The Christian Father—a Teacher, Ruler and Friend

by Glen Robinson

Though mid-night hours are not normally my favorite time for waking up, nor am I at my best, three a.m. recently found me playing with Matthew, my five-month-old son—or should I say he was playing with me.

Now I don't normally have the pleasure of getting up with him at hours only a baby can conjure up. However, I have done it a couple of times—giving a bottle while providing the social and physical support. (I sometimes envy mothers for the closeness they feel to their children and what their children must feel for them.)

But I feel that way only sometimes. Most of the time I am grateful I'm the "stereotyped" father, assuming the role of making a living outside the home. Christian fathers, I believe, play an important—no, essential—part in the rearing of a Christian child.

Ellen White wrote much about the responsibility of the Christian mother. In our Church that's usually common knowledge around Mother's Day. But what about Dad? With Father's Day coming up, here's just a sampling of what she wrote concerning Christian fathers:

"That father is unworthy of the name who is not to his children a Christian teacher, ruler, and friend, binding them to his heart by the strong ties of sanctified love—a love which has its foundation in duty faithfully performed." (5 Testimonies, 322)

A friend of mine attended church services for the first time in years a couple of weeks ago. Normally, his three sons are more than his wife can handle by herself. But with Dad there to supervise, guess which three were little angels at church?

Even if Father is a good example to his children, there's no guarantee they will behave well consistently. But, on the other hand, if Father is a bad example, his children may well be more influenced by his behavior.

It seems to me that many have understated the importance of the Christian father. Because of this oversight, many men have felt their influence on their children to be insignificant, and thus have neglected to concentrate their efforts in this direction.

The truth of the matter may be that God gave Christian fathers paternal love so their children could develop a concept of how their Heavenly Father loves them—regardless of what they've done. God gave Christian fathers wisdom to judge, so children can

INSPIRATION SAYS

"From a worldly point of view, money is power; but from the Christian standpoint, love is power. Intellectual and spiritual strength are involved in this principle. Pure love has special efficacy to do good, and can do nothing but good. It prevents discord and misery and brings the truest happiness. Wealth is often an influence to corrupt and destroy; force is strong to do hurt; but truth and goodness are the properties of pure love."

For Literature Evangelists

HHES Sponsors Sales Training

A Literature Evangelist Sales Training Seminar was held at the Home Health Education Service in Thousand Oaks, California, April 20-26.

Purpose of the professional training school was to teach literature evangelists how to develop new skills and meet the demands of challenging literature work.

Joseph Whedbee, associate publishing director for the Pacific Union, directed the training program with help from assistant publishing directors Ron Quick of Northern, Stephen D. Washington of Southern, John Alston of Central and Manuel A. Pastor and Francisco Jimenez, assistant Spanish publishing directors in Southern.

Dynamic sermons were presented by the leaders of the publishing divisions and a special presentation was made by Pacific Union Secretary Major D. White.

Literature evangelists were provided with practical sales tools. Video-taped demonstrations, charts and the use of films added to the effectiveness of the training sessions. Instruction was given in classical sales management techniques. Key topic included self-management, right mental attitudes, soul-winning, business ethics and time management.

DORIS ZUMMACH (standing) is secretary for auditing, and Molly Corey is secretary for personnel in the Pacific Union Conference office.

Immunizations Needed Before School Begins

The State of California's Department of Health Services reminds parents with children beginning school that every child must be immunized before he or she can go to school in California. On admission, you must show proof that the child received the required doses of vaccine.

If you do not have a written record from your doctor, you must give the school the month and year each dose of vaccine was received. If you do not know the month and year, please call your doctor and get this information before registration.

Schedule following gives the numbers of vaccine doses usually needed. Check your child's immunization record with this schedule. If he or she has not received all the doses required, see your doctor or local health department immunization clinic. If your child is not fully immunized, he or she may still be admitted on condition that he or she gets the needed immunizations within certain time limits. If this is not done, your child will be excluded from school.

Your child may be exempted (excused) from the required immunizations for medical reasons or if these are against your beliefs. If he or she cannot be immunized for medical reasons, you must bring to school a doctor's statement giving the reason and how long this will last. If immunizations are against your beliefs, you must sign an affidavit. Note, however, that in a disease out-

Hemet Students Raise Funds for FFT

Despite the fuel shortage, members and friends of the fourth through sixth grades of the Hemet Valley Adventist School travelled 2½ hours, May 15, to visit the Faith for Today television studios at the Adventist Media Center in Thousand Oaks. The occasion was the presentation of $567 to the Faith for Today 1979 Valentine Offering.

Raised entirely by the 16 students with the enthusiastic leadership of their teacher, Rose Noto, the money represented many hours of fund-raising projects, most notably a benefit film and Mexican dinner. The gift was donated to FFT Founder William Fagal during a VIP tour of the Media Center.

Presentation ceremony featured a short speech by Von Verbanic, president of the children's Missionary Volunteer Society, after which Lisa Buess, treasurer of the M.V. Society, handed the check to Pastor Fagal.

The $567 will be used toward the completion of the Faith for Today production, "The Harvest," a dramatic story about a troubled family's attempts to regain understanding and spiritual unity while visiting in the country.

"The Harvest" production is the Valentine Offering project for Adventist grade schools this year and will be televised sometime this fall.

Lisa Buess, one of 16 Hemet Valley Adventist School students who raised over $500 for the Faith for Today 1979 Valentine Offering, presents the donation to Pastor William A. Fagal.

Following Auto Crash

Memorial Service Is Conducted for Warren Heintz

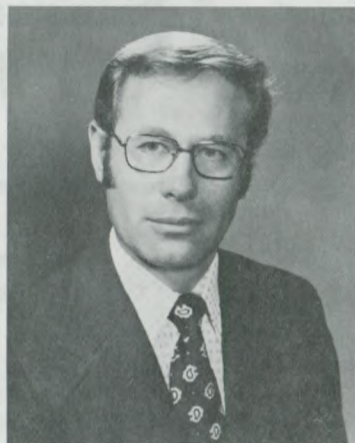

A memorial service was conducted on May 31 for Elder Warren C. Heintz and his son, Gregory, at the Riverside church.

Participants in the service were Elders Walt Blehm, president of the Pacific Union Conference, Dale Beaulieu, Conference treasurer; Elwood Staff, newly elected Conference secretary and Robert Tomlin, the Heintzes' pastor. Burial of the ashes took place a few days later in College Place, Washington.

Elder Heintz, who had served as president of the Conference for just a month, was killed in a two-car traffic collision a few miles south of Lake Havasu City, Arizona, on Memorial Day evening. Riding with him in the van and also killed were his younger son, Gregory, 15, and two of Gregory's friends, Sherry Haller, 14, and Barry Lizer, 17.

Sherry Haller attended the eighth grade at La Sierra Elementary School, Barry Lizer was in 11th grade at La Sierra Academy and Greg Heintz was in 10th grade at LSA.

Graveside services were held on Thursday for Sherry in Redlands and for Barry on Friday in Riverside.

Elwood Staff Elected Secretary

On May 24 Elder Elwood Edward Staff was selected by the Conference Committee to become the secretary of the Southeastern California Conference.

At present he is pastor of Lodi Fairmont Church in the Northern California Conference. Elder Staff will be returning to Southeastern where he has previously pastored. His wife, the former Antonette Sandoval, is a registered nurse. The Staffs have two children, Devin and Sean.

Elder Staff is a native of Iowa. He received his BA in theology degree from Loma Linda University, his MA degree from Potomac University and his BD degree from Andrews University in 1968. He served as a pastor in the

Two persons were also killed in the car that crashed head-on into Elder Heintz's van. The impact occurred on Elder Heintz's side of the road and caused a butane tank to explode causing the fire.

Mrs. Rheta Heintz and several friends were in another vehicle ahead of the van. When she lost sight of the van she stopped and then returned to the scene of the accident at which emergency vehicles had already arrived.

Survivors are his wife, Rheta and older son, Richard, and Elder Heintz's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel B. Heintz of Milton-Freewater, Oregon.

At Paradise Valley Hospital

Volunteer Labor Saves Money

Expense cutting is nothing new to the Volunteer Service League of Paradise Valley Hospital. Efforts of only 30 of their members total over 53,000 hours, which if paid only minimum wage, would have cost the hospital over $58,000. Instead, these volunteers and many others give their time and contribute greatly to the smooth operation of Paradise Valley Hospital.

The efforts of these 30 people were recognized on Wednesday, May 30, when an awards luncheon was held in their honor at Bali Hai Restaurant.

At the luncheon, the League presented Hospital President Henry P. Friesen with a check for over $30,000 which will purchase four new cardiac monitors for the intensive-care unit.

Taking top honors for hours donated was Gladys Maggs who has logged an incredible 9,000 hours. Martha Licari was next with 4,500, followed by Elaine Sinclair with 4,000. Wilma Villanueva has given 3,000 hours of her time, while Ruth Bishop and Doris Howell have donated 2,500 each. Receiving 2,000-hour honors were Pattie Balke, Elizabeth Hockin, and Lee Williams.

One-thousand-five-hundred-hour recognition goes to Helena Edwards, Norma Fuller, Faye Golliver, Josephine Grobner, and Bernice Shidler, who is outgoing president of the group.

Molly Clement, Tom and Jeanne DaVee, Micheline Detlor, Betty Miller, Ruth Parker, and Edith Strand completed 1,000 hours of service.

Giving 500 hours of their time were Marie Angell, Jean Combs, Lois De Young, Irene Henderson, Opal Hollister, Beverly Kemp, Fay Needle, Evelyn Reno, and Pam Shimmin.

Among the volunteers' functions within the hospital are transportation of patients from place to place, maintaining television service in patient rooms, designing and selling floral arrangements, running the hospital gift shop and generally supporting the hospital.

All proceeds from the League's fund-raising efforts are used to purchase new equipment for the hospital.

Melinda Tibbetts, Assistant, Public Relations/Development

Kohala To Erect New Sanctuary

With the enrollment of Kohala Mission School increasing steadily each year and the prospects of more members, the membership of Kohala Church saw a need for more land and space.

Members voted to undertake a land acquisition and looked for available land. The piece of land next to the present site was available and action was taken to acquire it.

Through the faithful giving by members to the church building fund, and assistance given financially by the Mission and individuals, the two-acre parcel was purchased and completely paid for.

Plans are now being formulated to erect a new church building with the necessary rooms for the various departments.

Members of the Kohala Church would like to express their appreciation and thanks to all who have helped in this project, financially and otherwise.

Pathfinder Day Held in Hilo

The first annual Big Island Pathfinder Day was held recently in Hilo. Fifty-six Pathfinders from Honokaa, Kohala, Hilo, and Pastor Kenneth Friesen representing Kona were present for the opening ceremonies.

Events of the day began with the Pathfinders running the 25, 50, and 100-yard dash. Other activities included tire roll, sack race, spoon carry, wheelbarrow race, broad jump, softball throw, and drill marching. Ribbon awards were presented to first, second, and third-place winners.

Evangelistic outreach emphasizing reaching former Seventh-day Adventists has already begun in the youth department of Hawaiian Mission.

Names and addresses of former members are urgently requested. Send information to: Bob Wong, Youth Department, Hawaiian Mission of SDA, P.O. Box 4037, Honolulu, HI 96813.

Sportsmanship awards were given to one Pathfinder boy and girl.

Refreshments were provided by the Hilo club and homemade cookies were donated by the Kohala club. Treat of the day was shaved ice.

Future plans are to have this event at other districts on the Big Island.

Molokai Newsnotes

During National Hospital Week, a bouquet of red anthuriums was presented to the Molokai General Hospital. A nurse commented, "It's nice to know that someone appreciates what we're doing for our community."

After a Mother's Day program in Sabbath school and church, a potluck was held in honor of the mothers.

Members then visited Mrs. Kama Arakaki, oldest church mother, and honored her in her home with a lei and gift. Songs

Cassette Tapes of Camp Meeting Will Be Available

Shortly after Elder J. R. Spangler, editor of the Ministry magazine and secretary of the General Conference Ministerial Association, presents his opening sermon on Monday night, June 18, a professional recording of his sermon will be available.

K. C. Ward, with "Reach Out for Life" in Modesto, California, will be with us to record the entire camp meeting program. Following the meetings in just a brief time the sermons will be available on cassettes in the Adventist Book Center.

With the excellent schedule of speakers, no doubt many of these sermons will be desired on cassettes. In this way one will be able to hear the sermons over and over and the message will make a deeper impression.

We strongly urge everyone who possibly can to set aside June 18-23 and be present at camp meeting at Springville, Utah.

Fortunately, the gas situation in Nevada and Utah does not present a problem, so travel to camp meeting should not be difficult.

Plan to be with us for the encampment. As we look back to the days of Israel, they were instructed to spend a good portion each year in their spiritual convocations so they could understand more fully the will of God for their lives.

Come to this place where the Adventist church family has seclusion, privacy, and is surrounded by the beauties of nature, and where the fellowship of God's people is sweet, to re-energize your spiritual supplies in preparation for the days ahead.

Make Nevada-Utah Camp Meeting, June 18-23 a very definite part of your program.

Pathfinders Visit Life Care Center

On Sabbath afternoon, May 12, the Hilo Pathfinder Club took their singing voices and ukeles to visit the Life Care Center of Hilo.

Each of the 112 woman patients were presented with a bouquet of anthuriums in remembrance of Mother's Day.

Several patients joined in singing with the young people and expressed their appreciation for the visit.

More missionary ventures are being planned for the Pathfinder Club.

Fallon Man, Age 92, Is Baptized

Recently 92-year-old John Adams, a resident of Fallon Convalescent Center, was carried into the baptismal font where he was baptized by R. R. Nickell, pastor of the Fallon Seventh-day Adventist Church.

Mr. Adams, who is blind and crippled, became interested in Bible study when Lillian Whisenhunt, employee of the Seventh-day Adventist-owned Center, took an interest in him and began reading the Bible to him.

Mr. Adams had few diversions in his daily schedule, one being his incessant smoking. As Mrs. Whisenhunt read and prayed with him and took him to church in his wheelchair, the Holy Spirit impressed him with his need to stop smoking. He stopped immediately with no withdrawals.

Mr. Adams' baptism is unique in that he was carried into the baptismal font on a steel folding chair by Pastor Nickell and a layman. The layman lowered the chair into the water as the pastor performed the rite of baptism.

Mr. Adams' new experience in Christ is a powerful testimony of what the Holy Spirit can do in a life regardless of the age or circumstances.

Civic Leaders Attend Opening of Community Services Center

An impressive number of civic leaders were present for the formal opening of Hollister Church's Community Services Center.

While Hollister Mayor Leonard Poletti and Patricia Clay, executive manager of the San Benito County Chamber of Commerce, held the ribbon, Pastor Dick White and Eileen Levy, Center director, cut the ribbon with a pair of oversized scissors.

County Social Services Supervisor Joseph Brent was also present as was Chief of Police Wayne Purves. Representatives from the mental health department and the neighboring town of San Juan Bautista were also present as well as a newspaper reporter.

These community leaders heard Russell Heigh, manager of Seventh-day Adventist World Service in Watsonville, tell of the world-wide humanitarian work of Seventh-day Adventists. Elder W. C. Webb of the Conference community services department told of the work Adventists are doing in Central California. Pastor White gave literature to these guests explaining what Seventh-day Adventists believe.

Following a tour of the facilities the guests were hosted for a vegetarian luncheon at the Hollister church.

The Community Services Center is located in the heart of the city on a main street at 330 Fourth Street. It has ample parking spaces next door in the city parking lot.

Discoveryland Receives Donation of New Chairs

A gift of child-size chairs was given to Discoveryland, the day-care center of the Campbell Church, by the Rotary Club of Campbell.

It was a special day when the chairs were delivered by Rotary Club president, William Beck and some of the club members. In appreciation the children then gave a "Thank You" program.

Discoveryland was chosen by the Rotary Club for its prominence and service to the Campbell community on the corner of San Tomas Expressway and Campbell Avenue.

Iva Holmes and the children of Campbell's Discoveryland try out the new chairs donated to the day-care center by the Campbell Rotary Club.

Twenty Set for Baptism in Woodlake Community

Attendance at evangelistic meetings in Woodlake, April 29-May 30, averaged 50 non-Adventist adults, reports Speaker Eliseo Briseno, pastor of Exeter and Cutler Spanish churches.

Baptisms in June will include approximately 20 Catholic and Pentecostal converts. There is presently no Adventist Church in this small community of 4,000 people, 60% of whom are Spanish-speaking.

Please pray for God's leading in the establishment of a company of Adventists there this summer.

Donating time and materials, Mr. Valdez gave two full facials to Kathy Noble and Lisa Mazur, eighth-grade girls, while explaining techniques and methods to interested students and parents. Later, under the direction of Mr. Valdez and Mrs. Mary Navas, facials were given to about 12 others.

Lower grades haven't been idle either. Recently, Jean Badger, teacher, gave wood to the kids to do projects. Kevin Navas, grade three, really went to town and came up with a model of a fire station—complete with siren.

When he took the model next door to the Hillsborough Fire Station, the men were impressed and awarded Kevin a Junior Fire Marshall's badge.

Turlock School Offers a "Well-rounded" Christian Education

Turlock School feels that a well-rounded Christian education is of utmost importance in this day and age.

Adventist children deserve the best in all aspects of a quality education. In trying to accomplish these goals, a well-rounded academic program has been developed by a dedicated staff and board.

Student-teacher ratio is 14 to one, making it possible for more individual help for each student. The Turlock Church pastor and associate pastor take an active part in the school program by holding a chapel period for the students each week. There is also a music program that includes choir, band, instrument and piano lessons.

Recently, carpeting was installed in each classroom, and presently, air conditioning is being installed in the classrooms and office areas.

school and academy choirs, directed by Marilyn Carr and Tom Buller, respectively, sang, concluding with a medley of songs about the return of Christ.

Christine Healey, principal of the Catholic Saint Stanislaus Elementary School, spoke on "Educating the Whole Child."

Choir members also served as ushers as well as waiters and waitresses. Dinner music was provided by the academy band. After the luncheon, Principal John Collins took a group of the guests on a tour of the school facilities.

Mrs. Harvey Brizendine was largely responsible for the success of the day. She was assisted by the members of the Ceres and Modesto churches and the academy youth.

To Provide Fellowship

Singles' Organization Formed by Conference

Single Adventist adults of all ages living in the Southern California Conference may now find spiritual and social fellowship through "Singles in Action."

Organized under the auspices of Family Life Services, the group began in January and is gaining support from churches throughout the Conference.

"Singles in Action is not a club," says its co-ordinator, Lorraine Thomas. "We want to provide fellowship for people of all ethnic groups."

The new organization works with local churches to make single adults aware of programs and activities in which they might like to participate. These include retreats, Friday evening discussions, films, potlucks, socials and recreation.

A "hotline" tape recording makes it possible for singles to phone in and find out about activities planned each weekend. The number is (213) 244-7556.

Programs listed on the Hotline are not necessarily just for singles—some are church-sponsored programs of general interest. Singles in Action is "not planning activities primarily to matchmake," says Mrs. Thomas. It aims to promote "group activities where people can make friends of both sexes, and to make it easier for people to come alone and not feel out of place."

One goal of the directors is to have a singles coordinator in each church. Thus far 47 churches have appointed such a coordinator.

Singles in Action serves three groups of adults: young adults, mature adults and single parents. During the early summer a number of activities are planned, including:

- Singles Awareness Seminar, Friday, June 15, 7 p.m. at the former Voice of Prophecy building. Guest speaker is Pastor Harold Duarte.

- Sunday Brunch at Whitter Narrows Park, June 17 at 11 a.m.

- Singles Potluck at the Southern California Conference Camp Meeting, June 23.

- A camping weekend at Leo Carillo State Beach, July 6-8.

- Los Angeles Philo Sda Chapter Founder's Day Banquet at Verone's in Toluca Lake on July 15.

If you would like to be on the mailing list for announcements of events, send your name, address and zip code to Singles in Action, Box 969, Glendale, CA 91209.

OFFICERS and department heads in the Southern California Conference recently honored their secretaries with an Italian dinner and strawberry feed. Elder Harold Calkins hands a plate to his secretary, Edith Ashlock.

WALK-IN SABBATH
June 16

All church parking lots in the Conference should be empty.

Get out of the driver's seat and onto your feet!

Show that you can be healthy and happy without consuming gasoline!

Every church member's cooperation is vital.

Update . . . from the president

TALK ABOUT MISSIONS! You should have been in the Conference office worship last Tuesday morning when Elder Le Cong Giao brought five orphans from Vietnam to sing for us. These children, ages 9-16, sang two songs. One was a song of bloodshed and conquest they had been taught in Viet Nam. The other, sung in English, was "Jesus Loves Me," a song that they have learned in the relatively few days they have been in California.

These five are just an example of the many being helped by our Vietnamese Company in Glendale. If the Lord should impress you to send something to help sponsor these orphans in an Adventist school next fall, let me hear from you. And please pray, not only for Vietnamese mission work in Southern California, but for the many other avenues of outreach God is using to reach the hundreds of thousands of people who have come here from other lands.

EVERY MONDAY MORNING the entire office family gathers for a full half hour in the worship room for devotions before beginning the week's work. We have asked Elder Lorenzo Paytee and Elder Fred Kinsey to lead out in gathering and presenting to God special prayer requests not just from the office family or from the churches, but from any member of our constituency. If you have special needs and you desire God's intervention, you may send your request to either of these men at the Conference office, Box 969, Glendale, CA 91209. Why not make 8 o'clock Monday morning a special time of prayer in your life, whether you are driving or at work or still at home? God answers prayer, for prayer is the secret of spiritual power.

CONGRATULATIONS to Newbury Park Academy for a five-year accreditation, and to San Fernando Valley Academy on a three-year accreditation from the Western Association of Schools and Colleges.

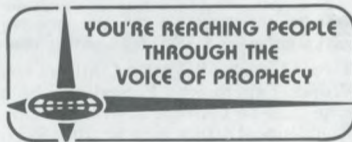

Adventist schools are like cities of refuge in this time of peril for young people. Most schools are permitting pre-registration this spring to assure prospective students a place in the classrooms next fall. Now is the time to make your plans.

Encounter Studies Result in Baptisms

Pastor Ricardo Norton of the Highland Park Spanish Church baptized 11 people into membership on Sabbath, May 19. They were the first fruits of the "Encuentro" ("Encounter") Bible study program using the Dukane projector.

Blanca Carbajal, lay activities leader of the church, organized the program. Laymen involved in studies which resulted in baptisms were Nale Arias, Clelia Orellana, Armida Hernandez, and Nidelvia Lopez.

The church is enthusiastic about the Dukane projector and the "Encuentro" series for use in soul-winning. At the upcoming camp meeting, Elder S. F. Monnier of the General Conference lay activities department, will teach a class in using these new Bible study methods.

New Clinic Opens in Yountville

Opening ceremonies for the new Yountville Medical Clinic were held Sunday, June 3, on the front steps of the clinic located at 1910 Finnell Road. The clinic opened for the first patient on June 4.

"This ceremony represents the culmination of a cooperative effort between the citizens of Yountville, Pacific Physician's Services, Inc., and St. Helena Hospital Home Health Services," says R. Walter Quirk, clinic manager.

About three years ago, the developers of the Villas Condominium Complex requested the administration of St. Helena Hospital to assist in staffing their proposed clinic facility. Although development plans were somewhat altered, the need for local health care became more apparent.

Thus, eighteen months ago the Yountville City Council formally asked the administration of St. Helena Hospital to help them establish a medical clinic within Free health screening tests were offered during the series.

Members of the Lodi English Oaks church and many of the local Walnut Grove residents attended the meetings despite the gas crisis.

This is the first attempt in recent years to minister to the Walnut Grove area. It is a seed-sowing venture using the health message and a Bible-marking plan.

the city. Details were worked out with Pacific Physician's Services, Inc., for staffing and management of the unit.

In addition, a federal grant of $47,070 was obtained to help in developing the project. Part of the funds were also designated to expand the St. Helena Hospital Home Health Services in the area.

To fulfil the conditions of the grant, a home health branch office is also part of the medical complex. Under a physician's prescription, St. Helena Hospital Home Health offers such services as a public health nurse, medical social worker, occupational therapy, physical therapy, speech therapy, home health aide and homemaker to enhance home care.

Dr. Lassia van Hise and Dr. Frank Clayton are the physicians staffing the clinic. Joy Ellis, LVN, an employee of St. Helena Hospital Home Health Services is the nurse, and Sherrie Murtagh is receptionist.

Applications Are Now Being Accepted for LLU Nurse Practitioner Program

Applications are now being accepted for the January 1980 Adult and Pediatric Nurse Practitioner Programs.

"The nurse practitioner assumes a direct and responsible professional role in the delivery of primary health care, disease prevention, and health education in the ambulatory care setting," according to Dena R. Sherrard, one of the nursing instructors in the program.

In addition, the role necessitates the ability to assess both the physical and psychosocial health of children, adolescents, adults, and their family units.

Individuals who wish to apply to either of the two programs must have current California registered nurse licensure, be a graduate of a baccalaureate nursing program (or equivalent) which includes preparation in community health nursing; and have a minimum of six months of full-time registered nursing experience in the area of pediatrics or adult care.

"Our classes are limited in size to allow for more individualized instruction," according to Miss Sherrard. "Many of our classes are taught by physicians from the School of Medicine and professors from the School of Health. Nurse practitioners from local clinical agencies also contribute to the students' areas of expertise."

The Adult and Pediatric Nurse Practitioner Programs are the only such 12-month programs offered by any Seventh-day Adventist institution.

Upon completion of the nurse practitioner program the student will be able to meet the following objectives: (1) develop a philosophy of the nurse's role in learn of the justice of heaven. God gave Christian fathers respect, joy, compassion—all of these qualities—so God's earthly children could have living examples of what God is really like, and learn to love Him in their youth.

"The father . . . will bind his children to the throne of God by living faith. Distrusting his own strength, he hangs his helpless soul on Jesus and takes hold of the strength of the Most High. Brethren, pray at home, in your family, night and morning; pray earnestly in your closet; and while engaged in your daily labor, lift up the soul to God in prayer. It was thus that Enoch walked with God. The silent, fervent prayer of the soul will rise like holy incense to the throne of grace and will be as acceptable to God as if offered in the sanctuary. To all who thus seek Him, Christ becomes a present help in time of need. They will be strong in the day of trial." (Adventist Home, 212, 213)

On this my first Father's Day as a father, I want to commit myself to the divinely inspired life style that will enable my son to recognize how loving his Heavenly Father is.

Eugene Dawson Speaks for Commencement

Over 900 diplomas were awarded at Loma Linda University graduation services June 10, and awards were given to D. Lois Burnett, Margarete A. Hilts, Charles A. Dale, and Earl Webb.

"You must decide what kind of people you will be," Eugene E. Dawson told the graduates in his commencement address. Then the former president of the University of Redlands questioned the students about their preparation for their journey through life.

"As you continue your journey, will you take with you a greater depth of character?" he asked. "Is there any human quality that is more sorely needed? Much is spoken of competence, ability, culture—all important, to be sure. But, these do not necessarily deepen character, and this is our critical need."

He admonished his listeners to maintain a consistent standard of excellence. "If a student can emerge from college without a sense of greatness, without anything to disturb the triviality and mediocrity of his life, without any great friendship of some professor, without some love of something noble in the history of the human race; if he gets out as simply a representative student

Delegates from 11 of the 12 higher education institutions of the church in North America met for an intensive four-day schedule of program-sharing and discussion of issues facing young Adventists today. Included were delegates from Canadian Union College and Kettering College of Medical Arts, who had not been able to attend AIA conventions for 6 and 10 years, respectively. The only school not able to send a delegation to the 1979 convention was Loma Linda University.

and not one who is in love with the highest peaks of the human race, then the education of that person is fundamentally a failure."
