

Ninety-five Shown Registered for '39 Summer School

Enlarged Instructional Staff Offers Variety of Courses to Students

Ninety-five students registered for the nine-weeks session of summer school beginning June 5. Classes are offered in the fields of chemistry, biology, education, psychology, English, history, mathematics, modern language, religion, music, and physical education.

The following faculty members will be connected with the summer school: H. K. Schilling, director; Ruby E. Lea, registrar; D. G. Hiltz, librarian; Linnie Keith, dean of women; Eunice Marsh, director of boarding hall; Dr. W. H. Emery, biology and health service; G. C. Jorgensen, chemistry; F. L. Marsh, biology; Catherine Shepard, education; H. G. Reinmuth, German; F. E. Bresee, history and political science; A. D. Holmes, mathematics; and J. W. Rowland, religion.

Evening classes are being held this summer as in former years. This allows students to study or work during the day.

Chapel is being held each Tuesday evening at 6:45. On all other evenings of the week, worship is held in each dormitory.

Nine Golden Cords Hung for Unionites in Foreign Service

Six Fields Represented as College Dedicates in Annual Recognition Rites

Nine golden cords, representing the entrance of nine consecrated workers from Union college into service in foreign fields, were hung at the front of the college chapel Friday night, May 19. President A. H. Rulkoetter pointed out in his talk upon the occasion that God has had a definite place for missions in His program all through the centuries.

Peter Jarnes and Mildred Priest, president and vice-president of the class of '39, were stationed at one side of the platform and Edward Seitz and Maxine Nelson, president and secretary of the junior class, at the other. They hung cords for the following: H. O. Olson, secretary of the South American division of Seventh-day Adventists, and his wife, Betty Swenson Olson; Otto H. Christensen, director of the Mongolian mission of the North China Union mission, and his wife, Dorothy Christensen; Alex J. Reisig, director of the Goiana Mineira mission of the South Brazil Union conference, and his wife, Irma Hein Reisig; Vera Ocker Honor, M.D., D.N.B., of the staff of the Manila sanitarium and hospital; Oscar R. Snipes, superintendent of the Bermuda

RECRUITS OF UNION COLLEGE MEDICAL CORPS CAMP PARADE

Medical Corps Camp for Fifty-three Here Ten Days

Men Take Training in Basic Military Drill, First Aid Principles

The Union College Medical Corps camp, with Major Everett Dick commanding, was held May 29 to June 7 on the Union college campus, with fifty-three men in attendance. Officers assisting Major Dick were Captain Wilfred Emery, M. D., Cadet Major Orason Brinker, Cadet Captain Ansel Carrick, Cadet First Lieutenant Edward Seitz, and Cadet Second Lieutenant Charles Winter, all of the regular Union College Medical Corps.

Recruits were in attendance from six states—sixteen from Kansas, eleven from Colorado, ten from Missouri, eight from Texas, three from Minnesota, three from Nebraska, and one each from Wyoming and Louisiana.

Nominating Committee Gives Partial Report of Summer Officers

To assist Sabbath school and CLOCK TOWER officers elected earlier in the spring, the following were elected in chapel June 7:

Florence Unterseher, associate Sabbath school superintendent; James Chase, associate Sabbath school secretary; Joe Shidler, circulation manager, CLOCK TOWER; Maynard Aaby, acting associate editor; Herbert Kunsman, Jeanne Griffin, and Paul Kemper, assistant editors; and Alice Mae Hadden, Muriel Pogue, Rachel Gulbrandson, and Fara Follett, typists.

On Nominating Committee

The summer school nominating committee elected by blind ballot by the students in chapel June 5 consists of Elizabeth Wester, Lottie Ziprick, William Bieber, Theodore Herr, and Joseph Beckner. This committee nominates officers for religious organizations and publications of Union college for the summer. F. E. Bresee acts as faculty adviser.

Elder Mock Appointed Temporary Pastor Here; Elder Pingnot to Oregon

Elder Carl Mock, formerly of the Wyoming mission, has been appointed temporary pastor of the College View Seventh-day Adventist church. He takes the place of Elder E. L. Pingnot, who left June 3 for Salem, Oregon.

Elder Mock is an alumnus of Union college, having graduated with the class of 1913. He will serve in his present capacity until camp-meeting time, when a regular pastor will be appointed.

Dean Schilling Tells Seniors to Dedicate Lives to Service

Class of '39 Accepts Charge to Devote Selves To Serve Christian Cause

Forty-seven seniors of Union college were consecrated at a service in the College View S.D.A. church Friday night, May 26, before an audience of about 1000.

In the consecration address, Dean H. K. Schilling urged the outgoing students to dedicate their lives to service and to seek to know God. "Knowing God," he declared, "is more than intellectual acquiescence in Christian doctrine; it is living a life of service."

Dean Schilling warned that "politics and wire pulling" may be found even in the church, but he urged the students to endeavor to rise above it and seek higher ideals. "The most important thing in the world is to know God," he added. "As Christ made known to man the meaning of His name, so we are to make known the true significance of it."

After the processional by the organ and string ensemble, Ivamae Small Hilts of the speech department, opened the service with scripture reading. F. H. Yost, chairman of the Bible department, gave the invocation. J. N. Anderson, professor of Biblical languages, delivered the consecration prayer. P. C. Jarnes, senior president, responded to Dean Schilling's address. H. G. Reinmuth, modern language chairman, gave the benediction. C. C. Engel and Clayona Engel Foreman played a violin duet.

Former Unionites Finish Medical Course

Former students or graduates of Union college who were graduated from the College of Medical Evangelists this June include three from the White Memorial School of Nursing and seven from the four-year course in medicine.

From the White Memorial School of Nursing were graduated Helen M. Burghart of Minnesota, Eleanor P. Kirkpatrick of Wyoming, and Burdene A. Mills of South Dakota.

From the four-year course in medicine were graduated Louis O. Hansen of Denmark, president of the outgoing class; Robert N. Brown of Colorado, Wallace G. Gilbert of South Dakota, Emil E. Merkel of South Dakota, Marshall A. Rockwell of California, Carlos L. Turner of Missouri, and Ralph E. Yost of Nebraska.

Dr. Brown and Dr. Turner will intern at the Boulder-Colorado sanitarium and hospital; Dr. Gilbert and Dr. Merkel, at the Los Angeles County General hospital. Dr. Hansen will intern at the Henry Ford hospital in Detroit, Michigan; Dr. Rockwell, at the Portland sanitarium and hospital, Portland, Oregon; and Dr. Yost at the White Memorial hospital, Los Angeles, California.

Ivamae Small Hilts Elected President Alumni Association

C. L. Premer, '15, Speaks on Spirit of Union Lived Out in Lives of Men

At the annual alumni luncheon former graduates and the class of '39 were entertained in the college dining hall May 29 at 1:00 p.m.

The announcement of the ballot for new officers for the coming year revealed Ivamae Small Hilts, '28, president; Louis Pettis, '34, first vice-president; Opal Wheeler Dick, '23, second vice-president; and H. L. Keene, '17, treasurer.

Declaring that the spirit of Union is the same today as it was twenty-five years ago, and that it has been the same across the years, C. L. Premer, '15, reminded the alumni that the progress which Union has made is great; but greater are the ideals of the college lived out by the men and women who have received the imprint of Union.

President Rulkoetter addressed the group, and Elder E. L. Pingnot extended a welcome to the class of '39. A. C. Griffin, class pastor, responding, May Matthews, student in 1930-31, who went to Abyssinia in the fall of '31 and who has just returned from that field, spoke of the status of our missionary work there under the new regime.

Francis Avery sang "I Love Life"; and Alten Bringle, '35, who just returned with his wife from Africa, sang "Sylvia."

The college male quartet, Avery, Seitz, Pember, and Mazart, sang "The Musketeers."

Advanced Degrees from Nebraska University to Three Unionites

President A. H. Rulkoetter, of Union college, was granted the degree of master of arts from the University of Nebraska Monday morning June 5. President Rulkoetter's work was done in the field of educational administration.

M. J. Sorenson, former missionary to Ethiopia, also received his master's degree in the field of European history.

Mrs. H. C. Hartman was awarded the degree of bachelor of fine arts with honors.

U. C. Placement Bureau Fills Six More Positions

Vesta Fillman will teach church school at Galena, Kansas, next year.

Grace Hackett will teach in a ten-grade school in San Antonio, Texas. Leora Van Allen has been engaged to teach church school at Topeka, Kansas.

Maurine Peterson will teach church school at St. Louis, Missouri.

Boyd Olson has been accepted by the Missouri Conference as a ministerial intern.

Dolores Graham will teach church school at Fruita, Colorado.

Union College Confers Bachelor of Arts Degrees on Forty-six Graduates

Working of God in Faithful Man, Topic of Baccalaureate

President Rulkoetter Counsels Surrender to Divine Will

The big Seventh-day Adventist church in College View was filled Sabbath morning, May 27, for the Union college baccalaureate services. President Rulkoetter told the graduating class in his sermon that they must allow God to develop their lives and work through them for the accomplishment of great things. He stressed the point that man can do little by himself, but that God can accomplish wonders through man.

To illustrate the power of God, President Rulkoetter spoke of the unfolding of a flower. If human beings allowed the power of God to work, he said, the flower will blossom perfectly. To carry on the illustration, the speaker pointed out that the ordinary chrysanthemum blossom is rather small, but that the florists treat the plants in such a manner that the blossoms become huge. In the same way, he said, lives vary by virtue of the treatment accorded them.

President Rulkoetter quoted the passage from Zachariah, "not by power nor by might, but by my spirit," using it as further illustration of the "mighty things that can be accomplished by God through man." As examples of the power working through man, the speaker touched upon the experiences of Gideon, Moses, and David, all of whom, he said, became infinitely greater through the working of God's power in them.

The president quoted Emerson's famous statement, "The end of all learning is to know God, and out of that knowledge to learn to love, trust, and imitate Him." He also quoted Daniel 11:32, which says that "the people that do know their God shall be strong, and do exploits."

The graduating class entered to the processional, Haydn's "The Heavens Are Telling," played by the organ and string ensemble. The congregation sang a hymn, "Walking with God," by Barnes. J. W. Rowland pronounced the invocation, and the church choir sang Macfarlane's "Open Our Eyes." O. T. Garner gave the benediction.

College Bakery Moves to Improved Quarters

The college bakery moved into its new home last week, the space in the northeast South hall basement occupied in former years by the college dairy and more recently used as craft shop and broom shop storerooms.

Though the new bakery is not much larger than the old, it is of a shape that will permit a more efficient arrangement of equipment, and it may now be entered from the kitchen or the outdoors. The three windows provide ample lighting and, together with the three doors, will allow much better ventilation than was possible in the former location.

The bakery did a thriving business in doughnuts and pies the past year, but the move to better quarters was made in anticipation of a substantial increase in commercial baking this next year.

The large space occupied at present by the ladies' dressing room will be made into a recreation room for the men of South hall.

M. L. Andreasen, Former President, Delivers Address

Live to Full Measure of Capacity, Speaker's Counsel to Seniors

Union college conferred bachelor of arts degrees on 46 senior students and gave one bachelor of science degree in absentia Sunday morning at the college's 48th annual commencement in the College View Seventh-day Adventist church.

"Education should be defined in terms of results—of life," declared M. L. Andreasen, professor of Biblical exegesis at the Seventh-day Adventist Theological seminary in Washington, D. C., in his address of the morning. "An educated man is one who has learned to live to the full measure of his capacity," he asserted.

Professor Andreasen developed his address around the ten points that mark an educated man: ability to make a living, reasonable living habits, a just view and appreciation of life, faith in God and man, a supreme reverence for truth, an active religion, ability to live with others, a willingness to share and sacrifice, a desire to serve, purity and consecration of life.

President A. H. Rulkoetter conferred the degrees on the graduating seniors. Invocation was given by G. D. Hagstov and the benediction by J. M. Howell. Estelle Kiehnhoff

South Hall Men Elect Governing Committee

Kannenberg Chosen Chairman, Bauer and Bieber Associates

South hall will be supervised by a committee consisting of Stanley Kannenberg, chairman; Bill Bieber and Albert Bauer, assistants, during the summer while Dean Habenicht is away.

The men discussed the problem in worship, and voted a system of self-government with a committee of three which is to have charge of the dormitory.

The committee meets once a week to outline the program in the dormitory and take care of business. The main work of the committee members is to keep the dormitory in running condition, conduct worship, and see that the details of routine work are taken care of throughout the day.

South hall men are proud of the trust placed in them, and each fellow is taking the responsibility of personal self-government. Before leaving on June 7, Dean Habenicht expressed his confidence in the men and challenged them to return a good report for the summer.

Dr. Albion G. Taylor, Former Teacher, Visits

Dr. Albion Guilford Taylor, former faculty member of Union college, with his son, visited here a short time June 8, on his way to Berkeley, California, where he will conduct classes at the summer session of the University of California.

Dr. Taylor taught in the field of economics here for about twelve years, and is now professor of political economy and assistant dean of the Marshall-Wythe School of Government and Citizenship of the College of William and Mary in Virginia.

SPIRITUAL GUIDANCE OFFERED

THE HANGING of a golden cord is truly the most representative ceremony that can occur at Union college. It expresses the culmination of Christian training in the beginning of a life of positive Christian service.

Of course, we know that every one of us cannot occupy a place in a foreign mission field. We have heard this a great many times—too often, perhaps. Have we heard it so often that some of us have lost sight of the objective for which Union college really stands? For Union college is not merely an educational center. We come here to learn from books, it is true. But we could go elsewhere for that.

We come here for something better. Union is prepared to give to every student of the sacred fire—spiritual life, acquaintance with God. And then—what?

There was in ancient Athens an annual festival in honor of the god Prometheus. On this occasion it was the custom for the young people of the city to engage in a most significant race. Under the conditions of the race, he who won had to show a rare combination of judgment and speed. The runners were required to light their torches at the holy fires that burned always on the altar of Prometheus, which was about a mile and a half outside the city. With his lighted torch, each rushed to an obelisk in the city, and the first to arrive with torch still burning was the winner.

When the sacred fire is yours, keep it burning. Don't let it go out in the race for an education. Tend it carefully, that it may be ready to light you on in a life of service when you have finished college.

HERE AT UNION we smile and say, "Hello." Even if we meet the same person several times in one morning, there is an exchange of greetings. We like friends and we like to be friendly. If you're not in the habit of smiling and speaking when you meet someone, practice up this summer. You won't crack your voice, and a smile will probably not wrinkle your cheeks. Friendliness between students and between students and teachers has always made Union known as the "cordial college."

EVEN the most casual observer needs no goading to notice the improvements that have been actualized at Old Union. With each year come noticeable changes for increased efficiency on the campus.

Union is on the way up. We have our new library, a veritable haven for the would-be scholar and in itself an opportunity with the richest possibilities.

Also, the industrial setup of the college continues to improve under the careful and frugal direction of experienced men. New equipment is being installed; some of the plants are being renovated and enlarged each year; and working conditions are made more satisfactory to students working a part or all of their way through college.

In addition, the curriculum is growing — new courses are being attached to an already expansive list of subjects. And as a result, students are afforded a wider choice than ever before to serve them in preparing for their respective jobs in the world field.

Truly, Union has gained notable momentum during the past decade. She has built up a dynamo of power that can be either usefully potent or dangerously rampant. What will she do with this power?

It is for us—students, faculty, and field—to keep ever in mind the principles and purposes for which Old Union was founded; to remember for what reason we have generated our strength; and to make effective use of it in the direction of the noble cause of which we all are a part.

Union College Desires Only Consecrated Young People

By H. K. SCHILLING, Dean

UION COLLEGE does not exist for its own sake. It is a service institution. It operates particularly for the benefit of Seventh-day Adventist youth who are interested in collegiate education. Therefore it has clearcut objectives which together with its program, policies, and ideals arise directly out of a philosophy of education which is distinctly and distinctively Seventh-day Adventist in conception. Consequent implications of this fact have been set forth in detail repeatedly in this paper and elsewhere and need not be discussed again in this article. However, there is one of these implications which needs to be called to the attention of prospective students of the college, namely, that a college can operate consistently with its ideals only when its faculty and student body are thoroughly in sympathy with those ideals and when there exists practical unanimity among them as to the desirability of the ways and means adopted for the realization of those ideals in practice.

You who are planning to attend college the coming year will be welcome at Union College—provided you are actively and wholeheartedly interested in perpetuating its standards and ideals. Union college is not interested in students who are merely passive in their acquiescence with its regulations, and of course it will not knowingly admit and retain those who may be positively opposed to them.

There is a great task to be performed in the realm of Christian education. To accomplish it will require all available resources of Christian student-teacher communities: keen minds, clean hearts, strong bodies, devotion to the common cause, unity of purpose, unselfish cooperation—all dedicated to God. It will mean hardship, difficulties, sacrifice, and tremendous individual and corporate effort.

Union college is looking for students who wish passionately to participate in that undertaking and are willing and anxious to give it all they have. Such students will be happy at Union—and such students will receive a true education at Union.

Dean Schilling

Appreciation of Work Shown at Farewell Party Given Elder Pingnot

Farewells were said to Elder E. L. Pingnot, pastor of the College View S.D.A. church, and to his family, at a church gathering the evening of May 22, marking the close of the pastor's recent period of ministry here. The program was conducted with Prof. J. N. Anderson as master of ceremonies.

Elder Pingnot has served as pastor of the College View church for three years, coming here from Denver, Colorado, in 1936. He left with his family on June 3 for Salem, Oregon, where he will be pastor of the church.

President A. H. Rulkoetter spoke of ties of friendship between the pastor and the college. Representing the church, William Robertson recounted the pastor's achievements here. Vernon Dunn spoke of the relation of Elder Pingnot to the Sabbath school, and Mrs. F. H. Peterson, the Dorcas leader, represented the Welfare society.

Faculty Members Hold Farewell Dinner for Six

A farewell dinner was held by the Union college faculty members for those of the staff who will not return next year, on May 21. They are Mr. and Mrs. Fred Sofsky, who will go to Madison, Tennessee; Mr. and Mrs. Peter Jarnes, to Maplewood academy, Hutchinson, Minnesota; and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Winter, to the Seventh-day Adventist Training school at Hong Kong, China.

Talks were given by Dr. Wilfred Emery, Prof. J. N. Anderson, and Prof. T. A. Little. Gifts were presented to each of the three couples leaving.

George Stillman's remarks were made in behalf of the church school and junior work, stressing continuation of the progressive programs the pastor had begun.

George Stone expressed the members' appreciation for the presence of Mrs. Pingnot in the activities of the church. She was presented with a bouquet of flowers.

FOREIGN traveler, lover of Paris, orator, amateur radio man—that's Reynolds Hoffman, sophomore at Union college. Last winter Reynolds worked in the power house. He's an expert plumber, especially when it comes to coaxing a lazy drain that has developed a case of pernicious "clogania."

It's been said that the way to a man's heart is through his stomach, but for Reynolds Hoffman one needs a special passport in the form of angel food cake. He's an advocate of individualized cookery.

Everyone has his pipe dreams, but not everyone sees his dreams come true. Reynolds Hoffman saw the realization of his dream to study and travel in foreign countries when he spent one school year at the Alliance Francaise in Paris, and later traveled through Italy, Switzerland, England, and France. After his fling abroad he came back to Union college for a double major—religion and French—and a minor in history.

While a resident here at Union college this summer, he finds time to be the superintendent of the college Sabbath school.

People

BIOLOGIST, ornithologist, anthropologist—three in one in the form of Stanley Kannenberg, senior at Union, who is getting some practical experience working in South hall this summer preparatory to his work in the biology lab here next winter. Stanley has one main objective, that of being a good science teacher—emphasis on the good.

He divulged the other night that he likes anything in the wilds, but what he really means is that he likes nature, birds, flowers, and the like. In fact, according to reports, he is something of a taxidermist. He revealed that he had done very little stuffing; in fact, he doesn't like cake. Perhaps that sort of stuffing would hardly be cataloged under taxidermy.

Besides his scientific accomplishments Stanley is the chorister for the Union college Sabbath school and also helps with the sunshine bands.

Thirteen Promoted

Those of the men in training adjudged by the officers worthy of promotion were ceremonially accorded the following rankings on June 2:

Herbert Schmidt, Kansas, first sergeant;

V. W. Becker, Texas, platoon sergeant;

Robert Crawford, Missouri, platoon sergeant;

Raymond J. Daily, Missouri; Fletcher Savage, Texas; Elmer Frimml, Nebraska; and Allen Vanderman, Minnesota, all section sergeants;

Robert Crone, Texas; William Gibson, Colorado; Vinson Shrunk, Kansas; Harry Welsh, Texas; and Diamond Gore, Louisiana, all corporals;

Palmer Schmidt, Kansas, first class private.

Dwight Nies, of Kansas, was bugler for the company, and Toba Warren, Texas, guidon bearer.

The men received intensive training in basic military drill, litter drill, extended order maneuvers in clearing field of casualties, and a complete course in first aid. Five and a half hours were spent on the field each day, and an hour and a half of classroom medical instruction was given every afternoon by Captain Emery.

Addressed by Special Speakers

Special speakers assigned to address the Medical corps members at morning or evening meetings were Elder J. F. Piper, president of the Central Union conference of Seventh-day Adventists; Elder J. M. Howell, educational secretary of the Central Union conference; Elder R. J. Christian, Missionary Volunteer secretary of the Central Union conference; Elder K. L. Gant, educational secretary of the Northern Union conference; Elder J. A. Tucker, of Oak Park academy, Nevada, Iowa; and G. T. Burgess, Elder A. E. Hagen, and Elder C. A. Purdom, all of the Nebraska conference.

Reveille sounded at 6:00 a.m., assembly and setting-up exercises came at 6:30, breakfast at 7:10, and room inspection at 7:30. The remainder of the day was divided among drill periods, chapel, first aid instruction, meals, and recreation. During recreation periods the recruits swam, or played baseball, basketball, and volleyball. A roundtable discussion involving the problems of military life was held each evening.

Camp Requirements

In order to attend the camp each man was required to be at least eighteen years of age and without prospect of attending college. Each furnished his transportation to and from the camp. Field uniforms consisted of blue shirts, blue bibless overalls and white sun helmets. Dress uniforms were white trousers, white shirts, black four-in-hand ties, black belts, and black shoes. The total cost of each man's board and room for the ten days was $15.00.

A public demonstration consisting of parade in review of the corps, followed by a platoon drill, litter drill, and physical exercises was given Tuesday evening.

Golden Cords Manager Ends Taut Suspense; States "All's Well!"

By JOE BECKNER

The treasurer of the '39 Golden Cords has just announced (after hours of toil interspersed with hair-pulling, etc., over the books) that the annual for this year has paid out. This is good news to the exhausted staff which has been waiting fearfully for the outcome. After the staff read how the seniors of Midland college had to dig dandelions, wash windows, haul bricks, and otherwise labor for their institution to pay off the debt they incurred in producing their yearbook, each member got a double case of physical and mental prostration.

The books are now clear for the '40 Golden Cords. However, there are still a few copies of the '39 Golden Cords left. If you have not yet obtained your copy, rush your dollar and a half to the business office, and your copy will be sent immediately.

The other day a representative of a large printing establishment in St. Joseph, Missouri, came into the office. He told how his house writes copy for, organizes, and prints the yearbook of a large business college; then the house sells the college the books for a tidy sum right around five dollars apiece. The book was a neat bit of printing, but how could a book produced in such a way really catch the spirit of the school?

The gentleman was quite surprised when he was told that the Union college student body edits its own book, but when he was informed that the book is also printed and bound here in the college industries, he packed up his samples and went home. (After all, why should he hang around a place like that?)

With the book out of the red and prospects for a bigger student body next year, things are looking up for an even bigger and better annual for 1940. May the Golden Cords always reflect the true spirit of Union!

Summer Unionites Relax with Varied Pastimes

Swimming, cycling, playing tennis and horseshoe have been the main sources of recreation for the summer students and workers here at Union during the past couple of weeks.

Right now, the swimming pool is a little stormy sea of waves and splashes. Many end their day's activities by taking a dip in the pool, and then go out and wheel across the country on a bike; or maybe, smack the ball across the tennis court, or throw a "ringer" or two on the horseshoe stob.

Several good games of tennis have had a number of spectators in the evening after supper. The village students offer some good competition to the college players.

Plans are being made for the entertainment of the summer students to give them some diversion from the regular routine of classes and work.

KEEPER of the trees, flowers and shrubs is Joseph Judson Beckner, better known as Joe, the man about the campus at Union college. His job affords Joe ample time to reflect on his problem—the justification of teaching mathematics. You see, Joe is a mathematics major. When Joe starts teaching, he'll have plenty of students once they hear that he believes in letting classes out on time.

Joe has high ambitions—high, because he wants to build airplanes. He also does soap carving, and according to reports he has a number of models. Maybe that accounts for his intricate handling of the power mower used on the campus.

Although Joe has never taken Persuasive Speaking, he conducted a laboratory in persuasion during the past second semester, and as a result, the GOLDEN CORDS came out on the right side. Now he's worrying about his new job—business manager of the GOLDEN CORDS. But these worries don't dampen his usual good spirits. "Another day, another dollar—we hope!"—that's his slogan.

Weddings

WOFFORD—ROBERTSON

Mary Jene Wofford and Elmer Robertson were married at the home of the bride's parents in Tulsa, Oklahoma, May 29. Pastor W. L. Nott of Kansas performed the ceremony.

The bride was attended by her cousin, Ella May Dyer. William Robertson, a brother of the groom, was best man.

Mrs. Robertson graduated from Union college in 1935 and was editor in chief of the Clock Tower during the same year. Mr. Robertson, leader of the M. V. society while in college, graduated in 1934. Both have been teaching at Oak Park academy, Nevada, Iowa. They will live in Lincoln this summer, and Mr. Robertson plans to complete his work for the master's degree at the University of Nebraska.

STAPLES—FANDRICH

Elinor Staples and Harry Fandrich were married in the Seventh-day Adventist church at Longmont, Colorado, on the first of June. The ceremony was performed by Elder M. B. Van Kirk.

Evelyn Jepson was bridesmaid. The groom was attended by Robert Marquardt. Myrtle Barker sang and Delbert Marquardt played an accordion solo. A reception followed the wedding.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Fandrich are graduates of Union college. They will teach at the Philadelphia day academy next year.

LANE—OFFILL

A reception for Mr. and Mrs. Dan Offill was held by their friends at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Hartman, Wednesday evening, June 7. About forty were present.

Esther Priest was mistress of ceremonies. June Layman and Olga Unterseher sang "I Love You Truly." Readings were given by Stanley Kannenberg and Margie Miller. A mixed quartet sang "Love's Old Sweet Song."

Mrs. Offill was formerly Lillian Lane of Hinsdale, Illinois. She and Mr. Offill are both former students of Union college. They were married May 27 in the Hinsdale sanitarium parlor.

The couple left Thursday evening, June 8, for California, where they intend to visit for a time.

LOCKWOOD—AITKEN

Dorothy Ferne Lockwood and James Aitken were married in the Seventh-day Adventist church at Sioux City, Iowa, on May 27. Elder O. T. Garner, president of the Nebraska conference, performed the ceremony.

The bride wore white, and carried red roses. She was attended by her sister, Hazel Lockwood, by Ruby Anderson, and Leora Van Allen. Attendants of the groom were Ralph Wendt, Howard Gompert, and Otis Smith.

Olga Unterseher sang "I Love You Truly" and "At Dawning."

Following the wedding a reception was held in the home of Pastor and Mrs. W. R. Archbold of Sioux City.

After a short visit to the New York World's Fair, Mr. and Mrs. Aitken will be engaged in the colporteur work for the summer. Both attended Union college last year.

BLACK—OST

Blanche Black and Walter M. Ost were married Sunday, June 4, in the Washington Missionary college chapel, Takoma Park, D. C.

Mrs. Ost was a student at Union college last year and Mr. Ost has been laboratory assistant at Washington Missionary college for the past several years.

WILLIAMS—JENKINS

Laurene Williams was married to Thomas Jenkins May 29 in the College View church by Elder O. T. Garner, president of the Nebraska conference.

The bride's wedding dress was of white satin and she carried a bouquet of white roses. Elaine Williams, the bride's sister, was maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Ellen Eggert, Marjorie Keene, Mary Ohnemus, and Evelyn McWilliams. Mr. Jenkins' best man was Reynolds Hoffman. Ushers were Leonard Rogers, Floyd Byers, Orville Schneider, and Leonard Webb.

Following the wedding, a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Williams.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Jenkins are former students of Union college. Mr. Jenkins having graduated in 1938. During the past year he has been a ministerial intern in the Nebraska conference. They will live at Lynch, Nebraska.

Union College Academy Holds Commencement

Principal F. E. Bresee Presents Diplomas to Nine Seniors

Commencement service of Union College academy for the graduation of nine seniors was held in the college chapel May 25.

Class officers were: Charles Harris, president; Moneta Caviness, vice-president; and Winona Anderson, secretary-treasurer.

Viola Ely, Louise Leeper, Virginia Nystrom, Mabel Pruitt, Opal Rumbaugh, and Florence Wilburn complete the roll of members.

The program was presented as follows: processional, "Pomp and Circumstance"; invocation, Professor J. N. Anderson; vocal solo, Herbert Hohensee; address, Dr. H. K. Schilling; trumpet duet, "Sextet" from "Lucia," by Ervin Sorensen and Carlyle Cornell; presentation of diplomas, Mr. F. E. Bresee, principal of the academy, and benediction, Mr. A. D. Holmes.

mission of the Atlantic Union conference; and Theone Evans Wheeler, of Brazil.

As the call of consecration was made, the audience arose in dedication to the service of God. J. N. Anderson offered the consecratory prayer.

On the platform were three returned missionaries: Elder J. W. Rowland, formerly principal of the Malayan Union seminary and director of the North Borneo mission, Singapore, Straits Settlements; Elder J. N. Anderson, first Seventh-day Adventist missionary to China; and Elder F. E. Bresee, formerly superintendent of the Inca Union mission, Lima, Peru. With them were Mr. and Mrs. Charles Winter, who are under appointment to teach in the China Training institute at Hong Kong, China.

ADMINISTRATORS VISIT

Pearl L. Rees, former dean of women here, and H. A. Morrison, formerly president of Union college, were guests here during commencement week.

Miss Rees is now dean of women at Atlantic Union college, Lancaster, Massachusetts. Elder Morrison is educational secretary of the General conference of S. D. A. in Washington, D. C.

Elder R. J. Christian Opens Ingathering Drive with Goal Set at $2500

Great thinkers of today do not agree with the optimistic belief that the world is enlarging its field of fellowship, for they know that mankind has lost his bearing and has reason to be fearful and anxious, stated Elder R. J. Christian, home missionary secretary of the Central union conference of Seventh-day Adventists, in his Ingathering-launching sermon in the College View church Sabbath, June 3.

This is the time when angels are holding the four winds of strife till God's servants are sealed, Elder Christian said, and Seventh-day Adventists should sense their responsibilities of giving the gospel while conditions are ripe.

The Ingathering goal for the College View church was set at $2500. The speaker suggested that when one goes out with the Ingathering annual he should not feel that it is a burden but should rejoice that he is a Seventh-day Adventist.

Everyday the equivalent of a new church of 123 souls is added to the denomination, which already has a membership of nearly half a million, and every five and a half days the advent message is proclaimed in a new language, Elder Christian reported.

Provisions for territory were made for persons ready to begin the campaign. Hope was expressed that the College View church would follow the pace set last year by the Australasian field, which reached its entire goal in three weeks.

Mrs. Hilts Entertains Faculty Women's Club

The faculty women's club met at the home of Mrs. D. G. Hilts on May 18 to make further plans for organization of the club, which will meet regularly when school opens in the fall.

Mrs. A. H. Rulkoetter, president of the club, presided, and Mrs. D. G. Hilts entertained.

Summer S. S. Officers Conduct First Programs

The Union college Sabbath school, under the direction of Reynolds Hoffman, superintendent, welcomed the students and Medical corps recruits to its first summer meeting Sabbath morning, June 3. V. W. Becker, educational and missionary volunteer secretary of the Texas conference, who was here with the Medical corps men from his state, taught the lesson to the entire congregation as one class.

Secretary Ruth Axt read the report of the previous Sabbath's meeting. Ray Stewart gave the Scripture reading and prayer, and James Chase reviewed the lesson of May 27. A trumpet solo was played by Preston Neff.

Associate superintendent Florence Unterseher and associate secretary James Chase were in charge of the Sabbath school June 10. A. D. Holmes, mathematics instructor, taught the day's lesson to the group as a whole.

Scripture reading and prayer were given by Juanita Paxton, preceptress at Campion academy last year. The mission story consisted of a letter from a friend in Africa read by Miss Pearl Hall, modern language instructor. Paul Whitlow gave a pre-view of the lesson for the following Sabbath. Chorister Stanley Kannenberg led a short song service before each meeting.

President Urges Summer School Students to Teach with Purpose

No teacher should be satisfied with his teaching accomplishment in any field until he is certain that his pupils understand the principle involved, perceive its truth, and are able to state what they have learned, quoted President A. H. Rulkoetter in his chapel talk to the summer school students June 7.

To restore in man the image of his Maker, and to point out to him the purpose of God in His workings with mankind, the president summarized as the principle aims of true education, emphasizing the vital necessity of having definite objectives in teaching.

President Rulkoetter's talk had particular pertinency since the majority of Union's summer school students either are, or plan to be, teachers in elementary or secondary schools.

Faculty To Scatter For Summer Activities

Graduate Study, Campaign Work, and Vacation Tours Included

A number of Union college faculty members are to be away from Lincoln this summer, most of them doing field work or attending school. Some plan to visit relatives.

Dean G. W. Habenicht will attend the University of Chicago, where he will take classes in personnel work and guidance under Dr. A. J. Brumbaugh, dean of the college and professor of education. Mrs. Habenicht will visit relatives in Nevada, Iowa, and go to Chicago later in the summer.

Dr. and Mrs. E. B. Ogden and children plan to spend a share of the summer in Walla Walla, Washington. In Wyoming, Kansas, and Nebraska Dr. Ogden will solicit students for the college.

Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Little will visit in Nevada, Iowa, at the home of Mrs. Little's parents for a time, and from there proceed to the University of Chicago, where Mr. Little will do graduate work. In August he will attend the denominational convention of Seventh-day Adventist English, education, and modern language teachers at Washington, D. C.

Dr. and Mrs. Everett Dick and children will visit in Kansas with relatives.

Miss Catherine Shepard will leave in July for Washington, D. C., where she will attend an elementary curriculum revision committee meeting of the General Conference of Seventh-day Adventists. She will also go to the denominational convention for teachers of education, in the same city. If possible, she plans to spend a few days at the New York World's Fair.

Mr. and Mrs. Milo Hill are engaged in field work for the college in Minnesota and Iowa.

Dr. H. G. Reimnuth will attend the meeting of modern language teachers of the denomination at Washington, D. C., immediately after summer school. From there, he and his family will go to New York.

Dr. and Mrs. G. D. Hagstotz are doing field work in Colorado and Missouri this summer.

Mr. and Mrs. Gayland Lashier spent a two-weeks vacation with relatives in Walla Walla, Washington.

Mr. F. E. Bresee is now teaching in the summer school and also carrying nine hours of work at the University of Nebraska. After summer school, he and Mrs. Bresee plan to visit relatives in South Dakota and Minnesota.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Yost and son, Donald, are in Washington, D. C., where Mr. Yost is teaching religion at the Seventh-day Adventist theological seminary.

Prof. J. N. Anderson is acting as chaplain of the Boulder-Colorado sanitarium.

Prof. Carl C. Engel is vacationing in California. Business manager H. C. Hartman is attending camp-meetings in North and South Dakota.

A formal birthday surprise party honoring Leonard Webb was given in the parlor of North hall May 27. Guests were Mildred Priest, Cleeva Stephens, Esther Priest, Melvin Franklin, Leonard Webb, and Wilbert Schneider.

Dean Schilling Conducts First Vesper Service

"There is nothing from without a man, that entering into him can defile him; but the things which come out of him, those are they that defile the man," quoted Dean H. K. Schilling as a basis for his devotional talk in vespers Friday evening, June 9.

There is much outside, however, that can purify a man, the speaker declared, if he has a right reaction to these external stimuli.

Man is on a plane of existence higher than that of the common beast because the Creator made man with a mind that can create a world of thought and emotion and truth, Dean Schilling pointed out.

The vesper hour was the first the summer school family has had as a group, and as such was an hour of quiet music and devotion.

AUTHOR OF "EXILED" HERE

Serpuhi Tavukdjian, widely known as the author of Exiled (Review and Herald, 1933), spent a short time at North hall June 7 while enroute from Florida to Scottsbluff, Nebraska, where she will spend part of her vacation before going on to California.

During the past winter, Miss Tavukdjian has been nursing at the Orlando-Florida sanitarium, it was revealed in an interview with her. Miss Tavukdjian has given numerous lectures since her arrival in the United States as an exile from Turkey.
