Virginia Fredeen from Rees Hall was elected to that post. Mr. Arthur Hauck is adding to the efficiency of the organization by acting as parliamentarian. Finally John Ridpath is the Sergeant-at-Arms for the lower house.

Recently the house has been busy with the legislation necessary for the formation of the new Student Center.

Mass Choirs to Present 'Messiah'

125-Voice Choir, Orchestra To Participate in Oratorio

The MESSIAH, a choral and orchestral production by George Frederick Handel, will be presented Friday evening, December 12, in the college auditorium.

Approximately 125 persons will participate in the presentation backed by a 25-piece orchestra. Represented in the presentation will be the Golden Chords Chorale, the Unionaires, the Union College ladies' and men's choruses, the Academy choruses, the College View church choir, and the MESSIAH chorus itself. Several from the University of Nebraska, the First Plymouth Congregational church, and from the College View community will also take part.

Soloists for the production will be Carolyn Rhodes, soprano; Janene Odum, alto; Glenn Clarke, tenor; and Arlo Funk, bass.

Haynes Johnson

The program will be directed by Mr. William Haynes and Mr. Melvin Johnson. The orchestra will perform the Overture and the Pastoral Symphony, and the vocal parts will consist of nine choruses and eighteen recitatives and arias. Miss Catherine Brown will be at the organ for the presentation.

Union College, in presenting this program, is following a long choral tradition started over 200 years ago. According to Mr. Haynes, the MESSIAH is one of the greatest works ever written for choir and orchestra. "It presents a real opportunity and responsibility to us as Christians in singing a composition such as this," states Mr. Haynes.

At a similar presentation two years ago at the college, the MESSIAH was well received by an audience of over 1200. A large attendance is expected for the coming performance.

ATS MRS. AMERICA OF 1956 TO SPEAK IN REES HALL

Mrs. Carl Deitemeyer of Lincoln, Nebraska, winner of the "Mrs. America" title for 1956, will speak in Rees hall on December 8 for the evening worship period.

As the mother of five children, Mrs. Deitemeyer is concerned about the home-centered problems such as juvenile delinquency, family break-ups, and drinking problems. She has done extensive traveling and lecturing during the past few years.

This month's jingle contest will be on narcotics. The deadline is January 16. Oratorical finals will be held on February 1, 1959.

The brain is a wonderful organ. It starts working when you get up in the morning and does not stop until you get to class.

The tongue is like a race horse which runs the faster the lesser weight it carries.

Placements Made by Student Conference

Annual Tree-Lighting Ceremony Celebrated

Last night President D. J. Bieber turned on the lights in the second annual Christmas tree-lighting ceremony. The tree, a 20-foot spruce located between the library and the music hall, was decorated by power house employees.

Dean G. L. Caviness was in charge of planning the program which included carol singing, instrumental numbers, worship, and a few remarks by President Bieber.

The tree-lighting ceremony is sponsored annually by the Promotions Committee.

MV's to Sponsor Religious Films In Capitol Center

The youth organizations of the Lincoln Seventh-day Adventist churches are beginning a program designed to bring a new appreciation of Christ and His gospel to other youth of this city. The program was outlined by Mr. J. C. Kinder, MV leader of the College View church.

Mr. Kinder stated that one means of accomplishing this aim was through the showing of pertinent motion films and lectures to youth by youth.

The first of this series was a film entitled "Seventeen" picturing the effect of a Christian club among teenagers in high school. Co-featured with the film was another in color, "One in Twenty Thousand." The films were given two showings at 6:00 and 8:00 p.m. at the Capitol Evangelistic Center last night.

UC Band to Present Winter Concert, Dec. 13

The Union College band, under the direction of H. Lloyd Leno, will present its second annual Christmas concert on the evening of December 13 in the college auditorium.

The program will include many old favorites. Among them are "Jingle Bells," "Nutcracker Suite," and "Skater's Waltz." The final number will be a narrated story of a visit to Santa's work shop at the North Pole, Mr. Leno said.

Science and Scripture Week Observed

This past week at Union College has been "Science and Scripture week." The purpose of the week has been to emphasize the importance of a careful study of both science and the Scriptures by all thinking Christians. "Since we are about to observe the one-hundredth anniversary of the publication of Darwin's Origin of Species, which embroiled the religious and scientific world in a fresh battle, it seems appropriate that we should re-examine the two propositions," said Sydney Allen, instructor in Religion and chairman of the activities for the week.

Featured speakers at the college were two professors from Concordia Teachers College, Seward, Nebraska. Professor Wilbert H. Rusch, associate professor of science at Concordia was the speaker last Monday in the regular Chapel Service held in the church. His subject was "100 years of Darwinism." Professor Rusch is a graduate of the Illinois Institute of Technology with a B.S. degree and received his Master of Science degree from the University of Michigan in 1951. He has served on the faculty of Concordia College, Fort Wayne, Indiana and Purdue University, and came to his present position at Seward in 1957. As an accomplished organist he served for two years at St. Paul's Lutheran Church, Fort Wayne, Indiana.

The speaker at the convocation held at the college auditorium on Friday, was Dr. Paul Zimmerman who became president of Concordia Teachers' College in 1954.

Dr. Zimmerman is an ordained minister, having trained at Concordia Theological Seminary in St. Louis, Missouri and received his Bachelor of Divinity Degree in 1944. He served as a pastor of the Lutheran congregations in Jamesville, Minnesota and Seward, Nebraska. Following this he enrolled for study in the field of Chemistry at the University of Illinois, received the M.A. degree in 1947 and the Ph.D. in 1951. He is a member of the Sigma Xi Honorary Science Society, Ph. Upsilon, non-

Pledges for Center Due Before Dec. 17

Pledges amounting to $1905 were received during a recent ASB meeting in convocation for the furnishing of the proposed Student Center. This occurred after the House in special meeting voted to move the Student Center into Room 211 in place of the here-to-fore mentioned plan of using sections of the chapel.

Current plans call for the center to be opened by February 1. Pledges should be paid before Christmas vacation in the college accounting office.

On Our Need for a Center

A student center has been proposed; the ASB executive committee has worked long hours and has drawn up final plans. Our Senate and House of Representatives have ratified these plans, and now it is up to us—the student body—to reject or carry out the proposed plans.

Many have asked why we need a student center. Some have suggested that we students might waste time there; and surely, in our democratic society, the opinions of all must be appreciated. But I ask, is taking the time to form friendships with other students wasting time? When the majority of us, after almost three months of school, do not even know the names of the other students with whom we eat in the cafeteria or those in our classes, isn't it time that we get together in an informal way and become acquainted? Each person that we come to know broadens in some measure our general knowledge and makes us better able to associate with other people. This being true, many of us are losing valuable opportunities to gain the full benefit from our college years.

By our united co-operation we can have a student center. This Christmas let's give a present both to ourselves and to those students who will in coming years follow our steps into these halls—the gift of a student center that will make Union an even friendlier school.

On Accepting the Challenge

Now that our campus is about to have a student center, what will be its eventual outcome? It, like most other things, can be either good or bad, depending on how it is used. Will we as students accept the challenge and responsibilities laid upon as a consequence? Let each of us determine that this new project will be an asset to our school and that it will not become a debasing influence. Let us be determined that we will not be blinded by selfish desires so much as to fling aside the standards of our faith. We must remember that as a people preparing to meet our King we cannot afford to cling to the things of this earth. Self-denial, not self-indulgence, is the counsel given us by the messenger of the Lord.

M.A.

On the "Bethlehem Road"

With the memory of one holiday fresh in our minds, and the anticipation of another crowding that memory, perhaps we have little room for any other thoughts just now.

Whether we say "holiday" or "holy day," Christmas is more than a yule log, a sprig of holly, or a lavishly decorated tree. It is more than natural good cheer and the giving of gifts. Christmas is even more than a feast at home, a feast of love and friendship with our loved ones.

Christmas is all that and more, too. It is more than all these added together, for it means Christ—the Christ of charity, of freedom and of peace.

The joy of Christmas as we think of it during this season is a feeling that nothing can kill, for it is the joy of the soul. Poverty cannot prevent the joy of Christmas, for no earthly wealth can give us that exhilarated feeling. It comes from sharing with others, lifting the burden of a neighbor, and remembering Christ as the giver of all good gifts.

Not until we lay aside our selfishness and pride and begin to travel the road that began at Bethlehem will the Star of Christmas again illuminate the world.

As we plan for our loved ones, let us not forget Christ. The gifts of our dedicated hearts and lives will mean joy for Him. Let us deal justly, love mercy, and walk humbly with Him as we journey along together on the "Bethlehem road" during this holiday season.

The Bells

—apologies to Mr. Poe
Hear the Union College bells—
Horrid bells!

What a world of boredom their cacaphony foretells!

Hear them clanging, clanging, clanging,

Will we never be set free?

Rudely, rising bells start banging

Now the classtime bells are twanging

With a sort of fiendish glee,

Making noise, noise, noise,

O, my nerves are short and jumpy

(like a soldier shocked by shells)

From the bells, bells, bells, bells,

Bells, bells, bells,

From the clanging and the banging of the bells.

As I See It

by George Fischer

It seems that Russia has decided on a nice surprise Christmas gift for the Germans. They're planning to return Berlin to them. As always, behind Soviet double-talk we find the true reason for their supposed generous idea. They hope to secure western recognition for the government of East Germany, that well-known puppet show with Moscow master minds pulling the strings.

Liberals in Republican and Democratic ranks are joining forces to change the rules of the Senate so as to limit debate to a reasonable length of time. The main purpose of the fight, led by New York's Republican Javits and Minnesota's "New-dealer" Humphrey, is to pave the way for civil rights legislation which until now has been neatly stymied by the Southern filibuster. Looks as though, for better or worse, the Senate has seen the last of its talkathons.

Cheers for student initiative, and by the way, for faculty co-operation! Our student center is well on the way to becoming a reality. It's up to us now to support the program as we've promised to do.

Special recognition for leadership in this project, I believe, is due to ASB president, Ted Wick, and Dean of Student Affairs, Dr. L. W. Welch—two outstanding faces in the Crowd.

His Servant Speaks

(Editor's note: This is the sixth in a series of articles written by leaders in the Seventh-day Adventist faith.)

by E. E. Cossentine, Secretary of the General Conference Department of Education

"Make your student life as perfect as possible. You will pass over the way but once. And it rests with you yourself whether your work shall be a success or a failure." Vol. 5, page 275.

E. E. Cossentine

How true these words are. As you look ahead the way seems endless and some distant goal seems to be the important aim. We hear young people say, "When I have finished this or that I will live and enjoy life." To the young person who reasons this way I would say, "Stop, Look, and Listen." Stop for a moment and remember that the only time you will ever have to live and enjoy fully is this moment now. There is no other time granted to you or to me. Stop and look—look about you and see how men have made wrecks of their lives when they are not God centered and controlled. Look and see the success men and women have made of their lives when they are guided by the Master. You need only to look around you where you are to see the contrast. The psalmist had stopped and looked when he said, "I had rather be a door-keeper in the house of my God, than to dwell in the tents of wickedness." Don't just stop and look. Listen also—to the many wonderful sounds around you; the wind in the trees, the songs of the birds, the quietness of God speaking to you, urging you to let Him make your life a blessing. Listen to His plans for you. You may become too busy to ever hear Him speaking, and then miss the joy of following His prepared purpose.

Yes, young people, stop, look, and listen. If you will do this on your knees, your life will be one of great happiness to yourself and a blessing to your fellow men.

Courtesy is the eye which overlooks your friend's broken gateway, but sees the rose which blossoms in his garden.

God has not yet finished His work with the Christian who is not a perfect gentleman.

UCA SENIOR ELECTED TREAS. OF LINCOLN YOUTH COUNCIL

Becky Conrad, a Union College Academy senior, was chosen treasurer for the all-city Lincoln Youth Project Sponsorship. This 30-member council has conducted vehicle and pedestrian safety check campaigns and is now beginning another service project, previewing and rating motion pictures from a teen-age standpoint for the local committee of the Film Forum. All six high schools in Lincoln are represented in the council.

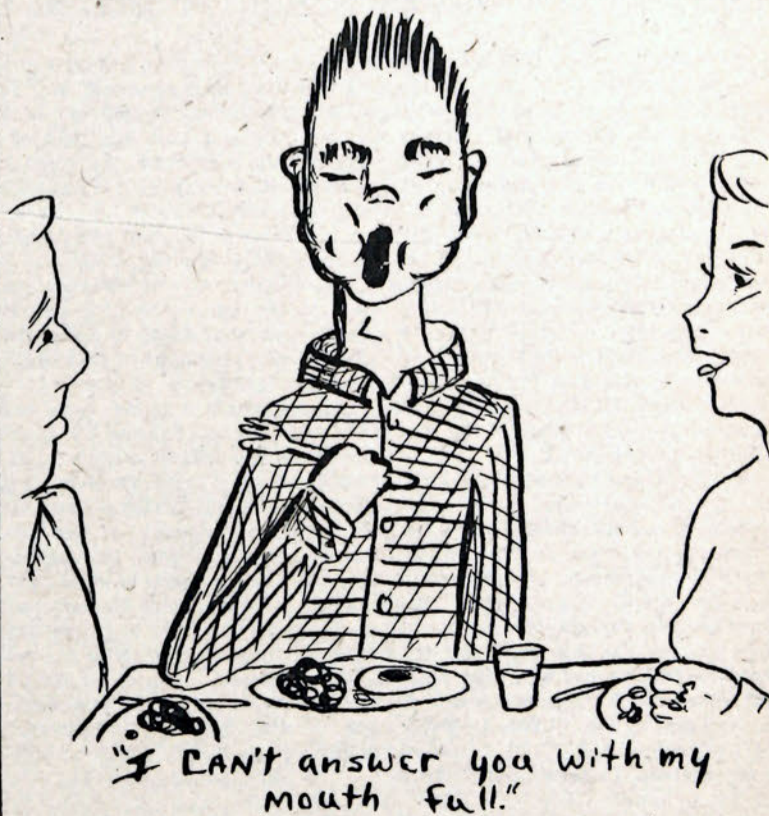

Other officers chosen to the council were Jerry Friis of University High, president, and Mary Ann Gude of Pius X High School, secretary.

SDA World News Briefs

WASHINGTON, D.C.—A total of 2,017 students are currently enrolled in 12 North American and 23 overseas Seventh-day Adventist schools of nursing says the Adventists' world medical offices here. According to its report, 11,587 nurses have graduated from Adventist schools of nursing, 9,143 in North America and 2,444 overseas. The church operates 1 nursing school in Australia, 1 in central Europe, 6 in the Far East, 2 in Inter-America, 1 in the Middle East, 1 in South America, 1 in Southern Europe, and 7 in Africa.

SYDNEY, AUSTRALIA—Because many members of the church are

Other Adventist food factories operate in Brazil, Argentina, Denmark, England, Germany, Switzerland, France, and South Africa. # Kappa Theta

By Betty Bell

Rees Hall didn't really have time to settle down from the excitement of open house before it was time to pack and leave for home—and Thanksgiving dinner.

I fear that some of the shine is already gone from our rooms, but the spirit of the whole thing is still here. I haven't heard of any serious mishaps connected with the evening. Oh, I did hear by way of my private grape vine that Connie Wells lost her corsage on the way to the program. Connie, how on earth did you do a thing like that? It wasn't a complete loss though because she found it later.

Often we fail to realize how much planning is behind a program that seems to just fit together naturally. The girls of Kappa Theta would like to thank Judy Roth, who planned the decorations; Nancy McPhail, who planned the dorm tour; Bev Johnson, who planned the program; and Janet Tucker who was in charge of planning the whole evening to help us entertain in our new home.

Just for the record and in case you've forgotten, the following girls received special recognition because their rooms were especially lovely: Donna Wolfe and Maxine Reed, Karaly Barger and Joyce Hornbacher, Jane Nowack and Ruth Ann Hagen, Donna Ray and Gail Emde, Phyllis Foster and Dixie Ballew, Bettie Wommack and Sharon Chatfield, Carol Lea Arfman and Karene Onstad, Sharon Avery and Judy Bartling, Cleo Bloom and Bernadette McBride, Bonnie Smith. There may be a mistake in this list; your reporter had to depend solely on her rather weak memory since there was no list available.

It seemed only an hour or so after open house that everyone was busy packing for vacation. Some of us were not fortunate enough to be going home and had to just stand by and watch the others leave. But Thanksgiving at Union wasn't bad at all. I would like to thank Miss Whitfield especially for making Thanksgiving dinner almost as good as it would have been at home. She had the cafeteria decorated and looking very festive, and the meal was just wonderful.

That Thursday evening Sharon Chatfield, Ann Thomas and Bettie Wommack invited the other girls and all the fellows over for supper and games in Rees Hall's recreation room.

In spite of all we did to entertain ourselves, Rees Hall was a rather lonely place, and we are very glad that everyone is back and life at Union has taken on its normal tempo once more.

PROV. EDITION OF TEXT USED BY BIBLE CLASSES

Union College is one of the several Adventist colleges in North America currently using the provisional edition of the new textbook in Biblical doctrines, Fundamentals of Christian Faith. This new book is being prepared by Professor T. Housel Jemison, research professor in the General Conference Department of Education.

Under the direction of Professor Sydney Allen, the students in the Christian Faith and Christian Beliefs classes this semester are using the new text.

The printed edition is to be ready for classes in September, 1959, and will be composed on the basis of the evaluations given by those using it this year.

We Gave So That Others Might Have

by Bruce Powers

It was heartwarming to see smiles of deep thankfulness on the faces of Mr. and Mrs. Kern, Don, Timmy, and Julie when they opened their door to two Union College students bearing a Thanksgiving basket. To them Thanksgiving would now be a day of plenty instead of the usual meagerness; of happiness in spite of real problems and trouble; of warmth from the glow of brotherly kindness—all because Union College students, staff members, and friends gave on the Friday night before Thanksgiving.

Mr. Kern used to be a mechanical engineer. One day he was inspecting a structure that was under construction when he fell three stories. Since then he has been between the hospital and home. Although he is improving, he is still unable to work. All of this has been hard for Mrs. Kern and their three small children.

The Kern family is one of the 60 families who received Thanksgiving baskets from the Union College MV Society on Thanksgiving eve. They are all just as needy, just as grateful.

This yearly custom is made possible through the cooperation of Miss Ruth Whitfield, director of food service at Union College. She makes available different foods which can be purchased by the students through the college cafeteria. Surely the Lord must be pleased when He sees the student body rise as one man to take for-

Sigma Iota Kappa

By Gary Grimes

For Sigma Iota Kappa's club program the Monday before vacation, a special Thanksgiving program was given. Jerry Thayer's stereophonic set furnished the background music. Dick Hammond, club pastor, gave the worship talk. Helton Fisher was the narrator. Special music in song was brought to us by Sharon Avery and Carolyn Rhodes. The program was prepared by club president, Norman Graham and club pastor, Dick Hammond.

Another interesting club night was presented by William Nordgren. Mr. Nordgren brought us a slide story of Germany. His many beautiful pictures showed everything from Hitler's hideout to the blue Danube River. Especially interesting were the slides of medieval castles and cathedrals.

The final club to date was educational. Two General Motors films were shown. These films showed the new GMC giant research center and the experiments that GMC is making with a jet-propelled car.

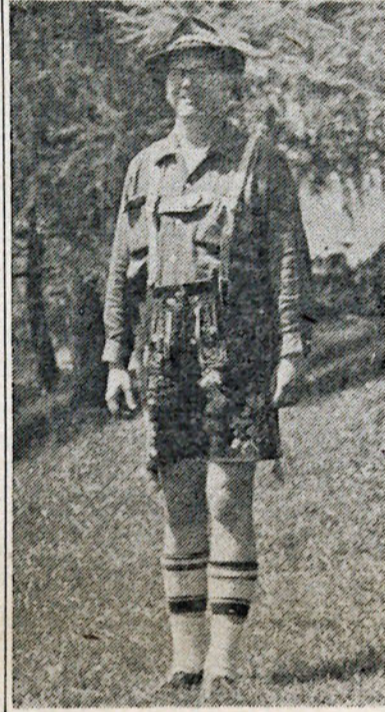

It would hardly be fitting if we didn't thank the ladies of Rees Hall for a very fine time at their open house. Union College has something to really be proud of in Pearl Rees Hall. The Hall is swank and the open house was very entertaining.

South Hall's Christmas present arrived about three weeks early. The new, much-needed automatic washers got here the day after Thanksgiving vacation. The plan finally decided upon by which to run the washers is to charge a small fee for their use. The machines will be metered. The long-range plan calls for the money collected to be used to buy a new dryer.

Well, that just about wraps it up around this corner of the campus.

Have Hat . . . Will Travel

by Marvel Jensen

William Nordgren

Bill Nordgren is that tall fellow under THE hat. The hat is a big green affair with a brush sticking up and back, and should your eye happen to take a tour around the brim—well it's a travelogue all in itself. Coats-of arms from all over the world are represented there.

The travels were all paid for, compliments of the U. S. Army for which Bill gave them in exchange 20 years of his life. Now a retired Master Sergeant, he is taking business here at Union.

Bill became an Army career man in January, 1938. After being stationed for seven years in Minnesota, he was sent to Greenland where he stayed until '44. Back in the states, he embarked for Europe in '45. Before we became envious of the places he's been, it might be well to remember World War II was being fought during these years.

Back home again the glorious feeling of having helped achieve peace for the world soon dimmed as he saw the direction world affairs were taking. About this time he met a layman who encouraged him to become active in our church. In 1952 he was baptized. Later this same year he was sent to Korea, spending two years there and also in Japan.

It was in 1955 on a trip to St. Paul, Minn., from his latest station in Fort Hood, Texas, that Bill met his wife, Eva Dickerson. After an MV program in which Eva had participated, Bill asked the minister to introduce them. But this courtship had to be continued via the mail for Eva, (an R.N.) had accepted a call to the Malaya Mission and Bill was sent back to Germany. Eva spent two and a half years in Malaya and then began a trip around the world that brought her to Germany and to Bill. Evidently Bill was tired of buying stamps or else had writer's cramp for they were married in Germany.

In 1958 Bill retired from the army and his advice to the boys going in, is to know something of business. It you know typing especially, you can avoid a lot of ditch-digging!

As might be expected, his hobby is photography. He has over 4,000 slides of countries all over the world. Eva's hobby is somewhat more serious. She and Bill have just become the proud parents of a bright-eyed little boy—Billy Jo.

Should you ever like a quick 'arm chair' trip to Europe, Bill is just the man. He never tires of students' endless questions—Take a gander at his Hat some day—it's a real treat!

Life expectancy has been increased by 20 years since 1905 thanks largely to the miracle of modern drugs. Pretty reasonable, when you consider that often there's nothing more required than the price of a prescription. That's why we keep saying prescriptions today are really less expensive. It's true that 50 years ago you could buy a bottle of medicine for half a dollar . . . but how effective was it? Usually it did nothing but ease symptoms, if that. Today, your prescription may cost a little more in dollars and cents, but you get MUCH MORE—twenty extra years, for instance!

CENTER OF RE-CREATION

By Loren Wade

"Forward, back, forward, back, side-to-side, side-to-side. I just can't quite get the knack of it but it's coming." It was with surprise and fascination that I watched a determined student trying to master the latest piece of physical education equipment one afternoon last week. "Now let's see, side-to-side, faster, faster, I'll have it in a minute. No hula hoop is going to get me down!" But again the stubborn hoop fell to the floor. It seems that the new invention was giving the student a share of frustration as well as some healthy exercise.

Elsewhere in the gymnasium, other students were having better luck with some of the more traditional means of recreation. Trampoline and volleyball were in evidence, and in one end of the building a lively game of table tennis was going on. The department employees scurried back and forth cleaning the floor and working on the equipment. As I neared the stage, two girls were pulling mats from a storage cupboard in preparation for tumbling practice.

At every side students were running, jumping, twisting or bending as they sought to gain greater stamina and better health through physical education. As it is expressed in the wording of the Union College bulletin, the physical education department strives "to acquaint all students with the true principles of healthful living" and to encourage students to develop physical efficiency. The courses aim at encouraging sportsmanship, co-operation, and the ability to make wise and quick decisions under pressure. It is through this department of the school that the training in disaster nursing and the Medical Cadet Corps is offered.

Every student who graduates from Union College must take at least 4 semesters of "phys ed." He may choose from courses in tumbling, trampoline, skating, archery, badminton, golf, swimming, body building, field hockey, campcrafts, M.C.C. and many others—some 45 courses in all.

During recreational periods the facilities of the gym are open to all. The swimming pool is open a number of hours each week with qualified student life guards and instructors. To feel better and be healthier, Union College students have learned to take advantage of the many opportunities offered them for true, physical education.

Clublicity

Alpha Mu Gamma

Alpha Mu Gamma, club for students' wives, met November 6 in the recital room of Engel hall. Mrs. Albert Beierle, Mrs. Ellen Boyd, Mrs. Alvin Morford, Mrs. Robert Knight, and Mrs. Tony Latessa proved how well they know their husbands in a quiz game called "How well do you know your husband?" with Mr. Arthur Hauck as master of ceremonies.

The December 2 meeting was held in the Home Economics department of Rees hall. The program "Christmas Ideas" was a demonstration and lecture on making inexpensive Christmas decorations, center pieces, and gifts.

The officers for the first semester are Mrs. Robert Forbes, president; Mrs. Ralph Darrough, vice-president; and Mrs. Wesley Peterson, secretary-treasurer.

Teachers of Tomorrow

"Observations of a Scientist," as given by Dr. D. K. Brown of the Chemistry department, proved of interest to the Teachers of Tomorrow Club on Wednesday, November 12. Dr. Brown discussed some of the common misconceptions concerning science teachers and scientists.

On Friday afternoon, November 21, members and friends of Teachers of Tomorrow visited Boys' Town as the first of several interesting field trips.

Home Economics

Since last year the Home Economics Club members have been carrying on various projects to raise money in order to buy a record player. Last week the dream became a reality when Fisher's stereophonic record player was purchased with the money that has been raised.

A Christmas club dinner is planned for Tuesday evening, December 9, between six and seven o'clock. Club members will enjoy the dinner music by the new stereo record player.

The "Majors" won a very crucial game in the volleyball tournament by beating the "Band." The teams were tied for first place with four victories and no defeats until the "Majors" trounced the "Band" by winning the first two sets of the match with scores of 15-11 and 15-7. The "Majors" are now alone at the top of the league with a record of five wins and no defeats; but they are closely followed by the "Band" and the "Farmers," each with four wins and one loss.

Following are the standings of the thirteen teams in the league:

The intramural basketball league will be organized during the second week in December. The students will select the ten best players among themselves, and players from among these ten will form the nucleus of each team in the "A" league. The "B" league will be organized in a similar fashion.

Lennart Colson met Van Knauss for the tennis championship on Nov. 23. Both sets were all even at 4-4 when Van Knauss surged ahead in both games to win 6-4, 6-4, thus capturing the championship in tennis. Colson advanced to the finals after defeating Carroll Knauss 6-2, 6-2 along with Van Knauss, who beat John Fields 6-3, 6-3.

Enterprise Hosts UC Tumbling Teams

On Saturday night the Union College Men's and Women's Tumbling Teams will travel to Enterprise Academy to present a program.

The teams coached by R. M. Reynolds consist of a group of fourteen students. The Men's team is led by Dave Priest and Marlon Pritchard. Tony LaTessa also excels in a routine on the high bar. Others traveling and performing with the group are John Ridpath, Byron Bradley, Albert Hamilton, and Harlen Peck.

The Women's team consists of seven girls, Mary Alice Wall, Maureen Kinyon, Verna Vance, Marcelline Moon, Coral Johnson, Kay Bruington, and Bonny Statter. The girls engage in a number of interesting routines such as dives, flips, pyramids, and the various rolls of a typical tumbling exhibition. The girls' routine also includes various stunts done with the aid of the trapezoid and the Swedish box.

Since the women's tumbling team is a new organization they will be also initiating new uniforms, which consist of black slacks with white blouses.
