

PACIFIC UNION RECORDED

Monday, March 23, 1981 / Volume 80, Number 36 / Angwin, California / Official Organ of the Pacific Union Conference of Seventh-day Adventists

A message of love from Adventists—The most recently produced commercial distributed by Faith For Today is a marriage/divorce testimonial spot. While a bride and groom pose for wedding pictures, the wedding coordinator turns away from the scene and talks into the TV camera. "I've learned some things the hard way," she says, introducing herself as a divorcee. "So I tell young people to take enough time to really know each other. Marriage is a bad place to discover just how little you know about someone . . ." The 30-second spot is scheduled for airing on "The Baxters" and will be released with the series called "This Was America."

Spot Coverage More Than Doubles

Adventist spot commercials are now released with another television program seen on five stations in the Pacific Union, announces Dan Matthews, director of Faith For Today.

Also, beginning April 19, viewers in the Los Angeles area will be able to see "The Baxters" on Sunday evening at 7:30 on KHJ Channel 9.

In late December Faith For Today literally "stepped out in faith" and purchased commercial time on "The Baxters" series, which is produced by BBI Communications of Boston, in an attempt to reach the 96 percent of viewers who claim never to watch a "religious" program. The Church is thus going where the people are rather than waiting for them to come to the Church.

Elder Matthews learned recently that the producers are also releasing the spots with another series called "This Was America."

"This Was America" airs on 33 stations across North America. Combined with 26 stations carrying "The Baxters," Adventist spots are being released to a total of 59 commercial stations plus 930 cable systems.

Fifth- and sixth-graders from the Long Beach Seventh-day Adventist School presented a latch-hook rug of the Great Seal of the United States to former President Gerald R. Ford at his office in Rancho Mirage. The rug was a class project. Shown with the rug are (from the left) Rory Hays, Renee Bradley, Teacher Don Wallar and Daniel Hays with President Ford.

Students Give Project to Former President

Hard work and a bit of artistic skill earned the 29 fifth- and sixth-grade students of the Long Beach School the chance of a lifetime recently—to meet a former President of the United States.

Don Wallar, their teacher, suggested to the social studies class early in the school year that they make a latch-hook rug showing the Great Seal of the United States, since they were studying American history. He also made contact with former President Gerald Ford's staff to arrange for the students to present him with their project.

Using an overhead projector transparency of the Seal to cast an image on paper, the students drew their own pattern for the rug. Then, working in groups of four students at a time, they latch-

"Breath of Life" Airs in Los Angeles

Breath of Life began airing on KHJ-TV, Channel 9, at 9:30 p.m. Sunday, February 22.

After hearing about the quality of production and the various formats of the telecast, KHJ-TV offered a prime time availability to Breath of Life.

While prayerful negotiations were in progress between Breath of Life management, leading Church officials, and KHJ-TV, three other programs made bids for the time and were prepared to offer more money. However, because of Channel 9's interest in this program and divine working, Breath of Life has been able to make this outreach in greater Los Angeles.

Please pray that many souls may be ministered to through this continuing outreach.

Position on Military Service Is Unchanged

Now that draft registration has already taken place for young men born during the years 1960-1962, the plan is for every 18-year-old to register within 30 days before or after his birthday.

All Adventist young men are urged to register at the appointed time. If you have already registered and have not received an acknowledgment letter within 90 days, you are not considered legally registered and you should check on this immediately.

With the registration have come reports in some areas that the Church has changed its position concerning military service. This is not true.

What was advocated by the Church as far back as Civil War days is still held today, namely, the noncombatant (1-A-O) position. This means a willingness to respond to a military draft and serve as loyal citizens in uniform, but not train with or use a weapon, thus following the Lord's teaching of not taking human life.

It is important that all members are clear on this important subject.

Since the late '60s the church has stressed the importance of personal decision and has offered support to all youth whether they choose the combat position (1-A), pacifist position (1-0), or that which the Church teaches, non-combatancy (1-A-O). Such a decision is not a test of fellowship.

This is the same position the Church has always held, but in earlier years the emphasis on one thought may have overshadowed the basic teaching. It should be clearly understood that at the present time, as always, the Church feels that the non-combatant position best reflects the Christian's effort to serve loyally his country as well as his God.

To better prepare our young

INSPIRATION SAYS

"If God's people had the love of Christ in the heart; if every church member were thoroughly imbued with the spirit of self-denial; if all manifested thorough earnestness, there would be no lack of funds for home and foreign missions; our resources would be multiplied; a thousand doors of usefulness would be opened, and we would be invited to enter."

SOUTHERN

Two Special Days Are Planned for Singles

"Singles in Action," in cooperation with the Southern California Conference, announces two special Singles Day events—one for the San Fernando Valley and another for the South Bay area.

The Northridge Church will host a Singles Day on Sabbath, March 28, and the Rolling Hills church will sponsor another on Sabbath, April 4.

Both programs are planned and conducted by Adventist single adults. They will begin with Sabbath school at 9:30 a.m. and continue all day. After church there will be an all-church potluck hosted by the singles.

The afternoon events will include a musical program and a panel discussion. Social fellowship will follow in the evening. Also, there will be special afternoon programs for children ages four to 12 and for earliteens and youth.

Singles Days acquaint single Adventist adults with the ministry called "Singles in Action." Also, these special days help the church to better understand the needs of single adults. Singles Days are held on Sabbaths so that single parents can spend time with their children and at the same time become acquainted with other singles in the church.

"Singles in Action" is for the formerly married, never married, and widowed.

For more information on coming events, please contact Lorraine Thomas, director, at (213) 993-8937 (evenings only); Tom Neslund's office at the Southern California Conference, (213) 240-6250, ext. 272; or call the Singles Hotline, (213) 244-7556 Tuesday and Wednesdays, 7-9 p.m., and receive a recorded message of coming events.

STUDENTS FROM EVERY CLASSROOM in the Los Angeles Union School—from kindergarten through eighth grade—helped contribute $800 which was given to the Breath of Life staff during a special assembly January 23. Some of the older students even gave up lunch at least one day in order to save extra money for the gift. On hand to receive the gift and present a concert and multi-image show on the Adventist Media Center were Walter Arties, Shelton Kilby, Mike Conner and (not pictured) James Kyle, members of the Breath of Life Quartet.

Cancer Survivors Support Group Forms

A unique new support program for cancer patients and their families has been developed at Glendale Adventist Medical Center—Wilson Terrace.

"We Can Do!" is an organization helping cancer survivors find new confidence in their ability to take charge of their lives. The group facilitates growth, hope and getting well in weekly meetings open only to cancer survivors and their families.

"Moral support, it is known, is therapeutic," comments Norman Cousins, chairman of the board of "We Can Do." "The brain produces a wide variety of secretions which are essential in combating illness," he says. "Confidence in one's ability to meet challenges helps to stimulate those secretions. Therefore, few things are more necessary in drawing up a total program for the treatment of cancer victims than having people who have been through the long tunnel provide light for those now in it."

In conjunction with GAMC personnel, "We Can Do" participants give each other a better understanding of the quality of life and renewed strength to fight for it.

"The program is based totally on the acceptance of each person and where he is right now," says Barbara Coleman, president of "We Can Do" and a cancer survivor who is enthusiastic about the ability of the individual to improve his or her own well-being. "We learn to cope when we are confronted with the staggering blow of a recurrence. We give hope without compromising realistic expectations," she explains.

The "We Can Do" group, led by Mike Simpson, director of Social Services at the Medical Center, meets every Tuesday at 10 a.m. Working with Mr. Simpson are G. Edward Bryan, Ph.D., Nancy Slater, Flora Yeracaris, Ph.D., Jean Litterte, R.N., and Jack Murphy, Ph.D.

This support program is a free community service and is open to all cancer patients.

Department Biennial Report

Lay Activities Becomes Personal Ministries

Although the name has been changed, the work of the personal ministries department is still to help the churches and more directly assist the personal ministries leaders and pastors of the churches in our Conference to assign, direct and lead their members into active Christian witnessing.

"Letting our light shine" as Jesus directed involves letting others know of our "good works" so that God may be glorified. This report for the past two years is not complete because not all who represent Christ in good works report it. The following, though, gives evidence of much dedication, direction and planning in the local churches and of the involvement of members. Spiritual contacts reported numbered 808,562; pieces of literature distributed, 2,530,375; Bible studies given, 41,900; persons helped, 103,914; articles of clothing given away, 276,540; cash and value of food given, $266,028; hours spent in welfare work, 180,024.

During the past two years, $16,413.49 was spent in helping laymen purchase soul-winning equipment. A total of 148 Dukane machines were purchased by churches and laymen for Bible studies.

The 1979 and 1980 Ingathering campaigns resulted in the highest total contributions in the history of our Conference, and the highest of any conference in North America. Of the $839,082 raised, about half was donated and the other half was solicited. Fifty-four percent of the Ingathering each year is returned to the Conference and local churches for such projects as welfare, summer camp, inner-city work, education and worthy-student assistance. When properly conducted, the Ingathering program provides an excellent opportunity to visit in the businesses and homes of the community.

Basic to the spreading of the good news is the missionary magazine program. The following magazine subscriptions have been sent by our members the last biennium: 4,693 Message, 1,944 These Times, 4,380 El Centinela and 27,244 Signs.

Training the laymen who desire to know how to witness to friends and family is a continuing program in Southern California. How to give Bible studies receives major emphasis in these training classes because the more Bible studies there will be. Training classes were held in 19 churches during the past two years.

If you would like to have training classes in your church, contact your personal ministries department.

Since the Bible is clear that all who accept Christ are to be His ministers, we urge every one to pray earnestly that God will reveal to him how he too can help share the gospel story with others.

Cathy Shimozone, who has been paralyzed for more than 10 years and confined to a wheelchair, was distressed that she couldn't take part in the recent Ingathering campaign of the Westchester Church.

After a discussion of the situation with her church personal ministries leader, Vern Adams, she accepted his suggestion that she solicit at her local bank.

Cathy went to the bank manager that week and received permission to sit beside the entrance on Friday afternoon and solicit funds. She was so successful the first time that she turned in $85.20. The next Friday found her there again, and this time she collected $87.15.

The total of her Ingathering was $172.35—a significant contribution to Westchester's Ingathering total of $3,901 for 1980. Enthusiastic members such as Cathy Shimozone helped the church raise more than double its goal.

In this Year of the Disabled Persons we thank people such as Cathy for showing us that physical obstacles are not a barrier to serving the Lord.

Kathy Pang Is Baptized at Aiea

Sabbath, December 27, was a happy day as Kathy Leilani Pang was baptized by Pastor John Sharp at the Aiea church.

Kathy and her husband, Vernon, completed the 20th Century Bible course with Rudy and Dianne Agcaoili. Vernon was baptized in March 1980, but the Mormon elders diligently visited the Pangs and invited them to church because Kathy professed to be a Mormon.

After completing the 20th Century course, the Pangs joined another 20th Century session led by Bob Nagaishi.

Kathy said that many factors led to her decision for baptism. When she visited her parents, sisters and brothers in Chico, California, she realized for the first time how important the Adventist religion was to her, and, more important, she could uphold the Adventist teachings in a non-Adventist environment. When she returned from her vacation, she was transferred to another savings and loan branch so she didn't have to work on Sabbath. These events and many more convinced Kathy that she needed to be united completely with the Lord.

Kathy is a savings and loan counselor at Honolulu Federal Savings and Loan. The Pangs have two children, Keoni and Leilani.

Las Vegas Member Has a Second Chance

On a recent Sabbath in the Las Vegas church, Gladys Morel, more affectionately known as Tweety, shared an experience which she says taught her a real lesson about witnessing.

It began quite some time ago when Ann Firth came into the office at the Paradise Spa where Mrs. Morel works, stating that she and her husband were interested in getting someone from the Adventist church to come and talk with them.

Tweety, comparatively new in the church herself, saw this as her chance and volunteered, saying she'd call and set up an appointment for a time that would be convenient for both families. But as soon as Ann left, Tweety started having second thoughts.

"A lot of doubts started," she says. "I questioned, 'What have I let myself into? I don't know these people very well, hardly know them at all, and I've never given a Bible study.'"

She talked herself out of the whole thing, letting one week and then another go by. But she couldn't quite get it out of her mind, so finally called. To her relief, there was no answer! She didn't have to make any excuses to get out of it—she'd done her part!

Then one day Ann's husband, Russ, came into the office with word that he and Ann were mov-

Hillams Begin Taskforce Work in Nevada

Within recent weeks Charles and Sandra Hillam have joined the working force of the Nevada-Utah Conference as Taskforce workers. After completing their fall quarter classwork at Pacific Union College, they made themselves available to serve as Bible workers in the Winnemucca area.

These fine young folk have entered upon the work with real enthusiasm and are very much appreciated by the people in that community. Their spirit of enthusiasm has been a real inspiration to the members of the Elko-Winnemucca District.

We are very happy to introduce the Hillams to our constituency and to assure all that we have been blessed by finding this dedicated couple, anxious to work in pioneer programs.

The Hillams, originally from Central California, are currently committed for one year of service, but it is entirely possible that they may continue on in follow-up work which is so important.

Charles and Sandra have the privilege of being associated in the district with Elder and Mrs. A. D. Chilson and a congregation most anxious to cooperate in every way.

Please remember this young couple in your prayers as they labor in our midst.

No "It Is Written" From Reno March 29

On the first Sunday of February, It Is Written began to be heard on KOLO-TV in Reno. Already many favorable responses are coming in.

We do want to alert our members to the fact that on the weekend of March 28 and 29 KOLO will be host to the Easter Seal Telethon, and It Is Written will not be aired on March 29.

We are very grateful that we now have this program on the air both in Salt Lake City and in Reno, and we trust that shortly it will also be on in the Las Vegas area, thus blanketing our entire conference.

Bakersfield ABC Moves to Best Plaza

In an endeavor to expand business to non-Adventists, the Bakersfield branch of the Adventist Book Center was moved to a new shopping mall—Best Plaza.

Known as the ABC Christian Book Center, it features Bibles, records, tapes and health foods as well as Christian books in a little more than 1,000 feet of display space. Mrs. Glenda Marshall, manager, is assisted by Mrs. Verna Hamilton.

These ladies seem to be accomplishing their goal of reaching out to the community. Most of the business is currently from walk-by customers, according to Mrs. Hamilton. "People are pleased that we are here and ask us questions about our books and beliefs," she adds.

Another source of customers is the participants of health programs run by Dr. John Scharf-fenberg at San Joaquin Hospital. Many come to the book center for health foods and cookbooks.

Located in a nice section of town at 4478 Ming Avenue, the ABC hours are: Sundays, 12 to 5 p.m.; Monday through Thursday, 10 a.m. to 6 p.m.; Friday, 9 a.m. to 2 p.m.

A good location in the Best Plaza, a new shopping mall, makes the ABC easier to find than it was in the previous location at Bakersfield Academy.

Working With God Brings Rich Rewards

Once again God has demonstrated in this day of economic failure a clear way in which He will finance our soul-winning efforts if we will only trust and cooperate with Him.

This truth has been brought home to the Soquel Sabbath school members in a remarkable way through Sabbath School Investment.

Soquel started by putting dollar bills to work and letting God bless the increase. Harold Christman, a retired engineer, promised God half the profit from a five-year all-but-bankrupt lease of his warehouse. God overcame the problem to bring in $25,000 for souls during the last five years.

Others used whatever God put in their hands. Marie Tuell and her sister, Alma, made stuffed animals. They sold $200 worth without advertising. Some entered annual flea-market sales, which brought in over $150.

Dorcas members joined Santa Cruz in an investment sale bringing in more than $350. Carl Meili, 99 and our oldest member, baked a dozen loaves of delicious bread for this sale at $1.50 a loaf. The Mayfields, in spite of his 83 years and her health problem, brought in $250. Jim Blackman promised God 20 percent if his business sold in a specified time. This added $500 more.

Margaret Roberson, soon to celebrate her 90th year, inspires all by making and selling tatted stationary. God strengthening her vision for this close, fine work made 1980 her best year with $502.

Another member had six projects, from saving $2 bills to delivering firewood, netting $675.

Putting it all together, God blessed the 120 members with $9,827 in 1980. The wonderful thing about Investment is that it requires no offering, just our faith and cooperation. God furnishes the increase!

James VanDivier, Assistant Investment Leader

Mrs. Margaret Roberson, who will soon be 90, tatted designs on stationary, which she sells for investment. Her total earnings last year were $502.

Programs and Concerts

Brad and Olive Braley, organ-piano duo, will present two sacred concerts in the Templeton Hills church Sabbath, March 28. At 11 a.m. they will present "God's People Delivered," and at 5 p.m. the program will be "To My Father and Your Father."

Living Lands of the Bible Study-Tour Planned

The 30-day Living Lands of the Bible study-tour for 1981 with Archaeologist-Author Siegfried Horn includes visits to eight Middle Eastern and European countries.

Subtitled "Capital Cities and Other Places," LLB 1981 leaves San Francisco, Los Angeles, Chicago, and New York on Wednesday, June 17, and returns Thursday, July 16.

Sponsored by the Office of Education of the Central California Conference, the tour was designed by Richard Lee Fenn, who was once a missionary in Jerusalem and Beirut and is now pastor of the Sunnyvale Church. Superintendent of Education Jay Lantry will be the day-by-day tour coordinator.

Loma Linda University's School of Education is offering three units of credit in conjunction with LLB: Capital Cities and Other Places.

Drs. Horn and Lantry will share in the presentation of EDCI 664/Seminar in Curriculum and Instruction: Bible Lands. Descriptive lectures will be presented at many of the sites as well as in hotels and airport lounges.

While the study-tour will be of interest to any Adventist anywhere, it has been designed especially for teachers (elementary, junior high, secondary and college). But ministers, college students, layworkers and retired persons should also benefit from the intensive program.

Members of the group—which will be limited to 80 persons—will visit Egypt (Cairo, Heliopolis, Gizeh, Memphis, Luxor, Karnak and Thebes), Jordan (Amman, Jerash, Petra, Heshbon, Madeba and Mount Nebo), Syria (Damas-cus), and Lebanon (Beirut, Byblos, Sebtayah and Sidon).

Sabbath in Jerusalem

On the West Bank and in Israel, LLB sites include Jericho, Tiberius, Capernaum, Megiddo, Haifa, Caesarea, Samaria, Shechem, Qumran, Masada, Hebron, Bethlehem and, above all, Jerusalem—where members will spend an unforgettable Sabbath.

On the return trip the LLB group will spend three days in Greece (Athens and Corinth) and a full week in Italy (Rome, Vatican City, Pompei, Pisa, Florence, Turin and Milan).

The per-person price of $3,999 (based on a group of 80 members) includes all air and ground transportation, airport and hotel transfers and portage, admissions, full vegetarian board, and double-occupancy room with shower. Visa fees, local taxes and special gratuities are extra (approximately $155). There is no tuition charge for the course, but the recording fee is $30.

Living Lands of the Bible: Capital Cities and Other Places is open to Adventists and their personal friends everywhere. For a tour prospectus write to Pastor Richard Lee Fenn, Director, Living Lands of the Bible, Central California Conference of Seventh-day Adventists, P.O. Box 580, San Jose, CA 95106; or telephone (408) 732-4080 (days) or (415) 969-3866 (early mornings and evenings).

They along with Elementary Supervisor Joyce Morse are the instructors for the workshop. As these projects have been taken around the Conference in the Curriculum Media trailer, teachers have found them to be very usable and educationally profitable in their classrooms.

The workshop features learning centers, file folder activities, and bulletin boards—all to be made from printed kits which need only to be colored, cut, and assembled.

Projects will be available at every elementary grade level in the six curriculum areas of language arts, reading, mathematics, science, fine arts and library. Materials are planned as an aid for integrating faith with learning in the classroom.

Cost of the workshop is $225, which includes housing, meals and materials for 20 projects. Certification renewal credit will be given.

Application blanks and brochures are available from the Curriculum Media Center, P.O. Box 580, San Jose, CA 95106; but hurry, as space is limited to the first 70 applicants. Deadline for applications is April 15.

The "Make and Take" Workshop by Curtiss and Kathy Oliver will feature the projects Central's teachers have been enthusiastically making when the Curriculum Media Center trailer is taken around to various schools.

Hilliards Attend Hong Kong Celebration

Recently Elder William Hilliard and his wife, Virginia, left Fortuna to return to Hong Kong's Macao Mission as honored guests.

Pastor and Mrs. W. A. Hilliard

Pastor Hilliard was born and reared in China, while his wife grew up in neighboring Japan. After academy graduation, both came to the United States to attend Pacific Union College.

In 1942 they were married, and then in 1946 following three and one-half years in Georgia they accepted a call to be missionaries in China. After a short stay due to Communist takeover, they transferred to Tibet and studied there for three years.

Every church is urged to have a representative present to learn ways and means to be better prepared to help should a disaster strike in the Northern California area.

Workers Meeting Is a Time of Refreshment

Pastors and Bible instructors had an opportunity to drink in generous quantities of the water of life as revealed in the Holy Scriptures recently when a four-day workers meeting was balanced with spiritual presentations and practical study for developing a "caring church."

From Andrews University Theological Seminary, Dr. Ivan Blazen gave a series of stirring presentations on the saving message of Jesus Christ as it is presented in the book of Romans. He demonstrated how skillfully the Apostle Paul avoided the twin dangers of antinomianism on one hand and legalism on the other.

Great emphasis was placed on the assurance of salvation and victory one has in his Christian life.

Throughout the day, Northern's departmental staff presented concepts of reaching the community through the development of a caring church system. Steps were reviewed and discussed with pastors participating in case studies and discussion groups. Banners illustrated various phases of the concept, and a large mobile was hung which showed how a well-balanced church will function to meet community needs and share Jesus Christ.

One evening was devoted to a presentation by Elder Ron Graybill of the White Estate in Washington, D.C. Elder Graybill reviewed the development of Ellen White's books and answered many questions that have been raised in the public press recently. When the setting and background of many questions were revealed, it was clear that some accusations that have been made are based upon a distortion of the facts.

During the latter part of the meeting, Dr. Bill Shea of Andrews University Theological Seminary gave several presentations on the prophecies of Daniel. Dr. Shea gave a reassuring look at the prophecies, which revealed that Adventist prophetic exposition is based upon sound and strong scholarship and knowledge of the original languages.

The entire workers meeting was an opportunity for all to come to a quiet place of refreshment and gain spiritual strength for the tasks that face each pastor. One pastor summed it up by saying, "I am really pleased to see the team spirit of all working together in Northern."

Rio Lindo Students Choose Unique Saturday-Night Activity

When teen-agers have a chance to plan their own Saturday night activity, as Rio's students are given on Choice Nights, a wide variety of possibilities comes to mind: ice skating, shopping, attending a football game, making goodies to eat, playing games, or even just enjoying the peacefulness of a faculty home to study for final tests! But for four young men it was a chance to do something to benefit someone else.

"I got the idea from my parents," said Rodney Davis. "One day we were discussing how we waste a lot of time doing things that don't mean much, like playing games. It's all right, and fun; but we can benefit more from studying God's word or doing something to help other people. So I asked the fellows I've been studying with—we've been getting together almost every night to study the Bible—and they all thought it was a great idea!"

The next step was to find a sponsor. Mr. Vern Wheeler, the flight teacher at Rio, was contacted. "Instead of a big party, they wanted to do some witnessing—did that make sense? I told them, 'Oh, yes, I'd be glad to do something like that with you.'"

So, on a Saturday night in January, Rodney Davis, Travis Gibb, Mike Ermshar and Dave Poli went with Mr. Wheeler to the Healdsburg hospital to visit two elderly ladies, Mrs. June DeRoche and her roommate, Hazel.

"We went in there just with the idea of visiting June and Hazel," said Travis. "Mrs. DeRoche entertained us instead of our entertaining her!"

David relates, "I liked it. It was fun! We just stood around her bed and listened to her tell jokes and stories and give us counsel on what we should and shouldn't do!"

They listened as Mrs. DeRoche, a long-time theatrical singer, sang some songs. They, in turn, sang "I come to the Garden Alone" and others the ladies requested, then prayed with them.

"It was good, this singing," said Rod. "I wonder what the nurses thought!"

"Mrs. DeRoche was almost crying when we left," reported Mr. Wheeler. "The ladies were very appreciative to think that someone, particularly some fellows who didn't know them, would come to visit, and especially to pray with them."

Returning to the Wheeler home, the group had a good little Bible study and talked. Rod's words echoed the others' feelings when he said, "It was a fine Saturday night. I was glad I was able to do something like that and not just the regular thing."

"If you know of anything like this we can do to witness and help others, there's a group of boys who are ready."

"Let no man despise thy youth; but be thou an example of the believers, in word, in conversation, in charity, in spirit, in faith, in purity." 1 Timothy 4:12.

Gary Boles Joins the Family of God

A year ago in San Diego, Gary Boles sat in his physician's outer office waiting for his appointment.

A student at a local university then, Mr. Boles felt a need for more meaning to his life. He had been looking at religion in search of firm direction and solid ground. But he hadn't found complete satisfaction.

Mr. Boles' doctor had placed literature on a table in his reception room—ministering in this silent way to the spiritual as well as the physical needs of his patients. And this patient responded. Mr. Boles mailed a printed reply card to the Paradise Valley Church, asking to explore some questions.

Mr. Boles soon found himself engaged in animated conversation with Vera Friesen, Bible instructor at the Paradise Valley Church. "He just drank up the things he was discovering," Mrs. Friesen reports. "He said they were exactly what he had been missing in life."

As his investigations progressed, Mr. Boles realized that he should do his body a favor and stop smoking. But kicking the habit wasn't easy. Fortunately, that month Paradise Valley Hospital was offering a Five-Day Plan to Stop Smoking just down the street. He signed up. Less than a week later, he was a victorious non-smoker.

Mr. Boles began attending Sabbath services and found the Paradise Valley Church a loving place to worship. Church members joined Pastor John Thurber, Mrs. Friesen and the rest of the pastoral staff in creating a "family" that quickly drew Mr. Boles into its warm circle.

As happens in all families, some eyes misted over with joy when he was officially "adopted" into the family of God the day he was baptized.

And also as in all families, hearts swelled with pride when the church group said good-bye to its young man as he went off to college in December embracing a very high vision and purpose. When Gary Boles graduates from Oakwood College, he will enter the gospel ministry.

Orange Improves Facilities, Music Department

Throughout the years the Orange Church has been blessed with great leadership; however, in the last year it has been blessed with the leadership of Elder Clifford Rasmussen.

In the short time that Elder Rasmussen has been the pastor, the church has undergone many good changes. A very modern and fully equipped kitchen and patio have been built for church socials and potlucks. A new community service room and storeroom and a Pathfinder storeroom have been erected also. New offices were built and beautifully decorated for the pastor's study and secretary's office.

The church has a new and comfortable conference room which is used for the pastor's class and his new class in Biblical interpretations and also the study of the book of Daniel, which is given every Sabbath afternoon after a weekly potluck. The sanctuary is presently being remodeled, with a new platform being built in, and new carpet has been purchased and is soon to be installed.

Another great blessing which the Orange Church is presently experiencing is the leadership of the new music director, Robert Taylor. Mr. Taylor is a fine musician.

In the short time that he has been with the church, he has organized a good choir which greatly enhances the worship service.

Mr. Taylor is a capable piano tuner and is presently giving vocal and instrumental instruction. He already has several students, who will be an asset to the music department of the church in the near future.

The music department has made good plans. Already a campaign to raise funds for the purchase of a new seven-foot Kawii piano is under way. On January 31, Mr. Taylor, accompanied by Ferdie Westre, launched the campaign by giving a sacred concert on Sabbath afternoon.

On March 28, Jim McClintock, former bass for the King's Heralds Quartet and a recording artist, will give a concert at 4:30 p.m. Then on April 18, a group of musicians from Southern and Southeastern conferences, under the direction of Frank Zavala, will present John Peterson's "No Greater Love." May 16, the Heman Quartet, internationally known television and recording artists, will present a concert at 6:30 p.m. There will also be other concerts by other performers.

Interest in Sewing Machine Leads to Baptism

Mrs. Aurora Ventura, a member of the Chino Spanish Church, advertised her used sewing machine by radio; and Mrs. Maria Ramos Velazco became the prospective buyer.

As Mrs. Velazco with her daughters, Bertha and Lupe, bargained about the price, they noticed a large framed copy of the Ten Commandments hanging on the wall of Mrs. Ventura's living room.

Mrs. Velazco asked Mrs. Ventura, "Do you believe in the Bible?"

She replied, "Oh, yes, and I also believe in obeying the Ten Commandments, for the Lord said, 'If you love me, keep my commandments.'"

Mrs. Velazco was a fervent believer in the saints of her church; but for several months a black book had been in her possession, and she was reading it. This brought conflict in her relation with her church and fellow believers. She decided to talk to her minister, and he said it was a good book.

Mrs. Ventura invited Mrs. Velazco and her daughters to study the Bible with her; and after several weeks, and after attending the church, Maria, Lupe and Bertha were baptized November 1.

Mrs. Ventura rejoices in the Lord for these three souls she was able to bring to Him. The inspired pen wrote, "Women . . . can engage in the work of hiding the truth where it can work out and be made manifest. . . . If they are imbued with the sense of their duty, and labor under the influence of the Spirit of God, . . . the Saviour will give them a power that will exceed that of men. . . . Discreet and humble women can do a good work in explaining the truth to the people in their homes. The word of God thus explained will do its leavening work, and through its influence whole families will be converted." Christian Service, 27.

During 1980 the Lord used Mrs. Aurora Ventura, Mrs. Maria Vargas, Fernando Navarro, Domingo Vicario and Mrs. Byron P. Merida to bring nine souls to the Lord. Our laity is enthusiastic about "Each one win one in eighty-one."

In Arizona we feel this is the highest calling we could receive. We count it a privilege to join joyfully our Adventist family worldwide in intercessory prayer,

"Come Over to Maricopa and Help Us"

Franco Acunia, missionary leader of the Maricopa Seventh-day Adventist Church, doesn't give up easily.

When the membership of this little church on the reservation outside of Phoenix was decreasing for various reasons, he arose one Sabbath and spoke in a voice vibrant with faith.

"No! Our church won't fade away! We can't let it do that! With God's help we'll just build it back up again!"

This little mission was built in 1937 by Orno Follett, who had worked among the Indians on the various reservations of Arizona. Some of the members still remember carrying lumber on their shoulders for miles in order to build the small chapel.

At that time Elder Follett felt that the work was flourishing. The membership grew; and not only did they build a sanctuary, but also a church school where the little ones could learn more about Jesus. However, as time passed the membership began to thin down; the school closed its doors. Today, only a scattering of members continue faithful in attendance.

But Acunia refuses to let this last of Elder Follett's work crumble away as has been the case on nearby reservations. "There are people out there just waiting for us to visit them, to tell them of Jesus and His soon coming," he says.

Whenever he can, Acunia takes a small group to visit the homes, to give the message in word and uniting in purpose and deed, seeking God's help and power for specific needs and objectives.

"It is a part of God's plan to grant us, in answer to the prayer of faith, that which He would not bestow did we not thus ask." (The Great Controversy, p. 525.)

Every Adventist whatever his situation or abilities can pray. Prayer is one activity in which all believers can take part. "One Christian, on his knees, in prayer," is more powerful than a godless army. Prayer power becomes more imperative as we face the increasing limitations of human resources. Nearly 80 percent of Earth's people are non-Christian.

song and to say a prayer. Sometimes they have even encountered former members who recall the old days and the little church school.

While Acunia is reaching out to the adults, plans have been announced to seek out the children and youth in the area.

If you feel you are only occupying a seat in your church and are looking for a field in which to do missionary work, here is one close to home. Why not respond to the urgent call?

Every power lent us of heaven is to be used in doing the work assigned us by the Lord for those who are perishing in ignorance. . . . ever dreamed when we agreed to put spots on "The Baxters," says Elder Matthews. He has also learned that Channel 5, WCVB-Boston, airs the Adventist spots during other times throughout the broadcast day.

"Our staff agreed to purchase time on "The Baxters" because we felt that Church members all across North America would support it," says Elder Matthews. "And we're grateful for the checks which arrive daily at the Pacific Union office for The Baxter project."

The 30-second television spots present a positive message from Seventh-day Adventists to millions of viewers every week.

Seen nationwide on 20 major stations and 900 of their cable affiliates, "The Baxters" portrays a family situation which is followed by live-audience response and discussion. Though the nationwide contract was for $300,000, the viewer response to the program makes the spot-ministry venture cost about $1 for every 1,000 viewers.

Originally two spots were supplied for the commercial slot. Creative and technical staff at Faith For Today and Adventist Media Center are making additional spots to be aired later.

In this Union "The Baxters" is seen as follows:

- San Francisco, Channel 44
Saturdays, 11 p.m.
- Fresno, Channel 26
Sundays, 10:30 a.m.
- Los Angeles, Channel 11
Saturdays, 10 a.m.
- San Diego, Channel 8
Tuesdays, 8 p.m.

Detailed listings are given for the new African-Indian Ocean Division and the Mid-America Union in North America. The new staff members of the General Conference and its world divisions, voted at the General Conference Session in Dallas, are included.

hooked the thousands of stitches required to complete the four-by-four-foot rug. Mr. Wallar estimates that they spent a combined total of 600 hours on the project.

The 29 students, their teacher and room mothers met President Ford at his office building adjacent to his home in Rancho Mirage. The former President shook hands with each one and accepted the rug, which he said his wife, Betty, would especially enjoy.

In a creative writing project the next day, the students expressed awe at having met a former President. "I felt proud about this project," wrote fifth-grader Lily Diaz. "I was glad he appreciated what we gave him."

"It was so nice of him to shake our hands," wrote David Garrett, another fifth-grader. "I felt like a millionaire."

Teacher Wallar reaffirmed his personal mission to Christian education.
