CLOCK

TOWER

Vol. XII

College View Station, Lincoln, Nebraska, May 6, 1938

Funds Drive Reinvigorated

Financier Barkley Aids in Campaign

H. C. Hartman Announces Goal Should Be Reached by Middle of June, Building Finished in August

Union college officials announced a renewal of the drive to obtain funds for the new library last week.

W. E. Barkley, prominent banker and financier who has done much to build up Lincoln, is lending valuable assistance, stated H. C. Hartman, business manager of Union college, in an interview yesterday. Mr. Barkley and Mr. Hartman are soliciting together every afternoon, and good progress is being made. The campaign should be over by the middle of June, the busines manager said, and the building should be completed by August 15.

The vigorous growth of Union college is the reason for requesting Lincoln's assistance. The 23,000 volumes of the present library are now scattered over three floors of the administration building and other campus buildings in space sorely needed for class rooms to care for the 100 or more additional students expected to arrive this fall.

The original cost of the library as planned was $60,000, half of which was to be raised by the city of Lincoln. To date Lincoln and environs have raised approximately $12,000. To put the library into a state of occupancy this amount should be doubled.

Women Hear Talk by Louise Pound

Louise M. Pound, professor of English language at the University of Nebraska, spoke at the evening worship hour in North hall Sunday.

Miss Pound traced the history of coeducation from its beginning in Oberlin, Ohio, in 1837, to the admitting of women to state universities in the 1850's, and up to 1938.

The speaker stated that she firmly believes a restriction should not be placed on the number of students admitted to college. She also believes that a college education makes life more interesting an makes one who has a college education more resourceful.

Women have not retarded the scholarship of their brothers; they have not handicapped classes by their unsteady attendance as it was feared at the beginning of co-education," she said. "The women have proved they can be good citizens in an undergraduate community.' - CT

Senior Recognition Day Held in U.C.A.

Senior recognition day for the Union college academy was held April 27. The following seniors are expected to be graduated in June: Margie Miller, Howard Jose, La Verne Caviness, Donald Howell, Elnora Turner, Phyllis Pingenot, and Ida Hanson. Candidates at the close of the summer will be Lowell Barger, Louise Leeper, and Elsie Thomas. Mr. A. D. Holmes is the class sponsor. -CT

CHILDREN'S CHOIRS SING

The primary, intermediate, and junior gave a sacred program during the eleven o'clock hour in the College View church cast from the radio station there. Sabbath. The groups were trained and is a teacher in the demonstration school. prise, Kansas.

Orchestra To Give Last Lyceum Number

The Little Philharmonic orchestra, with George H. Shapiro as conductor, will present tomorrow night at 8:15 o'clock the fifth and last number in the 1937-38 lyceum course of Union college.

The organization is a fourteen piece group, its members having gained fame both in America and in Europe.

U. of N. Glee Club Presents Concert

Fourth Lyceum Program Given by Varsity Men under Direction of Temple

As the fourth lyceum course program at Union college the university of Nebraska Men's Glee club, directed by William G. Temple, presented a concert in the college chapel the evening of April 23.

The program featured a trumpet soloist, the Varsity male quartet, and baritone and tenor soloists, in addition to the groups of songs sung by the glee club as a whole.

The forty-eight members of the glee club were attired in uniforms with Eton jackets and black sashes.

The program included classical music, negro spirituals, and familiar songs which appeal to a college audience.

Selections sung by the glee club included "By the Sea," Schubert; "The Cossack," Koshetz; "Wanderer's Song." Schumann: "Brothers, Sing On," Grieg; 'Little David Play on Yo' Harp, Lewis; "Chicken in de Bread Tray," Enders; "Wade in de Water," Enders 'We're Called Gondolieri," 'Musical Trust," Clokey; "The Sleigh," Kountz; "Lift Thine Eyes," Logan.

The conductor, Mr. Temple, has studied in Europe and has had wide experience in directing ensembles. At the present he is the director of music in a Lincoln church besides being connected with the university. -CT

S.D.A. Publications Files To Be Filled

The General conference committee on old Seventh-day Adventist publications has advanced a plan whereby all Seventh-day Adventist college libraries on the North American continent may have ready access to complete volumes of all old denominational publications, according to recent announcement here by Paul Whitlow, acting librarian.

Each college library is to send to the chairman of the General conference committee, Arthur L. White, a list of old issues it lacks and a list of any duplicates it might have, said Mr. Whitlow. The committee will then endeavor to fill the want lists from the duplicate lists, thereby making it possible for each library to have a more nearly complete collection of old church papers, he explained.

The Union college library sent in its want lists last week, he reported.

-CT-QUARTET MAKES TOUR

The college male quartet, accompanied by H. C. Hartman and Director Estelle Kiehnhoff, gave programs at Kansas City, St. Louis, Goldsburg, Missouri, choirs of the college demonstration school and Macon, Missouri, over the week end. While in Kansas City they broad-

This week end they are giving prodirected by Esther Kunau, junior, who grams at Topeka, Wichita, and Enter-

Band Judged Best in Amateur Contest

The annual amateur hour, under the auspices of Sigma Iota Kappa, was presented in the chapel here Tuesday night, with Paul F. Whitlow as announcer.

First prize was awarded to a band made up of Orason Brinker, trumpet; Russell Brown, drums; Roy Sorensen, trombone; LeVerne Melendy, clarinet; Lloyd Osborne, saxophone; and Paul Turner, tuba.

Fred Johnston, who caricatured prominent profiles seen daily on the campus, tied for first prize. The cartoonist sketched Vernon Dunn, Robert Wright, Norman Rogers, Roy Sorensen, President Andreasen, Fred Sofsky, and Dean Habe-

Other numbers on the program were as follows: a trombone solo by Kenneth Evenson; two vocal numbers by James Corriell; a vocal-instrumental trio composed of Alva Longfellow, LeVerne Melendy, and Sherrill Rasmussen; and a vocal duet by Elden Burkett and Willis Hackett.

The committee of judges consisted of Arthur Mazart, Imo Burbach, Wava Holm, Nellie Linscott, and Rosetta And-

Frosh Entertain at Annual Banquet

Program of Speech and Music Given by Students to Honor Faculty Guests

The freshman class held its first annual banquet in the college dining hall the evening of April 24. Guests of honor were President and Mrs. Andreasen, Miss Linnie Keith, Professor J. N. Anderson, and Dr. and Mrs. E. N. Dick.

Toasts were proposed to the guests of honor, and Dr. E. N. Dick, freshman class sponsor, gave some reminiscences of his period of service with the United States marines during the World war. Celia Johnson spoke of certain qualities of outstanding freshmen, and Genevieve Nethery gave a humorous reading.

Music during the entertainment included selections by a women's trio consisting of Phyllis Montanye, Arlene Cornell, and Erna Olsen; a male quartet composed of Sherrill Rasmussen, Garnet Brotzmann, Imo Burbach, and Stanley Kannenberg; Alva Longfellow on his accordion; Darrell Holtz on the piano; and a saxophone quartet consisting of Elenita Anderson, Dorothy Grant, Robert Schmunk, and Lloyd Pruett.

The plan of decoration presented deep sea effect in green and pink.

Jensen, Nursing Head, Guest Here

Kathryn Jensen, associate secretary for the nurses' division of the denominational medical department, was guest speaker to the members of the Pre-Nursing club Monday.

Miss Jensen outlined the qualities of a good nurse, the most important of which was sincere Christianity. She spoke also of the dress reform movement of the late '90's and told about the life of Dr. Kate Lindsay, who was connected with the beginnings of nursing work at Battle Creek sanitarium.

Miss Jensen addressed the students in chapel Monday morning, emphasizing the importance of spiritual living and a desire to spread the gospel in connection with the medical and nursing professions.

White is the skimming gull on the somber green of the fir tree; Black is the soaring gull on the snowy > glimmer of cloud. -Charles Wharton Stork.

Dr. H. K. Schilling

Precipitation

BY BLANCHE BLACK

For once the Union college family is disappointed because school goes on just the same. There's nothing unusual about school's being in session during the month of May, but Wednesday, May 4, had a particular significance, since that was the day set aside for the annual school picnic. Jupiter Plurius decreed, however, that the picnic should not take place on May 4.

It's true the Nebraska farmers have been on a diet of dust for the past few years, and doubtless they welcomed the showers which persisted Wednesday. Regardless, the Union college family feels that enough moisture could have fallen on the other 364 days of the year so that the school picnic could have been held on the appointed day.

Occasionally one has opportunity to chat with former Union college students. One of the College View merchants told the following story about the picnic in "Back in 1930, when I was going to school, the date for the school picnic had been set for three different times, but it rained each day. The announcement was made then that the school picnic would be held on the first clear day. What we thought was a clear day finally arrived, and five busloads of happy (Continued on page 2)

Rosenlof Talks on Educational Trends

Dr. G. W. Rosenlof, professor of secondary education at University of Nebraska, spoke on "Recent Trends of Education in America" in chapel April

Among the trends he considered important the following were outstanding: the tremendous growth in enrolment, the breaking down of old preparatory relationships of the secondary school to the college, the organization of junior high schools and junior colleges, increasing use of library facilities, and the upward trend in faculty consideration for the spiritual welfare of students even in state supported institutions.

'We are becoming surer of our responsibility toward the spiritual needs of our students," he said, citing the increased attendance in Lincoln churches. He declared that the government of the city is being carried on by spiritual

CT-POETRY CONTEST TO END

The poetry contest which has been conducted by Clarabel Babcock in the column "Stray Verse" closes with this issue of the CLOCK TOWER. The poems will be posted next week, and a popular vote of the student body and faculty will be taken to determine the identity of Union's "Poet Laureate."

All poems which have appeared without the author's names are considered entries in the contest.

Physics Head Talks in East

Dr. Schilling Speaks on Wave Properties

He Gives Lecture to Eastern and Middlewestern Scientific Groups and Honor Societies

Invited to give his lecture "On the Properties of Waves" to numerous colleges, universities, and scientific organizations in the East and Middlewest, Dr. Prevents Picnic H. K. Schilling, head of the physics department here, made two trips recently.

Under the auspices of Sigma Pi Sigma, national honor society in the field of physics. he gave his lecture at Berea college, Berea, Kentucky, where he also gave a chapel talk; the University of Kentucky; Ohio State university, and Pennsylvania State college.

Dr. Schilling also gave his lecture at Haverford college, Haverford, Pennsylvania, and at the Pennsylvania Conference of Teachers of College Physics, which met at Scranton, Pennsylvania, on the campus of St. Thomas college.

He was speaker for the Philadelphia Physics club, which met at the University of Pennsylvania. This organization consists of physicists of various institutions and industries in and around Philadelphia.

A similar organization, the Chicago Physics club, invited Dr. Schilling to give his lecture at their meeting April 21 in the auditorum of the Lighting institute.

Margie Miller To Edit U.C.A. Book

Margie Miller has been elected editor in chief of the U.C.A. Lookout, academy year book sponsored by Mrs. G. D. Hagstotz's class in secondary methods. Charlotte Anderson is circulation mana-

Students of the secondary methods class have formed an advisory staff for the annual. Officers are: Floyd Byers, editor; Claribel Babcock, assistant editor; Orville Iversen, business manger; and Blanche Black, faculty advisor.

The annual is to be a twenty-four page book containing individual pictures of the academy faculty and seniors, and group pictures of juniors, sophomores, and freshmen. A number of articles by academy students will be featured.

The purpose of the project is to give secondary methods students experience in sponsoring and publishing an annual and to furnish a medium of expression for the academy students.

Special Missionary Program Presented

A missionary program was featured in the Sabbath school last Sabbath. Special numbers were as follows: "Unentered Mission Fields," a talk by Albert Anderson; a talk by LeVerne Melendy on Sarawak, the field to which the Thirteenth Sabbath offering goes this quarter; a special song, "My Earnest Plea." by Elsie Ziprick; and a clarinet solo by Richard Wakeham.

-CT HICKOK EDITS REAPER

A. Dean Hickok has accepted the position of editor pro tem. of the Central Union Reaper, official organ of the Central Union conference of Seventh-day Adventists.

Mr. Hickok is linotype operator at the Union college press, and was formerly engaged in newspaper work in Kentucky.

UMION COLLEGE LIBRARY LINCOLM, NEBRASKA

THE CLOCK TOWER

Published biweekly during the school year and monthly during the summer by the Student Publishing Association of Union College

Subscription rate: Seventy-five cents a year Change of address should be sent with the old address to enable us to make the change promptly

Send communications to THE CLOCK TOWER, College View Lincoln, Nebraska

Advertising rates furnished on request

Entered as second-class matter at the post office at Lincoln, Nebr. April 5, 1911, under Act of Congress of March 3, 1897 Acceptance for mailing at special rate of postage as provided for in Section 1103, Act of October 3, 1917, authorized June 17, 1921

JAMES D. CORRIELL, Editor

MERTON BABCOCK, MARY LITTLE, Associate Editors CLARIBEL BABCOCK, Literary Editor ANN BROOKE, Alumni Editor WALTER CRAWFORD, News Editor AVERY DICK, Make-up Editor JANE DOUGLAS, Filing Editor IDA GREEN, Music Editor MARY HINDMARSH, Feature Editor ELIZABETH WESTER, Campus Editor

JESSE WILLIAMSON, President and Business Manager MARGARET JOHNSON, Acting Secretary-Treasurer ANSEL CARRICK, Advertising Manager JAMES AITKEN, Assistant Advertising Manager PETER JARNES, Circulation Manager EUNICE EKSTROM, Assistant Circulation Manager H. C. HARTMAN, Financial Adviser

Special Writers: Blanche Black, Einar Haugen, Alvin Kiley, Yvonne

Typists: Derothy Cash, Bonita Dick, Dolores Graham.

Much fuss is made about so-called "art for art's sake." Art to snooty people is a distant sphere of aestheticism which they never genuinely comprehend, but which they must pretend to appreciate in order to maintain their imaginary dignity. Such people are the ones who can listen to semi-classical music with an inward rapture, but on the surface say: "Cleverly done, but is it art?"

Genuine art is the individual soul's expression of beauty. What is art to one is blasphemy to another, for standards of appreciation differ. But adherents to variant standards are sincere, each in his inward responses to whatever is beautiful to him.

And speaking of things that stir the heart, who could have been so devoid of a sense of values after listening to the children's choirs in church last Sab-bath, as to say sanctimoniously: "Very sweet, indeed, but was it art?'

If one were told that he had just four weeks to live, he would think of all the things he had always wanted to do and all the things he ought to do.

There are four more weeks until the close of school-four more weeks to live in the present environment with the same people. In reality, four weeks from now will be the end of life-the end of a certain phase of life. Not only for those who are seniors, but also for all who have been here the past year this is true. Even if one is planning to be here again next year the situation will be much different then. No two school years are identical.

Four weeks aren't nearly long enough for reading the books one has been saving all year, for becoming acquainted with the faculty, for showing class loyalty by attending class functions, for playing tennis or learning to roller-skate, for visiting places of interest in Lincoln, or above all, for improving one's spiritual life and gaining a closer acquaintance with God.

A young German, newly-arrived in America, had much difficulty in understanding what Americans meant by certain expressions—especially slang phrases. He was mystified, for when a young man said to his sweetheart, "I'm nuts about you," he meant he was deeply in love with her. But when she answered, "Aw, you're nuts," she meant he was crazy. And the young immigrant found in the dictionary that nut was a kind of fruit that grew on trees.

Though perhaps that is extreme, we ought all to be careful of our diction. Slang is not offensively noticable among Union college students, however.

Possibly one of our worst faults is the use of the same worn-out superlatives to describe everything. Loose usage of such words as wonderful, marvelous, and grand robs these words of much of their flavor and usability. A few minutes a day at the dictionary or thesaurus would do wonders in aiding us to build up lucid, pertinent vocabularies; and as a result ordinary conversation would be more stimulating and less boring.

Human beings seem to be imitators by nature. Small boys want to wear overalls just like Dad's, and little girls wear Mother's slippers and make mud pies. The adolescent must eat a certain brand of cereal because it is the choice of his favorite baseball star. The high school girl attempts to assume the poise of her college sister.

All our lives we have been copying the mannerisms and actions of others. Each great man we read about has some trait of character we admire, so we try to reproduce it in our own lives. (In that fact lies some of the value of reading biography.) However, imitation is not always uplifting. It is realized.

often the root of detrimental rationalization through the unwise duplication of questionable people's acts.

On the other hand, there is one whose deeds and thoughts everybody can profitably emulate: We can adopt the character of the Nazarene with perfect safety, and although His life is the most difficult of all to duplicate, the world would be a heaven on earth if every person followed Him.

Did you ever stop to think that working toward something is infinitely more enjoyable than finally attaining it? It is true that there is a great deal of satisfaction in a task completed, in a goal reached, especially when it is a step on the way to something better. But more genuine happiness comes from the output of actual physical and mental energyenergy that goes out of your life to help make your accomplishments real and, in going out, puts something more precious back into life. "To travel hopefully is a better thing than to arrive." To strive is better than to succeed.

No one is so certain to begin the skid down hill as the man who is satisfied with his accomplishments and settles down to rest on the laurels earned in former days. Such a man is old in spirit, for he considers his life's best work behind him. The spirit of eternal youth lies in progress, in continuity of effort. Such continuity may mean a great struggle with the innate inertia of complacent mankind, but the joy of keeping on is worth a struggle.

The joy in ideals lies in seeking to reach them rather than in reaching them, too. As a matter of fact, when an ideal is reached it ceases to be an ideal. "Ideals are like stars; you will not succeed in touching them with your hands, but like the seafearing man on the desert of waters, you choose them as your guides, and following them you reach your destiny.

LETTERS

Dear Editor:

Gross negligence is committed by many college students in not looking after themselves physically. I am writing this to plead the case for the physical well-being of the college student. A student often get so engrossed in his studies that he forgets to care for his body. Does he not realize that summer is about upon him?

Summer is the time when a person should be in an A-1 condition, since it is the time when most students put forth all their powers to earn enough money to come back to school the next fall. Then too, one must be "in the pink" during the summer because it is the season when play demands much of But found Thee not! one's energies.

The only way I can see for an individual to be in the pink" for the summer is to get in condition now! Now is the time to build up the body so that it will take the onslaught of summer activities. Does one always want to have that "worn-out feeling, to be the first one to drop out in a "hot" game of

I know of no other one exercise that will better get one's whole body in condition than swimming. It not only strengthens every muscle of the body but also builds up one's "wind."

Now that the weather is getting too warm to play

Then from the depths beside me in the pit

I heard despairing groans, and recognized basketball and other indoor sports, yes, and even A brother sunken deeply in the mire. baseball-I would advise a nice cool swim to get the O miracle of miracles!college student in condition.

You know, the earth was not made three fourths Deep in "the depth of some divine dewater and one fourth land for nothing.

Swimmingly,

RAMON CRONK.

The following is taken from a letter written by a Union college student to the elder of a Seventh-day Adventist church in a small Middlewestern town which the author of the letter calls "home."

Life here at college is interesting probably because one always has far more to do than he can handle efficiently. In spite of the fact that I am busy all the time, I believe that Union college is the best place And merge to full maturity in Thee! for me and for other Adventist young people such as I am. Of course, there are opportunities to grow careless in religious matters here as elsewhere, but at the same time opportunities to become acquainted Thy dwelling place, my heart. with the broad field of religious philosophy and to become thoroughly grounded in our own denominatinal doctrines and truths are everywhere apparent and significant.

As the lower classman becomes adjusted to life and ways of thinking in college, after a year or two of sometimes painful orientation on its campus and in its classrooms, he begins to formulate in his own experience a sound and sane philosophy of Christian living, and by the time his college days are over he is ready to go out into the church and the community with a contribution, both material and spiritual, impossible to overestimate.

To turn out men and women who are thus able to take their places in their communities either as followers or as leaders in the spread of the gospel of Christianity, has long been the objective of Union college and is an objective which is still today being

:-: Stray Verse :-: CONDUCTED BY CLARIBEL BABCOCK

THY SANCTUARY, O GOD

BY ELMER L. PINGENOT

O Thou who dwellest in Eternity. Wilt Thou forever hide Thy face from l long to know the fulness of Thy grace, long to catch a vision of Thy face. (If I but knew Thy dwelling place, I'd quickly come to Thee For cleansing from the accursed sin That drags me down.)

My soul has gone in search of Thee Beyond the bounds of time and space. And it returned to tell me of Thy works, But naught of Thee.

I thought I heard Thee pass me in the night,-

I hurried on, alas, to lose Thee In a wilderness of logic.

And then again, I seemed to see a distant glow That held the promise of a purging fire;

But lo, Twas but the burning of my own desire Thrown back against the curtain of the

They tell me that Thou wilt be found By searching in the midst of pots and pans,

Of flowing flood and burning flesh Of goats and rams;-Dost Thou demand my death? I seek not death, but life,-escape from death!

Today I drew quite near Thee, (I am sure) But paused to counsel with a friend Who bade me turn another way; But named it not! Although the way he knew He said 'twas not for him to tell me; I must seek the Way alone! I turned to seek again, And, turning, fell.

O Thou who dwellest in Eternity, Look down into the pit From which I cry to Thee-Men hide Thy face from me-Reveal Thyself that I may look and live! I sought Thee in the heart of a friend,

As though in answer to my prayer, My friend looked down. I saw the quick tears start, And, lo, Reflected in his tears, Thy face! I saw the Man Christ stand, And caught a vision of the man God meant that I should be.

I heard despairing groans, and recognized I felt the quick tears start spair." And welling to my eyes,

Flow down my cheeks in tender love and sympathy. Forgetting self, I ministered his needs.

Lord, lead me to the flood of life in Thee, To know the fullness of the Trinity,-That I may reverence life. Then with the silken cords of love Bind me securely in the chrysalis That shuts all light from Thee; And in the anguish of my soul, I'll burst the bands that hold me fast

Thy face I found reflected In a sympathetic tear;

CT REJUVENATION

Tall, bare tree standing alone Against the winter sky-Alone, yet not alone, for it keeps company with God.

Tall, green tree standing guard Under the summer sky-Standing guard, for it keeps men from forgetting their Creator.

RECREATION *****

Sophs Capture Victory from Frosh By Einar Haugen

The Sophomore baseball team walloped the Freshman team 15 to 5 the afternoon of April 22 on the college diamond.

Ray Stewart, Ed Seitz, and Bill Hill were the pitchers for the Sophomores. Stewart received credit for striking out 8 men of the 15 men to face him in the 3 innings he pitched. Seitz stuck out 9 of the 15 men to face him in 4 innings. Sorensen and Stewart each hit 2 home runs for the Sophomores, Hill hitting 1 home run.

Elmer Rowen and James Carter were the hurlers for the Freshmen nine. Rowen struck out 4 and Carter struck out 5. Both pitchers hurled 4 innings apiece. Haugen, a junior who was catching behind the bat for the Freshmen, broke a finger on his right hand in the sixth inning.

BOX SCORE Freshmen
Grundset, 3b
Zimchek, ss
Zimcheck, ss
H. Grundset, 1b
Priebe, 1f
Owen, 1f
Haugen, c
Rice, c
Williams, cf
Wasemiller, cf
Holtz, rf
Mohr, 2b
Rowen, p Sophomores
Thayer, ss 5
Seitz, p. If 5
Sorensen, c, cf 5
Stewart, p. If 5
Hill, 3b, p 5
Roth, lb 5
K. Grundset, 2b 5 lversen, rf Sather, rf Binder, cf Kearbey, c

The Freshmen and Upperclassmen combined chose up April 29 for a practice game so that they could accept the challenge to play the Sophomores Wednesday. Priebe pitched for one team and Carter for the other nine. The latter was relieved in the eighth inning by James Gaitens. Priebe's team won in a ninth inning rally 8 to 7. Carter received credit for striking out 13 of the 29 men to face him in 7 innings. Gaitens struck out 2 men to face him in two innings. Priebe struck out 8 of the 40 men to face him in 9 innings.

that's nuthin'.

Thx Idxal Typxwritxr Company Gxntlxmxn:

Wx hxrxby wish to acknowlxdgx rxexipt of your shipment of one of your xxtra-spxcially quixt typxwritxrs.

Howxvxr, upon opxning thx shipmxnt wx found that for thx timx bxing wx shall bx sorxly handicappxd. In gxnxral, thx typxwritxr is in pxrfxct mxchanical condition xxxxpt for onx dxtail. Through somx xrror of assxmbly thxrx sxxms to bx a rathxr xmbarrassing omissionthxrx is no lxttxr on thx machinx for x," thx fifth lxttxr of thx alphabxt.

Will you plxasx bx so kind xithxr to sxnd us another machine or have this onx sxrvicxd as soon as possiblx.

Sincxrxly, Xric Wxlls, Prxsidxnt, Thx Xxcxlsior Xxprxss Co. -The Wall Street Journal. -CT-

Picnic . . .

(Continued from page 1) picnickers went to Epworth park. When we arrived there, we found the place was inadequate for our group, so we went to Pioneer park.

"The games were played, the eats were consumed, and everyone was having an enjoyable time, when suddenly the rain began to fall. It fell so fast that it must have shrunk the crowd, for the Union college family crowded into three buses and returned to the campus.'

There's nothing like a school picnic. and the Union college family is counting on the experienced Nebraska wind to blow those rain clouds away for at least twelve hours.

COMING EVENTS

May 6 7:29 p. m. Sunset 7:45 p. m. Vespers May 7 9:45 a.m. Sabbath School 11:00 a.m. Church Service 1:45 p. m. M. V. Meeting 5:00 p. m. Senior Devotional 5:15 p. m. Mission Band 8:15 p. m. Lyceum Number May 13 7:36 p. m. Sunset May 14

Open Night

Dairyman Stout Tells Inside Story

workers were seated side by side at tive, however, they stick to a mere AA. six a.m. they could consume what, in the raw, had amounted to twenty gallons of pancakes, according to farm manager J. Eugene Stout. And, when of land," said Mr. Stout. "On it we raise the facts are examined, that's not so astounding, for latest available statistics indicate that there are twenty-five workers in Mr. Stout's domain.

Most of you are acquainted with the dairy sales room, a thoroughly up-to-date structure that was erected about three years ago. And it's an interesting place, especially around six p. m. when all the village and city folk who recognize really good dairy products come to buy their daily quota of milk, butter, eggs, and cheese. Sometimes there is such a crowd that the salesgirls have difficulty in waiting on everyone. But they say it adds zest to their work.

"Do you like to work for Mr. Stout?" we asked one young lady from North Dakota.

"Do I?" she responded. "I wouldn't work for anyone else on the campus!" That sounded so good that we, for no reason at all, thought she might answer another question. "What does the 'J' in Mr. Stout's name stand for?" we asked. She didn't know, but thought it might be "Jolly." We thought so too, but dispensed with further questioning in her direction.

Turning to Mr. Stout, we asked: "By the way, Mr. Stout, some little time ago we heard that your German police dog at the farm had made you the proud owner of thirteen puppies. Now just when did that happen?"

"Why." beamed Mr. Stout, "she just presented us with ten more last Friday.'

Rather dazedly we continued to listen. It developed that, as the puppies had been born blind, Herbert Liu, a city boy, thought drowning would be the most humane course of action. Stanley Kannenberg rescued them just in time.

But then, of course you couldn't expect Herbert to know much about dogs; his business is chickens-six hundred laying hens. He sees that they are fed, watered, and mashed every day-particularly in the winter, he says. This was a bit startling, but, knowing nothing of poultry ourselves, we trusted his good judgment to see him through.

"You should see our prize herd of eighty-seven pure-bred Guernseys," said Mr. Stout. "Our best cow last year gave sixteen thousand pounds of milk." Not so bad for quantity, thought we.

But how about the quality? "Our milk tests 5 per cent butterfat," continued the dairy manager. "That is 1.5 per cent above Lincoln's requirement. When it comes to purity and cleanliness, our milk is practically the best you can buy. It has a bacteria count of five thousand or under-grade A milk may have a bacteria count of fifty thousand, while grade AA may have one of twenty-five thousand."

At that rate, they might as well put AAAA on the Union college dairy's milk

Eat with your friends

BUNNELL'S East of Post Office

Dr. Frank T. Lopp DENTIST New Office Building Opposite Northwest Entrance to Campus Office Phone 4-2323

WINELAND'S SHOE SHOP

Opposite the College

If all the Union college farm and dairy | bottle caps, we thought. Being conserva-

"Those cows must get good feed," we remarked. "Where does it come from?" "Well, we are farming about 200 acres corn, wheat, oats, and alfalfa. Part of it is pasture land. "The cows deserve good feed. They give a hundred eighty gallons of milk a day.'

"Do you sell all that?" we gasped.

"In one way or another," he returned 'We sell it as milk, cream, cottage cheese, cocomalt, ice cream, or buttermilk. We do all our business right in this salesroom-cash and carry. But the fact that we don't deliver never leaves us with extra merchandise on our hands.'

"It's just as Emerson said," we mused, after saying good-day. "If a man make a better milkshake than his neighbor, the world will beat a path to his door. And that must be true of ice cream and cottage cheese, too!"

Wisconsin's Governor Philip LaFollette acts like his famous father. His voice has the same impetuous ring. His friends say he'll be president some day, and his recent call for a meeting of midwestern liberals in Madison started third-party talk. An unbalanced budget doesn't alarm him. He believes, with many others, that the Roosevelt recovery program is mere "tinkering." He states that he stands for vast public works programs and higher income taxes. Such a program, he says, would increase wealth, distribute it better, and avoid the demoralizing effect of giving people something for nothing. Meanwhile our own Governor Cochran of Nebraska, a personal friend of the Wisconsin executive, says that he knows nothing of proposed plans for the formation of the National Progressives of America, Inc.

After Henry Ford's much discussed visit to the White House last week, the newspaper correspondents could obtain no statements whatever from either Mr. Ford or the President. Suffice it to say that it is quite certain that Mr. Ford gave Mr. Roosevelt no advice as to how to deal with the present business reces-

... and that's Mr. Specht

By Mary HINDMARSH

Now if you know Mr. Specht, you probably always think of him as the gentlemen who goes around with the binomial look in his face. It is true that Mr. Specht knows practically everything about higher-and lower-mathematics, teaches it fluently, and keeps a book of especially difficult calculus problems with which to threaten Einar Haugen when he doesn't pay proper attention in class; but have you ever met Mr. Specht in the home? Just ordinarily he is a good host, but in an emergency he rises to heights that Lord Chesterfield would never have dreamed

Take, for instance, the evening of April 27, when a group of Union college faculty members and alumni were going to have a picnic. Let us advise you-never, never plan a picnic for April 27. It's certain to rain. At any rate, Seven-ninths of the picnickers had already gathered at Pioneer park when the rain began to fall. At the very cordial, earnest, and hospitable solicitation of Mr. Specht, seven-ninths of the picknickers adjourned to his home with seven-ninths of the picnic food.

The other two-ninths, consisting of cake and ice cream, were on the way. The ice cream was in a freezer on the left running-board of an unnamed picnicker's car and, according to all the rules and citations of Oz Black, should have stayed there. But it didn't, as the unnamed picnicker discovered when he reached the entrance to the park, and he turned back at once to search for the departed

Driving slowly along the left side of the street, the unnamed picnicker hoped that the newly organized state highway patrol was asleep or out of town, and, driving swiftly past the insane asylum, he hoped no watchful keeper would appear. Fortunately none did, but neither did the ice cream. So the unnamed picknicker drove back to the park, through slippery. slippery mud. No picknickers. Muttering sundry blessings on the weather. two-ninths of the picnickers went back to town, saw seven cars in front of the Specht home, and went in with their tale of woe. Professor Frank Yost greeted them with cynical shouts of: "Doctor, examine the contents of these men's

According to the latest census of the American Institute of Public Opinion. F. D. R. still has the majority of the country behind him, but he is suffering a sharp drop in popularity. It is estimated that the shift since 1936 represents approximately three and one-half million votes for the Republican party.

Students of world affairs were quite interested when the Anglo-French defensive alliance went into effect recently. And the other day the principles of the alliance were put into effect for the first time. An English freighter loaded with oranges was the target of several badly-aimed bombs from rebel aircraft. Immediately when the attack began, the unfortunate ship sent out a general SOS which was responded to by the French destroyer Ouragon. Although none of the missiles hit their mark, the French ship escorted the fruit ship for the rest of the journey.

Dr. Wilfred Emery and print shop manager Ernest Pender started off with a car and two teaspoons to find the icecream. Host Specht, rising gracefully to the occasion, took Herbert Nelson by the hand and went to Mr. Stout's emporium ed, and waited on, no end. Quoth Elder Pinge-"The not: moral is obvious. Next time, we'll be late also." Entertainment was furnished by bookbindery superintendent Elmer

O. S. Specht

Someone ought to write this up for the Clock Tower."

Host Specht proved his sleuthing abilities by finding worried Mrs. Yost's missing teaspoon-in Elder Yost's pocket. 'Merely a case of mathematical possibilities," said Mr. Specht, modestly disclaiming any credit for this remarkable deed.

Mr. Specht is like that-modest and mild-mannered and mathematical-minded. But don't hold this last against him. Go around and visit him. You'll find out The tardy picnickers were fed, pamper- what a delightful host he can be.

Send Mother Candy

Witching Hour Chocolates

FANCY gift boxes of all types, filled with those very popular Witching Hour chocolates, made in our own factory. I lb. to 21/2 lbs.

$120 to $3

Candies-Street Floor.

Commercial Savings and Time Deposits

Complete Banking Facilities

UNION BANK Member Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation

WATCHMakes a Splendid

Graduation Gift

I have in stock - - -

Elgin, Waltham, Hamilton,

and Illinois Watches

EXPERT REPAIR SERVICE L. P. NORMAN

College View

HUNGRY?

**********

YOU'LL BE SATISFIED

RAY'S CAFE

AFTER YOU'VE VISITED

"Friendly Service" 1 Block North of Campus

COLLEGE TAILORS

NELSON & SON

"Your Experts since 1894"

4033 South 48th Phone 4-2424

GREET SPRING AND SUMMER WITH AN

Attractive Home

We Carry a Complete Line of

Enterprize Paints Prices lowest in years

College View Lumber and Coal Co.

Open Sundays

About The Campus

Ida Green was called home suddenly by the death of her father last week. ♠ Dr. E. N. Dick spent the week end at Keene, Texas. Leonard Webb and Duane Johnson accompanied him.

Olena Nelson, of Brookfield, Illinois, and Helen Nelson and L. H. Nelson, of Minnesota, spent the week end here visiting Norma Nelson.

at the college for a few days last week. Mr. Burkhardt is the new field secretary of the Nebraska conference.

The King's Daughters league held a business meeting on April 25, at which time plans for the activities of the club during the remainder of the school year were discussed.

A special Missionary Volunteer program was given in the College View church Sabbath by the Lincoln society in exchange for a program given by the Union college society at the Lincoln church the previous evening.

Joy Crouch was hostess at a party given at Miss Catherine Shepard's apartment Saturday night. The following guests were present: Ira Gish, Charles Ary, Ross Rice, Miss Shepard, Gwen Longfellow, Alaine Smouse, Ruth Ingram. Garnet Brotzmann, Alice Smith, Oscar Heinrich, Esther Stotz, Floyd Byers, Henry Meissner, Helen Mattson, Alva Longfellow, Eleanor Longfellow, and Sherrill Rasmussen.

Ted Mohr was host at a party given in the gymnasium and recreation room Saturday night. The following guests were present: Mr. and Mrs. Peter Jarnes, Jewell Mohr, Lois May Shepherdson, Lois Johnson, Lucile Pogue, Cleeva Stevens, Ellen Eggert, Delphine Watson, Myrna Attwater, Genevieve Bradley, Ramon Cronk, Paul Wenzel, Dale Payne, Willard Bresee, Einar Haugen, Chester Martin, Harold Grundset, Victor Zimchek, Merrill Thayer, Lloyd Grundset, and Vernon Mohr.

The following students participated in a hike to Antelope Park, Saturday night: James Corriell, Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Dunn, Evelyn Nelson, Orville Iversen, Paul Whitlow, Kenneth Wenberg, Ralph

Rabbi Ogle Talks on Immigration Plans

Secretary of State Hull's proposal to the nations that they create refuge sections in undeveloped parts of the world and in civilized countries for those from central Europe and other places, who are suffering political and religious persecution and exile, is one of the greatest modern moves for liberty, declared Rabbi J. J. Ogle, pastor at the Reformed Jewish temple, in a speech to the Sigma lota Kappa members at their regular meeting April 26. "Secretary Hull also urges that each one of the countries which receive immigrants should plan to take their full quota of people as set forth in present immigration policies," Rabbi Ogle said. "This proposal would be a great blessing to the Jews if the nations would act upon it."

It's Time to Change

YOUR HOT WEATHER NEEDS NOW ON SALE --:--

NELSON'S Economy Store

Phone 4-2473

3841 So. 48th

HORNUNG HARDWARE

Across from South Hall

IT'S A PLEASURE to shop at LOVELL'S

Woods, George Sherbondy, Maurice Hanson, Robert Marquardt, Roy Skutvik, Adrian Barker, Dan Cornforth, Velma Perkins, Ruby Grundset, Ellen Gilliland, Doris Franklin, Muriel Franklin, Luana Guy, June Kindgren, Consuelo Hetherington, Margaret Johnson, and Flora May Hopper.

Kathryn Mills was hostess at a party given in the basement of North hall Saturday night, April 19. The following guests were present: Mr. M. Hagen. Mr. and Mrs. E. Hagen, Helen Mattson, Alice Smith, Leta Davis, Eleanor Longfellow, Lucille Waegele, Doris Rubottom, Garnet Brotzmann, Floyd Byers, Leonard Webb, Kathleen Conner, Clara Gilbert, Ida Edgerton, Ruth Hensley, Wallace May, Gordon Zytkoskee, Avery Dick, and Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Holmes.

Mrs. W. Murdoch, wife of the president of the Seventh-day Adventist college at Rugby, England, was Mrs. Chloe Adams Sofsky's house guest last week on her way from Ann Arbor, Michigan, to visit her parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Rittenhouse, at Arlington, California. Professor and Mrs. Murdoch have been in the United states on furlough this year. He has been doing graduate work at the University of Michigan. They will sail for England the second week in June.

The College View Fine Arts guild elected the following officers at a recent meeting held at Morrill hall on the University of Nebraska campus: Mrs. Glenn Lovell, president; Dr. G. D. Hagstotz, vice president; Mrs. Floyd Bresee. secretary-treasurer. The program committee consists of Prof. Raymond Hendry Williams, of the University of Nebraska art department; Gladys Lux, instructor of art at Wesleyan university; Mrs. Chloe Adams Sofsky, of the Union college art department; Prof. Ira Gish, of the language department at Union college; and Prof. C. C. Engel, of the Union college music department. The new officers will assume their duties at the next meeting May 9.

REFRSHMENTS COMMITTEES

A Complete Line of

REFRESMENTS

in Bulk Lots

Brick and Bulk

ICE CREAM

We Carry EVERY Kind

Reduced Prices - Case Lots

For Birthdays and Parties

GOOCH'S

Decorated Cakes

CONFECTIONERY

*******

Opposite South Hall

CAVINESS

4-1413

Alumni News

By Ruth Johns-Legitt

The fourth annual reunion of Unionites in Southern California was held Sunday night, April 10, in the Storey Park clubhouse in Alhambra. After a plate supper, the president of the association, Dr. Wilton Halvorsen, made the openremarks. The secretary-treasurer's report was read and approved.

One hundred seventy-five voices sang songs led by Professor Lee R. Marsh, vice-president.

A letter from President M. L. Andreasen, of Union college, stated that Union alumni need not be ashamed of their alma mater, as Union is accredited. The library is under construction and will be ready for the opening of school, the letter stated; the building is a wellconstructed up-to-date one, the total cost being $60,000. Union college is forging ahead, President Andreasen wrote, extending greetings to the Alumni on behalf of the faculty of Union.

The guests stood quietly for a few moments with bowed heads, a tribute of silence in honor of Professor Otto M. John, Professor Gordon Andrews, and Carl Moyers, deceased, after which Dr. William G. Wirth led in prayer.

Elder J. J. Strahle of the General conference, an alumnus of Union, spoke a few words. He has traveled all over the world and has met many Unionites who are proclaiming the gospel to the millions in darkness. Willa Ruble sang two solos.

The chairman of the nominating committee, A. R. Smith, brought in the report, and the following were elected for 1938-39: Dr. Roy Tucker, president: Robert Brown, vice-president; Gloria Campbell, secretary-treasurer; Helen Yaeger, assistant secretary-treasurer; Dr. Forest Liffingwell, Professor Wallace Nethery, and Louis Hanson, board mem-

At the close of the evening a grand march was led by Professor Madsen.

RIGHT HERE COLLEGE VIEW

DRESSES FITTED AND SUITS ALTERED

> Expert Service! Minimum Prices

MERIT STYLE SHOP

Be Thrifty and SAVE

- If it is a new Auto, a better used one or service on the one you have see us. We can and will save you money.
- All Work Guaranteed
- Real bargains in clean, serviceable used cars.

GOTFREDSON MOTORS

Let's Give Our CONTESTANTS

When having your shoe work done, give your votes to either, Maxine Brown, Paul Turner or Ann Brooke

a Boost

MARTIN'S Shoe Service

IT PAYS ...

TO BE WELL GROOMED

Expert Barbering

DUNLAP Barber Shop

Since 1848 the World over ALVIN

has been the favorite watch with graduates MORSES

3927 So. 48th

Y. P. M.V. Program Given by Knights

Knights Roth and Stewart, and mascot Melendy were honored by the Knights of 72 with a special birthday dinner April 28. Members of the club honored at this meeting were those who had birthdays during the month of April.

At the Missionary Volunteer meeting which was sponsored by the Knights of 72 on April 23, G. T. Burgess, secretary of the Nebraska conference, declared in a talk about his experiences during the World war that if a Christian intends to stand firm in time of crisis, he must stand firmly before that time.

Senior Class Guests on Outing to Pioneer Park

-CT-

Approximately forty seniors, wives, and husbands went to Pioneer park for an outing on the evening of April 25 as guests of their sponsors, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Marsh.

The group left the gymnasium on a truck. Games were played at the park for almost two hours. Then the guests rode to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Marsh, where refreshments of ice cream, cocoa, cookies, and apples were served.

Group Studies Birds

Members of the Master Comrade class went to Pioneer park Sunday morning on a field tour to study birds. It is reported that they found twenty-three different kinds.

Those who went on the trip were James Gaitens, Orville Iversen, Bonita Dick, Arlene Cornell, Evelyn McWilliams, Melvin Wahl, George Sherbondy, Mrs. Lester Heifner, and Mr. and Mrs. Delphin Weinberg.

Traveling?

Play safe by letting us thoroughly GREASE and CHECK All vital Points of your Car. Texaco Products

CIRCLE SERVICE

One and one-half blocks South of

Women's Club View Sporting Pictures

Einar Haugen entertained the members of Kappa Theta the evening of April 26 with motion pictures on ski-

Among the pictures shown were some demonstrating a new invention by Einar's father, by which a ski rider can ski on straw; on great slides covered with straw mats the skis glide faster than on snow. Such an invention makes it possible to have skiing tournaments on the Fourth of July.

Another picture showed the father of Patricia Liers, and his trained otters. These are the only trained otters in the

Art Instructor Honored

Mrs. Chloe Adams Sofsky was recently elected a member of the Alpha Rho Tau, national honorary art society. The society is comparable to Phi Beta Kappa.

Mrs. Sofsky's oil painting, "Roofs and Chimneys," was hung at the recent third annual national exhibit of Women Painters of America, at Wichita, Kansas.

____CT-

A German friend says that Germany has more intelligence per square head than any other nation.

KEEP LOOKING NEAT

Expert Suit Cleaning and Pressing

Howard Cleaners

Howard D. Enslow, Mgr.

CASH-AND-CARRY STATION Calvert Street Drug Store

MAGEE'S

Here are Clothing Values you'll want to be sure to see---

Exactly 117 Men's SUITS

Values up to $30

These suits are taken from our regular stock of fine clothes. We suggest you don't delay . . . because these values will not last long. Take time from office, school or field work . . . it will pay you well to attend this special sale early.

Second Floor

MAGEE'S