The Torch Is Passed

Robert Cone Retires; New Treasurer Is Sy Bietz

Treasury leadership passed from a veteran financier to a perceptive controller this month for the Pacific Union Conference.

Robert L. Cone, after 33 years primarily in denominational financial responsibilities, has retired. He and Margaret (Perkins) are retiring near

Bob and Margaret Cone

Coeur d'Alene, Idaho.

In a "This Is Your Life" presentation by the office family, Elder Cone's distinctive service was reviewed. While still a student at Madison College, he was asked to become business manager of the hospital. He concluded his fiscal ministry with eight years as Union treasurer.

Between times he was chief accountant and business manager at Atlantic Union College, business manager of Philippine Union College, treasurer of the Gold Coast Mission in West Africa, associate controller and vice-president for finance at Loma Linda University, administrator of Paradise Valley Hospital, and treasurer of Southeastern California Conference.

His financial ministry was ordained in 1970 at Central California camp meeting.

Retirement will give him more time with his three granddaughters, children of their two daughters, Ann Cutting and Rita Cardey.

New treasurer and director of personnel is Sylvester D. Bietz, treasurer in Southeastern the past three years.

Elder Bietz entered denominational employment as dean of boys at Sheyenne River Academy, North Dakota, following graduation from Union College in 1955. His varied background in school administration has added a dimension of fiscal responsibility for this position he holds today.

TYPICAL OF THE MANY young people who participated in the Faith for Today "Hearts for Heaven" Valentine Offering Campaign are these students from Pleasant Hill Junior Academy, Pleasant Hill, California. Although their original goal was $25, they raised $133.71! This monetary gift will help print and promote FFT's new Bible correspondence course for earliteens, "You Take the Wheel."

Children Exceed FFT Offering Goal

As a result of the combined efforts of grade school students in the Pacific Union and children throughout North America, Faith for Today received over $38,000—exceeding its 1977 Valentine Offering goal of $25,000.

The gift will be used to print the first lessons of "You Take the Wheel." Faith for Today's newest Bible correspondence course for earliteens. Written by Marjorie Lewis Lloyd, the lessons relate experiences of driving a car to various topics of Bible study and Christian growth. Samples of this unique course have already been delivered to participating schools.

Originated in 1961 by former FFT Stations Relations Director Ernest Wendth (now Communication Director, Michigan Conference), the annual Valentine Offering Campaign suggested that money usually spent by children for valentines be "given to another heart ministry—the gospel to others via television." This year Faith for Today reinforced the "heart" aspect of the Valentine Campaign with the theme, "Hearts for Heaven."

To encourage youngsters in their fund-raising projects, Faith for Today sent each school red pencils, certificates of appreciation, and a surprise poster featuring a hidden valentine picture revealed only by scratching the poster surface with a soft lead pencil.

"Ingenuity" best describes the outstanding ingredient these children put into each one of their fund-raising projects. From Walk-a-thons to Bake Sales, young imaginations and unselfish labor were put to excellent use—with excellent results.

The largest monetary gift was received from Fraser Valley Academy, Aldergrove, British Columbia, which raised $1,251.24. Some of the money was donated in the form of pennies from first- and second-graders.

INSPIRATION SAYS

"O God, thou art my God; early will I seek thee: my soul thirsteth for thee in a dry and thirsty land, where no water is; To see thy power and thy glory, so as I have seen thee in the sanctuary. Because thy lovingkindness is better than life, my lips will praise thee. Thus will I bless thee while I live; I will lift up my hands in thy name." Psalm 63:1-4

John Collins Joins Union as Associate in Lay Activities

John E. Collins has begun his work as an associate director in the department of lay activities.

An experienced departmental director, Elder Collins came to the Pacific Union from Pine Forge, Pennsylvania, where he directed the department in the Allegheny East Conference five years. Previous experience for the Church was primarily pastoral, though he was also a teacher at Pine Forge Academy.

Mrs. Collins, her mother, two brothers, and two sisters were baptized in Richmond, California, by Elder Major C. White. He performed the Collins' wedding ceremony as well.

Son Jonathan E. Collins is a pre-med student on the La Sierra Campus of Loma Linda University.

can now be heard in Safford, Arizona, on radio station KATO 1230 at 8:30 a.m. on Sundays.

READERS OF THE RECORDER will be pleased to learn that the two boys who were issued a citation while riding their bicycles through the red light did secure a satisfactory solution to their Sabbath problem. The Church arranged with the police department to have the boys come with their parents on a weekday afternoon for consultation. They were given materials to study and returned on a weekday for a safety test. However, some conscience problems could be avoided if we faithfully honored Caesar where he is due such honor.

"Encounter"

Witnessing—a Way of Life

by S. F. Monnier,
Lay Activities Dept.
General Conference

In our Adventist circle, we hear more and more about witnessing for Christ. Quite often expressions like "The Witnessing for Christ Plan" or "The Witnessing for Christ Program" are used. I wonder if we should use the term "plan" or "program." When we use these expressions, people immediately think, "One more program, or one new plan."

Omitting the words omits the stigma. Perhaps, if we need to add extra words, we could say, "Witnessing for Christ, a Personal Thrust."

These days, we do not know how to give a Bible study or how to explain the Word of God. We are so busy that we are missing one of the greatest experiences of life—studying the Bible with others.

In order to keep up with our modern world, in order to help each of our church members, we feel that we have a responsibility to inform you concerning a set of 20 audio-visual, full-color Bible studies called "Encounter."

With much prayer, thought and work, "Encounter" has (Continued on page 8)

Filipino Camp Meeting Has Improved Attendance

With at least 90 per cent of the 126-member San Francisco Filipino Church and a better-than-last-year attendance from the other churches, the third Union-wide Filipino camp meeting at Newbury Park on July 1-3 was the best attended ever. Some 1,300 were present, including visitors from five other states.

Guest speakers, who all had previous connections with the Philippines—Elders R. C. Williams, C. L. Shankel and F. W. Detamore — all followed the camp meeting theme: "Together for a Finished Work."

Elder Detamore not only spoke during church service, but also led a panel of discussants during the Sabbath-afternoon hour on "Issues and Views," tackling such issues and problems like chewing gum in church, TV in the home, "floating membership" (i.e., every Sabbath to hear a variety of speakers), tithing on gross or net income, and how to more effectively evangelize fellow Filipinos in the area.

An indication of the growth of the work among the Filipinos is the new group of about 40 members of the Paradise Valley Church in San Diego, who, with Southeastern California Conference authorization, are now meeting on their own preparatory to becoming a church.

Elder Detamore has held two major evangelistic crusades in the Philippines, in 1953 and in 1975, both of which resulted in some 600 baptisms, including those won during the follow-up.

Pierson Will Speak in Pomona

Elder Robert H. Pierson, president of the General Conference, will address the Home and School Association of the Pomona Adventist Junior Academy, Wednesday, August 31, at 7:30 p.m.

Topic for discussion will be "Guidelines to Seventh-day Adventist Education" and will be the last in a series of 10 programs of the 1976-77 season, according to Esther Sellers, president of the Home and School.

Principal Lyle Hamel will introduce two new faculty members, Robin Hardesty (nee James) and Tim Hoch, a graduate of Pacific Union College. Returning staff include Coral Baerg, Avadene Stutler, Laura Gray, and Gladys Sitompul.

Evening theme of "Pomona on Parade" will consist of a review of past progress and present plans for the 1977-78 school year. A special musical program, presenting the new organ, will highlight the activities.

"The Home and School has worked hard and faithfully on at least six projects to raise more than $1,000 during the year for various items, including the new organ," says Hamel.

Address of the school is 850 East Grand Avenue, Pomona. All those interested in our unique educational system are invited to attend.

I AM YOUR CHURCH OFFERING ENVELOPE

I would like to talk with you for I am part of your soul.
I may be a complete stranger to you, but I can help you be a better Christian.

I like to go to church on Sabbath for I help you to be Christ's partner.

I am very small but I am the keystone of your church program.

I am a weekly reminded of your daily blessings. I dare you to be as good to God as He has blessed you.

I am only paper but I carry the full gift of a generous heart.

I am the only pocketbook you need on Sabbath and I promise not to be a burden.

I am your chance to preach for I am a silent sermon of your devotion.

David Taylor Joins Northern as Associate Youth Director

Elder David Taylor recently began work in Northern as associate youth director.

His responsibilities will be primarily with senior youth of academy and college age, and he will also serve Adventist men and women in military service through the NSO. With Daniel A. Savino, new youth director, Elder Taylor's arrival completes Northern's youth team.

David Taylor

A graduate of Oakwood College with a BA in theology, Elder Taylor also earned a BA in history from Pepperdine University and an MA in theology from Andrews University. In May of this year he received a doctor of ministry degree in American ecclesiastical history from Vanderbilt University.

national work in the Southeastern California Conference in 1961 as pastor of the San Diego Church. He then served in the Santa Ana and Fontana churches, and in 1967 came to Northern to pastor the Vallejo Berea Church.

In 1968 he returned to Southeastern to be associate youth and Inner City director until 1971 when he was called to Central California to serve as associate youth director. During the last four years he has served as chaplain and professor at Oakwood College.

Elder Taylor and his wife, Maxine (Clark), have two children: Daryle Alan, 17, and Cheryle Anne, 15. Mrs. Taylor has an MA in nutrition from Loma Linda University.

We extend a warm welcome to this dedicated family as they serve the constituency of Northern California.

A Volunteer Worker's Experience at Leoni Meadows

I arrived Sunday morning and parked near an area where tents, trailers and motorhomes provided living quarters for other volunteers who had come to spend up to 10 days working at the Leoni Meadows Retreat.

I found Dudley Galusha, building superintendent, and Herb Giese, project coordinator, and they assigned me to assist with interior framing in the camp's main washroom. Howard Durban, a Crescent City carpenter, was already at work there.

Bert Brians and R. E. Brantley from Petaluma were working on the plumbing, getting connections ready for inspection for the three washers and three dryers that will be used in this building. Bob Key and Glen Nielson, also of Petaluma, were getting electrical wiring ready for inspection.

After lunch I toured the property to take some pictures and found Herb Giese and Elmer Trusty, presently the caretaker, with the "big cat" and backhoe digging trenches for 1,500 feet of leach line for the sanitary system. Glenn Fillman was there, whose job it is to keep a constant supply of volunteer help coming from the churches. [You may contact him at (916) 626-0568.]

Next I walked about half a mile to the site where camper cabins are being built. A crew was working hard on foundation walls for four cabins, putting steel rods in place for concrete later in the week.

That night I made my bed in the washroom and slept until daybreak when the tractor awakened me. Elmer Trusty was making a trail through the woods to lay sewer pipe later in the day. Delivery dates had been delayed on the eight-inch pipe, but the four- and six-inch lines were going in.

Most of Monday I worked on concrete forms for the sidewalks around the washroom, transporting sand in a wheelbarrow to get ready for concrete.

At the ranch house, Bud Triesler, a mechanic from Carmichael, was putting new blades on the chipper, which a Willits crew had made good use of the week before, disposing of some fallen logs.

Many of you can't come and work on the property, perhaps, but you can share in its progress by giving liberally to keep the work moving on schedule. $50,000 is needed in the July 30 offering, according to the Leoni Meadows Development Committee, just to keep pace with

Redwood Area Camp Meeting Now in Progress

The Redwood Area Camp Meeting began Thursday evening, July 21. A variety of speakers and subjects will be presented before the 10-day encampment ends July 30.

A full program is scheduled for the youth, earliten and junior divisions. The primary division is having three meetings daily and the kindergarten, two meetings daily. The cradle roll meets 9:45-10:45 every morning.

Sabbath sermons will be given by President Philip Follett on July 23 and R. R. Bietz, director of Christian Leadership Seminars, on July 30.

Morning devotionals will be presented by Joe Melashenko (Voice of Prophecy), Paul Gordon (E. G. White Estate, Inc.), and C. Lloyd Wyman (Pacific Union Conference). Elder Gordon will also speak on two mornings at the 11 o'clock hour.

Elder William A. Fagal of Faith for Today is speaker for the July 22 and 23 evening meetings, which begin at 7:30 G. D. O'Brien will present a series during all the other evening meetings.

Other speakers include Paul Bork, Fred Ramsey, A. R. Mazat, D. E. Rebok and Robert Folkenberg.

Classes in Sabbath school training, soul-winning, health and the Christian home will be taught by Elders Vernon Flory, J. B. Church, Charles G. Edwards and R. R. Bietz, respectively.

The main washroom at Leoni Meadows will house restrooms, showers, washers and dryers.

Union-wide

Black Youth Conference Set

The 1977 Black Youth Bible Conference will be held August 25-28 at Pine Springs Ranch. This is sponsored by the Pacific Union Conference and will feature guests having specialized ministries tailored to meet needs of the Black community through youth. However, youth of all races are invited to attend.

The Bible Conference is open to all Pacific Union youth between the ages of 15 and 35. Persons attending will have opportunity to participate in six of the 16 workshops offered. Workshops will focus on social as well as spiritual aspects of the Christian's role in society.

Just a few of the questions often raised by youth of the Black community which will be considered at the conference are:

1. "Don't you think that if people are engaged in preaching the Word of God they will not have time to get involved in all these social issues?"

2. "How can we young people become actively engaged in changing our neighborhoods?"

BIBLE CONFERENCE APPLICATION on page two

3. "How would you answer a Black militant who says we serve a white man's religion?"

4. "There is a kid on drugs who is trying to find himself. How can we help him without turning him off?"

Come, plan now to attend.

Slide Show Program Available for Use

Company One, a sacred drama and media group based at Pacific Union College, announces completion of their first slide-show program designed for use in youth and adult Sabbath schools.

"Pharisee 2001" deals with the subject of worship through an imaginary trip into the future when worship is conducted via computers and other "advanced" techniques.

The program has had extensive audience testing at PUC and several other churches. The reaction from adults and youth has been one of open and meaningful discussion about worship, its forms, its meanings and its reasons for existence.

If your church or group is interested in a lively discussion following an interesting slide and musical presentation, write for information to: Company One, Box 1, Angwin, CA 94508.

construction. This is about four times more than we've been giving, but we can do it if every family will follow the One Per Cent Plan.

Before leaving for home, tired but happy, I sat with Mrs. Trusty reviewing God's many providences during the last two years that helped us forget the many delays, frustrations and daily problems. Now we'd just like to spread the enthusiasm and possibilities of the project to the rest of the Northern California Conference.

Littrell Family Baptized into Victorville Church

The Curtis Littrell family was baptized into the Adventist Church as a direct result of a Neighborhood Bible Club and Vacation Bible School.

Beth Ann, age six, attended the Neighborhood Bible Club of Lorraine Liggins at George Air Force Base in Victorville, California. Lorraine invited her to Vacation Bible School held last year June 21-July 2. Beth Ann attended four days of the two-week Bible School. Her name was put into the pastor's interest file along with the names of all the non-Adventist children who attended the Bible School.

When evangelistic meetings were conducted by the pastor in the fall of 1976, Beth Ann's family was sent an invitation. They came to the first meeting and did not miss one night of the 21-night series. Mr. and Mrs. Littrell and their son, Frank, were baptized in October.

Three of their children attended Vacation Bible School this summer. Curtis helped in preparing materials for Vacation Bible School and Barbara was a teacher in the pre-school division. They had no other previous contact with the Seventh-day Adventist Church.

We are thankful for their addition to our church. Neighborhood Bible Clubs and Vacation Bible Schools can be tools of evangelism.

SIXTH-GRADERS from eight schools in Southeastern enjoyed outdoor school at Pine Springs Ranch for a week in May. All had opportunity to come closer to God in worship and nature study and to learn new skills in art, rappelling, canoeing, beekeeping, backpacking, photography and Indian lore.

Committee Actions

PASTOR JACK DUERKSEN, presently an associate pastor of the Loma Linda Campus Hill Church, has been assigned to the pastorate of the Indio Church. He will assume this new position in September.

ELDER T. C. TESSNER, a pastor in the Illinois Conference and presently completing a degree at the School of Health, is being called to pastor the Fontana Church.

ELDER LEE LEWIS, our Yucaipa pastor, has been elected to fill the position of stewardship director on a full-time basis.

ELDER VARNER J. LEGGITT has been assigned to the pastorate of the Yucaipa Church.

ELDER HOWARD BARRON has accepted a call to be the principal of Brighton Junior Academy in the Colorado Conference.

"Day of Discovery" Opens in San Diego

"A Brand New Look at a Grand Old Book" or "When Best Is Better than Good" will be the opening subject of the "Day of Discovery" Gospel and Health Crusade.

The crusade will start under the big tent on Sunday, July 24, at 7:30 p.m., located near the corner of Logan and Euclid in San Diego, across from the YWCA.

Elder Richard E. Berry will be the crusade speaker with Oakwood College theology student Robert T. Smith as associate speaker and youth leader. Shannon Goodwin will serve as guest soloist and music leader.

Perris Has Large VBS

Even though other churches were conducting Vacation Bible Schools at the same time, the Perris Fifth Street Church held a large school June 13-23. There was an enrollment of over 50 children, only 12 of them were Adventists.

If the parents did not attend the graduation exercises, a special visit was made to the home to deliver the crafts, workbooks and certificates. Some of the children are now attending Sabbath school.

To follow up the VBS, a summer Inner City program has been started to meet the mental, physical and spiritual needs of those who attend.

Seventy-one Seniors Graduated

Seventy-one seniors were graduated during the 17th annual commencement exercises of Orangewood Academy. This graduating class selected as its aim: "Never fear that your life might come to an end, rather, fear that it should have no beginning."

Wayne Tamanaha, vice-principal of Orangewood Elementary and speaker at the consecration service, challenged them to find "a new beginning." Elder R. E. Hamilton, Orangewood principal and commencement speaker, advised them that "The Best Is Yet To Come." This prophecy was partially fulfilled that evening when scholarships were distributed with a potential value of $147,200.

Many students were awarded scholastic honors. A special award was presented to Class President Beth Rogers for her unique scholastic achievement of graduating with all A's in her four years of academy classes.

Paradise Valley Manor Administrator Is Named

Winslow G. Parker has been named administrator of Southeastern's Paradise Valley Manor in National City.

Parker has served the Greater New York Conference as administrator of the Adventist Home for 10 years. His arrival in the San Diego area marked a return to the southwest where he served Paradise Valley Hospital 1952-1965.

Plans to expand the Paradise Valley Manor as announced last year have met snags with the Department of Health, Education and Welfare. New plans will be one of the primary projects by Parker in a search for building alternatives to better serve the constituency of Southeastern.

Paul Wiperman Dies

WE REGRET to announce the death of Elder Paul S. Wiperman on July 9 in Riverside. Funeral services were conducted July 13 by Elder Calvin Osborn.

Elder Wiperman will always be remembered as a man who dedicated his life to the education of our youth.

He entered the educational work in September, 1935, serving as a teacher and principal in four different academies. From 1949 to 1963 he was educational superintendent of the Northern California Conference. He then served in a similar position in the Southeastern California Conference 1963-1967.

SUMMER YOUTH ASSISTANTS met for a week of training at the SETAC Center in National City. Instructors were Elders George Chudleigh, Paul Jensen and Ed Huston.

EVANGELIST T. A. McNEALY has started an evangelistic series in this tent at 14th and Park in Riverside. A Vacation Bible School is also being conducted during the morning hours. Elder James Warren is assisting in the crusade.

JOINING EVANGELISTS Duane Corwin and Jerry Dill, Pastor Larry Crane of Milpitas, Pastor Wes Spiva of San Jose Central, and Bible Instructor Marjorie Greene and her husband Gordon are some of the 32 individuals who joined the Church during the spring Voice of Prophecy Bible Crusade in Milpitas. Pastor Crane arrived as the new minister at Milpitas just in time to participate in the baptismal services conducted June 4 and 11. About half of this group joined the San Jose Central Church.

Soquel Signals

One final signal before you leave for Soquel and Central's 99th Camp Meeting: Let no RV user think that just because we've long since run out of reserved spaces with utilities it will be impossible to attend camp meeting. Not so! We will have over 100 flat parking places for recreational vehicles of all sizes in The Meadow. True, there are no utility services there this year, but remember this: tents don't have utilities either. The daily rate for a space in The Meadow is $3. Spaces will be assigned on a first-come, first-served basis.

If you were among those who didn't get the reserved space you wanted, you're probably feeling a bit low about it. So are we because, you see, we suffer with everyone whose name wasn't drawn.

Please believe us when we say that there aren't any "tricks" to getting a place. You don't have to pay money "under the table!" And we don't withhold places as a method of discipline for real or imagined trespasses.

Names were drawn at random and assigned to spaces appropriate to the size needed. When we ran out of spaces for a specific length of RV, well, we just couldn't help any more. It really is tough to fit a 30-foot motorhome in a 16-foot parking place! It's significant to note that when we received a notice of change in length, the size almost always increased! It could seem that no one ever trades for a smaller RV!

As you read this, just know that Camp Meeting Information and Locating Service is still trying to find a place for you!

The campground opens Sunday, July 31, 10 a.m.

Four Members Bring 322 Years to Fallon Church

The Fallon Seventh-day Adventist Church in the Nevada-Utah Conference is one of the long-established churches, dating back to a time when the community was small and when

Today these four ladies are stalwarts in the church, carrying church responsibilities and helping in every way to be a blessing to others. With Fallon's mild climate, these four the church organist and both she and her husband are very active in the work in the Fallon Church.

Mabel McCart Wichman was born in Fallon in 1889 and has had the privilege of spending her entire life in the state of Nevada. During these years she filled many responsibilities, including the position of postmistress. She is the happy mother of two girls. Though 88 years old, she is always seeking people whom she can help.

the majority of people living there were Seventh-day Adventists.

Recently this church had a special birthday party at which they honored four ladies—Mabel McCart, Cora Thompson, Mary Gordon, Mabel McCart Wichman—with a potluck dinner and a special program. These four ladies together represent 322 years of living, of which 225 years were spent living in the state of Nevada, and most of it in the Fallon district.

ladies have seen the church grow to its present membership of 131.

Mabel McCart was born in Connecticut, and with her family came west to California at the age of eight. She moved to Fallon in 1917.

Cora Thompson was born in Massachusetts. In 1908 she came to Fallon with her family. This has been her home for 69 years.

Mary Gordon was born in Minden, Michigan, and moved to Fallon more recently. She is

Kaneohe Member Helps Family

Kaneohe Church member Donna Welch befriended a Laotian refugee family in need of the many basic necessities of life and loving friends in a new country.

This encounter led Donna to more refugee families. Kaneohe Church members and Community Services helped in providing clothes, food, and bedding.

Wilmot Smith gave Bible studies to these Laotians who responded very well in spite of a language problem. Invitations were extended to these families to attend church.

Rose Teruya held classes for the children during the worship hour keeping within their level of understanding of the basic doctrines of the Church. The children loved it and are still attending church although some have moved to the mainland.

Molokai VBS Completed

Another Vacation Bible School has been completed on Molokai recently with the help of department leaders, teachers, storytellers, registrar, craft teachers and others. Ruth Domingo served as leader with Pastor Curt Daggy as director.

An average of 91 children were present each evening. On graduation evening approximately 170 parents, children and staff filled the church and overflowed to the grass outdoors.

Invitations were extended to parents and friends to attend a series of evangelistic meetings which began July 8 with speaker Hawaiian Mission President Lawrence Davidson and Pastor Daggy assisting.

A Vacation Bible School is now being conducted on the island of Lanai with Sheila Otuka of Molokai leading out. Assisting her is Mr. and Mrs. Albert Cruz, Winifred Basques, Hermenegilda Oliva and other volunteers.

THE 44TH MISSION PLANE has been provided by supporters of The Quiet Hour, a radio and television ministry, directed by the father and son broadcasting team, Pastor J. L. Tucker (left) and Pastor LaVerne Tucker. A Cessna 206 like the above plane was delivered to Zambia, Africa, this month. The Quiet Hour has helped provide funds for a "mission fleet" of 44 planes that has been presented to the Seventh-day Adventist Mission Board and is operated in the Far East, South Pacific, Africa, Central and South America.

"Quiet Hour" Donates Airplane

The 44th mission airplane, purchased with funds received by The Quiet Hour, was sent to Africa in July.

This Quiet Hour "air force" is larger than many nations can muster. According to a recent Air Force magazine report, there are about 13 countries with less than 44 combat planes.

These are not combat aircraft, however, but planes on missions of mercy that carry physicians, medical supplies, patients to hospitals, and missionaries over jungles and mountains in hours that would take days or weeks by other means. They are owned and operated by the Seventh-day Adventist Church.

Though the broadcast was launched in 1937, it was not until 1966 that The Quiet Hour's first mission plane, a Cessna 180, was delivered to New Guinea.

This 44th plane, a Cessna 206, will go into service in Zambia, Africa. Africa now has 11 planes, South America 5, Central America 3, Far East 14, South Pacific 4, Philippines 2, and the others are in North America.

For 40 years listeners and readers have been challenged to provide funds for missionary work in every land. They have now made it possible to send not only planes but Land Rovers, minibusses, motorbikes, bicycles, motor launches and build jungle chapels and churches.

More than 100,000 letters are received annually. Operational costs run about $4,000 daily in this self-supporting program.

Rivalry for position and honor, so much a source of bitterness and so tragically the fruitage of Satan's original revolt in heaven, continues to plague human relations today and to sow discord in society, even sometimes among close associates.

Arthur W. Spalding, widely-read author of a generation ago, zeroes in here on this problem in his unique handling of the dispute about greatness that erupted among Christ's disciples.

Originally published in 1941, the book is being reprinted by popular request to the Pacific Press.

Through August you may receive your copy for $1.50, tax and handling included. One of the Harvest Series, Who Is the Greatest? lists at $1.50 plus ordinarily.

Fehrer Joins PPPA

Evaine P. Fehrer has accepted the invitation of Pacific Press to join its book and Chapel record department as an associate manager, according to Press General Manager W. J. Blacker.

A native of the Pacific Northwest, Fehrer attended Walla Walla College before graduating from the College of Idaho, Caldwell. Entering denominational employment in 1957 as a school teacher in Salmon, Idaho, Fehrer taught in various capacities in the Northwest until the close of the 1967 school year.

Transferring to the Washington Conference Adventist Book Center (ABC), Fehrer was assistant manager until assuming the managership of the Nevada-Utah ABC in 1970.

Fehrer replaces Andy M. Running who has retired after 31 years of denominational service and nearly 15 years with Pacific Press.

Adventist college radio stations have a potential listening audience of 22,095,000 with a potential Adventist listenership of 100,250.

"Encounter" Lessons

been prepared for you, to help you share your faith and joy.

What Is "Encounter"?

"Encounter" is 20 lessons, covering the major doctrines of the Seventh-day Adventist faith. Each lesson explores today's problems and today's questions in the light of God's Word in a way that appeals to the heart and convinces the mind. Every doctrine is seen in the light of God's love.

"Encounter" was written and produced by dedicated Adventist communicators, experienced in presenting the Christian beliefs to non-Christians.

"Encounter" is ideal for homes, small groups, classrooms, baptismal classes, Branch Sabbath Schools, evangelistic meetings, closed-circuit TV for hospitals and nursing homes.

"Encounter" is graphically vivid, with 65-80 slides or frames in full color per study. Each study is 15 minutes of narration, heart-appealing music and hymns, and sound effects.

There are also available 20 printed "Encounter" lessons available through the Adventist Book Center.

LLU/LA SIERRA

Art Majors Provided "Vehicle" to Make a Living

To provide art majors with a "vehicle" whereby they can make a living in art, the LLU art department is offering two new majors in the fall.

Students will be able to work toward a bachelor of science in biological/medical illustration or graphic design.

Students majoring in biological/medical illustration will take classes in biology and photography in addition to drawing, design, and other art classes.

International Dimensions

LLU Is Awarded Federal Grant

Loma Linda University has received a $37,000 grant from the United States Office of Education to develop an international-dimensions program for freshman and sophomore college students.

"Because of the world-wide nature of the Seventh-day Adventist Church and its work, we see a necessity for teaching Adventist young people about world problems," says Margarete Hilts, program coordinator.

With the grant money the University will buy books, films, periodicals, and equipment to start the program. In the future the University will fund it alone.

Beginning with the fall quarter this year, students will gain exposure to the world community not previously possible. Thirty-one teachers from 20 departments will team-teach the history, culture, and present health, political, and economic problems of Europe, Central Africa, Latin America, the Near, Middle and Far East.

The program will fulfill most of the regular general-studies requirements thus providing another option for the courses required outside a student's major.

Language study will be an important part of the program, and students will learn to read and converse with native speakers of a foreign tongue. Live-your-language apartments will be an optional activity. Students will be asked to use only ing, design, and other art classes. Working with the University's medical illustrator Robert Knabenbauer, and in the anatomy laboratories will give them valuable experience, according to Roger Churches, chairman of the department of art.

The major in graphic design is intended to prepare people for careers at Adventist publishing houses and media centers. And the program is structured so students could take both graphic and biomedical illustration, thus providing them with a choice of careers.

Presently there are 25-30 students majoring in art at La Sierra. Graduates are employed in a wide variety of careers from interior design to teaching.

"Biological/medical illustration is not a crowded field, but people will have to go to the jobs," says Churches. Large medical centers, schools and publishing companies regularly hire medical illustrators.

Medical artists are communicators and teachers through the medical graphics they create, Churches points out, often doing what photography cannot by emphasizing and selecting the most important facets of an illustration.

They must have a strong foundation of anatomic and general medical knowledge to insure authenticity and be accomplished artists thoroughly familiar with the preparation of artwork for paper or film reproduction and the raw materials for creating authentic models and prosthetics.

LLU with its schools of medicine, dentistry, health, nursing and graduate programs in biology and other sciences offer great resources for the illustration major.

Students will be well prepared to enter graduate programs upon completion of their major at LLU.

SUMMER VISITORS—The California Boys Choir comes to La Sierra each summer to train for the winter concert season. While they are here they also take part in the Willcocks Choral Workshop, and may be heard at the free workshop concert July 27 at 8 p.m. in Hole Memorial Auditorium.

"Do not yield your members to sin as instruments of wickedness, but yield yourselves to God as men who have been brought from death to life, and your members to God as instruments of righteousness."
