A CAPPELLA CHOIR TO GIVE FINAL LECTURE COURSE NUMBER

Organization Now Consists of Fifty Voices

The last number of the Union College lecture course will be given by the Union College a cappella choir, under the direction of Professor William I. Morey and assisted by Miss Estelle Kiehnhoff, soprano, and Professor Carl C. Engel and Clayoma Engel, violinists, next Saturday evening, April 23. The membership of the organization has been increased from thirty-eight to fifty, and according to Professor Morey, the program includes numbers which afford a greater variety of expression and interpretation than those rendered in the first concert. He states, "Particularly is this true of the number 'Hosanna' by Christiansen, which is a favorite composition among a cappella organizations. This is a composition of eight-part structure and is so built as to afford striking contrasts in tempo and tone color. Among other numbers which bring out similar effects are 'Beautiful Saviour' by Christiansen, and 'Fierce Was the Wild Billow,' by Noble." The following program will begin promptly at eight o'clock:

Fierce Was the Wild Billow - Noble
Still, Still with Thee - Gerrish
O Gladsome Light - Sullivan
The Living God - O'Hara
O Divine Redeemer - Gounod
Estelle Kiehnhoff
(Violin obligato C. C. Engel)
Hosanna - Christiansen
Beautiful Saviour - Christiansen
Norwegian Dance - Grieg
Humoresque - Dvorak
Hungary - Moszkowski
C. C. Engel and Clayoma Engel
O Peaceful Night - German
Lullaby - Brahms
Aria: Caro Nome - Verdi
Estelle Kiehnhoff
Now the Night in Starlit Splendor
(From "Lucia de Lammermoor")
Donizetti
Barcarolle (From the "Tales of Hoffman") - Offenbach
Bridal Chorus (From the "Rose Maiden") - Cowen
(Clara Erickson at the piano)

FRANK ZEHM SEVERELY BURNED

Receives Injury While Working in Chemistry Laboratory

Frank Zehm was severely burned, Tuesday, April 12, in the chemistry laboratory, when boiling nitric acid was accidentally spilled on his face and neck.

Judd Lippincott, the laboratory assistant, quickly administered dilute ammonium hydroxide to neutralize the acid. Zehm was almost overcome by the odor of the ammonia but was resuscitated at an open window.

The acid, which missed his right eye by only an inch, left several scars on his face and practically destroyed his sweater.

Clarence Stenberg

STENBERG ELECTED JUNIOR PRESIDENT

Professor Ogden Chosen as Class Sponsor

After calling the junior class together for the purpose of helping them organize, President Thiel gave them the following advice: "The class, in pursuing its activities, should always be characterized by four things—the spirit of Christianity, of economy, of simplicity, and of diligence."

Twelve ballots were cast before the officers and the sponsor were elected. Clarence Stenberg was chosen president of the class on the second ballot, and the second ballot also elected Marybelle Huffman vice-president. Other officers are Ruth Hoffman, secretary; Jesse Cowdrick, treasurer; Professor E. B. Ogden, class sponsor.

Mr. Stenberg has taken practically all his college work at Union and has served as editor-in-chief of the "Messenger" for two years.

On the second ballot for treasurer Montie Culver and Jesse Cowdrick received 17 and 18 votes respectively. A majority of one thus elected Cowdrick.

Thirty-six members were present for the organization.

Christ's Life Given in Song and Story

A very impressive service was given on Friday evening, April 15. Professor Stevens first spoke on "What the Cross Really Means in the Christian's Life." He portrayed Christ's life from the garden of Gethsemane, His prayer, trial, crucifixion, and resurrection. "Little do we realize," he declared, "what such a sacrifice really meant to Christ. The only way to get the benefit from Christ's sacrifice is to get in touch with Him and He will accomplish for us what we are not able to do for ourselves."

After Professor Stevens' discourse, Professor Morey's studio chorus repeated the story in a beautiful cantata "From the Sepulchre to the Throne." Special features of the cantata were two recitative airs sung by Wesley Rhodes and Miss Grace Buck and a quartet composed of Misses Buck and Hawley and Messrs. William Robinson and W. I. Morey.

HUMANN BROTHERS ON CONCERT TOUR

Quartet on Three-week Trip Through
Nebraska, Colorado, and Utah

A three weeks' vacation from school, and a trip through the scenic mountains of Colorado is to be the good fortune of the Humann brothers during their concert tour, which will begin April 23, to the academies and to a number of churches in Nebraska and Colorado. They have already been booked for thirteen entertainments, and other engagements are being added.

Some of the places and dates are as follows: Shelton Academy, April 23; Campion Academy, April 24; Greeley, April 25; Boulder, April 26; Denver, April 27; Colorado Springs, April 28; and Inter-Mountain Academy, May 3.

"Walk? No, we don't expect to—very much—for we have a great deal of confidence in Mr. Kinzer and his Hudson sedan," said Julius Humann when questioned as to their mode of travel. "We may also invade Utah and Wyoming, and are now trying to arrange for some dates there," continued Mr. Humann.

Mr. Kinzer is a native of Colorado, and is acquainted with all the beauty spots, so the boys will have a good opportunity for sight-seeing.

The Central Union Conference and Union College are sponsoring the trip.

MARY MILLER AGAIN WINS HONORS

E. K. Vande Vere and G. M. Mathews
Come Second

The mid-semester grades were given out on Monday, April 18. According to Mrs. Oss, the registrar, the three students standing highest in scholarship were Miss Mary Ruth Miller, George Mathews, and E. K. Vande Vere. Miss Miller received all A's, and Mr. Mathews and Mr. Vande Vere all A's but one.

PIONEER CHURCH SCHOOL TEACHING TOLD OF BY MISS MAXWELL

"Those were the most valuable years of my life," declared Miss Myrtle Maxwell of North Hall in relating her experiences as a church school teacher in the mountains of North Carolina to the young women at worship. "I feel that I have helped to better some of the educational conditions there," she continued.

Miss Maxwell taught the first church school in the oldest Seventh-day Adventist church in the South, located at Banners Elk, N. C., which had been established for more than thirty years before she went there. "The first year," she said, "I was almost frozen out because the mountaineers did not work together to provide the necessary amount of fuel." Later, she rented a small cabin and, taking six of the pupils to live with her for the remaining two years, set an example of sanitary housekeeping.

After listening to the account of the amazing living conditions prevalent in many localities, many of the girls were heard to sigh—as they went out, "I wonder if I could ever do such a thing."

PRESENT SERVING SYSTEM PROVING SATISFACTORY

One and One-quarter Hours
Saved Each Day

The new serving system which has been inaugurated in the college cafeteria has received the hearty approval of the students, according to the report of Mrs. Minnie Cook, the matron.

A great saving of time is made by the new plan. Three meals a day are served in one hour and forty-five minutes; whereas the old plan consumed on the average, three hours daily. Another advantage is the constantly changing association of students at the tables.

The cafeteria and the bakery employ fifty helpers, the most of whom are students working for a part or for the whole of their expenses. The bakery is reported to be doing efficient work, having a weekly output of 360 loaves of bread, 1,200 cookies, 700 sweet rolls, 700 buns, 125 pies, and 30 cakes. Forty gallons of milk, produced by the college dairy, is consumed daily.

Evangelist Bernstein Visits Son at Union

Union College was favored with a visit, April 12-13, from Elder and Mrs. O. O. Bernstein, lately of Los Angeles, Calif., who visited their son, Wilburn, a student of Union College. For the past two years, Elder Bernstein has been president of the Southern California Conference. He is on his way to take up his new duties as pastor of the church at Minneapolis, Minnesota. Elder Bernstein reports that a special evangelistic effort will be carried on there this summer, and that in the fall a tabernacle will be constructed in which to continue the meetings.

He calls Minneapolis his home town. It was there that he was born. There he preached his first sermon, and there he was ordained to the ministry. Mrs. Bernstein will have charge of the Missionary Volunteer work. She is planning to introduce the progressive class work to the young people. She says that this is similar to the scout work.

SPRING WEEK OF PRAYER

The first meeting of the late spring Week of Prayer will be conducted on Friday, April 22, at 8 p. m.

Throughout the ensuing week a series of meetings, similar to those conducted by Professor Kern in January, will be held. Professor Thiel stated that he did not expect any outside help.

MANY STUDENTS PLAN ON COLPORTEUR WORK FOR THE SUMMER MONTHS

Forty-six Colporteurs Have Been Assigned to Various States

Forty-six Union College students will take up work in various fields as colporteurs this summer. Since the unusual offer was announced by field-secretary Blosser to give a bonus of one hundred dollars to every student who sold $750. worth of books and put in five hundred hours' time, a wave of enthusiasm gripped Union College students, and as a result more colporteurs are entering the field this summer than for many years.

Since the colporteurs' institute held here a week ago, the forty-six prospective colporteurs from Union College have been assigned to the various states for the summer campaign. Bertha Astleford, Leland Kite, Ray Fowler, Russell Holmes, Charles Rudolph, Willard Wentland, Rollin Jenkins, and Gideon Krueger will take up their work in North Dakota.

Elmer Olson, George Stacey, Paul Bringle, Isaac Kraushaar, John Kraushaar, Dean Gilman, Boyce Harper, Edward Sofsky, Dan Frick, Benjamin Butherus, Howard Welch, Wesley Glantz, Helen Wells, Carolyn Thorp, and Margaret Wells will work in Kansas.

Elvin Atkinson, Marion Fletcher, Robert Nelson, and William Kruse will canvass in Nebraska.

Sadie Johnson, Henry Johnson, Elroy Klein, Lester Kahl, Karl Schmitz, Clyde Stewart, Irwin Olson, and Walter Mattson will labor in Minnesota.

In Iowa, Robert Nethery, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Johnson, Estel Starr, and Verna Burdick will canvass.

Florence Barnes, Vida Soper, and George Chambers will go to Colorado. Blanche Gilbert will spend her summer working in Wyoming, and Louise Ewing in Florida.

MORE BUSINESS FOR COLLEGE VIEW

Canning Factory Has Corner of 12th
and L for Building Site

A new company, known as the Sanitary Food Products Company, to be housed in a brick and tile building on the corner of 12th and L Streets, College View, and to cost approximately $12,000 is being promoted by A. B. Shrake and is to be incorporated in the near future. The company plans to can tomatoes, fruits, and vegetables, and to manufacture all kinds of nuts and cereal foods, jams, jellies, and salad dressings. It plans to contract for eighty acres of tomatoes for this year's packing.

The company also plans to issue $24,000 in shares of common stock at $25 a share. Excavation for the building will begin as soon as sufficient number of shares are sold.

Mr. Shrake states that the ultimate success of this enterprise depends largely upon the co-operation of College View.

Editorial

You remember the poem, "The Calf Path," by Sam Walter Foss. Once a calf walked through the wood in a wobbly uncertain path as most calves do. Next a dog, then sheep, and finally men followed the calf path until the path became a roaring zig-zag thoroughfare of a metropolis up which men still tag that calf about—all honor to the calf!

And that comical poem turns one to the general and specific subject of paths. Students of Union College have unprecedented opportunities to study this subject. They have only to watch the daily trend of campus traffic to become fully informed. Additional information may be gained from either the casual or careful study of the aeroplane views of our beloved campus. Note the criss-cross arrangement that resembles distantly the controverted canals of Mars. They are paths.

It is easy to guess how they started—supposedly with as much nonchalance as the innocent calf, one day a very young and youthful lad quite overcome by the heated game of tennis staggered from the court due southwest to the nearest cool drink. Youth and maidens and villagers are still trailing in his wake. One Sunday morning a certain young person, having overslept, made a dash from North Hall to the laundry on the shortest geometric line between two points. Young ladies may still be seen trespassing on the campus in those same footsteps. In a desperate longing for news from the home folks students are still tagging each other in the shortest path on the campus; namely the one which leaves the regular walk from the college to the city sidewalk and makes a short cut of a few feet.

Two other paths which cannot be blamed to the students are the ones which were made by—probably absent-minded professors who didn't notice the turn in the side-walks at the northwest and southwest corners of the college building—for they simply continue in straight lines right west across the campus. Nevertheless many persons are still following that professor about, although to outward circumstances their minds are not so weighted and numbed.

Alumni are justly proud of the classic beauty of the buildings and campus of their Alma Mater, but they must not be especially proud of their footprints which have led their successors' inexperienced feet in paths of least resistance.

And really weren't men foolish to follow that crazy zig-zag path the calf made nearly three centuries ago?

"Oh, many things this tale might teach,
But I am not ordained to preach!"

There is nothing more menacing to a man's future success than a lack of responsibility.

The Poet's Corner

There will appear in this column from time to time contributions from those who write verse of merit. The following lines were written by Myra Jordan and read before the Writers' Club:

THE ANT

Little ant that lives so near the ground,
Blades of grass, a forest, hem you 'round;
Tiny pebbles are your mountains steep;
Garden pools your oceans wide and deep;
Butterflies are fairy clouds of light;
Fireflies shine upon your path at night.

Little ant,—oh, once I pitied you—
'Twas a very sad mistake, 'tis true:
Thought I, The sphere of ants is very small,—
A garden patch could well encircle all.

Little ant, a glimpse of worlds beyond
Taught me, 'tis I who live too near the ground.

Vox Populi

Q. Is one's conscience a safe guide in all things?

A. Yes and no. Though a person honestly follows his conscience, he may not always do the right thing, but God gives him credit for living up to what he thinks to be right. In other words, he may have an unenlightened conscience, but he is on the right side so far as God is concerned. However, his conscience should and must be educated, so that perhaps tomorrow his conscience would not permit him to do the things he does today.

Clock Tower Friends

"As I am a subscriber to the Union College Clock Tower, I want to express to you my sincere appreciation of the splendid paper put out by the students of Union College. It certainly has the ear-marks of a real newspaper, and I can assure you that a paper of this kind will be read by those who are interested in the welfare of Union."—J. H. Nies, secretary-treasurer of South Dakota Conference.

"I can assure you that I am very glad that I have subscribed to the Clock Tower. It has been a dollar well spent. In reading its interesting pages, it has thrilled me anew with the spirit of 'Dear Old Union.'"
—Henry H. Fritz, Gurley, Nebr.

"I am appreciating the Clock Tower very much. It keeps me pretty well in touch with life at Union."—B. B. Davis, Kalamazoo, Mich.

From Other Schools

Word was received on April 12 by I. G. Ortner, auditor of the Northern Union Conference, who was in attendance at the Union College executive board meeting, of the destruction by fire of the girls' dormitory of the Shesenne River Academy, Harvey, N. Dak., on Monday night, April 11.

Rainfall to date at Pacific Union College is 54 inches.

Walla Walla College students have gained 1,322 subscriptions for the "Mountain Ash," their annual.

Sentence Sermons

Edited by W. W. Prescott

We never shall have any proper conception of what true dignity is until we understand that love is upon the throne of the universe. He that sitteth upon the throne came into the world and washed the feet of those Galilean fishermen that believers might be blissfully aware that love is wedded to Omnipotence.

There is no more wonderful spectacle anywhere than that of the blessed Spirit of God in the sinful heart of man, coming into closest quarters with his pride and malice, bringing Christ nigh to his rebellious will, and hewing for the triune God a holy of holies out of a rock of unbelief.

He that is impatient, he that is choleric, he that is censorious, he that is sensitive and suspicious, he that prays little, he that is dogmatic, he that is unwilling in all societies to be known as a Christian,—these and many others make themselves greater than the Master.

There is a woe where there is knowledge unaccompanied by obedience. It is fearful to think of the vast number who, at the present day, hear the sayings of Jesus and keep them not.

How many are deceiving themselves with regard to their true condition simply because of their religious knowledge.

If Christ were now to come in the glory of the Father and of the angels and of himself, it would be simply a terrifying spectacle to us if we had not first beheld his glory on Calvary.

By the "glory" of God we mean the manifestation of his perfections; and if we are not able to see it at the cross of Christ, then we shall never behold it.

United to Christ by an invincible faith, tribulation, distress, persecution, famine, nakedness, peril, sword, only afford new opportunities for faith to manifest itself and glorify its Lord.

It is not more true that Christ died to save us than that he died to procure for us the means of living a divine life upon the earth—a life of wonderful communion with God and with Christ, in which all Christian experiences should undergo a transfiguration, and Christian peace, joy, faith, become a thousand times the things they are in an ordinary Christian life.

Religious Activities of the Week

A large amount of the spiritual progress of Union is due to the work of different bands of the school. Important among these are the prayer bands which meet for fifteen minutes every Wednesday morning before chapel.

The mission bands had a special treat on Friday, April 15. Professor H. U. Stevens gave an interesting stereopticon lecture on the Indian work in South America.

It is reported that the Sunshine band is now bringing the Sabbath school into the home. Each Sabbath, members of the band are holding Sabbath school services in the homes of those that are unable to come.

"It is not strange for us to be sorrowful—exceedingly sorrowful. And it is not strange to see our friends sorrowful—exceedingly sorrowful—but here we see the Son of God swayed in grief, we see Him stricken with terror for what He sees before Him. We see the divine Son in a death-struggle, suffering on the cross for the salvation of a fallen race," was the statement made by Professor H. U. Stevens in his gripping lecture on the "Scenes of the Cross," at the regular meeting of the Missionary Volunteers on the evening of April 15, in the college auditorium.

"At the cross the salvation of every soul hung in the balance. Christ could have left us in darkness and gone back to heaven for He had never sinned, but love made Him willing to endure hardship and shame. If we could only get a glimpse of the cross of Christ, if we could fathom the divine love underlying the motive of such great suffering, we would be successful in solving the secret of redemption," concluded the speaker.

Other religious activities of the week were the church service, the seminar, and the Missionary Volunteer bands.

Professor Kern Makes Short Visit to Union

Friday morning, April 15, Professor M. E. Kern spoke to the student body in chapel, emphasizing the requisite characteristics of a missionary, whether at home or abroad. He cited sincerity, honesty, humility, courage and decision, agreeableness, thoroughness, intensity, willingness, and love that can love even the unlovable.

The Academy

The net proceeds from the "Queen Esther" cantata, given by the academic chorus, amounted to $57. The students will decide later as to how it will be spent.

Last Tuesday evening the academic cooking class entertained Elder M. E. Kern as their guest at a dinner.

A program given by Miss Grace Buck and Wesley Rhodes, with Wm. Robinson, Jr., in charge, was given during the Friday morning chapel period. Following a vocal solo by Mr. Rhodes, Miss Buck gave three readings.

WHY PROFESSORS GET GRAY

These are some of the reasons: The bluffer. The boy with the loud voice and empty head. The fellow who took the course before. . . . The sweet little co-ed who doesn't know what it is all about, but needs at least a B in the course. The silent bird who might have something worth while to say but who keeps this something hidden. The collegian who hasn't read that far in the text and attempts to stage a filibuster and

JOURNALISM CLASS MAKES ENLIGHTENING VISIT TO PRESS

Students Learn How the Clock Tower Is Printed

"School days fall into two classes," according to Miss Rochelle Philmon, professor of English; "there are ordinary days and red letter days."

One of the latter, at least for the journalism students, occurred Thursday, April 14, when they were shown the travels of the Clock Tower, from the time it leaves the manager's desk as copy, until it reaches the mailing table, a newspaper, wrapped and addressed.

As the young journalists were initiated into the deep and wonderful mysteries of the printing cult, varied exclamations were poured forth. The climax came as Miss Mable Hinkhouse, the escort, demonstrated the intricate mechanism and complex operations of the Linograph.

Dean Wilcox Celebrates a Birthday

The Sigma Iota Kappa meeting on Thursday evening, April 14, was in charge of Professor Wilcox. As this occurred on Professor Wilcox's birthday he reversed the regular order of things believing "it is more blessed to give than to receive" and without any explanations or preliminaries surprised the boys with a delicious treat of ice cream and cake. After the serving of the refreshments Don Spillman sang a solo which received hearty applause.

MERE MENTION

George Hutches, class of '26, who is now preceptor at Shelton Academy, Shelton, Nebr., has received word from his sister, Mrs. Lyman Shaw, of Nanking, China, stating that they are safe from the dangers of the uprising. Mr. and Mrs. Shaw are former students of Union.

William Nelson, class of '25, who has been teaching at the College View high school for the past two years, has handed in his resignation to take effect at the close of the present school year. Mr. Nelson will be connected with the Inter-Mountain Academy, of Rulison, Colo., next year, it is reported.

Mrs. Forrest E. Leffingwell left Monday, April 11, for a short visit with her husband who is a teacher in the Mt. Ayr, Iowa, high school. She returned on April 18.

"We live to learn and learn to live," says Dan Frick. Sunday morning at the gentle (?) call of Don Spillman, Daniel trustfully leaned out his barber shop window only sputtering to draw back and search madly for a towel. A bucket of cold water from the window above had fallen on its target.

A number have been startled by the new epidemic in South Hall. Calvin Gordon is the first victim apparently. A quarantine sign has appeared on his door bearing this warning: "Stay out! Spring fever."

A six-course waffle breakfast to some, and an eight-course breakfast to others, according to capacity, was served last Sunday morning, April 10, to the boys who work in the college power house, by Mrs. E. B. Ogden.

Miss Grace Buck sang for the Women's Christian Temperance Union at the Union church last Wednesday.

Mr. Morey's Studio choir rendered the cantata "From Sepulchre to Throne" at the Lincoln S. D. A. church Sunday evening, April 17.

C. L. Premer, former instructor in history at Union College and present dean of boys at the Omaha Southside high school, was a chapel-hour visitor on April 13.

"Hoo Hoo Mack" thinks he will be eating green peas earlier than anyone else this spring. His garden is already assuming the necessary appearances for "early vegetables." He boasts of one of the earliest gardens in College View.

Church Items

The repair work on the church, under the direction of the deacons, was completed this week. It has improved the appearance of the interior of the church very much. The church is also indebted to Charles MacWilliams for the painting of the church office and also for re-painting where repair work was done.

Special revival services will be held in the church on Sabbath, April 23 and 30.

Pastor R. T. Baer was called to Omaha to take charge of the services in the Memorial church, Sabbath, April 16. The pastor of the Memorial church, Elder Bellah, was ill and could not assume his duties.

Professor Saxton will be the speaker at the Sabbath eleven o'clock services on the morning of April 23.

Bible studies continue for those who are contemplating uniting with the church. As these efforts progress in giving such instruction, the interest deepens, and the number of those who wish to avail themselves of the opportunity increases.

At the church service, Sabbath morning, April 16, the Union College men's choir, conducted by Professor Morey, sang "Lead Kindly Light."

MUSIC DEPARTMENT GIVES JOINT RECITAL

The Union College conservatory of music gave a joint recital in the college-chapel on Saturday evening, April 16, to a crowded house. The program was very acceptably rendered and showed careful training on the part of the instructors. The violin solos by Clayoma Engel and little Mabel Nelson, together with the organ solo by Miss Helen Foreman and the reading by Paulenne Strickland especially received prolonged applause.

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES

The algebra class at the high school is divided into two divisions. Contests are staged during the different periods. The last period gave section one the victory over section two by two per cent. This is the highest per cent victory in a long time. This victory entitles the winning class to a picnic supper at Happy Hollow.

The English IV classes are having debates between members in the two divisions. The first debate took place Friday, April 8. The question for debate was, "Resolved that sign board advertising should be abolished." The negative won with a score of 3 to 0. Another debate was held on Tuesday, April 12. The question for debate was, "Resolved that every pupil before being graduated from high school should have mastered the elements of some practical trade or occupation." The negative won with a score of 3 to 0.

The glee clubs of the high school are to be entered in the state music contest to be held at the Lincoln high school, on May 5, 6, and 7.
