Final Notice World Youth Congress

LAWRENCE NELSON, Manager
World Youth Congress

The opening meeting of the World Youth Congress convenes at 7:00 p.m., Tuesday, July 22, in the city of Zurich, Switzerland in the Hallenstadion (auditorium). All persons planning to attend should arrive early on Tuesday so they can be registered, located, and still have time for the evening meal before the congress begins.

Please remember there will be 12,000 to feed on the opening night, and only 4,000 can be served at a time. The cafeteria will open at 4:30 p.m. We emphasize the need for early arrival, so those accepted in the attendance quotas will have ample time to register, obtain the admittance badge to the auditorium, and receive meal tickets to the cafeteria, which is limited to serving the 12,000 in the quotas.

This is also a final reminder that no one without a congress badge will be admitted to the auditorium. All seats are reserved and all seats have already been given out through quotas assigned to the world divisions. The only provisions for those without the badge, who are not in a quota, is a 1,000 seat auditorium adjacent to the main arena where additional but not continuous programmes will be scheduled. Admission is open to all in this auditorium on a first-come basis.

Radio Broadcast Coverage of World Youth Congress

The Adventist Collegiate Network will originate radio broadcast coverage of the World Youth Congress to be held in Zurich, Switzerland July 22-26, and broadcast the reports over eight member stations from coast to coast in the United States and Canada.

Dr. Don Dick, Adventist Collegiate Network Director and Chairman of Southern Missionary College's Communication Department, Norma Young, and Ray Minner, both SMC Communications students and writer-secretary and anchor-man for the ACN respectively, go over programme plans with Gabe Romero of Hialeah Hospital Television in anticipation of ACN broadcast reports of this summer's World Youth Congress in Zurich, Switzerland.

Present plans call for five hour-long programmes to be broadcast one each day from Europe. VOAR, the Voice of Adventist Radio in St. John's, Newfoundland is a member of the ACN and is planning to carry these programmes.

Persons interested in receiving ACN broadcast reports in areas not now served by ACN stations are urged to consult immediately Dr. Don Dick, ACN Director (at Box 556, Collegedale, Tennessee 37315) about securing broadcasts on the local stations serving their areas.

"The only thing standing in the way of our extending our coverage to new areas is the necessary funds to purchase air time, procure distribution facilities, and care for staff and production costs," said Dr. Dick.

Tentative programme content will stress Adventist youth in action on a global scale. There will be an emphasis placed on the international flavour of the meetings and the church, Christian education around the world, differences in food, the social concern of the youth of the SDA church and placement of the world in a Christian perspective.

A special attempt will be made to interest particularly the youth of the church who could not go to Zurich themselves for the meetings. The message communicated, however, will be phrased in such language, terms, and interests that non-SDA youth will be attracted too. Thus, the broadcasts are being designed to have inspirational and evangelistic dimensions.

Financial assistance for the Adventist Collegiate Network broadcasts from the Zurich World Youth Congress has thus far been limited to $2,500 solicited from the Union Conferences of North America by the General Conference.

Network officials stress that there is an urgent need of additional funds to expand coverage into more areas as well as to assist in production and transportation costs. Checks should be directed to the attention of Dr. Don Dick, and made payable to the Adventist Collegiate Network, Box 556, Collegedale, Tennessee, 37315.

Literature Evangelist Experiences

For some time I felt impressed to visit one of my old customers. As I happened to have a card for the apartment next door, I called on the lady and was made very welcome as she wanted Modern Ways. She told me she was searching for more than she was getting in her church and was starting instructions with a young priest. When I suggested the white Bible plan she was thrilled. She has complete faith in the Bible as the inspired Word of God, and is praying earnestly for truth. We had a long visit with Bible study and prayer.

What a joy it is to be used of God to lead others to this wonderful truth! She also inquired if we had the plan for Roman Catholics and if her friend could do it as well. Perhaps, with the help of the Lord, we can enrol the young priest also!

I called on a home where the lady seemed very depressed. She told me about the problems she had in bringing up her two children. There apparently was no co-operation from the husband.

After a question or two, she confessed that her personal contact with her Saviour somehow had slackened off over the years because of the problems she had. I told her that this was the time she needed Him most.

I had a short Bible study with her and she told me that my visit had done her a great deal of good. We had prayer together and she asked me to call back on her when I was in the district again.

Thank the Lord for leading us to the homes where we are needed most. This dear lady bought the large Bible Story unit but even if she had not bought anything, I would have considered this a good day's work. I think this makes us different from salesmen because a visit like this warms the heart and brings us closer to the Lord.

LOU GOBITS

On Sunday afternoon I called on a family who had sent in a card for the Bible Story. On my previous visit neither of the parents had been home, but this time I found them both in.

After a careful canvass the father became very much interested but his wife did not go along with him, yet she seemed to be the financier. We had a short Bible study and again the husband said, "Let's get the books. If you don't want them let's get them for the church." Finally she said to her husband, "Will you read to the children and pray with them every night?" I appealed to them to give their children the best in life, as what we do for them now will mean much to their future. They bought the set and it is my prayer that they will make good use of them.

Help Open the Doors for Christian Education in Chile

A letter from Elder Gaston Clouzet, Sabbath School Secretary of the South American Division, brings us a story fresh from the field to which our 13th Sabbath overflow offering will go this quarter.

There, three different projects will benefit from our offerings this quarter; the Chile Training College boys' dormitory, the girls' dormitory in the Espirito Santo Academy in Brazil, and the auditorium of the Northeastern Brazil College.

Let us plan ahead so that we may be ready to respond generously to these needs, and let us pray that the Spirit of God will guide us in our response.

W. E. KUESTER, Secretary Sabbath School Department
Canadian Union

The Letter from Chile . . .

"When did you see Chile College for the first time?" was my question to the experienced worker I was interviewing.

"At the end of February, 1940," was his answer. "I went there not only to see it, but to stay in order to prepare myself to be a worker."

"What was your impression of the College at that time?"

"Well, the contrast between the rather low standards of morality of the schools where I had been before and Chile College was sharp indeed. But the buildings were really in a very poor shape."

"What was the matter with the buildings?"

"Listen, only some weeks before, a terrible earthquake had shaken all the area where the College is located, and the boys' dormitory, three stories high, was reduced to only one."

"Did the brethren find a solution to this problem?"

"Yes, in a certain way. In the summer of 1941, they erected a provisional dormitory, made of wood and plaster. It is a small building, with room scarcely for 150 pupils. As you see, the provisional dorm has lasted twenty-seven years . . ."

"Though the buildings were then as you say, what would your testimony be, nevertheless, about the influence of Chile College in your life?"

"It was my second home. The teachers, the fellow students, the worship hours, the classes, the soul-winning endeavours, everything contributed to affirm in me the purpose to dedicate my life to service. As a worker, I owe to this institution my preparation."

Yes, dear Sabbath School members, Chile College badly needs to replace its twenty-seven-year old youth's dorm, which has become completely inadequate to receive the young people wishing to get a Christian education to prepare themselves to be workers in the Lord's Vineyard.

We could say similar words about the girls' dorm of the Espirito Santo Academy and the Auditorium of the Northeast College, both in Brazil.

These three institutions thank you in advance for your generosity next 13th Sabbath, June 28, 1969.

God bless you as you give liberally for His cause.

Youthful Baker Invests

One of the greatest yearnings felt by many urbanites today is for a thick slice of fresh-from-the-oven homemade bread. In catering to this hunger, a Halifax youth has found an interesting investment project.

Seventeen-year-old Brian Hiscock is in the 11th grade at Queen Elizabeth High School. Investment leader in the Sabbath School Youth Division, he is really "mixing things up" and making considerable "dough" in the process!

As for finding customers—well, who needs much crust to sell home-baked bread? The line forms on the left, please!

Brian is a shrewd investor. His flour is purchased in 100-lb. sacks, and his bakery facilities are provided rent-free! Already more than $10.00 profit has been realized, and the youthful baker has just begun to turn on the heat. However, a few of his weight-conscious customers are finding themselves confronted with a hopelessness that is both complete and blissful!

Brian Hiscock

Sabbath School Investment in Canada is definitely on the upswing, with enthusiastic reports coming in from the West, and projects like Brian Hiscock's rising from the Yeast!

THE UNANSWERED PRAYER

I prayed, and praying wondered why
I felt no peace of soul or mind,
I said "Can God so pass me by?"
(Unanswered prayer seemed so unkind.)

And then one day it came to me
That I was asking God to do
Things for myself so selfishly,
As though no other soul I knew.

I changed my prayer, and asked that I Might help some soul in misery,
And, oh, the peace of God on high
That came into the soul of me!

Bayview School Open House

(MRS.) YVONNE JOHNSON, Teacher

Lethbridge, Nfld.

The afternoon of Thursday, March 6 was Open House at Bay-View School at Lethbridge, Newfoundland.

Although the day was cloudy and cold, many parents and friends came to visit the three schoolrooms and sit in on classes. At the close of school, adults and children met together and were welcomed by the principal, Mr. Frank Johnson. They were also informed of plans for the addition of two new classrooms which will be ready for use this coming school year. This means that Kindergarten and grade IX will be offered.

An interesting film was then shown which closed the programme for the afternoon. Many parents expressed to the teachers how much they enjoyed visiting the different classes and how much education has changed since the days of the "Little Red Schoolhouse."

CLEAR LAKE CAMP MEETING — July 16-19. Visiting speakers to be announced later.

Tisdale and Nipawin Churches Join for Baptismal Service

PASTOR D. R. GODSOE

Sabbath, April 12, church members from Tisdale and Nipawin joined together once more at the Nipawin Church for another crusade baptism.

Three more precious souls were baptized to signify their desire to walk with God's remnant people in these closing days of earth's history. When they lived in Quill Lake Mrs. Alma Korback and her daughter Evelyn were first started on the White Bible programme by Brother and Sister Mike Olynick. Shortly after, however, they moved to the Tisdale area and Pastor Godsoe continued the programme with them. It was a happy day when Evelyn was able to receive her white Bible diploma on the day of her baptism. Mrs. Korback is presently finishing the last few lessons and plans to receive her diploma soon. Here again we see the importance of the laity and ministry working together to finish God's work. Thank you for your part in leading these people into the truth, Brother and Sister Olynick.

Mrs. Slobodian, who is a widow lady, along with her two children drove sixty miles to come to the meetings and now drives that distance each week to come to Sabbath School and church. Surely God will reward the dedication of these faithful people.

Elder N. J. Matiko spoke at the morning worship hour following the baptism after which we all enjoyed a fellowship dinner together. In the afternoon, Elder Matiko again spoke to us on "kindness." Our members enjoyed his messages in sermon and song. Thus came to a close another wonderful Sabbath in the experience of our believers. May God richly bless our faithful people in Tisdale and Nipawin.

Melville Church Baptism

PASTOR JOHN W. POPOWICH, Conference Evangelist

Sabbath, May 3, was a high day for the Melville Church. Close to two hundred visitors and members filled the Melville Church to overflowing as they witnessed the baptism of eight precious souls.

Pastor Stan Gallant, Crusade Director, welcomed the people to worship. John W. Popowich, Crusade Evangelist, challenged the listeners to walk with, and also to follow in the footsteps of Jesus. A duet sung by Edwin Appudoray and Evangeline Shipowick directed our thoughts to that True Shepherd.

As the appeal was made, Frank McMiller, director of music for the Crusade, sang, "I Walked Today Where Jesus Walked". Mrs. Dianne McMiller accompanied her husband at the piano.

Tears of joy (tears of victory) of deep conviction, flowed freely throughout the congregation as the appeal was made and the candidates came forward. Pastor Steve Yaceyko, assisting in the crusade, briefly reviewed the doctrines of the church with the candidates.

On invitation by the Evangelist, others stood to their feet requesting baptism on May 24. Others are requesting further studies.

Truly God's spirit is moving upon the hearts of the men, women and youth in Melville, Saskatchewan. Remember us in your prayers.

History and Dedication of the Lethbridge Church In Alberta

The dedication of the Lethbridge "Chapel of Chimes" Church, on May 10, 1969, was truly a high day in the experience of the eighty-two members of this congregation. To raise the necessary $85,000.00 was indeed a commendable achievement and a testimony to the guidance and blessing of God. This beautiful and serviceable building, originally intended for a funeral chapel, is situated in a desirable area of the city near a prominent thoroughfare. Providentially, it became available when a new church home was needed and purchased at a figure below the original building cost.

From information available, the development of our church work in Lethbridge began in 1924 with the organization of a Sabbath School of seven members. This was held in the home of Mrs.

Pitt at 633 -5th Street South and later at the Barrington home. From here the meetings were moved to rented quarters on 5th Street South. In 1928, after a series of evangelistic meetings were held by Elder A. Johnson, the growing congregation was formally organized into a church body. A church was built on the corner of 5th Avenue and 13th Street S. which served until 1965. Inspiration to provide a new and more representative church home began in 1962 with the arrival of Pastor and Mrs. A. E. Anderson from Southern Asian mission service and during their terms of service, the Chapel of Chimes was purchased. During two years of service by Elder and Mrs. E. M. Mathers, the greater portion of the indebtedness was reduced. When Elder and Mrs. C. C. Wessman arrived in August of 1968, $22,000.00 needed to be raised to obtain a clear title. This has now been realized by the sale of some property and the united sacrifice of the membership.

The dedicatory service is given in picture form.

Mayor A. C. Anderson of Lethbridge brought greetings from the City and congratulated the congregation for an outstanding achievement.

Elder A. W. Kaytor, President of the Alberta Conference, gave the morning worship service and led out in the Act of Dedication.

In his dedicatory sermon, Elder J. W. Bothe, President of the Canadian Union Conference, stressed that throughout the history of the church God has had a people ready to move forward when the hour of opportunity struck.

Special Sabbath Services for Three Churches of the Vegreville District

By RAY R. DEVNICH, District Pastor

On Sabbath, April 19, a "high day" was experienced by the members of the three churches in the pastoral district of Ray R. Devnich. Elder A. W. Kaytor, President of the Alberta Conference, challenged the joint congregations of the Innisfree, Vegreville and Vermillion Churches at the worship hour to climb successfully "Jacob's Ladder" via Five Steps to Salvation. After meeting the candidates personally at a noon luncheon, Elder Kaytor greeted, instructed, and baptized four precious souls into the Church at a three o'clock service in Vegreville.

A growing Bible-in-the-Hand programme centered mainly in the Innisfree, Lavoy, Minburn, Ranfurly, and Vegreville areas indicate more than forty persons are now studying and responding to the guide sheets as they are visited weekly by the members of the church. Although the Bible-in-the-Hand programme has been in operation only during 1969, interests already indicate possible results by later this year. The faithful dedication of the rank and file church member in such a programme as this will be the determining factor of its success. These devoted individuals are to be commended for their continuing hard work.

Members and guests alike were inspired and had their faith strengthened at a nine-meeting Spiritual Emphasis Crusade held in the Vegreville Church at the end of March. "The Old Book in a New Dimension" represented the purpose and theme of the speaker, Pastor Devnich.

Church Sign

Vegreville Church sign drew attention of public and has led to new relations in the town.

Fresh from their own spiritual feast, members of the Innisfree and Vegreville churches combined efforts to cover these two towns and the surrounding area with literature both in the English and Ukrainian languages, which contained enrolment cards for the Bible-in-the-Hand studies. The literature campaign is divided into three blitz efforts. The first was done in February, the second followed near the end of March, and the third and final is now imminent.

Hardly had Brother Peter Werezuk of the Vegreville Church begun work at the time of the first literature blitz than he met Brother Kyu Ho Ha of Korea. Brother Ha had come to Vegreville two months prior but as yet had not come in contact with a member nor had learned of the presence of a church. Brother Ha attends church regularly and all concerned reiterate the value of door to door visitation.

Public and personal response to the Five-day-stop-Smoking Plan indicates concern and the value placed on this programme. Of the three Plans conducted in this district, three requested that the programme be repeated. All persons registered in Vermillion were successful in "kicking the habit". Twenty-one of the twenty-eight registered participants of the Vegreville clinic were successful in stopping smoking, and none of these with whom we have been able to keep in contact have returned to smoking. We feel that this public service is of inestimable value in presenting a favourable image of the church before the public.

There was a 100% turnout for the annual Stettler Church business meeting. It was reported that this was the largest group ever to attend a church business meeting in Stettler.

With the end in sight, the members all feel the need of organizing the whole church for more effective service. The large attendance indicated the interest shown in the work of the church.

On Sabbath January 18, a lovely group of children were dedicated to the Lord.

These children and their parents were dedicated to the great task of living and preaching the Good News of Salvation! The children that were dedicated were: Jerry Anderson, Shelly Anderson, Angela Bownes, Martin Bownes, Ronald Fredrich, Sharon Grovet and Callie Grovet.

Ecumenical Service Held at Beiseker

On Sunday evening March 30, 1969 the St. Mary's Roman Catholic Church at Beiseker, Alberta was host to more than 250 people representing the following churches: Roman Catholic, United Brethren, United Church, Lutheran, Mennonite, Anglican, and Seventh-day Adventist.

Brief expositions by Father John McNamee, Roman Catholic, Everett Morrison, United Church, and Udo Worschech, Seventh-day Adventist Church on the theme "Called to Freedom", and hymns sung by the congregation, choir numbers, solos, and a voluntary prayer period made this evening a very interesting and inspiring one.

Certainly, Seventh-day Adventists will never agree to suggestions asking them to give up their precious truths, but we should now take every God-given opportunity to make friends with those around us of different faiths. For the love and friendliness that we have shown will cause many to take their stand for the remnant church in the coming controversy.

After the service, people expressed their gratitude to the speakers for their words of encouragement. One elderly lady who had visited the Rosebud Seventh-day Adventist Church before on different occasions said, "I am so glad that you have come out this one time to visit my church too".

The madonna statues and the saints' images in the Catholic church were covered with sacks of purple linen matching the interior walls of the church.

Federal and Municipal Leaders in Ottawa Take Deep Interest in Five-day Plan

By ALEX RAMSAY, Pastor Ottawa District

The Five-day Plan to stop smoking has caught the attention of Federal and Municipal leaders in the Nation's capital, and who knows what may happen now—hopefully great things!

Federal leaders in the Government's Department of Health and Welfare have been watching with keen interest the Seventh-day Adventist Stop Smoking Plan. Mr. O. D. Lewis, who is the key man in the department's "Smoking and Health" programme, attended the last Five-day Plan held in Ottawa March 30 - April 3.

To state it simply, he was more than impressed; he was excited. With his able assistance a weekly follow-up programme was inaugurated, the lack of which has been a serious defect in our past plans. But the best was yet to come. During the plan we mentioned our desire to conduct a stop-smoking plan once each month with weekly follow-up meetings between programmes. But we lamented the fact that a shortage of finances and the difficulty in scheduling films was a present hurdle that stood in our way. Unknown to us, Mr. Lewis was listening very carefully and doing some planning of which we were unaware.

Mr. Lewis is also a director of the Ottawa-Carleton T.B. and Respiratory Disease Association, and was singing our praises at their meetings as well as making some important suggestions. You can imagine my utter amazement when one morning Mr. Lewis telephoned and said, "Pastor, the T.B. Association has voted to purchase all of the films that you need for your Five-day Plan. They will be yours with no strings attached. Secondly, we will pay you $100.00 per programme to cover the cost of advertising and other materials. Thirdly, we have made arrangements with the Royal Ottawa Hospital to make available without cost an adequate room whenever you want it. Fourthly, we are in the process of acquiring a Public Health Nurse to visit factories, et cetera, in the city, warning the employees against the dangers of smoking and they will direct the smokers to your clinic." I could not believe what I was hearing and replied, "But Mr. Lewis, the films alone will cost approximately $1,600.00." "No problem at all, Pastor," he quickly said. Needless to say, the films have been ordered.

In a subsequent telephone conversation Mr. Lewis indicated that in his visit to a meeting of the Directors of all the T.B. Associations in Ontario he would strongly recommend that Seventh-day Adventists be contacted and supported in their Five-day Plans.

What might this mean? It might mean that if we are prepared and willing, God will open doors in this Union that will place His people in the spotlight of Community Health Service. Now is the time! We must not fail!

The three churches in the Townships of Quebec were afforded a real treat when on Sabbath, April 26, they met at the United Church in Waterloo to welcome Pastor Don Aldridge, MV Secretary of the Ontario-Quebec Conference, and four very talented students from Kingsway College.

These young folk, with their leader, Pastor Aldridge, had complete charge of the services for the day. Miss Lorna Ikachuk, ably conducted the Sabbath School, and together with Orville Parchment led out in the lesson study.

The eleven o'clock service was taken by Wendell Forde who gave evidence of great potential in the work of the ministry.

At 3:00 p.m. we enjoyed the discourse by Pastor Aldridge, his subject being, "Speak a Word in Season." He also gave many interesting experiences gleaned from his five years in the mission field.

Another added pleasure during the afternoon was the arrival, by chartered bus, of the choir and others from the Montreal Church. This talented group of singers added much to the spirit of the meetings.

At 4:30, after a rousing sing-song led by Brother Douglas of the Montreal

Church, we enjoyed slides of Burma and Singapore shown by Pastor Aldridge.

At 7:30 Pastor Earl Parchment of the Montreal Church gave a most inspiring address on "Prepare to Meet Thy God." The public had been invited to hear this lecture.

During the day, Brother Whalley called the young folk of the district together, and an MV group was organized for the Townships, with the following named as sponsors, representing the three churches: Mr. and Mrs. M. McElroy—South Stukely; Mr. and Mrs. E. Gladden—Abercorn; Mr. and Mrs. T. Zaffis—Waterville. MV leader—Harold Dingman; assistant leaders—Gay Biggs and Daphne Powers; secretary—Wendy Wilson; assistant secretary—Carol Thurston.

Calvin Donnelly, the soloist from Oshawa, gave us great enjoyment by his rendering of several well-known selections at each service throughout the day. This was truly a delightful programme sponsored by a fine representation from Kingsway College. We were fortunate to have with us Brother Van Diamond, musical director of the regional school, to provide pipe organ music.

The Montreal English Church continues to reap results from the combination of the Gift Bible Study Plan and the evangelistic meetings held by Pastor Roy Adams.

A second baptism was held on April 19, 1969 by Pastor E. J. Parchment, adding six more souls to our church and bringing our membership to well over the three hundred mark.

Eight more individuals received diplomas for having completed the Gift

Sixty-one Souls Added to the Church During Rutland-Kelowna-Winfield Crusade

By C. DALE BRUSETT, B.C. Conference Evangelist

It didn't just happen. Some churches go year after year with seldom anyone in the baptismal pool. Some Christians have never experienced the joy of bringing a soul to Jesus. What then brought about the working of the Holy Spirit to produce such a plenteous harvest at Rutland-Kelowna-Winfield?

To be sure the Pastor must have an understanding of the most important work given by God to the Church. "We are nearing the close of this earth's history. We have before us a great work, . . . the closing work of giving the last warning message to a sinful world." Gospel Workers, p. 36. The Servant of the Lord tells us that we must make soul-winning our first work. We must not be idle or neglectful in sharing our faith. Tomorrow may be too late. It is the last hour of earth's history.

In the Kelowna - Rutland - Winfield

Stacks of Bibles had to be cared for during the Crusade. Thanks to the ladies who worked so faithfully on this important phase of the Crusade.

Churches Pastor W. W. Rogers has zealously directed a strong soul-winning programme. The lay activities leaders with consecration and determination have challenged the church members to win souls to Christ. And over and over again I was reminded, as I sat in the homes of interested people, of the importance of the work of the layman. A layman had been taking the Signs of the Times to that home. Or a layman had loaned or given a book. A layman had left a gift Bible and was studying the lessons with them each week. A layman had prayed in that home. I would say that at least 95 percent of the converts reaped at Kelowna-Rutland-Winfield were the result of active laymen's participation.

I was also deeply inspired by the consecration and labours of Pastor Fred Wagner, a retired minister who seemed not retired at all. I was amazed to see the number of Bible studies he and his wife were giving. Some of these made decisions and were baptized. It was good also to see how the school teachers in co-operation with the Pastor directed the young people toward a definite decision for Christ. I appreciated too, Pastor Nick Trynchuk coming all the way from Penticton when time permitted to work with some of the Ukranian interests. As we all laboured together we saw God's blessing. We rejoiced together with tears of joy and thanksgiving to our God.

We of the evangelistic team realize that we are only a few and can't do very much unless the whole church is part of the team. We had a feeling at the Rutland-Kelowna-Winfield Crusade that it was one big team. Pastors and their wives, teachers, laymen, and evangelists all working and praying together. The Prophetess of the Lord says we are to press together, pray together, and labour together and the Gospel will soon be finished. A special thank you to Miss Lila Paul for her evangelistic children's programme, and to pastors Vern Snow and Howard Homenchuk and their wives for their untiring labours. And for the ushers who kept everything moving, for the one at the projector, and the one at the controls who also kept the baptismal water ready, and for the ladies who served faithfully at the Bibles. Thank you so much. Men may not have noticed your labours but you can be sure that angels of heaven stood beside you.

Pastor C. Dale Brusett baptizes a lady late one night after the meeting because of severe family opposition.

God did give us many thrilling victories didn't He? Like the young Catholic lady who was baptized late one night after the congregation had gone home. The opposition from her family was so strong we felt it was better to do it alone. After the baptism as the few of us who remained knelt with that courageous convert beside the baptismal pool at the altar of the Lord, I am sure that our tears told the story of our hearts . . . that even this one soul would have been worth it all. But the sixty-one others who were baptized or joined the church by profession of faith were also just as precious. There is another baptism planned for next Sabbath. Another miracle of grace. The work of the saving of souls must not stop for Jesus is coming soon. May each one of us hear the call of heaven "Prepare ye the way of the Lord."

Pastor W. W. Rogers baptizing one of the candidates.

From the

Log of the "Northern Light"

(Mrs.) CLYDE GILDERSLEEVE

Snow was still deep on the wharf and floats when we moved on to the Northern Light the first week in February. Everything had to be carried down the long wharf . . . projector, screen, films, books, clothes, groceries, et cetera. As we pushed through the ice to get out of the bay we were glad for the iron bark sheathing on the boat.

The eventual destination of this first voyage was Sidney at the southern end of Vancouver Island where, at the Rest-Haven Church, the annual Workers' Meeting was to be held. While at this meeting the Conference ministers and guest speakers were able to inspect the ship and have a short ride on it. Many members of the Victoria and Rest Haven Churches also came aboard to see the mission ship.

The interesting and inspiring time at Workers' Meeting was all too short and we were soon headed north again, across Georgia Strait (which was surprisingly calm for that time of year) up the mainland shore and through the islands. In a little over three weeks we were back, having attended the meetings, held four services (one by request in a church of another denomination), gave several Bible studies, made calls in eight or nine ports, had 23 people aboard for meals, distributed 105 garments and 40 pieces of literature.

The work at home base is growing. Several additional families are planning to move to Port Hardy in the near future. Indeed three are already having homes built. Plans are going ahead for a church building. Because rich mine deposits have been found in the vicinity, Port Hardy may grow rapidly in the near future. The school principal was telling us that they may have 500 additional children by the fall term. We are glad to have had the Northern Light based here to help open up this new district and establish a work before such an influx of people.

Our next trip was across Queen Charlotte Sound to GMG logging camp and the Watcher Isle (floating) Church. The folks there were very glad for our visit after their long winter of isolation. We held several services and visited each family. The ladies put several boxes of good clothing on board for distribution where needed.

Elder J. C. Hansen, (right) president of the Alaska Mission, spent some time at Port Hardy inspecting the Northern Light and discussing the merits of the vessel with Skipper Gildersleeve. It is the plan to build a similar vessel for the work on the coast of southeastern Alaska.

On March 25, E. F. White, Secretary-treasurer of the British Columbia Conference, arrived at Port Hardy by plane. He held an evening meeting with the Port Hardy company then very early the next morning boarded the Northern Light and we headed for Bella Coola. An interesting stop on the way was at the Addenbrooke Lighthouse where the two families congregated on the landing platform when they saw the Northern Light approaching. When we had anchored they let down their small boat and in several trips the head keeper ferried them onto the boat where they visited for some time. A family of eight were glad to accept some children's clothing that we had on board. Signs, Little Friend, and Primary Treasure were also given. They prevailed on us to go ashore which we gladly did but as it is a poor anchorage we could not leave the Northern Light very long.

One of our isolated members, J. T. Rendle, a commercial fisherman (as are several of our Marine district brethren) lives in Rivers Inlet. Mr. Rendle appreciates the visit of the Northern Light.

This winter, on the British Columbia coast, the weather had been the worst in many years and severe conditions at Bella Coola had prevented the company there from meeting in church as a group for some time. They were very glad to have us come and particularly appreciative that a Conference worker was with us. Brother White audited the books there and held several services. We appreciated Brother Robison lending us his pick-up truck for the weekend so we could get around and visit the homes of our company there.

During the winter there has been four house fires (non-members) at Bella Coola with loss of life and property. From the Northern Light help was given to each of these families.

Mr. J. S. Rekhi of Delhi, India, came aboard the Northern Light to ask questions about our work. He plans to write a book about the British Columbia coast. An article of his, "A Sikh Discovers America" is in the National Geographic Magazine of October 1964. Mr. Rekhi is acquainted with the work of Seventh-day Adventists in India. He gladly accepted the Signs and a copy of Seventh-day Adventists in Canada.

The next stop was at GMG Logging camp where Brother White audited the treasurer's books of the Watcher Isle Church and also held an interesting meeting. We were held up next day in Smith Inlet by one of the fierce equinoctial gales we often have in March. As Brother White had a very tight schedule we phoned for a plane to take him to Port Hardy but all the aircraft were grounded by the storm. However, we were on our way before five the next morning and got to Port Hardy in time for Brother White to finish auditing the Port Hardy church treasurer's books, on which he had been working during the trip, and still get the evening flight to Vancouver.

We certainly did enjoy having Brother White on board the Northern Light. It was a great encouragement to each of our northern companies to have him visit them and give them information and advice on the business of the church. Incidentally he was a very good sailor!

We left right away for the Powell River area where we spent two weeks visiting and holding services. We found quite a number of people in this area are taking an interest in the It Is Written programme.

Sharon Lambert was baptized in a quiet little bay on Read Island. The Surge Narrows group witnessed the ceremony from the deck of the Northern Light. Pastor E. L. Stewart officiated. A week later Eric Thorn was baptized on the shore at Port Hardy.

Wedding

KNELLER-KANDT

A wedding of wide interest took place in the Williams Lake SDA Church on April 6, when Esther Kandt, nursing instructor of the Portland Sanitarium and Hospital, was married to Herman Kneller of Williams Lake.

Given in marriage by her brother, Dr. Robert Kandt of Kennewick, Washington, the bride was attended by three of her nieces, Jeanne Reising, Maureen and Deborah White. Flower girl was Karen Kerr, niece of the groom. Attending the groom as best men were Raymond Kerr, Harold Ferster and Terry Smith. Mrs. Bill Kerr, sister of the groom, was pianist, with soloist, Raymond Kerr, nephew of the groom.

A reception held in the Legion Hall was attended by 300 guests. After a honeymoon-vacation, the Knellers will establish their home in Williams Lake.

"Total" in the Langley Church

KEITH DEARING, District Leader

Too often the youth complain there is nothing to do. . . The youth of the Langley Church in British Columbia have done something rather than complain of nothing to do. They have had a lot of fun doing it too. ALL YOUTH WANT TO HAVE FUN!

What do they do?

Let us refer to the past, first. Last winter there was a lot of snow in the Fraser Valley, snow drifts like we had never seen before. Many of the older members found themselves completely unable to handle the snow removal problem for their sidewalks and driveways. The Youth Group went from home to home of these people to shovel driveways. Of course they threw snowballs and washed each other's faces with snow too! It would not have been a success otherwise, now would it? The old folk were jubilant, so were the youth. "Total."

What else?

Music. The youth have developed their own musical group. . . its great too. They've played for almost every Sabbath School in the Fraser Valley. They visit the old folks home too. Everybody enjoys it. "Total."

What else?

"Platter parties." Occasionally the youth come together on Sabbath afternoon to cut and trim Christmas cards for members abroad in the mission lands, or a similar activity. They bring their sacred records and have a "platter party." "Total."

What else?

The Youth Group rent the big high school auditorium about once a month for a gym night. It's great . . . even some of the older folk come out and they help to pay for it too, as well as to enjoy the games and volleyball. "Total."

The Youth Group is now preparing lecture material for Canadian Temperance Society meetings. They are going to demonstrate "Smoking Sam" and cigarette poisons to the community in speaking appointments. This is a "Total" programme . . . Past, Present, Future . . . This is a "Total" programme for the spiritual, mental and physical needs.

May God help all of us to improve our circumstances to the glory of God.

The Langley youth enjoy Sabbath activity at a "Platter Party," that is listening to sacred record albums.

Top Car raised $137.50. Pictured are a part of a group of Chinese students who canvassed the Chinese restaurants and grocery stores in the City of Edmonton. Two groups raised $230.50.

A new record was set when the majority of the students of Canadian Union College went out on April 23rd, on their annual Spring Ingathering Field Day. Approximately 75 car loads of students gathered in $2,460.00. They covered thousands of square miles of farming territory to collect these funds.

The Ingathering Field Day was directed by Mr. Curtis Johnson, a third year theology student, along with the assistance of the Theology Department Heads.

The morning dawned with showers and hopes for a great day dwindled, and it was announced that Ingathering would have to wait for a better day. Many of the students felt they should go anyway in spite of the rain. By 7:30 a.m. the sun was streaking through the clouds and the go ahead was given to the delight of the student body. Enthusiasm again was felt all over the campus, as students took their sack lunches and boarded cars for the day's work.

Many people will benefit from this self-sacrificing work by these students and faculty. Adventists, young and old, are always willing to meet the challenge and do their part. Congratulations to the Canadian Union College faculty and student body for a great work in Ingathering.

Late into the evening, the funds had to be counted and taken care of as the students arrived back on campus.
