College Welcomes New Pastors

Elder H. T. Anderson, new pastor of the college church, Mrs. Anderson, and Linda arrived from Covington, Kentucky, to take up their new pastorate on September 11.

A graduate of Southern Missionary College and the Theological Seminary, Elder Anderson has spent 18 years in evangelistic and pastoral work. He began his ministry in his home state, North Carolina, and has also been pastor in Jackson, Mississippi, conference evangelist in Georgia-Cumberland, pastor of the Houston, Texas, Central Church, pastor of the St. Louis First Church, pastor of the Colorado Springs, Colorado, church, and, most recently, pastor of the Covington, Kentucky, church.

Mrs. Anderson, the former Margaret Kelley, is from Dyersburg, Tennessee. Linda, their daughter, is 10 years old.

Madison first became acquainted with Robert Pierson, its new assistant pastor, about five years ago, when he was a student here. He is the son of Elder R. H. Pierson, former Kentucky-Tennessee Conference president, and now president of the African Division of the General Conference. Pastor Robert Pierson and his wife, the former Phyllis Short, both have spent most of their lives in the mission field. He was born in India and has spent in all 15 years in India and the West Indies. Mrs. Pierson has spent 17 years in Africa, where her parents are now missionaries.

Pastor Pierson is a graduate of Southern Missionary College and the Theological Seminary. The Piersons have a baby daughter, Martha May, five months old.

Dr. Webber Joins Staff

Dr. Perry A. Webber has been appointed by the executive committee as consulting chemist and acting manager of Madison Foods. Mr. Frank Miller has also been employed as salesman.

Dr. Webber has a record of a lifetime of service in educational work both in foreign fields and in this country, having spent many years in Japan as a missionary in conference employ and also in self-supporting work. For years he was head of the Chemistry Department at Madison College, between his two periods of service in Japan.

William C. Sandborn
President and Academic Dean

The college enrollment stands at approximately 325, at the beginning of the first week of classes, with late registrations still going on. The academy reports an enrollment of 110, and the elementary school, 89.

Freshman orientation week, packed with tests and lectures, was climaxed with a welcome reception held on the lawn and in the chapel on Sunday evening, September 20. The reception was a joint welcome for the new students, the new college pastor, Elder H. T. Anderson, and his family, and the new assistant pastor, Robert Pierson, and his family. The occasion began at five o'clock with a band concert on the lawn while the tables were being piled high with food brought by church members and from the cafeteria and food factory. After the meal a miscellaneous welcome program was presented.

Registration days were climaxed by the annual fall picnic held at Shelby Park on Thursday, September 24. The big events of the day, next to dinner and supper, were the ball games between the college and the academy and the academy teachers and students.

A praise and testimony service led by Elder Lorenz ushered in the Sabbath. Elder Lorenz's talk, "Our Wonderful Father," inspired both old and new students to come to the microphone at the front and express their thankfulness for the leading of the Lord in their lives.

The faculty entertained the students on Saturday night at an informal reception in the cafeteria. Speeches by the president and the dean, readings and music by faculty members, and several contests helped the students to become better acquainted with their teachers.

The opening convocation on Sunday night, September 27, formally ushered in the new school year of 1959-60. On the platform were the teachers, who were introduced to the students by President Sandborn, after his opening address. Another interesting feature of the evening was the President's inter-

Hospital Patients Now Hear Music Programs

Madison Sanitarium and Hospital patients are now listening to classical, semi-classical, and religious music, which is broadcast throughout all areas of the hospital from eight in the morning till 7:15 in the evening.

Individual disc-type speakers, which can be controlled by the patient, have been installed by all beds in the hospital, and loud speakers have been placed in various areas including nurses' stations, waiting rooms, and parlors. The speakers can be regulated or turned off, as the patients or visitors desire.

Chaplain Oscar Hegstad, with the help of the Music Department, is in charge of the programs. The present schedule calls for music, devotional services, news, health talks, and public relations.

The broadcasts are being well received, and the chaplain plans to use only music that will be soothing and relaxing to the patients.

Forty-ninth Annual Self-supporting Convention to Be Held October 8-11

The Forty-ninth Annual Convention of Southern Self-supporting Workers will be held on the Madison College campus October 8-11. At this time delegates from the units and from many other self-supporting institutions in the Southland and in other parts of the country will meet.

Outstanding speakers will be Mervyn Hardinge, M.D., from the College of Medical Evangelists, who will speak Friday morning and Sabbath afternoon, Elder N. C. Wilson, president of the Georgia-Cumberland Conference, who will give the keynote address, and P. F. Ayer, executive secretary of the Convention of Southern Mountains, Inc., who will speak Friday afternoon.

Elder Felix A. Lorenz, president of the Laymen's Extension League, is chairman of the Forty-ninth Annual Convention.

Former Workers Visit Campus Friends

Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Collins and Donnie, on furlough from the mission field, were campus visitors recently. Mr. Collins, former librarian at Madison College, left Madison about three years ago for West Africa. The Collinses have been connected with the Beckwai Training School in Ghana.

While on furlough, Mr. Collins will attend the Seventh-day Adventist Theological Seminary, preparatory to connecting with a new training school for native ministers which is opening this year in West Africa.

In Sympathy

The campus family extends its deepest sympathy to Hugh and Imogene Shepard, whose baby died on September 9, two days after birth. Mrs. Shepard is a member of the nursing class of '59.

It also extends sympathy to Elder Felix A. Lorenz, who was recently called to Los Angeles, California, because of the death of his sister, Mrs. Olga Barratto.

Campus School Has Enrollment of 89

The Campus School, which opened August 31, has a present enrollment of 89 in grades 1-8, according to Principal Winston V. Ferris, who also teaches grades 7 and 8.

Joining the teaching staff this year are Miss Vesta Lester, from the Florida Conference, and Miss Beverly Hegstad, Madison College elementary education graduate of 1959. Miss Lester teaches grades 3 and 4 and Miss Hegstad, grades 5 and 6. Mr. John Baker is teaching, for the second year, grades 1 and 2.

installed the intricate wiring system throughout the hospital and took care of all designing and mechanical aspects of the operation. The sound system is designed so that it can be hooked up to FM radio for further programs.

So far as is known, Madison Sanitarium and Hospital is the only hospital in this area providing musical broadcasts for its patients.

Dr. Dittes Returns From European Tour

Dr. Frances L. Dittes, professor emeritus of Nutrition and Home Economics, returned on September 16 from her European trip. Dr. Dittes sailed from New York on June 4.

She spent much of the summer in Germany visiting relatives as well as places of historic interest. Dr. Dittes states that the highlight of her summer trip was the visit to the home and grave of her relative, Frederick Dittes, German reformer in education. Other highlights were visits to shrines of John Knox and David Livingstone in Scotland and of Melancthon, Huss, and Jerome in Germany.

Dr. Dittes was in England, Scotland, Ireland, Holland, Denmark, Sweden, Germany, Austria, Switzerland, and Italy.

Dr. Dittes came to Madison in 1910, and, though she retired from active teaching in 1958, is still counselor, adviser, and friend to all on the campus.

Join TOT Club

All prospective teachers are urged to join the Teachers of Tomorrow Club, soon to reorganize for the school year. This active campus organization holds monthly programs and socials throughout the year. Membership gives to the members publications including all issues of the state journal and the NEA Journal.

Join the Teachers of Tomorrow Club and enjoy its inspiration and fellowship.
