going to be hard to do but if we can't make the change, the U.N. is doomed. If we leave the U.N. there will be absolutely no hope for even a temporary peace.

After 30 . . .

Not to be unpopular, but the thought has occurred to some that it might be a nice idea to come to college to study. Not that is never done now, but why waste precious hours with things like campus days? Was anything done in those 2 hours that really counts, or that increases intellectually?

Likes Student Program

This letter, sent originally to the officers of the A.S.B. is printed because of its general reader interest.

The A.S.B. in general and the committee in particular that planned the new student talent program September 30 are to be congratulated for the excellent presentation. Not only were the numbers well done, but the whole thing was handled in a nice way. . .

I would like to register my vote for more programs similar to the one September 30. I am sure that there are many other other young, people, both new and old students, whose talents might not approach the professional, but make good listening. I would be willing to substitute this kind of program for any of the semi-professionals that come our way.

I am not complaining about the Saturday night programs; I am only saying to the many talented young people here at Union College—More power to you!

Sincerely yours,
M. W. Deming, Pastor

Favors Pre-Registration

I read an editorial in the last CLOCK TOWER which appears to have a great deal of merit. The editorial which I refer to is the one dealing with a program of pre-registration. Probably no procedure will completely solve the registration dilemma, but several things can be implemented to make the process somewhat less objectionable.

I can speak from experience in regard to the program of pre-registration. I was a member of the faculty in a college which followed this practice. During this time, pre-registration was a great help in reducing the amount of time a student spent with his advisor. It also aided the student in formulating his future educational plans. We felt that this process was very worthwhile.

I am glad to see this proposal come from the student level. Sometimes things can be changed which would be entirely ignored if proposed by a faculty member.

Good luck to you in your crusade for an improved registration system.

Very sincerely yours,
Dr. Paul W. Joice,

Business Administration

CT Associate Editor Exposes College Bulletin's Subterfuge

By Pat Phillips

The college bulletin is one of the essentials of a college life—like a poplin raincoat, pocket dictionary, and tennis shoes. You can't get along without it.

And while the bulletin's basically honest in its presentation of the courses offered, there are a few things it just conveniently omits.

Take Beginning French, for example. The bulletin makes it sound like a fascinating introduction to Parisian life and the learning of a few simple, yet impressive French phrases. Never once does it mention that the class meets first period every morning of the week—and on fourth floor.

Little Extras

The ten hours collateral reading for a history class is not so much as implied. That's just one of the little surprises the bulletin leaves for your first day of class.

Completely overlooked by the bulletin is the fact that a certain textbook weighs four pounds and costs $13.00. And how about the classes that require two term papers per semester?

No description of the teachers is given either. You just aren't warned that the prof uses only Reader's Digest jokes that are two months old or that "Doc" just can't be gotten off the subject—even on days following banquets, parties, or football games.

Laboratory periods are barely mentioned and certainly no hint is given that the 5-hour Sunday afternoon lab cannot be made up regardless of which girlfriend you went to visit.

Between the Lines

Field trips sound fascinating when described in the bulletin. One automatically thinks of springtime, sunshine, and flowers. Reality comes later when it develops that the field trip is to study the snowshoe rabbit in his natural habitat. And 10 feet of snow on the Nebraska prairie is not exactly springtime, sunshine, and flowers.

"To help each student develop maximum physical efficiency through participation in supervised activity" sounds real noble in the bulletin. But somehow I never got the idea that that meant 20 laps around, 10 push-ups, and 15 situps in a cold gymnasium.

Yes, the college bulletin is necessary, but perhaps a little revision is in order. On second thought, I guess it's a good thing some of those things aren't mentioned.

Observer Notes That 'Now They Are Three'

by Iva Thought

The past couple of years two figures have frequently been seen wandering across the campus together. Both walk with their hands in their pockets. Both seem to observe everything. Both are silent. Both are from Minnesota.

But there the similarity ends. One is tall. The other short. One has coal black hair. The other is called "Whitey."

This year some new fellow has been accepted into their close clique. He is neither dark headed nor light headed. He does not walk with his hands in his pockets. Neither is he silent.

The question is: will this "stranger" change the wandering ways of the familiar pair or must all sidewalk passers-by now make room for three?
