Men and Women Turning to Adventists for Help

R. S. WATTS, Vice-president, General Conference

Men and women across the nation are turning to Seventh-day Adventists for help. People are increasingly recognizing smoking as a major health hazard; and, thank God, they also recognize that Seventh-day Adventists have developed a programme that works, that has helped at least a million smokers break the habit.

NBC Television has filmed the Hinsdale Sanitarium and Hospital Five-day Plan team and already shown these half-hour programmes in Chicago, Cleveland, Washington, D.C., New York, and Los Angeles.

NBC Television in Detroit featured Dr. A. W. Weaver, an Adventist physician active in the Five-day Plan. This resulted in a massive response — 13,000 letters and 600 phone calls — all looking to Seventh-day Adventists for help.

Do temperance exhibits at fairs pay off? Two thousand people signed their names in a temperance booth in Northern California asking for help in breaking the smoking habit.

The General Conference Temperance Department has developed an exciting new programme to help people with a drinking problem. It is called "The Four Dimensional Key to the Cause of Alcoholism," or "The Four D. K. Programme." This programme has been successfully tested in Miami and Philadelphia and will soon be added to the regular temperance arsenal.

Two new 16-mm movies have been completed during 1969; "Countdown," a space oriented smoking film, and "A Crutch for All Seasons," a film contrasting life's natural and false dependencies.

A series of four films to be used in the "4 DK" alcohol education programme will be completed by December.

Listen magazine is providing valuable information for Seventh-day Adventist adults and young people in recognizing and avoiding the drug menace.

Public school districts and Health Agencies picture North America as beset with burgeoning problems of smoking, alcoholism, mental illness and drug users. They are asking Seventh-day Adventists to join in a co-operative work in providing health education for youth to combat these social evils.

Yes, Temperance is booming! Seventh-day Adventists are being brought to the forefront. Your active and sacrificial gift is needed in the Temperance offering on October 25 to swell the Temperance boom.

First Adventist Missionaries Sent to Northwest Territories

A. W. KAYTOR, President of Alberta Conference

On September 1, Brother and Sister Bartsch and their family pulled out of Camp Rundle at Canmore where they had been attending a Medical-Ministerial Retreat, and headed for Yellowknife, Northwest Territories, in their 1947 Cadillac. Yellowknife is approximately 900 miles north of Edmonton, 600 miles of which is gravel road. (A letter received from the Bartsches a few days ago revealed that they had arrived safely.)

worked in the Northwest Territories, the Bartsches are the first denominationally employed missionaries to be sent to the area to pioneer the work.

Brother Bartsch is a native of Saskatchewan. He took studies last year at Canadian Union College to further prepare himself for his work. Previously he had worked as Bible worker in Red Deer under the sponsorship of the Alberta (S.D.A.) Medical Association.

Sister Bartsch, formerly Ann Schroeder, was born in Manitoba. They have four children, Valerie, age 15; Bryan, age 14; Darwyn, age 9; and Sheila, age 7.

Brother and Sister Bartsch look forward to an interesting and challenging time as they begin to work in the capital city of the Northwest Territories, and our prayer is that they might find many jewels for God's kingdom in this northern frontier.

A Message from the President of the General Conference

Seventh-day Adventist families who are not regular readers of the REVIEW deprive themselves of much valuable spiritual counsel and help, and also deny themselves of up-to-the-minute reports of church activities in all the world. I urge you to subscribe to the REVIEW. And read it!

Christmas Joy

While we as a people know that December 25 is not actually the birthday of our Saviour, it is true that the world makes much of the occasion and that it is considered a time for rejoicing in the Lord, for conveying good wishes to friends and loved ones, and for exchanging gifts that one hopes will bring joy and happiness to the recipient.

Earnest, sincere Seventh-day Adventists find themselves constantly thinking in terms of witnessing for the message and how various occasions may provide opportunities for effective soul-winning effort.

Many times the head-on approach does not get the desired results, but an oblique approach stimulates interest and leads souls to investigate the message. That is one of the reasons why the church has a health programme. Health is something of universal interest. When Jesus was on earth He spent more time caring for the sick than actually preaching to them. He knew that by ministering first to the bodies of men he could more readily find access to the souls of men. You can emulate His example by making use of our splendid health journal Life and Health. It is written monthly by some of the finest physicians in the country, and its prime objective is to help one learn how to keep well.

Life and Health is read with great appreciation by all classes of people. The worst sinner is interested in prolonging his existence. Religious prejudice does not affect people when they are learning ways to protect their health. One reader who was praising Life and Health, not knowing it was an SDA publication, said when told it was an Adventist periodical, "Well, there must be more to Seventh-day Adventists than I had thought." Life and Health makes friends for the message everywhere it goes.

You will soon be thinking about spreading some Christmas joy. What better gift could you give to your friends, neighbours, and loved ones than a year's subscription to Life and Health? Our health literature is called in the Spirit of Prophecy "an entering wedge." It has been the instrument, under the blessing of Heaven, to pry open many a closed heart.

To help encourage you to use this valuable soul-winning tool, which regularly sells for $5.50 a year, we are letting you have it for Christmas-gift purposes at the cost of two subscriptions for the price of one. That means you can send Life and Health to ten persons for only $27.50. How else can you spread so much joy for such a little investment? And everyone who receives it will remember you each month, as it comes in the mail, and will rise up and call you blessed. But, that is not all. If a church with a membership of 100 or more turns in 100 subscriptions for Life and Health we will send to the Sabbath School Investment leader $70 to add to its Investment Fund. To churches of 50 to 99 members submitting 50 subscriptions we will send an Investment check in the amount of $35, and to churches of 49 members or less submitting 25 subscriptions we will remit $17.50. We will add an extra 70 cents for each subscription above the required totals.

Last year we were pleased to send back to the Sabbath Schools a large sum of money for Investment. Make this Christmas a Life and Healthy one. Make your Christmas shopping a missionary project and you will be surprised at the pleased reactions on the part of those who, because of your generosity, become readers of our fine health journal.

Prayers Solicited Across Canada for the Faith for Today Penticton Series

The Faith for Today Penticton evangelistic series will be conducted in mid-January of 1970 on into February. It offers promise of being unusually fruitful. Our church members across Canada are invited to pray most earnestly that God will pour out His Spirit. Let us ask that the Lord will bless with at least 50 souls as a result of the coming crusade. Thank you.

Faith for Today

If one has unwavering faith, if his plans are built on the promises of God, if he is willing to follow God at a pace which He prescribes instead of going ahead of God, then he will understand the text, "Thou wilt keep him in perfect peace, whose mind is stayed on thee." (Isa. 26:3). "Be still and know that I am God." (Ps. 46:10).

Literature Evangelist Experiences

What a privilege to be in the army of God! While calling door-to-door in a small community, I met a wonderful elderly couple. Upon canvassing them, I found he became very much interested in the Bible Story but said that the price was high. We continued discussing youth problems, etc. and had a wonderful Bible study. Then I asked if we could end with a prayer.

Upon rising, he said, "I will take the Bible Story for I know God has answered my prayer." I wrote up the contract and closed the sale. Before I left, his wife broke out in tears and clenched my hand and said, "Please remember me each night in your prayers."

I now invite all your prayers also for these dear people. As I walked out the door she said, "God bless you brother in all your work."

CLAUDE OSBORN

Because I felt that it could help her, I gave a lady a booklet we have in French: "Counsels for Daily Living", consisting of the four last chapters of the Ministry of Healing. I had promised to phone her in the evening to give her a certain useful address. When I called the lady, she told me that one of her daughters, who is working as a nurses' aid in a hospital wanted to have the health book and also the little book. She had started to read it and liked it very much. She ordered them for the next morning. I was very happy, of course, to deliver the books the next day. Thus the Lord blessed a little deed of charity and encouraged me greatly.

Brother Sudds came to work with me and suggested we contact the Catholic schools of Red Deer. The man in charge of the school system received us warmly and said he was very familiar with the Bible Story books since having them in his own home. However, he stated that it would be necessary for the principals of the schools to decide if they wanted the books. He then gave us the names of the five principals with directions how to find the schools.

One principal expressed his happiness to see us, saying that he had been wanting to get a set of these books but had lost the address. Another school had a lady principal who was much impressed with the beautiful and simple way the Bible Stories were prepared. She felt the material they had been using was not too satisfactory. She was going to suggest that all the schools get our books so they would have uniform classes in case the children changed from one school to another. She was truly concerned about the attitude of young people of today and felt it was time to do something and said, "Remember how Rome fell."

REGINALD WISE

It was nine years ago when I first canvassed a certain family. As a result, I sent the Dorcas ladies to their apartment with clothing for an expected infant. The eldest child went to Sabbath School until the family moved to another part of town. When Elder Vandeman held evangelistic meetings I invited this mother to attend. After driving her to ten of the series, her husband refused to let her come again. Last week before Camp Meeting she came to church again. That evening she came to visit me and studied the Bible almost continuously. She was so full of questions and faith opened up before her in a new light and a new life miraculously took over her former doubts and fears. I introduced this woman to another sister who had experienced the same domestic problems and thus was able to help her in a kind and loving way.

Our prayers were answered when the family responded by joining the baptismal class the first Sabbath of Camp Meeting. She and her two older girls attended the classes. Evidently God had wrought so wonderfully for them there was no doubt whatever what they should do. Even little sister Virginia, and her brother Dexter, now nine years old, were overjoyed when their mother and two sisters were baptized. And there was "joy in heaven" that last night of Camp Meeting, too. Some day the dear Dorcas sisters who helped this family nine years ago will receive their reward with rejoicing.

"Toronto Star" Lauds Pastor Vandeman

The Toronto Daily Star carried an excellent half-page article on the It Is Written TV programme. It stated that George Vandeman, a super salesman for the Seventh-day Adventist Church, would be coming to Toronto.

"He is everything a super salesman should be. He believes in his product, he knows his audience and can sell," said Doug Hall, the Star writer.

A nine-inch picture of Pastor Vandeman, taken by a prize-winning newspaper photographer, accompanied the captivating spread.

Good things like this are opening up for the It Is Written Campaign in Toronto and Hamilton. For instance, a song leader and platform man was needed to support Pastor Vandeman. A number of workers who were experienced in this line would have enjoyed helping, but circumstances prevented them from doing so. Almost miraculously the name of H. R. Feyerabend came to us. Amateur Radio enabled us to contact him in the heart of Brazil. Arrangements were made for this returning missionary to be with us in Toronto the first of October. Pastor Feyerabend was a teacher, then led the Voice of Prophecy Quartette for five years before taking up full-time evangelism. During his last fifteen evangelistic campaigns two thousand people have been baptized.

Our thanks go to the General Conference for sending Pastor Harold Reiner and Bible Instructor Mrs. Edna Tardiff to help with the visitation work.

The Lord who has begun a good work gives encouraging evidence to help us believe that good results will come from this campaign. Please support the meetings by your attendance, means and prayers.

"Thank You" — Elder and Mrs. Heimo Heghesan

Your friends at South River, Ontario, wish to thank both of you for your loving and untiring service in our community, and we wish you God's richest blessings in your new field of service.

Elder and Mrs. Heghesan, we did not think you would get back from your vacation in time for any farewell get-together. It had to be a rushed breakfast as your van was waiting for you — but we do hope you will remember your friends in South River every time you look at the oil painting of this area done by a local resident. Again, may we say "thank you" for your ministry to the vast Ontario northland.

Instructor at Kingsway

Receives Master of Arts Degree with Highest Honours

Miss Leona Alderson

Miss Leona Alderson, head of the Home Economics Department, at Kingsway College, received her Master of Arts in Education from Andrews University during their Summer Commencement.

A member of a class of 262, Miss Alderson was one of only six who graduated Summa Cum Laude. This honour is granted to only those who achieve a straight A average in all of their university work.

We were highly pleased to hear that Miss Alderson also received special commendation from the Ontario Department of Education on her fine achievement. This is an honour in itself. We are very proud to have Miss Alderson as a member of our faculty here at Kingsway College.

Regina Church Member Celebrates 100th Birthday

Brother and Sister George Curtis

Sister Charlotte Lavinia Curtis of Regina, Saskatchewan, celebrated her 100th birthday on August 8. Mrs. Curtis is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Horne and was born in the Milton area of Prince Edward Island in the year 1869.

In 1905 she married George Curtis and the newlyweds came west and located in Regina. In 1931 the Curtises became members of the Seventh-day Adventist Church and since then have been active in church responsibilities. For many years Brother Curtis served as treasurer of the church. Presently he is a member of the School Building Committee and has spent considerable time helping with the construction of the new Regina Church School.

Sister Curtis enjoys a remarkable degree of health. She continues to do her housework and sets a perfect example of attendance at Sabbath School and Church services no matter how cold or stormy the weather may be.

Sponsored by the church, a dinner reception was held in her honour. At the reception letters and telegrams of congratulations were read from Premier Thatcher, Prime Minister Trudeau and from the Queen. Mayor Baker of the city of Regina presented Mrs. Curtis with an engraved plaque bearing the coat of arms of the city.

Family and friends join in wishing Brother and Sister Curtis God's continued blessing in their faithful service for Christ.

Baptism

Matthew 19: 13-15. Then were there brought unto Him little children, that He should put His hands on them, and pray: and the disciples rebuked them. But Jesus said, Suffer little children, and forbid them not, to come unto me: for of such is the kingdom of heaven. And He laid His hands on them.

Though the wind blew hard and the waves on the lake were high, the water was warm and the young people rejoiced as they were baptized. Here they are coming out of the water ready to be used in the Lord's service.

So on a beautiful Sabbath afternoon August 30th, six young people came to Jesus for a special blessing, and gave their lives and hearts to Jesus, and were baptized into the wonderful name of Jesus Christ. Their faces glowed with great joy as they came out of the water (Lake Winnipegosis), and we all rejoiced with them.

May the loving God richly bless them as they will grow in grace and in the knowledge and wisdom of our Lord Jesus Christ.

Meetings in Airatorium

A peculiar sight rose in a vacant lot in the town of Hazel Dell, Saskatchewan in the third week of July.

The second-hand Auditorium recently purchased by the Manitoba-Saskatchewan Conference was seeing its first evangelistic series in Canada. It is thought that perhaps this series of meetings was the first such to be held in an Airatorium in Canada.

In preparation for the meetings the Hazel Dell Church members assisted by members from Canora and Endeavour visited the homes of the community covering the area as far as a twenty-mile radius. In the first such visit one of the Amazing Facts tracts was left in the homes. Then three weeks later, just before the meetings began, a second of these tracts was left with those visited as well as a handbill advertising the coming meetings. Each family was then encouraged to attend.

Pastor Roy Jamieson, local district pastor, was the speaker for the crusade and was assisted in this by Pastor Jim Burgess from Prince Albert. On three Sunday afternoons Pastor Stan Gallant came from Yorkton and presented a message in Ukrainian. Miss Lorna Tkachuk from Erickson, Manitoba, presently attending Kingsway College was a much appreciated member of the team as she provided inspiring music in song, as well as with her accordian. She also assisted in the follow-up home visitation.

Cold and wet weather hampered the attendance at first and discouraged some from returning. By the last week of the series heat was provided with the help of a large propane tank of Brother Tom Skoretz who assisted in the meetings in many ways.

At present Pastor Jamieson is working with those, who by their attendance, have shown interest in God's last message to mankind.

Bonnie Anderson stated appreciation that the way in which nursing is organized today relieves the nurse of many cleaning operations and allows her to spend time talking with her patients, recognizing fears, anticipating needs and providing explanations to prevent misunderstanding. EXCERPTS FROM GRADUATION ADDRESSES

Elder W. R. L. Scragg
Associate Secretary
General Conference of Seventh-day Adventists

"The objects of your care are captives in the prison house of pain," were the words of Elder Ward Hill, Instructor at Kingsway College, as he addressed himself to the graduating students at the Branson Hospital School of Nursing Consecration Service on Friday, September 12. He stated that the affliction of pain is not an act of God as many suppose, for God is grieved by human suffering. He enumerated many ways in which a person suffers pain. "Pain keeps one from being too satisfied with the world," he said.

Pastor John Corban, chaplain of North York Branson Hospital, was particularly pleased that he could speak on the motto, "To Bridge the Gap between Humanity and Christ." A knowledge of feelings of futility had been impressed on him particularly this summer, as he has been attending a special study session at the Mental Health Clinic in Toronto. On one wall of a ward there, he observed many inscriptions. One read, "I know you don't understand me now. I don't expect you ever will, but I only wish you did know." In a scrapbook, another patient had written, "I feel like a blind person in a totally dark room, looking for a black cat." "These are expressions of futility," Pastor Corban said, "yet they show a longing for someone to understand, to care and to help." Training as a nurse helps the graduate bridge the gap between herself and her patient, then between her patient and God.

The Commencement address was presented on Sunday afternoon by Elder W. R. L. Scragg, associate secretary of the Radio and Television Department of the General Conference. Elder Scragg pointed out that the worst gap of all is the sin gap, which separates the human being from God and which seems to grow wider as the years go on. He spoke of the computerization of the age in which we are living but stressed the fact that there will always be the necessity of the human element in the practice of nursing. When Jesus was in the world He was the light of the world, and so the Christian nurse must impart the light and love of Christ to suffering mankind, were his closing thoughts.

President Kaytor Introduces New Workers for the Alberta Conference

For Edmonton . . .

Heimo Heghesan, with his wife, Myrna, and son, Michael, age 4, arrived in Alberta the beginning of August, 1969, to commence his service as pastor of the Edmonton English Church and district.

Brother Heghesan was born in Oulainen, Finland. He attended school at Toivonlinna, Finland, then came to Canada and continued his education at Kingsway College, Oshawa Business College, Canadian Union College and Andrews University.

His first field of labour was Toronto where he served as pastor-evangelist for one year. Then followed three months of evangelism in Ottawa, and three years pastoring in South River, Ontario, where he also worked with Dr. Laing in medical evangelism.

Sister Heghesan, formerly Myrna Coolen of Nova Scotia, attended Oshawa Missionary College and Branson Hospital School of Nursing and then served as nurse at Branson Hospital and as school nurse for a year at Canadian Union College.

We know that, with their Christian fortitude and dedication to the cause of God, Brother and Sister Heghesan will do a good work for the Lord in this field. We welcome them into the working force of the Alberta Conference and pray that the Lord will richly bless their labours.

For Medicine Hat . . .

Lacombe VBS

Bonnie Collins with Children's Crafts at Lacombe Vacation Bible School.

The first Vacation Bible School in many years was conducted successfully in the J. S. McCormick High School in Lacombe August 11 to 21. Approximately 54 children attended the school.

The Vacation Bible School programme was directed by Mrs. John McKibbin and was assisted by a number of ladies of the Lacombe Church. On Wednesday, August 20 the parents were invited to a special programme presented by the children. This generated a lot of good will by the parents for this type of self-sacrificing labour by the Adventists. One mother offered her home for a Children's Story Hour this winter.

NOTE: ALL Vacation Bible Schools for the summer were briefly reported in the Sept. 22 MESSENGER. None had come in for Alberta so we have given the above as the final VBS report for this year.—Ed.

Blaeberry Beacon Camp in Action

On Sunday, August 10, we checked in 33 campers, mostly from the Golden and Revelstoke areas, a variety of boys and girls, ranging in ages from 9 to 15 years.

Although we moved right into an active camp programme, some of the campers saw nothing but mosquitoes, boredom, nothing exciting — no TV, no A & W, no confectioners, no Dairy Queen. It was grumble, grumble, grumble, that is — for about the first day or two.

That attitude cannot last long at Blaeberry Beacon Camp! Every day was packed with interesting experiences, so by about the third day the campers were so charged with enthusiasm, that all the grumbling vanished.

At 6:30 a.m. the bell in the tower would announce time to rise. In a few minutes all campers were dressed, washed, brushed, ready for prayer bands before flag raising. Then the unit on cook duty would hurry off to the cooking area to help with the breakfast. After breakfast and camp duties, and inspection, Pastor Homenchuk always had an interesting topic for Camp Council. This was followed by the main activities for the day, swim classes, pioneering, campcraft, and cooking classes.

After a hearty dinner, there was a little time for rest, to write letters, work on gimp, sign the guest book, and to visit with the pastor. The Hathaways had brought three canoes, and Grandma Hathaway her preparation for nature classes, so the afternoons never lacked for activity. We even squeezed in time for a few baseball games. In the evenings we also managed time for a game or two of capture the flag before the campfire.

By the end of the week, the campers were proud of their achievements, and wished the camp could continue on and on and on. Pastor Homenchuk's camping boys had completed their campcraft requirements, including a campout in native shelters by the river, and had built a big raft of logs. Ken Hathaway's boys had built a tall signal tower, and we had all gone huckleberry picking in the Selkirks. All the campers had had the experience of cooking pancakes over an open outdoor fire. They had learned to decipher secret Morse code messages, which led to hidden treasures each day. The nature groups had fine collections of insects and tree leaves. We had hiked over miles and miles of mountain trails (and bush without trails). Altogether the campers earned a total of 33 vocational honours.

Sabbath was a happy day, with Sabbath School and church services out of doors, a long nature hike in the afternoon, and campfire vespers to finish off the day. Our Saturday night wound up with a jolly hayride to the river where we had a campfire, roasted Vegelinks and marshmallows. Everyone went to bed tired but happy.

As camp broke up Sunday morning, the happy campers all expressed their appreciation for the camp and their desire to come again next year. It is the sincere wish of the director and staff that each and every camper has progressed in their mental, physical, social and spiritual development for having attended Blaeberry Beacon Camp.

BETTY BUNTING

Chetwynd Baptism

Chetwynd baptismal group with Pastor Myers.

Paul and Wayne Sawchuk, Mark Laws, Jon Nichols, Martha and Jean Schollenburg and Richy Laws all members of the Chetwynd Pathfinder's Club, directed by Sister Lorne Ganson and Sister Lyle Schollenburg, responded to the call of their Master Pathfinder and followed Him into the waters of baptism. What a thrill it was to see these young people coming up out of the cold waters of Big Lake with a warm glow in their hearts and faces set towards following this new and exciting path to the Kingdom. The witnessing of this event made such an impression on little two-year-old Steven Nicholson that he told his daddy that he was going to be baptized when he got big.

God grant an ever widening of the circle until it reaches heaven's shore. Sabbath, August 30 was another first for the newly organized church of Chetwynd.

PASTOR R. E. MYERS

Former Okanagan Graduate Leaves for Ethiopia

Miss Marilyn Pinder left for Vancouver on Monday, August 25, where she boarded another plane for Europe. She will fly to Amsterdam, Holland; Frankfurt, Germany; and then on to Addis Ababa in Ethiopia. There she will serve as Acting Director of Nursing in the Adventist Hospital, Empress Zauditu Memorial Hospital. She will be training native women in the profession of nursing.

Miss Pinder was born in British Columbia. She graduated from the Okanagan Academy when Eldon James-Veitch was principal. She received her Bachelor of Science degree from Walla Walla College in Washington and majored in the field of nursing, and is now a Registered Nurse.

At Loma Linda University in California, she received her Master of Science degree in nursing. For three years she was an instructor in Nursing at the Adventist Hospital in Portland.

Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Pinder and brother, Lorne, live in Rutland. Her brother, Marvin, who is a graduate of Walla Walla College, will be teaching mathematics at the Okanagan Academy this year.

Before coming home for a month's visit, Marilyn went to Andrews University for a six-week course in Missionary Orientation.

At a gathering of her friends in Copa

Park, Mr. Eldon James-Veitch presented Marilyn with a small travel clock engraved with the words, "From your friends at Home." Pastor Fred Wagner presented her with a small box of envelopes, containing a gift of cash for her journey.

The Fruits of Literature Evangelism in British Columbia

The literature evangelists of the British Columbia Conference have won sixty souls to the Message as a result of their labours. Doubtless there are many others whose lives have also been enriched because a godly literature evangelist called at their home. There is really no way to calculate the good will and influence of a born-again spirit-filled bookman.

God's postmen do more than just sell books. They pray with people, often enrolling them in a Bible Course or conducting a Bible study. The following list are the fruits of labour to date in 1969 from the British Columbia literature evangelists: Free literature distributed—

9,144, Bible Course Enrolments — 342, Bible Studies — 147, Those who are attending church or Sabbath School — 16, Former Seventh-day Adventists contacted — 7, Souls baptized this year — 4, Delivery of truth-filled literature to date — $62,423.38. "By their fruits ye shall know them" Matthew 7:20.

THANKSGIVING

Let us be thankful that there still is sunshine, that we still can glimpse the blue of the sky and in our onward way, continue to look up. Let us be thankful for friends with kindly smile and cheerful words and for a loving heavenly father. This is a time for grateful thanksgiving!

Fire Prevention Week

In many areas of Canada and the United States Fire Prevention Week is being observed October 5 to 11. As President Nixon made the proclamation for this observance, he stated:

"In an era when technological advancement has brought to our Nation an almost unbelievable array of conveniences and comforts, we still are plagued by the hazard of man's oldest implement for self-preservation — fire. The potential dangers associated with fire still present a real threat to human life and property.

"The present level of our annual fire losses — more than 12,000 lives and over $2 billion in property — is a measure of our failure to heed fire hazards and to correct them. It is essential that every citizen recognize that such losses can be avoided, but only by personal involvement, determination, and a realization that fires need not occur."

As this day draws to a close fire will have struck 1,510 homes, 23 schools, 10 churches, and 21 hospitals and nursing homes as well as various other occupancies. During this same time in our nation, loved ones will be mourning the loss of the 33 people who have died.

It is possible that the home of some church member, or one of our schools or other institutions, may have been visited by this enemy.

President Nixon further declared:

"I urge that we, as a Nation and as individual citizens, assume a positive approach to fire prevention through the support of community fire departments, State and local governments, the National Fire Protection Association, business and civic group, and public organizations that are trying to combat the senseless waste of human life and national resources."

Has your approach to fire prevention been one of a positive character or a negative and passive one? It is never too late to start a new approach in your fire prevention activities. There are only three main causes of fire — men, women, and children. Does this include you?

Make every week Fire Prevention Week!
