

Enrollment Smashes Five-Year Record

Enrollment Exceeds Last Year by Ninety-Seven

Wallenkampf gets B.D.

Elder A. V. Wallenkampf, chairman of the religion department, was awarded a Bachelor of Divinity degree from the Seventh-day Adventist Theological Seminary at Washington, D.C., in August.

A. V. Wallenkampf

Elder Wallenkampf was born in Sweden. His father, Elder J. Wallenkampf, one of Union College's first teachers, taught in the Swedish department three years. A graduate of Newbold Missionary College near Rugby, England, Elder Wallenkampf came to America in 1940. He graduated from Emmanuel Missionary College, and received a Master of Arts degree at the Seminary in 1944, with a major in church history. Further graduate study was done at the University of Nebraska and the Seminary, where he spent a year's leave of absence from the Union College faculty.

He joined the Union College religion staff in 1946.

UC President Conveys

Message to Students

Once again Union College opens its doors to a large group of young people. This, the sixty-fourth year of the history of our college, marks an increased enrollment surpassing last year's record by one hundred students.

Many thousands of young people have had the advantages of a Christian education at Union in these many years, and, as the result, young people with outstanding leadership have been trained to fill positions of responsibility all over the world.

These same opportunities are yours today.

I do want to appeal in a special way to our fine student body to make the very most and best out of the school year that lies before us. From a scholastic viewpoint let us make greater attainments than ever before, and from a social viewpoint make this school year all that it should be in harmony with the standards and policies under which this college has been established, and most of all from a spiritual viewpoint reach the heights that are available to each of us through Christ Jesus, the Master Educator.

May we take as a slogan for this school year the following: "Make your student life as perfect as possible. You will pass over the way but once. And it rests with you yourself whether your work shall be a success or a failure." T Vol. 7, p. 275.

Annual Reception Acquaints Freshman Class With Students and Faculty-Staff

Scores of formal-clad students and faculty met in the college auditorium for the annual reception Saturday night, September 18, 1954. Dean Monte Culver emceed the "handshake" program after the reception line had received the freshmen and new students. Speakers of the evening were Ralph Watts, Martha Gist, Gordon McMaude, and Dr. E. N. Dick, research professor of history.

Ralph Watts, president of the Student Association, welcomed the student body and another special "We're glad you're here" was presented by Martha Gist. Gordon McMaude, from Des Moines, Iowa, responded for the freshmen.

Trumpet trio Don Madison, Vincent Mitzelfelt, and Louis Johnson played "Beautiful Dreamer," accompanied by Marvel Jensen. The Academy Quartet, Harold Reeder, Art Dick, Byron Moe, and George Newmyer sang "Clancy Lowered the Boom" and closed the program with "The Halls of Ivy."

Dr. Dick's speech, "Traditions of Old Union," probably set the older Unionites reminiscing, and several freshmen remarked that the present way of life seems to be a great improvement.

Dr. Dick recalled the days when a regular mail route existed, via lowered strings, between the inhabitants of the boys' and girls' floors of old South hall. The "calling hour," which was allowed once a week, lasted only thirty minutes. (Proper etiquette called for a termination of the visit at least ten minutes before the regulation time was over.)

Students could never go unchaperoned, or sit beside members of the opposite sex. Once, an ingenious method was devised to allay a strict regulation, that of no physical contact with the opposite sex. Fellows asked if they might help young ladies learn to skate if they wore gloves. This request was refused, so they adopted the use of three-foot sticks.

"Nevertheless," the doctor said, "those first students were not supermen, and yet that student generation produced leaders who made their influence felt around the world in our work." He reminded the audience of the struggle which Union's pioneers had sixty-three years ago to establish the college.

"You have chosen to become a Unionite. It is a great fraternity, a great opportunity to become a lady or a gentleman in the full sense of the word. May each of you make the most of this great opportunity which has come to each of us—that of belonging to the brotherhood of the finest college in the world—dear old Union."

SA President Ralph Watts demonstrates the versatility of the new spotlight, last year's project of the Student Association.

Lines of students, resignedly waiting, wind through the Administration building as Union College opens its doors to a five-year record enrollment.

Station 3 in the Registrar's office is busy as students get instructions on courses.

Seven hundred sixty-nine students enrolled for classes at Union College last week. "This number exceeds by ninety-seven the opening enrollment for first semester last year," Miss Marie Anderson, registrar, announced.

CT Competes With SDA College Publications For ACPA Press Award

The Clock Tower has joined Union's sister colleges in competing for the Adventist Collegiate Press Association's award for excellence in journalism. Editor Don Dick announced to his staff at the initial editorial staff meeting that the Clock Tower has renewed its membership in the ACPA for the 1954-55 school year and is aiming for the highest standard of journalism possible.

The Adventist Collegiate Press Association correspondent for this year is Marvin Stephens, who, as a member of the CT staff, will furnish information to ACPA for the CT and will work closely with the public relations secretary for the college.

Last year The College Criterion of La Sierra College walked off with the prized trophy, a silver loving cup. Editor Art Sutton, a former Union College student, received the award at one of the final chapel exercises of the spring semester.

A second or "runner-up" award will be made this year as well as the first award for excellence, ACPA headquarters have announced. This was decided when judges last spring saw the close scoring possible among Adventist college papers.

The Adventist Collegiate Press Association came into being nearly two years ago at the request of the officers of Student Associations of nine Adventist colleges meeting in workshop at Emmanuel Missionary College. Its headquarters are in the Bureau of Public Relations of the General Conference at Washington, D.C.

Nebraska's 1954-55 enrollment is 128; 157 registered from Nebraska last year. Colorado and Minnesota, 1953-54 top states with Nebraska, retain their leads this year with eighty and seventy students, respectively.

The total enrollment for all of last year was 780; therefore, UC registration will surpass last year's complete total in the first semester.

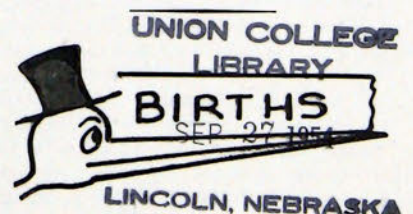

The greatest gain in enrollment is in the Freshman class, where 359 are enrolled, as compared to last year's total of 316. Other class enrollments are: Senior, 80; Junior, 101; and Sophomore, 182. Forty-seven students are listed as unclassified, adult special, or post graduate.

The Clinical campus at Boulder and Denver, Colorado accounts for sixty-six students. This is a drop from last year's eighty-six.

Twenty-nine students are registered from eleven foreign countries: South Africa, Colombia, British Guiana, Puerto Rico, Cuba, Canada, Mexico, Canal Zone, Korea, British West Indies, Germany, and Malaya.

The record for enrollment at Union College was set in the school year of 1947-1948, when 1,056 students attended.

This year's enrollment is the highest since 1948-49.

Let's Face It!

What to Look for in the Clock Tower

This paper is published by the students of Union College and is the official publication of the school. About one-fourth of the circulation is on the campus.

With this brief preface it is quite obvious there are more than the ordinary journalistic limitations present; therefore, the editors have chosen to inform you, the reader (we hope) of this paper, of our limitations and then of our goals and aims that you may better understand the function of this paper from the editorial standpoint and appreciate it more. We are not making excuses for ourselves, but as is our goal, we are attempting to give the reader, as Sgt. Friday puts it, "The facts, just the facts."

First of all, it must be recognized that this is the official voice of Union College, and that means students and staff—not merely the students or the staff. What's good for Union College is good for you. We cannot nor would not make this paper a place to air the dirty clothes of the Union College family. This paper will take neither the position of the "muck racker" nor the optimistic eternal "glad-hander." We shall be realistic and face the facts. While not taking the roll of a crusader, we shall attempt to make Union College a better place and Unionites more worthy of the name which implies so much at "The College of the Golden Cords."

Two broad goals are ours in the general makeup and tone of the paper and the editorial columns: 1. harmonious efficiency in Christian education, and 2. a thinking college—both students and staff.

It should be quite obvious to everybody that what is good for Union College is good for you—no matter who you are! It shall then be a general policy of this publication to promote and back anything deemed beneficial to "The College on the Hill" and anything that comes under the heading of progress. To be more specific, we shall strive for increased efficiency in operation, supervision, administration, instruction, the physical plant, and all the many other phases of a busy Christian liberal arts college.

Our second objective, to create and maintain a THINKING student body, is considered by this paper to be one of the most important factors in a college education. The number of non-thinking graduates each year is astounding! It shall be our aim to promote anything that will aid in reaching the all important essential training of the leaders our college sends out into God's vineyard for the harvest.

Nuffed!

Bouquets to:

Jerry McGill who chose rather to suffer the anxieties of an evangelistic series of meetings at Quincy, California, than to enjoy the pleasures at Union College for a semester. Seriously though, Jerry has chosen to stay in the "Golden West" for a semester assisting Pastor Clifford Mulvihill in a series of evangelistic meetings. The singing evangelist at the Quincy Bible Auditorium is the same Jerry (ex-sideburns) McGill who spent the summer with the Lee Summit Mountain Boys laboring for the U.S. Forest Service. Success to you Jerry, the kind that followed the man who inspired the paraphrased quotation.

Miss Anderson who has done a terrific job the past two weeks in getting the largest student body in five years enrolled and has managed to keep her smile through to the end.

There's room to improve:

The method of electing freshmen students to the important Student Association Committees, namely, Nominations and Elections and Student-Staff Council. The average freshman who comes to Union College from one of the nine academies serving the UC area probably knows only his own senior class members of last year and perhaps ten other freshmen he has met since coming to Union this fall. Did this properly qualify him to vote, or for that matter nominate, intelligently and competently? We think not! We do not advocate waiting until the semester is half over and a few more names are learned. These important committees should neither be deprived of hearing the new students' reaction nor should they have to be postponed until much valuable time has past. The answer may be a short term office on these committees of perhaps nine weeks with the elected representatives eligible for re-election and unsatisfactory or absent representatives replaced by more informed freshmen voters. On the other hand, campaigning for the offices may be the best course; at least these committees would be blessed with prompt attention, and interested members.

CME OFFICIALS RELATE MEDICAL EDUCATION PROGRESS IN US

Critics of the medical profession who have been wildly claiming an alleged shortage of doctors and a scarcity of teaching facilities will find no comfort in the latest annual report on medical education in the United States, say officials at the College of Medical Evangelists at Loma Linda and Los Angeles, California.

CME president W. E. Macpherson points to a report by the American Medical Association that tells a story of continued progress and expansion to produce an ever-increasing supply of well-trained physicians dedicated to the welfare of their patients. Among the highlights:

—The number of doctors is at a record low ratio of one for every 730 persons, a proportion exceeded only by Israel, which has an abnormal number of refugee physicians.

—The nation's medical schools have record total enrollments and graduating classes and the largest freshman class.

—Ten new four-year medical schools are scheduled to begin operation within the next five to six years, and three more are under consideration.

The expansion bears out the opinion of many medical education experts that the big problem in the near future may be a shortage of well-qualified applicants rather than a shortage of teaching facilities.

Young people will be interested to know that only 21 per cent of the freshmen entering medical school last fall had "A" averages in their pre-medical studies, 69 per cent had "B" averages and 10 per cent had "C" averages. In other words, they do not have to be "grinds," bookworms, or Phi Beta Kappas to get into medical school. Most young people who have the character and a sincere desire to serve their fellowmen as physicians have an excellent chance of entering medical school.

After Graduation

Dr. and Mrs. R. E. Hoen (Winnie Hunt), '13 and '07, visited with friends at the college over Sabbath, September 11, while en route to Canada on vacation. Dr. Hoen is now retired after serving many years on the staff at Pacific Union College as head of the chemistry department.

Samuel DeShay, '54, an accomplished musician of Columbus, Ohio, gave an organ and piano recital, August 14, at the Ethnow Temple Church at Pittsburg, Pennsylvania. Mr. DeShay enrolled this fall with twelve of his classmates at the College of Medical Evangelists.

Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Christianson (Margaret Miller), '30 and '21, of Denver, Colorado, and their daughter, Virginia, who is teaching home economics at Holbrook, Nebraska, recently spent a few days on the campus.

Wayne Hooper, '49, a member of the King's Heralds quartet, was ordained to the gospel ministry at the time of the Southern California camp meeting.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Behr (Marlene Stevens), '49, and '54, are living at Valparaiso, Nebraska, while Marlene teaches in the high school, and Robert attends the University of Nebraska.

Ralph Boyd, '54, won a $150.00 Vita Craft Scholarship as a result of $4,565.95 total sales this summer. In a letter to the CLOCK TOWER, Mr. John W. Arnold, midwest sales manager, further stated that Ralph Boyd was one of the top college salesmen in the midwest.

Mr. and Mrs. Merrill E. Smith (Elsie Mohr) both of '30, of Nevada, Iowa, recently moved to Bozeman, Montana, where Mr. Smith will serve as the principal of Mount Ellis Academy.

Fraternal Football Fellowship Forms

With the beginning of another school year comes another football season. Teams are already being organized on the Union College campus. One of particular interest is a new one called the "Philadelphians," the team of brotherly love. The fact that makes this team unique is that it is made up of five sets of brothers.

George and Walt Newmyer from Jackson, Michigan, will be playing halfback and end, respectively. George is a sophomore this year, Walt a freshman. Filling the quarterback position will be Don Dick, a senior, while his brother Art, a freshman, takes the half spot.

The Krueger brothers, Calvin and Arlo, college junior and academy senior, fill the center and end spots in the line-up. Merlin Reeder, junior, is playing end with his brother Harold, freshman, at half. Cal will be alternating at the center position with Vern Thompson, a freshman. Roger Thompson, Vern's brother, will be general utility man for the team. He is a sophomore in the academy. The Dicks, Kruegers, Reeders, and Thompsons all hail from Lincoln.

This is the first time these boys have united forces and it should be a team to watch.

CLUB LICITY

Bancroft Court

Marjorie Putnam was elected president of the Bancroft Court women's club at the September 14 meeting. Ruth Leach was chosen secretary-treasurer.

Plans discussed for future club meetings were (1) a representative from a floral shop to demonstrate wrapping packages and flower arrangements; (2) musical programs, and (3) speakers on homemaking.

Kappa Theta

Kappa Theta president Alberta Greene called the first meeting to order Thursday night, September 16, and Sally Crozier presented the devotions. The program for the evening was a pantomime of the events of the coming year.

The program began with bewildered freshmen and moved on to students concerned with stacks of books, work, recreation, Vespers, CLOCK TOWER campaign spirit, Christmas with Santa Claus, and midnight oil burned while cramming for semester exams. KT women were warned of the girls' reception to which the girls will invite the fellows. Amateur Hour and the annual school picnic were shown as highlights of the year. Graduation ended the pantomime.

Those taking part were Jean Beltz, Sally Nugent, Joyce Tornow, Laura Gilham, Alice Moore, Sandra Joyner, Joan Bitzer, Mary Zummach, LaVonne Ludwig, Janet Westin, Kathy Westermeyer, Grace Lehman, Lola Cleveland, LaDean Frederickson, the Academy Quartet, Kathy Prentice, Barbara Oliver, and Virginia Randall.

The club officers for the first semester are:

Alberta Greene—president
Ellen Holt—vice-president
Lola Cleveland—secretary
Darlene Kirchner—treasurer
Lee Thompson—cultural secretary
Jo Anne Boulette—chorister
Beverly Thompson, pianist

History Class Takes Guided Tour of East

As the old CLOCK TOWER tolled eight strokes on the morning of August 10, the "school on wheels" rolled off on its journey to points east, where the pages of early American and denominational history were to come to life. Weeks of anticipation were becoming reality for thirty-three students, five tourists, and undoubtedly, even for the able instructor, Dr. R. K. Nelson, and the witty driver, Joe Eyman! In store were sessions of school consisting mostly of reports by members of the class, a few quizzes, long hours of driving, opportunity to make lasting friendships, and tuneful evenings as the group joined in singing; all these were intermingled with visiting historic and denominational interest spots and enjoying beautiful scenery.

The stop at Hannibal, Missouri, gave opportunity to visit Mark Twain's home. Crossing the "Father of Waters" into Illinois, the next stop was the village of New Salem, where Abraham Lincoln began his career. With the log cabins, split rail fence, covered wagons, and oxen, the village was much like it was in Lincoln's day! At Springfield, Lincoln's home and tomb were also visited.

Early on the fourth day a stop was made at Braddock's grave and Fort Necessity, Pennsylvania, where the struggles of the French and Indian War began. Travel over the Appalachian Mountains was slow, but provided more time to enjoy the beautiful scenery. After a stop at Harper's Ferry, the group hurried on to Washington, D.C. to spend the week-end in the nation's capital and the Seventh-day Adventist denominational headquarters, where Washington Missionary College was host to the nomadic Unionites.

Attending the large Sligo church on Sabbath, one could see Elder R. R. Figuhr, recently elected president of the General Conference, enter and quietly take his place among the audience; one could sit

Students Join MV Bands

Union College students responded to President Harvey C. Hartman's challenge to Christian service as students signed cards that they would join one of the ten MV bands that are being organized on the Union College campus.

MV leader Buddy Clark introduced his associates who are as follows: Lorle Dick and Ferman Mock, assistant leaders; Wanda Butcher, secretary; L. W. Welch, sponsor; and Mrs. E. N. Dick, assistant sponsor.

The MV bands and leaders are: Bible School Enrollment, Jerry Beam and Melvin Lyon; Bible Studies, Melvin Campbell; Correspondence, Alice Moore; Literature distribution, Clifton Reeves; Progressive Classes, Sylvester Bietz; Recording and Reproduction, Don Nelson and Joe Eymann; Story Hour, Mr. and Mrs. Don Gilbert; Sunshine, Robert Beck; Television, Merlyn Mead; and Branch Sabbath School, Roger Heinrich.

History Tour

in a Sabbath school class taught by Elder C. M. Matthews or some other denominational leader, and finally listen to the admonition of the pastor, Taylor G. Bunch.

On Sunday morning the group visited the section of the General Conference Building devoted to the Ellen G. White publications where many of her early manuscripts are stored. After a brief visit to the Review and Herald, it was downtown for a guided tour through the nation's Capitol. Visits were made to the Smithsonian Institute, Washington Monument, Lincoln Memorial, Jefferson Memorial, Tomb of the Unknown Soldier (where the impressive ceremony of the change of the guards was witnessed), Supreme Court Building, and Ford Theater (now the Lincoln Museum). Highlights were seeing the Senate actually in session, and the trip to Mt. Vernon, Washington's home on the Potomac.

Philadelphia's famous meeting places of the first and second continental Congresses, Carpenter's and Independence Halls, and the Betsy Ross home were visited in the city of brotherly love. Another attraction of Independence Hall, the site of the signing of the Declaration of Independence, was the Liberty Bell.

Mrs. Kilgore, former UC instructor, now English teacher at AUC, served as guide for the group through Concord, Lexington, and Boston, pointing out the homes and graves of early American authors and poets, Old North Church, the Bunker Hill Monument, and the docks where they boarded the "Constitution."

by VERN THOMPSON

Since you have nothing to do for the next few minutes, why not wander (wonder) with me through a day's registration. Just to be conventional, let's start at the beginning. We have thirteen stations to go, so let's move into station no. 1.

This is the accounting office where we will make our entrance deposit and get dormitory residence cards and cafeteria admittance cards. Entrance deposit is $85.00 for dormitory students and $50.00 for village students.

Station 1½: "Easy Finance Company."

Station 2, Office of Business Manager: Here you receive a registration permit and labor assignment.

Station 2½: Apply for unemployment checks as your program is too heavy to allow for more than 5 hours of work per week. Note: (under veteran's training) G.I.'s may not apply for this, in reference to bulletin seven, Special Orders Number eighty-one, Authority M. S.G., HCH, Par. 87, article five.

Station 3, Office of the Registrar: Obtain registration book in exchange for registration permit. (A little book of headaches for a piece of paper that originally cost you either fifty or eighty-five dollars.)

Stations 4-10 may be taken in any order, so just to be different, let's start with Station 6.

Obtain a chapel seat assignment. Lower division is crowded, but there are three seats left: one in the back by the door, one in the front row next to a girl, and, if it is possible to borrow another chair from one of the classrooms, we could find a place for it on the platform. Perhaps.

Station 5: Health examination.

Station 5½: Dr. Smith's office for appointment for physical to see if you really are as physically unfit as the practicing pill pushers say you are.

Station 7, Office of the President: Obtain President's signature from a young lady who has had the power of signature transferred to her until the President recovers from writer's cramps.

Station 8: More signatures; for the ladies the Dean of Women, for the men the Dean of Men. That makes sense. Being only a freshman, we asked a senior from Minnesota (the Hills of Minn.) for directions and was told the way to (you might have guessed it, but we didn't until we opened the door to) the dust closet.

Station 9, Personnel office: Fill out more forms on your life's history and receive more signatures.

Station 4, Photo booth: Do not try to pose or smile just right, as the photographer sees your image upside down, and you won't like the picture because it looks too much like yourself. "To see ourselves as others see us."

Station 11: Meet Faculty Counselor to arrange class schedule.

Station 11½: Stop for lunch.

Station 11¾: Dessert.

Station 12, Office of the Dean: Five minutes till the registrar's office closes, and there are three in line ahead of you. Thirty seconds until five, and you have the Dean's signature. Reach registrar's office as the door closes. Sorry you'll have to come back in the morning and turn in your blue book. Late registration, $1.00, one dollar.

Mr. and Mrs. Winslow Ellis, members of the group, celebrated their first wedding anniversary at Niagara Falls.

After a stop at Battle Creek and a visit to the grave of Ellen G. White, the budding historians were met at EMC by Gorden Engen, an alumnus of Union College, and attended a tea in their honor.

The remainder of the trip was mostly travel with no important stops, arriving back at "dear old Union," on Friday, August 27, a tired, "broke," and weary group, but loaded with souvenirs and happy memories of the 1954 history tour.
